A RECORD OF ACCIDENTS IN THE AMBITIOUS CITY.

A Halifax Man Dies Because His Wife Uses His Money to Buy Rum for Herself Instead of Medicine for Him.

HAMILTON, Sept. 10.—The newspaper train which leaves Toronto at 5 a.m. was delayed at Burlington this morning. The brakeman turned the switch the wrong way and derailed the locomotive.

Charles Lyons, a small boy, received painful but not dangerous injuries by falling from a farmer's wagon on which he was stealing a ride this morning.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. C. D. Blachford was driving down James street with Mrs. Howick, Miss Moore of Simcoe and two children, when the horse suddenly shied. It threw the buggy against the curbing and overturned it. No very serious damage was done, though Mrs. Blachford sustained a slight cut upon her face. The ladies and children were all shaken up and badly frightened.

At a special meeting of the County Council this morning Mr. F. H. Lynch-Staunton's report on the Governor's road was read. That neglected thoroughfare is in a very bad condition.

The proposition for a mountain park is being energetically boomed by The Herald and meets with general favor.

Francis King was this morning before the Police Magistrate charged with failure to support his wife. The case was amicably settled by King giving his wife $100 and promising never to leave her again.

The third annual meeting of the Hamilton Art School was held last evening. The annual report indicated a gratifying state of prosperity.

RUM INSTEAD OF MEDICINE.

A Man Dies Because his Wife Buys Liquor Instead of Medicine.

HALIFAX, Sept. 10.—A working man named Breen died last night from dysentery and the neglect of his wife, who spent the money for the medicine in liquor for herself. He died in a little shop, and his death was witnessed by a gaping crowd from the street.

Reports from Newfoundland say that diphtheria is very prevalent at Trepassy.

The Exchequer Court of Canada is in session here, adjudicating upon the claim of the Montreal and European Short Line Railway Company against the Queen. This action arose out of the roadbed and franchise from Oxford to New Glasgow, and $600,000 damages are claimed by the company from the Government. The case is likely to extend over several weeks. A large number of prominent engineers and contractors are in attendance under subpœna as witnesses.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Opening of the Fair. The Deadly Coal Oil Can Once More.

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—Sir John A. Macdonald, accompanied by Lady Macdonald and Private Secretary Pope, arrived in the city yesterday morning and took up their quarters at the Queen's. During the morning the Premier paid a number of visits and in the afternoon he was driven to the Fair Grounds where he opened the Industrial Exhibition in the presence of a large crowd of invited guests. There was a funny incident in connection with that event. On the top of the stand was an ordinary gutta percha button such as is fitted to a telegraph operator's instrument. The slightest pressure on this button caused an electric current to speedily find its way to the big fly wheel in Machinery Hall and set all the machinery in motion, this with the loud tooting of the big steam whistle in Machinery Hall, being the signal which proclaimed that the fair was finally open and in full blast. It had been arranged that after the speech-making on the platform had been completed Lady Macdonald was to press the button, and the Premier standing beside her, was to declare the fair open. This plan would no doubt have worked admirably had not Mr. John Leys, M.L.A., on coming forward to make a speech to the people, deposited his white hat upon the little black key. The whistle blew a blast, and Mr. Leys' voice could not be heard a foot away. The people in the grand stand laughed and there was five minutes of subsequent fun. Then Director D. C. Rideout sent up a signal to Machinery Hall, the clang and whistling was stopped; Mr. Leys finished his speech, and a few minutes afterwards the Premier and Lady Macdonald opened the fair in real earnest.

Mr. Justice Falconbridge yesterday delivered judgment on the Haldimand election petition. After going over the various charges and referring copiously to the evidence adduced, His Lordship decided that the election was voided through corrupt practices of agents, but without the knowledge or consent of the respondent. The question of costs was left in abeyance and will be argued to-day at Osgoode Hall at 2 p. m.

The two principal charges, which were sustained by the court in the judgment, were Nos. 8 and 83. In No. 8 the gist of the charge was that beer was supplied by the respondents' agents for corrupt practices. In 83 one Haslett was charged with giving a voter named Bridges $5 to enable him to go to Fergus on a day or two before the election. The judge held that the circumstances pointed strongly to the conclusion that the money was given from a corrupt motive.

Coming to the question of agency His Lordship said: The evidence of agency relied on by the petitioner is that Haslett has always been a Reformer, has been active for two elections, that he was a scrutineer at the polls, and that he attended one important committee meeting. No one of these elements is perhaps sufficient of itself to constitute Haslett an agent, but all taken together with the recognition confided in him by his local chief, Mr. Roble, in view of the state of affairs as regards organization which I have above alluded to, constrain me to hold him to have been an agent of the candidate. I therefore find that James Haslett, an agent of the respondent, committed the corrupt practice charged without the knowledge or consent of the respondent.

For a couple of days the Grand Trunk Railway Company have been threatening the arrest of M. D. Murdoch, steamboat and railroad ticket agent at 69 Yonge street, on the charge of embezzling some $300 of its funds. Mr. Barker came down from Hamilton, and after a consultation with some of the officials of the company in Toronto decided that Mr. Murdoch should be arrested, and a warrant was sworn out against him. He could not be found at his office during yesterday, but about 4.30 he surrendered himself at Police Headquarters, and was subsequently allowed out on bail to appear for examination in the Police Court. Other companies for whom Mr. Murdoch acted as agent are also threatening proceedings.

Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, while Mrs. Mead, wife of Thomas Mead, market gardener of 382 Dupe-avenue was seeking to make a smouldering fire burn in the kitchen stove by pouring coal oil on it, the flame suddenly darted up, igniting the oil in the can and causing an explosion. Mrs. Mead was so badly burned as to necessitate her removal to the Hospital, where she suffered in great agony until relief by death came at 6 o'clock last evening.

Death of Congressman Cox.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—S. S. ("Sunset") Cox, M.C., died at 8.30 to night.

The Highbinders Threat.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—The highbinders threaten to wreck a theatre in Chinatown because the proprietor will not offer a reward for the capture of a man who killed a Chinaman in the place some weeks ago.

New Jersey Democrats Choice.

TRENTON, N.J., Sept. 10.—In the Democratic state convention Leon Abbott was nominated for Governor by acclamation amid great cheering. The platform reaffirms the doctrines adopted in the national Democratic platform at St. Louis in 1888.

A Murderer's Confession.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 10.—Wm. Curtis colored, has confessed that he and five other negroes murdered and robbed T. L. Waller, the merchant found dead and partially buried Monday morning in his store at Sewell's Point.

Drowning Accident at Paris.

PARIS, Ont., Sept. 10.—George H. Hackland was drowned here this evening, the canoe in which he was seated capsizing in 8 feet of water. He was unable to swim and when assistance came he was dead.

FAME OR A COFFIN.

A Man from Youngstown Proposes to Hooley With Niagara.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept 10.— And now comes another man who is willing to trust the billows of Niagara to furnish a threeline heading for a newspaper or an epitaph for a tombstone. A Youngstown man is willing to seek notoriety or a coffin with a life-preserver. Walter G. Campbell of Youngstown, N. Y., has constructed a life-preserver with which, he says, he will, on Sunday next, swim the rapids from the old Maid-of-the-Mist landing through the Whirlpool rapids and across the whirlpool.

Mr. Campbell is by no means a badlooking man. He was born at Youngstown, is 21 years old, stands 5 feet 7 inches in his stockings, and weighs 160 pounds. A greater portion of his life has been spent upon the river, and of late years he has been acting in the capacity of swimming teacher to visitors at Youngstown. His life on the water has given him a brownish complexion, and he looks as if he meant just what he said. His life-preserver, or rather double life-preserver, as he calls it, is similar to the one worn by Kendall in his trip. It is made of sixteen pieces of cork, 5 by 14 inches, and one inch thick. These are put up in eight sections, two pieces in a section, making each section two inches thick, the whole covered with canvas, so that it looks very much like the life-preservers seen on boats. He first puts on an ordinary bathing suit, with red trunks and pretty heavily padded with cotton batting. Then the life-preserver goes around the body and laps, giving a double protection to the chest. This is strapped tight, and will be held in position by shoulder straps and leg braces.

"When do you expect to make this trip?" was asked.

"Sunday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock I shall enter the water at the old Maid-of-the-Mist landing, swim out to the middle and go down the current."

"You are pretty well posted about the rapids. What do you think of your chances?"

"Kendall went through all right, so would Webb if he had had on a life preserver, and as mine is better than Kendall's I do not see any reason why I should not succeed. If I thought I could not come out all right I would not make the attempt."

"Have you any family and what do they say of your trip?"

"I have no family except my parents and they are perfectly willing I should try it."

"What is your object in making the trip?"

"Simply money. The different places along the shore will share with me the receipts of the day. I am no fake, and wish to do something in daylight and at an hour when all can see me."

"Don't you fear arrest?"

"I ought not to be arrested. I am doing nothing more than Kendall did, only I wish the people to see me."

"Have you tested your power as a swimmer?"

"Yes. I have been in Lake Ontario for four hours without any clothing whatever or support. I have also swam across the mouth of the river with a heavy tide setting out, and back without stopping. The distance is four miles.

A Fiendish Plot.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—A Herald despatch from Wheeling, W. Va., says: Investigations by the grand jury in Fayette county, this state, have brought to light a fiendish plot. About a month ago a white man named Charles West was waylaid and butchered by Bill Turner, a worthless negro, who had been a criminal all his life. West was a prominent citizen, and a committee of regulators lynched Turner. Curiosity about the motive for West's murder was aroused and rumors of a statement that Turner had made just before he was strung up became so numerous that the grand jury then in session took cognizance of them and began investigation. One of the lynchers, John A West, cousin of the murdered man, was summoned, and, breaking down, confessed that Charles West was politically obnoxious to a number of persons of Fayette county, who conspired together and hired Turner to kill him, and then lynched Turner to remove all evidence against them. The investigation is still in progress, and those concerned in the plot are known and will be indicted. Some of them have fled.

Belleville's Bad Boys.

BELLEVILLE, Sept 10.—At the Police Court to-day five boys were fined $1 each for playing cards on Sunday. Three others were fined $1 each for boating on Sunday.

Belleville Cheese Board.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 10.—At the Cheese Board to day 824 boxes of white and 270 boxes of colored were boarded. Sales, 220 boxes at 9½.

Wedding Bells at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 10.—Mr. Charles W. Clendennan, medical student, of West Toronto Junction, and Miss Elgan T. Johnston, of this town, were married in the parlors of the Queen's hotel here yesterday, Rev. James Cleland officiating.

Cotton Prospects.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The cotton report of the Department of Agriculture for September represents the crop as comparatively late. Too abundant moisture is generally reported producing a rank weed and retarding the development of balls. Rust has appeared quite generally on sandy uplands. The plants are still growing and blooming in most localities, though in light soils the bolls are small and not developing rapidly. The general average of condition is 86.6, against 89.3 last month, and 83.8 in September of last year. The presence of the caterpillar and ball worm is reported in all the Gulf States and Arkansas. Correspondents recognize the large value in the present crop of the factors of good autumn weather and late killing frosts in determining the aggregate of production.

Crushed to Death

PRINCETON, W. Va., Sept. 10.—At the Simon creek mines Sunday, S. L. Ensley and S. T. Fowler entered the shaft to look for tools, when a heavy fall of coal and slate crushed both to death.

They Were Careless.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Sept. 10.—A dynamite cartridge exploded on the railroad between here and Clarksburg Sunday night, killing two Italians and wounding two others. The men were careless.

Bloody Flux.

BLUE EARTH CITY, Minn., Sept. 10.—The bloody flux has become epidemic here. Twelve children have died within nine days. Several adults are very low.

Shot by His Wife.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 10.—John H. Spaulding, an employe of the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern railroad, was shot last night by his wife. He will die.

The White Ash Horror.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 10.—The killed by the White Ash coal disaster near Golden, Col., number 112.

The Deadly Ice Pitcher.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 10.—Farmer Thomas Dale of Canifton died suddenly yesterday from drinking ice-water Saturday when overheated.

Perished in the Flames.

DODGE CENTRE, Minn., Sept. 10. Henry J. Ward's barn was burned this morning. Two of his children perished in the flames.

Earthquake in Pennsylvania.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 10.—A sharp shock of earthquake occurred here at 8.15 a.m. Buildings here, in Ashley, Kingston, Pittston and the surrounding country trembled for several seconds vigorously.

Refused to Pool

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 10.—The eastern railroads have definitely refused to arrange with the lines of the western freight association for a joint through traffic between the seaboard and St. Paul to meet the competition of the Canadian and Lake Superior routes.

St Paul's Expected Dividend.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The St. Paul R R. directors are expected to-morrow to declare a dividend of 2½ per cent on the preferred

SOCIALIST BURNS' BIG D.

HE WANTS MONEY, NOT PITY, FROM THIS CONTINENT.

The Great London Strike Goes on, and the Men Fare Better than When Working—Fruitless Compromise Efforts.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Cardinal Manning's proposal, which is being considered by the council of the strike committee, is a compromise to the effect that the terms which the dock companies have already conceded are to go into operation Nov. 1 provided the men immediately resume work. The Cardinal's proposal, which is an independent effort on his part to effect a settlement, has not been referred to the dock directors, nor has it been approved by the council of conciliation.

Burns at a mass meeting of strikers today asked the men whether they would accept the proposal for the increase in wages to begin in November. The strikers unanimously opposed the proposition.

The directors of the dock companies resolutely adhered to the terms recently agreed to by them by which the wages of the men are to be advanced Jan. 1. A leading director, Sir Henry LeMarchant, will resign owing to the decision of the board in favor of the Lord Mayor's proposal.

Burns at to-night's conference with Cardinal Manning affirmed the temper of the strikers was such it would be futile to urge the November compromise. Burns denied that he could influence the vast body of men against their united will.

The persistence of the strikers increases with the swelling of subscriptions. The home contributions are slightly falling, but Australia continues to pour in funds. To-day £1400 was received, making a total from Australia of £15,500.

The church relief activities are increasing. The result is many dockmen fare better in idleness than when working. The Salvation Army provides food for 8000 persons daily at a nominal price. Throughout the strike districts rents are largely in arrears. Feeling no distress the temper of the dockmen is not toward a compromise. In the meantime, in spite of the strikers' pickets, the companies are gradually replenishing their working forces. The Home Office, in order to protect workers, to-day largely augmented the police force around the docks and provided an additional steam launch to patrol the river.

The congestion of the river trade is becoming relieved by the wharfingers generally accepting the men's terms. A number of vessels are leaving the docks and going to the wharves to unload. The wharves along the shore will share with me the receipts of the day. I am no fake, and wish to do something in daylight and at an hour when all can see me."

"Don't you fear arrest?"

"I ought not to be arrested. I am doing nothing more than Kendall did, only I wish the people to see me."

A FLOODED RACE TRACK

BRIGHTON BEACH INUNDATED YESTERDAY.

Two Hundred Horses Imprisoned in Floating Stables and Swimming in the Rising Tide—All the Animals Rescued.

NEW YORK, Sept 10.—At 5 o'clock this morning a trainer at the Brighton Beach race track noticed the water pouring into the track from the southwest end. He mounted a horse and gave the alarm just in time. The southerly portion of the track was already in three feet of water. Stables had been undermined and were floating in the flood and horses imprisoned in the stables were swimming about. Stablemen and trainers were quickly aroused and one of them with an axe broke down the track fence so the horses might escape. An English woman with two babies was seen floating in a stall upon the track, and was rescued by a stableman. In half an hour the horses, 300 in all, including the famous Exile, winner of the Brooklyn handicap, were got safely away, and at that time the track was under four feet of water, while feed boxes, horse stalls and stables were floating around.

The rest of the island was in just as bad shape as the Brighton track but after the alarm sounded every person in danger managed to escape and so far as known no lives were lost.

John Fitzgerald, a variety performer went out and watched the storm for a while early this morning and then returned to his room. He was found dead in bed an hour later. He doubtless died of heart disease the result of excitement.

Two men were drowned during the storm by the capsizing of a boat on the North River. A man was swept off a roof in Brooklyn by the wind and was killed.

WRECK AND DESOLATION.

The High Tide on the Atlantic Coast—Attributed to a Hurricane.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The storm now prevailing has worked considerable damage on North and East River fronts. Some of the piers are entirely covered by the tide, and some that are usually twelve feet above high water mark have their decks licked by the angry waves. The bay and river are in an exceedingly turbulent state owing to the high winds. The ferry boats and general flotilla were tossed about like playthings. The Jersey shore was inundated in many places. On the East River front the buildings from 50th street to 14th street are affected by the great rush of the water. The lower end of Blackwell Island is submerged. The flood was discussed by all the sea faring men with considerable interest, and it seemed to be the general impression that the tide exceeded anything that we have had in 25 years.

Coney Island to-day is a scene of wreck and desolation. Nearly one-half of the island, east of the iron piers, is submerged, and the high tide and heavy surf are playing havoc with the remaining portion. The greatest tide that has ever been experienced struck the island at 6 o'clock this morning and increased in volume and fury long past 8 o'clock. There is not a strip of beach to be seen on the island.

Discredited.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 10.—The story that 400 miners are starving on the Yukon river in Alaska is discredited. The Yukon has been open since last April and supply steamers have been going up and have failed to bring any information that destitution exists. There are four trading posts on the river, in addition to which the Yukon abounds with fish, while the woods are filled with game.

A Fierce Forest Fire.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 10.—A fierce and destructive forest fire occurred Sunday night in the St. Regis district, Missoula county. The Cokely ranch was made a barren waste in less than thirty minutes. Cokely and the hostess of the ranch mounted horses and barely escaped. A Swedish prospector named Anderson and his horse perished in the flames. It is almost certain that several men perished in the flames higher up the mountains. The destruction of property will aggregate $1,000,000.

Blown From a Train and Killed.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—J. L. Kelly, aged 25, son of Eugene Kelly, the New York banker, was blown from the platform of a train on the D., L. & W. Railway to-day near here and killed.

Turnbull's Column

Not another day is left of the 1889 Summer if we go by the almanac. Its unparalled storms, floods, freshets and singular wetness with us, and extreme dryness in the west pass into history as part of the record of a remarkable year. It was a strange summer. It was a strangely active summer for us notwithstanding the general feeling of shortness of money and depression. Standing on the edge of autumn, the holidays behind us we now look ahead. Next Saturday, Sept. 7th, we commence the fall cannonade. The troops are passing from all quarters, the sound of the bargain guns will be heard all along the line. What shall be done with the balance of our summer things? Sell them at prices that will pay housekeepers to invest in them! All the while during the spring and summer we've been laying in and laying away autumn things. The time has come to show some of them. Our Dress Goods Department is groaning under the weight of the quantity of beautiful goods we have opened out from all lands where choice goods are made. Next week we shall endeavor to describe some of the different makes. The Mantle Department is more than usually attractive this year. We have full ranges of Ladies' Short and Long Mantles in a variety of Black and Colored cloths.

Our stock of Children's Mantles is so varied the only way to form a correct idea of what we show is to see them.

We hope to largely increase our Tailoring trade this season. Those we have been making for have been well pleased. Our Tailor is hard to beat. Our stock of Imported Tweeds and Overcoatings is very choice, and are sure to find a ready sale as the prices are right. Call early and see the new mantle cloths.

Our Mantle Cutter is always on hand to cut and fit on short notice. With brightened prospects to farmers, and an extensive and well bought stock to select from, we expect this season's trade to be larger than ever.

The new Fall fashion sheets and books have arrived. Call and get one.

WARM WEATHER CLOTHING

AT THE

City Clothing Store

It is bound to come. The warm weather we mean. In fact it is going to be hot, and it makes us think of summer outing—vacation and seasonable sports. These in turn, suggest preparation and imply proper outfits — such as SUMMER SUITS, UNDERWEAR, and FURNISHINGS. 'Tis of these we would speak particularly to-day, because this season we have provided for our patrons a Greater Variety of WARM WEATHER WEAR than ever before, and at Prices no other dealer in Peterborough can possibly duplicate. We have all the Novelties.

What Gentlemen Will Wear

We are displaying the Finest lines of exclusive styles in the following:

Plain and Fancy Colored Suiting
Light-Weight Underwear
White, Fancy and Colored Vests
Collars and Cuffs, Newest Shapes
Ties in all the Summer Shades
Tennis, Boating, Sporting Outfits

We are bound to overcome the effects of the bad weather of the past month, in point of sales, if not in profits. The prices we will quote will convince you of our sincerity and the genuineness of the sacrifice we will make in values

An Immense Freightage.

C. P. R. Arrangements to Handle the Grain Crop of the Northwest.

It is estimated that there will be 12,000,000 bushels of wheat for export from Manitoba and the Northwest, and the C. P. R. are perfecting their arrangements for the movement of this immense freightage.

A prominent official of the road speaking on this subject said: "We are in a splendid position this year to handle the crop. For instance we have 100 more locomotives, and no less than 6000 freight cars more than we had in the autumn of 1887, when blockades were heard of in the press. Then as you know, many of our engines can draw much heavier loads than they could then, Again, it is likely that about of this grain will be stored as usual at Port Arthur for shipments to eastern points in the spring of the year. By this amount of grain shopping off here, it enables us to return our cars to be reloaded in about one half the time we could if they had all to go on to Eastern points at once. Of course it does take a large number of car to handle this business; for 12,000,000 bushels of grain, at say, 600 bushels to a car means 20,000 cars, and say an average of 20 cars for a train, is 1000 train loads.

There is every likelihood that the crop this year, both in Ontario and Manitoba, will be 25 p. c. heavier than last year; because that year the autumn frosts played havoc with them. We shall have more chance to handle it too because it it is expected to be ready to ship in about ten days earlier than last year, when it only commenced to move about the 8th of October; whilst this autumn there is every reason to expect it about the last week in September."

WEATHER NOTES—August the principal harvest month and one of continued heat has again passed away, it came in with a high temperature and with few exceptions continued so to the end. The lowest in the morning being 48°, while it has been as high as 68°; and at sundown 60° has been the lowest, and on several occasions it stood at 75° while on three days reaching 87° in the shade at 2 p.m. leaving the mean temperature of the month at 61°17 31° degrees. Our old Canadian proverb, that there never was an August without frost has this year skipped the border as this year we had none. Rain fell on 12 days to the depth of 1 inch and 88-100 of an inch being a middling average. Four times, thunder, but very little rain, fog on four mornings with no aurora lights. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely:—South west 8 days; north west 9 days; south east 6 days; north 2 days; west 4 days; east 1 day and south 1 day.

OCTOGENARIAN ORDWAY.

An Old Granite State Farmer Loses $9500 in an Old Way.

CONCORD, N.H., Sept. 10.—Joel S. Ordway, aged 80, a well-to-do farmer, has a farm for sale at Londen. Yesterday a nice-appearing man called on him for the alleged purpose of buying it. After some talk the stranger left but returned to-day, and prevailed on Ordway to drive with him to Concord, where the old man was induced to draw $9500 from the bank to prove he was a responsible man and able to support his title to the farm. They then started to drive back to the farm. When a mile from Londen they were joined by a young man who appeared to be acquainted with Ordway's companion. A game of cards was suggested. The team was stopped and Ordway's companion and the stranger began to play. The former soon lost $10,000 apparently and asked Ordway to loan him the $9500 to win the money back. Ordway refused, whereupon one man held a revolver at his head while the other took the money. The robbers then drove away rapidly. Ordway walked to Londen and was brought here and notified the police of his loss.

Knights Templar Barred Out.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The controversy between Grand Commander Roome and the grand commandery of the State of Iowa over the adoption of a new ritual is one of the most important questions that will come before the approaching triennial conclave for action. The Iowa commandery decided not to follow Grand Commander Roome's order for the adoption of the ritual, on the ground that it was beyond his power to issue such an order. Therefore the grand commander declared the Iowa knights to be in a state of disloyalty and rebellion, and interdicted all templar intercourse with them by the knights of other states. The Iowa knights have made arrangements to attend the conclave next month, the grand recorder writing that from 500 to 800 would be present from that state. This coming to the knowlege of Grand Commander Roome, he has notified the local committee of arrangements for the parade to allow no Iowa commanderies in the procession. His order will be obeyed by the committee and no place will be found for the Iowa knights.]

STARTLING EVIDENCE

Of the Cure of Skin Diseases When all Other Methods Fail.

Psoriasis 5 years, Covering Face, Head and Entire Body with white scales. Skin red, itchy, and bleeding. Hair all gone. Spent hundreds of Dollars. Pronounced Incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use

BYAM'S
Improved "Common Sense"
• SASH BALANCE.
LOCKS AND LIFTS.

THE only practical substitute for weights invented. The most durable, the cheapest and best device for all ordinary windows. Balances when in position are entirely out of sight. No rivets, bolts or screws are used in putting it together so that nothing can get out of order or need repairing. No cutting, boring or marring of the sash, as the Balances are let into the jamb. Especially valuable for repairing old buildings as they can be put in at a trifling expense, as easily put in old buildings as new ones. Sash can be removed from frame in a moment for cleaning or repairing broken glass. Can be used where it is impossible to use weights or other fixtures. No unsightly cord wearing paint off side of frame. No rattling of sash as pressure against sash prevents it. No rattling of weights or pulleys when Sash is raised or lowered. No sticking of weights in frame. No cords to rust off, wear out and break. No rubber rollers to become flattened by standing in one position for some time. No flimsy coil spring or delicate mechanism to break, wear out or get out of order. Its simplicity of construction and operation is the wonder of all.

Byam's Automatic Sash Locks (self fastening) and Sash Lifts for upper and lower sash are the best and cheapest in the market.

PIANOS

ON THE

3 YEARS SYSTEM

A regular monthly, quarterly or half yearly payment (a slight advance on the rental rate) buys the instrument.

Any piano may be chosen out of a magnificent assortment of Uprights, Squares and Grands, unsurpassed in quality and value. Ministers, Teachers, Government Officers, and those in receipt of regular incomes, will find this a convenient and advantageous mode for securing a first class instrument. When the instrument is used for practice, our Soft Stop or Practice Pedal saves wear on the nerves, as well as preserves the tone of the Piano. Our Patent Foot Pedal Attachment for Pianos is invaluable to organists, students and teachers. Price on application. Inspection invited.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hunter streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co's Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

POTT'S DISEASE.

A Bad Curvature Reduced and Entirely Out of Danger.

CHAS CLUTHE, Esq.,

DEAR SIR—This is to state that my boy, aged seven years, was prostrated with Pott's disease of the spine, with very little hopes of recovery. I procured one of your appliances, which was duly fitted, gave great support, and enabled him to run about and play. He is so much improved as to be almost entirely out of danger Yours truly, S. G. BOWELL, Inserkip, Ontario.

A Postmaster Well Pleased.

CHAS. CLUTHE, Esq., Toronto, Ontario.

DEAR SIR—Having met with an accident and requiring a Truss, I obtained three different kinds without securing what I wanted. On the recommendation of one of our leading medical men, I got your Spiral Spring Truss, and I would heartily recommend it to any party requiring such an article. It is a splendid thing Yours, etc., J. B. FAIRBAIRN, P.M., Bowmanville, Ontario.

THE CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: 2650 boxes of cheese were offered yesterday: 13 0 of Marshfield sold at 9 cents. The offerings of Cloverfield, 1300 boxes, were not taken up to close of market, which was weak, buying not being strengthed by eastern advices.

Utica reports: The factories which held over their cheese a week ago when prices declined profited yesterday by the advance which was made. The market was strong and active and from the start it was seen that prices would be considerably higher. The ruling was established at 8c, ¼c above last Monday and it came near going further upward. It was significent that no cheese was reported sold below the ruling while most of the salesmen easily succeeded in securing from ½ to ¾ above that figure. Buyers say that the advance is due to speculative movement and that the usual reaction will follow, but the salesmen are happy with present prospects. Transactions were as follows: 76 lots, 6441 boxes, at 8c; 6 lots, 600 boxes, 8 1 8c; 29 lots, 2816 boxes, 8¼c; 12 lots, 1071 boxes, 8¼c; 21 lots, 2789 boxes, 8 1-2c; 2 lots, 300 boxes, 8½c; 1 lot 120 boxes, 8½c; 15 lots, 1348 boxes, on commission; total 172 lots, 15,265 boxes. Ruling price 8c. Transactions same date last year 14,636 boxes, ruling prices 8¼c.

Little Falls reports: The sales of factory cheese yesterday were 4700 boxes at 8¼, 2221 at 8¼, 830 on commission. There were 1080 boxes of farm dairy cheese sold at 8 to 9 cents, the ruling price being 8 1-2.

Five Were Drowned.

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—While a christening party were enjoying a sail on the Lakes of Killarney last evening, their boat was capsized and before assistance could reach them five of the party were drowned.

A Big Cut in Passenger Rates.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept 10.—The Duluth South Shore and Atlantic Railroad to-day announces the biggest cut yet made in passenger rates east. Tariff sheets are now in the hands of printers making the rate $24 first and $21 second class Duluth to Boston and $23 first class and $20.50 second class Duluth to New York via the South Shore, Michigan Central and Detroit or the Canadian Pacific and Montreal. Corresponding cuts are made to other points.

A Little Celebration in Little Rhody.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept 10.—A few flags were displayed here to-day and a salute was fired at noon in observance of the anniversary of the victory of Commodore Perry on Lake Erie.

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Polson's Nervoline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw37

SCROFULA

Humors, Erysipelas, Canker, and Catarrh, Can be cured by purifying the blood with

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 908 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

A Runaway.
A runaway on the market square this morning afforded a "bit of diversion" for the spectators. Mr. L. Laplante's delivery horse took fright and bolted across the square, the wagon being pretty badly damaged by colliding with a pile of lumber alongside the new market building. The horse was easily caught.

The Sawdust Question.
Next Monday night a deputation of millowners and others will go to Ottawa for the purpose of interviewing the Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries regarding the sawdust question. The deputation will probably comprise Messrs. Hazlitt, Irwin and Hilliard, Mr. Ouimette, their counsel, Mayor Stevenson, Mr. Innes, Vice-President of the Board of Trade, and perhaps others.

An Orchard Despoiler.
Last night a Smith farmer brought to the police station a boy whom he had caught pilfering from his orchard. The boy was securely strapped up with a halter. The lad's name was John Gross, a youth who was at the time out on suspended sentence for a charge of robbing orchards on Edinburgh street. The boy was dismissed with a warning to quit such practices in future.

Crop Yields.
The Ontario crop bulletin estimates the yield of fall wheat this season in Ontario at 19,132,007 bushels, and spring wheat, 7,879,642 bushels, respectively 23.3 bushels, and 18.3 bushels to the acre. Last year of the two, Ontario produced 20,254,346 bushels, so that this year the crop is 6,527,303 bushels larger; barley is given at 26,539,417 bushels or 3,162,948 bushels larger than last year; oats are given as 73,863,061 bushels, or 8,196,150 larger; peas are given as 15,439,132 bushels, or 1,169,269 bushels larger.

Hymeneal.
The marriage of Mr. A. C. Bliss, of Buffalo, and Mrs. Alexander, of Peterborough, at St. John's church this morning, was quite a surprise to the many friends of the latter in Peterborough. The wedding was very quietly conducted, and Mr. and Mrs. Bliss left on the noon train for New York on a honeymoon trip. The groom, a prosperous business man in Buffalo, is a stranger to Peterborough society. The many friends of the bride will, however, wish him and his wife a long and happy life.

Sunday School Picnic.
The excursion of the Otonabee Union Sunday school to Jubilee Point Tuesday per steamer Golden Eye was an unqualified success. The boat was crowded, a number of Peterborough people being included in the party. Most of the excursionists boarded the steamer at Kennedy's and a few at the locks. About five hours were pleasantly spent at the Point, after which an early return home was made. Some valuable prizes were awarded the successful contest-

Grand Orange Excursion.
An excursion under the auspices of Fraserville Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 46, will take place on Wednesday, the 18th September, to Jubilee Point and Idyl Wild, per steamer "Golden Eye." The steamer, with palace scow, will leave the C.P.R. wharf, Peterborough, at 7.30 a.m., calling at Goodfellow's, Halls Bridge, McClelland's and Campbellstown. A first class quadrille band will furnish music for dancing. Return tickets from Peterborough, Goodfellow's and Halls Bridge, gents, 50 cents, ladies, 25 cents. The committee of management will make every effort to make the day pleasant and enjoyable.

The Auburn Social.
A very pleasant lawn social was held at the Auburn mission hall last evening, the proceeds being devoted to the Sunday School fund. The building was nicely decorated with Chinese lanterns. The was a large attendance, and the social was a pronounced success. Ample refreshments were served, ice cream, lemonade, cake, etc., and the school children were treated also to candies. There was no programme, but the Y.M.C.A. band boys furnished some excellent music. The entertainment was gotten up by the young ladies of the school, principally the Misses Coveny, Miss Johnston, Miss Reid, Miss Brown, Miss Mason and Miss Sperry. Rev. Mr. Leitch also worked hard to make the affair the success it was, acting as general supervisor.

"Dominion Illustrated."
The Dominion Illustrated for September 7 contains some noteworthy features. Scotchmen will enjoy the illustrations of the Caledonian games, including the "Sword Dance," "Putting the Shot," the "Boys' Highland Costume Competition" and the "Bagpipes of the 5th Royal Scots." The portraits of Mr. William Rutherford, president, and Mr. S. C. Stevenson, vice-president, of the Caledonian Society will be prized by the many friends of those popular officials. Girl graduates and aspirants for military honours will be interested in the portraits of Miss Helen Gregory, B.A., and Miss Bac., and of Sergeant-Major H. S. Rogers, winner of the Governor General's gold medal at Kingston Military College. Mrs. Spragge's British Columbia sketches are continued. The "Martin" Nursery Challenge Shield, won by the Victoria Rifles at the P. Q. R. A. matches, and the writing lesson complete the illustrations of a number of much variety and interest.

The Business College.
Business men are constantly applying to us for competent young men and women. At present we have three good positions which we have not students to fill. Young men and women requiring a business training should bear this in mind when they purpose attending any institution. Go to the place where business and professional men will look for their assistants. The value of a practical education cannot be estimated. Give your sons and daughters a good business education and go where they will their services will be in demand. Do not be afraid but that ours will be open for them as soon as they are prepared. The Peterborough Business College has every facility for giving a first-class business training. Our Short hand and type-writing department was never so complete before. The fall term has just opened. A commercial training costs less and places its possessor in a better position than any other. Nearly every failure in business is caused by a want of knowledge of business principles. Come where you learn a systematic method of doing business transactions. Write or apply personally to the principals of the Peterborough Business College for full particulars.

A Timely Visit By Prof. Dorenwend.
Our ladies and gentlemen will be pleased to hear that Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, will visit Peterborough with a large stock of his Hair Goods. He will stop at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24 and 25. As everyone knows he does a large business here and as his stay is limited, it is to be hoped that intending purchasers will not leave their calling to the last hour. The Prof. is making a most liberal offer to those who may have to come from a distance to see him. He will pay their fare to and from town. His attractive posters, with full particulars, will be found hung up in the surrounding towns. The Professor calls special attention to his great variety of frontpieces, bangs, waves, etc. Among them are pieces that will become every one. In wigs, switches, etc., he can show probably the largest stock in America. His wigs and toupees for gentlemen need but little description, they can advertise themselves, they rival nature in perfection. Our people can consider themselves very fortunate to be able to secure such goods right at home without much trouble, and we hope that they will keep up their reputation of being progressive and up to the times by calling at the Professor's show rooms and securing one of his styles. His stopping place is Phalen's hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24th and 25th.

Board of Trade.
A general meeting of the Board of Trade was held last night. The members were very slow in gathering, and it was a quarter to nine o'clock before a quorum assembled. Mr. R. Innes, Vice-President, occupied the chair, and there were present the Secretary, Mr. J. H. Burnham, and Messrs. J. M. Irwin, T. G. Hazlitt, J. W. Fairweather, T. A. Hay, Wm. Manson, W. H. Meldrum, H. S. Macdonald, R. Fair, W. Paterson, B. Shortly, Geo. J. Early, N. Polley, R. Kingan, A. V. R. Young and F. J. Lewis.

After the reading of the minutes, the Secretary made a verbal report of his observations at the Merchants' Convention in Hamilton. He reported that the Convention was not a brilliant success. As far as he could deduce from the arguments presented, regarding the financial difficulties of the country, the opinion was that the science of political economy had not kept pace with the changes in the systems of labor and domestic economy. The credit system was bad owing to the sharp and unbusiness-like practices of wholesale men and travellers. The remedy lay in getting a fairer credit system; let the good man get credit upon better terms than the unsound tradesman. Invoices should not be dated ahead. Above all, county associations should be formed for redressing the wrongs inflicted upon sound tradesman in their own districts. A plan was now on foot to organize a Dominion Board of Trade, for which he (Mr. Burnham) was appointed as representative for this Town and County. A vote of thanks was passed to the Secretary, and, in the meantime, several members having made their escape and broken the quorum, no further business could be transacted and the meeting dissolved.

A Credit to Peterborough.

The "Dominion Illustrated" Publishes a Portrait and Biographical Sketch of Sergt.-Major H. S. Rogers.

Recently the EXAMINER published a paragraph detailing the remarkable success of Mr. H. S. Rogers at the close of his career at the Royal Military College. The record he made and the position he took, were such as to attract more than local attention, and therefore the Dominion Illustrated gives Sergt.-Major Rogers a place amongst distinguished Canadians, publishing a capital portrait of the young warrior and the following biographical sketch:—

Sergeant-Major H. S. Rogers, whose portrait appears amongst our illustrations, has just graduated in the Royal Military College, Kingston. He carried off the Stanley Gold Medal, and by obtainining the highest aggregate of marks in the whole course gained the Lord Stanley prize as a qualified graduate intending to pursue the military profession, either in the Imperial forces or in the Dominion militia, for highest proficiency at the final examination in military engineering, military administration and law, strategy and tactics, military surveying, topography and reconnaissance. He also won the class prize for proficiency, and also five class prizes in the entire course, and is now being recommended for a commission in the Royal Engineers. Henry Schofield Rogers was born in Peterborough, Ont., on the 29th of June, 1869, and is the third son of Col H. C. Rogers, postmaster of Peterborough. He was educated at the public school and collegiate institute of that town, and entered the Royal Military College, Kingston, in June, 1885. Col. Rogers, his father, in this year commodore of the American Canoe Association, and is a descendant of one of the United Empire Loyalists, who settled near Peterborough. The Colonel's great-grandfather was Col. James Rogers, commander of the King's Rangers, himself a brother of that Major Rogers whose exploits as a scout in the wars of the colonies against the French have furnished a theme for Fenimore Cooper's most thrilling tales. The Rogers family has always had an ardour for military life, and Col. Rogers, true to this instinct, at the age of sixteen, joined the first rifle company organized in the County of Peterborough, to the command of which he was appointed in 1866. A short time afterwards he organized a troop of cavalry—No. 3 Regiment of Cavalry—in which he now occupies the position of Lieutenant Colonel. To those who are curious for early records of the use of the canoe for cruising purposes, it may be stated that the great-grandfather of Sergt-Major Rogers, before the beginning of the present century, paddled his birch bark canoe from the Bay of Quinte to Niagara to attend to his duties as a member of the first Provincial Legislature. With such an ancestry, it is not surprising that Sergeant-Major Rogers has adopted the military profession as his career in life. Like his father, he has a fine physique and manly bearing, marking him at once as well fitted to grace a uniform. His success at the Military College, is, we believe, unprecedented, and the hearty plaudits and congratulations of his brother graduates clearly indicate the popularity in which they hold their brilliant comrade. We join with his many friends in wishing Sergeant-Major Rogers much success in his career.

Eloped with a Neighbor's Wife.

An Elopement Case from Burleigh Township—The Guilty Couple Get Safely Away.

Chief Roczel was interviewed this forenoon by a man who sought redress for the wrongs inflicted upon him by a neighbor. His name was Joseph Macauley, a lumberman living in Burleigh Township. His wife had eloped with John Blewett, a neighbor, and left him disconsolate. He had traced the guilty pair to their present abode in the west, and wanted Blewett arrested. He was told that the law provided for no remedy in such a case. The only course to pursue is to follow the runaway couple and make it so hot for them they will be glad to separate. This Macauley vows he will do.

The elopement occurred the first of August last. Blewett is a woodworker, and had a wife and two children. Mrs. Macauley was quite a young woman and without any family. She left her home August 1st and came to town on the stage, ostensibly for the purpose of having cashed a $60 check, part of her husband's salary. She also took with her a valuable watch, but no clothing. At Peterborough, no doubt by pre-arrangement, she met Blewett, and the pair stopped at Roddy's hotel over night before proceeding to Toronto, Mrs. Macauley of course taking the money and watch with her. They are now living in the west, where the irate husband of the faithless woman traced them. He threatens to get even with the man who robbed him of his wife.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The leaves have again begun to turn.

A social is talked of to take place soon in connection with the church here.

The Industrial at Toronto has attracted a greater number from here this year than usual. Those who will take advantage of circumstances to see it, are to numerous to mention, though fall seeding is nearly two weeks later than usual.

Dr. Soden of Baillieboro is still suffering from a lingering illness. He will not be able to resume work again before winter, however speedy may be his recovery. He is attended by Dr. King.

Mr. J. H. McBain favored us on Sunday evening, 1st inst., with a very interesting and instructive sermon. As it is but a short time since he was one of the boys at our public school, nearly all felt interested and the church was unusually well filled. The masterly manner in which he handled his subject, and his cool deliberation, show undoubtedly that much zeal and energy go with him in his new work.

Harvesting is almost finished and also the fall seeding. The work has been very regular with little rush, except threshing for barnroom. Very few if any of the yards are without a huge stack of straw, and if the straw of the farm were put in many of them there would be no room left for the cattle. This is quite a change, as the straw has been pretty small for the past two years. The question is anxiously asked "will there be a corresponding yield?" to which we can give an affirmative answer for this locality. Fall wheat alone was injured a little, probably from excessive rains in June. Peas and oats are excellent.

Coverings for Bald Heads.
Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto is coming to town. He will be at Phalens Hotel on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24 and 25. He wants all gentlemen who are bald to come and see his toupees and wigs, they are made of real human hair and so well shaped that they take the place perfectly of the departed growth both as to appearance and protection. If you live out of town don't let that stop you, but come in and Professor will pay your fare both ways. There is now no excuse for you to go bald headed. Come and see the Professor. dw

Brown-Sequard's Process.

He Objects to the word "Elixir," and Condemns Ignorant Experimenters.

PARIS, Sept. 8, 1889

The N. Y. Herald's Paris correspondent says:—Dr. Brown-Sequard, who recently returned to Paris from Brighton, where he has been passing his summer holidays, is still pursuing his investigations and experiments in reference to the methods of increasing vitality. His studies are not directed toward accomplishing for women the same result that he maintains has been reached in the case of men—that is to say, the period of capacity for conception can be prolonged by subcutaneous inoculations with substances primarily obtained from female dogs. These researches have not yet arrived at a sufficiently advanced stage to convince Dr. Brown-Sequard that a practical application can be made in this direction at present, but several women have already called upon him and offered themselves as subjects for these inoculations.

Dr. Brown Sequard received me yesterday afternoon at his residence in Paris. The venerable Academician was suffering from an attack of acute muscular rheumatism of the lower limbs that has kept him in bed for the last few days, but he is now much better, although his limbs are still stiff and painful.

DISAPPOINTED IN AMERICAN DOCTORS.

As I handed Dr. Brown Sequard a voluminous package of cuttings from American papers referring to experiments made with his inoculations he smiled rather sadly and said:—

"Why, I thought I knew your countrymen pretty well, but it seems that I was mistaken. It never occurred to me that so many of them would go off at half cock, as it were, and undertake experiments of this kind without first thoroughly mastering all the preliminary details."

"Your elixir has certainly caused a great sensation in America."

"Please don't make use of that word "elixir!" exclaimed Dr. Brown-Sequard. "I never made use of the word 'elixir,' still less of the words 'elixir of life. These are all expressions or inventions of sensational newspapers. If quacks or ignorant men in America have killed people, as stated by the New York papers, they would have avoided committing those murders had they paid the least attention to the most elementary rules as regards the subcutaneous injection of animal substances, or even if they had carefully read the paper on the subject that appeared in the London Lancet of July 20."

NO SPECIAL DANGER.

"Are injections of animal matter attended with special danger?"

"No," replied Dr. Brown-Sequard; "injections of animal matter have no danger, as a rule, unless the substance begins to be decomposed. When this condition of things exists no good can be obtained, and there is grave danger of inflammation, abscesses and even death. There is, of course, also great danger unless the strictest attention is paid to the cleanliness of all vases and instruments. Persons wishing to make use of my process ought to bestow on the small operation that it involves as much care as they would upon an operation of the amputation of the thigh, for instance."

"What is your opinion of the way in which your process has been received in America and in England."

"I am prepared to say with the utmost frankness that the appreciations of the method seem to me to be either too laudatory—absurdly so, in fact—on the one hand, and too deprecatory—too vindictive, I may say—on the other hand. Public opinion has gone to the two extremes. There seems to be no happy medium of criticism. The views expressed by Dr. Loomis, of New York, seem to me to be very just. Why, while I was at Brighton an experiment was made, and when blood poisoning ensued from an utter disregard of the ordinary precautions taken in subcutaneous injections of animal substances the fact was made known to me and my advice asked for. I replied:—'The mischief is done now. Why didn't you ask me about it before the operation?'"

Another Rock Ahead.
Now that the dog-days are over, the fall bonnet is the rock in which the family pocket book will split. This season need be no dread to the family that has patronized Hawley Bros. for teas and coffees. They will have saved enough of money, and get so much comfort from the use of these goods, that fall bonnets will have no fear for them. Remember when you want to get the best of teas at the best of prices, or coffees, ditto, that Hawley Bros. is the best place and only place in town.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

Advice No. 1.

IF you have money for which you have no immediate use, invest it at once in Real Estate, but do not do it blindly. If invested wisely it will make money faster than you can.

During the past five years I have supplied investments from which purchasers have realized profits of tens, hundreds and thousands of dollars, and I do not know a single instance where loss has been sustained.

With this record, I feel justified in soliciting a call from any person wanting a home or an investment, for any amount of money from ten dollars to ten thousand.

I have several bargains to offer just now.

VOL. IX. NO. 62. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

THERE ARE TWO RIPPERS.

ONE A BEHEADER, THE OTHER AN EVISCERATOR.

The Former's Victims Number Four, the Latter's Seven—The Latest Whitechapel Atrocity—Police Stupidity.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Thousands of Londoners daily take the trains of the Great Eastern Railway at Fenchurch-street, which rises above the grade of the populous thoroughfares in Whitechapel and on a level with the housetops crosses the Thames below London bridge. The masonry of the railroad structure has cut up the street below into irregular sections, which end in blind alleys against the arches on one side and start abruptly from stone piers on the other, leaving gloomy recesses and deserted courts in the centre of a densely populated slum. The higher arches of this steam roadway are rented to contractors, coal dealers and junkmen. Lower down they are boarded up to a height of ten or fifteen feet, and where a stone trestle is lowest the empty spaces under the arches are used as receptacles for garbage and during the daytime as a playground for the squalid children of the wretched tenement houses in the adjoining streets. As a consequence of its location Pinchin-street, in Whitechapel, running alongside and partly under the railroad structure, is at night deserted and silent in the centre of a neighborhood teeming with the vilest of the human dregs of London. Cable-street, one of the main arteries of travel in that part of the city, intersects Pinchin-street just below on an intermediate arch, and a block to the westward, Leman-street, a great mercantile thoroughfare, runs from Whitechapel road to the river. A gloomier spot, or one better fitted for a tragedy, may not be found in London.

Early yesterday morning a police officer, whose beat is through this lonesome district, detected in the growing light what seemed to be a human body under one of the lowest of these dark arches, and turning the light of his bull's-eye lamp upon it the terrible sight was disclosed. Lying breast downward upon the ground was the nude trunk and arms of a woman's body. The head and legs had been severed and carried away, as if, indeed, the tragedy had occurred on the spot, and a battered and bloody chemise was thrown over the corpse.

The policeman blew his whistle as a signal for the murderer to get out of the way, and after abundant time had elapsed for anyone to escape from the neighborhood, a police cordon formed around the spot, and a search was made, with the result that three drunken sailors were found in a state of alcoholic coma under the next arch, whose condition effectually exculpated them from any complicity in the crime. The reporters were carefully excluded from the spot, and the usual marvelous assiduity of the London police force was brought to bear upon the case. The result is that this, the ninth murder within a period of eighteen months in Whitechapel, remains as great a mystery as the other eight.

This part of London is teeming with detectives and policemen. A baseball player could throw a stone from the spot where the Berners-street murder was committed by Jack the Ripper on Sept. 3 last year to the arch where the body was found yesterday morning, and from the arch he might throw another stone into Leman-street police station. And yet right through these swarming detectives and policemen somebody had brought the dead body and thrown it under the arch, or else the murder was committed on the spot, and the hands and arms taken away.

The only reason for doubting the accuracy of the first theory is that the public hold to it. The body is evidently that of a young woman, between 20 and 30 years old, and there is absolutely nothing about it in its mutilated state to give the slightest clue to its identity. The hands are not those of a working woman, but there are no marks upon the fingers by which it could be conjectured whether or no she had ever worn a wedding ring. She was, undoubtedly, one of the unfortunates who patrol the streets of Whitechapel, but this is evidently not one of Jack the Ripper's victims, and neither was that artist responsible for the previous murder in Castle alley on July 16 last. The terrible significance of yesterday morning's discovery is that it reveals the fact that there are two series of murders being committed by two separate criminals under the eyes of the police in the heart of London. Yesterday's instance is the fourth tragedy in which only the trunk of a woman's body has been found and the head and limbs not discovered. The first was found at Rainham, where it had been thrown up by the Thames three years ago. The second was the body found on an embankment near Charing Cross soon after. The third was the trunk found at Battersea park last spring, the legs of which were afterwards cast up by the Thames. In these three instances the bodies have remained unidentified and the heads have never been found. The present case will doubtless be identical, as the prevailing theory is that this murderer bludgeons his victims and then severs and burns the heads, throwing what other members he is unable to dispose of otherwise, into the Thames. Four undetected murders, therefore, lie at the door of this savage.

The seven murders in which abdominal lacerations occurred between April 3 and Nov. 9, 1888, may be attributed to the Ripper and the one of July 16 last to a poor imitator of the eviscerator. In all, twelve murders have been committed in circumstances which should render the perpetrators unusually easy of detection, but to whom the police haven't the slightest clue.

The London newspapers picture Whitechapel in a state of panic-stricken excitement to-day. Whitechapel, however, is in a state of torpor. People have been so accustomed to these tragedies that they cease to excite anything more than a mild interest and a vague wonder in the minds of street-walkers as to which one will be taken next.

When your correspondent visited Pinchin-street, under the railroad arch, a crowd had gathered around the police cordon, which for some inscrutable reason is drawn about the spot where the body was found. Numbers of women lay asleep on the side walk and others are talking and jesting with the policemen, but the great body of men, women and children only stared apathetically at the black hole where the bloody trunk was found, and perhaps found a species of gratification in conjuring up the probable details of the crime in their morbid imaginations. The police are as much in the dark now as when the body was found yesterday morning or when the twelve other bodies were found on twelve other mornings.

McAuliffe Defeats Allen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—A fight to a finish, Queensberry rules, between Pat Killen, heavyweight champion of the Northwest, and Joe McAuliffe, ex-champion heavyweight of the Pacific coast, for a purse of $2500, $500 to go to the loser, took place at the Golden Gate Athletic Club to night. McAuliffe weighed about 203 pounds, and was seconded by "Prof." Anderson and Dan. Campbell. McAuliffe won the fight in the seventh round.

A Cave in, Not a Quake.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 11.—One of the greatest caves-in that has yet occurred in the coal regions startled the residents of the Wyoming Valley last night. Just outside of the town of Plymouth the earth settled for a distance of half a mile, affecting thirty acres of territory belonging to the Delaware and Hudson Railway Company. The entire territory undermined was still being worked out. The concussion was thought by many to be caused by an earthquake and people here, four miles distant, experienced a rocking sensation. The damage will be immense. About 1500 men and boys are thrown out of employment.

C. P. R. General Manager ship.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—It is rumoured in railway circles that the position of Assistant General Manager of the C. P. R. will either be given to Mr. T. A. MacKinnon or to Mr. C. W. Spencer, both of whom are divisional superintendents.

Corporal Tanner Resigns.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Commissioner Tanner has resigned.

THE WORK OF THE STORM

THE ATLANTIC COAST SWEPT FROM MAINE TO HATTERAS.

Stories of Devastation from Many Centres—Vessels Wrecked and Lives Lost—The Ruined Race Course.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—All communication by rail and telegraph between this city and Atlantic City and Atlantic City and points north there on the Atlantic is still cut off.

Half-a-dozen shanties on the beach at the extreme southern end of the island were burned last night or this morning. This was the extent of the rumored conflagration at Atlantic City. The report of the demolition of the board walk is confirmed and the booths, pavilions and places of amusement located thereon were likewise destroyed. No other serious damage to property is reported and it is stated there was no loss of life. On the West Jersey road it will be three days before trains can be run between Pleasantville and Atlantic City. The Reading Railroad is also in bad shape, and some time must elapse before trains can run.

Postmaster Chester of Sea Isle City today made his way to the mainland and reports things in a very bad shape there. The sea wall has been destroyed. About 15 houses have been washed away, including the Newland House, the Star House and the Shakespeare Hotel. Many miles of railroad track have been carried away by the high water on the coast and weeks will be required to place the lines where they were before the storm.

Ruin at Ocean City.

SALISBURY, Md., Sept. 11.—Reports of a startling character are coming in of the storm at Ocean City, Md., though the telegraph office there is unoccupied. The large columns supporting the porches at the hotels and cottages are washed away, the doors and windows are broken down and the furniture is floating about the beach. The seas last night were breaking to the second story of the Atlantic hotel and Congress Hall and huge waves were running through the hotels six feet deep. There is not a vestige of a bath house on the beach. A special train was sent over last night to rescue dwellers on the beach. The work was accomplished by a large number of stout men joining hands and wading through water waist deep. It was a perilous undertaking.

Vessels and Crews Lost.

LEWES, Del., Sept. 11.—The schooners Kate E. Morse and Walter F. Parker have sunk at 14-foot bank. The survivors of the Bryan think they are the only saved of the three vessels. They came down the bay on a hatch. The Bryan was coal-laden. The bark Thomas Keiller (British), from Philadelphia for London, appears to be on the beach. The bark Atalanta (Danish), from Hamburg for Philadelphia, and the schooner Nettie Champion are ashore below the iron pier. The storm is still raging. The sea is up to the town and everything on the beach is submerged.

Many Yachts Sunk.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. — The situation along the New Jersey coast from Sandy Hook as far south as Seabright was very serious to-day. Telegraph lines are down and all towns between Seabright and Sandy Hook and between Atlantic Highlands and Highland Beach are cut off from communication with the outside world either by water, rail or telegraph.

The Valencia Club boat house, the largest and finest at the Elysian Fields, Hoboken, succumbed to the violence of the gale this morning and not a vestige of it remains. Sixteen boats belonging to the club and six boats owned by private persons were destroyed.

Sixteen yachts of the Jersey City Yacht Club were sunk during the night. At the Harlem Club's anchorage yesterday over 30 yachts were seen; only one remains to-day. The other clubs also had several yachts carried away.

The backbone of the great cyclone is now said to be broken. The wind is veering toward the north and this will drive the waters back from the coast.

Nine pilots were carried away to-day on steamers. They were directing outward. They could not meet any pilot boat to take them off on account of the storm. Most of the steamers were bound for Europe.

The Brighton Beach Track Ruined.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. Jim Clare, the superintendent of the Brighton Beach race track, said to-day the track was ruined and he feared it would never be repaired. The water on the track is 3 to 12 feet deep.

A Furious Gale on the Hudson.

NYACK, N. Y., Sept. 11.—A furious gale along the lower Hudson did much damage to-day; many small craft were wrecked, docks washed out and many large trees blown down.

CABLE NOTES.

A Lull in the London Strike Negotiations—Stanley on the March.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The wharfingers have posted placards throughout the city entreating the men not to allow a diversion of trade to other ports. The lightermen, however, resolutely decline to resume while the dockmen remain out although their demands are fully conceded. Their action greatly hampers the wharfingers.

The New Zealand Shipping Company has brought action against the dock companies for several thousand pounds damages for detention of the mail steamer Ruapehu. Other actions for damages are threatened.

The ministers of numerous dissenting churches have signed an appeal for donations for the strikers. A public meeting has been called for Friday, in the City Temple, to discuss the strike.

Another meeting of the strikers was held at Tower Hill to-day. Mr. Tillett and Mr. Champion made addresses, in which they congratulated the strikers upon the increase in the subscriptions for their benefit and the better organized plan for the distribution of relief. They expressed the belief that Cardinal Manning, who they say is deeply impressed with the justice of the strikers' demands, would succeed in arranging a settlement.

There is a pause in the strike negotiations. Cardinal Manning has postponed his interview with the directors of the dock companies until to-morrow. Mr. Burns is ill from overwork and is taking a day's rest.

Edinburgh-Glasgow Ship Canal.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—A scheme is announced for the construction of a ship canal between Edinburgh and Glasgow. The capital is placed at £7,000,000.

The Czarina to Visit Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—A despatch from St. Petersburg to The Cologne Gazette says the Czarina will accompany the Czar to Berlin on Sept. 29.

The Patriarch Must Hustle or Get.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 11.—At an assembly of the Greek Synod with the council of the church the Œcumenic Patriarch was censured for failing to exercise pressure on the Porte to arrange a settlement regarding the rights of the church, and he was formally requested either to obtain a settlement or to resign.

Honors for the Danmark's Men.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 11.—King Christian has appointed Captain Knudson of the steamer Danmark, which was abandoned at sea, a Knight of the Order of the Dannebrog. The honor is conferred upon him in consideration of his seaman-like conduct in time of peril. The insurance companies interested in the vessel have presented Captain Knudson with a silver epergne. They have also given a piece of plate to each of the other officers of the Danmark, while all the members of the crew have received gifts of money.

A Secret Investigation.

ANTWERP, Sept. 11.—The official enquiry into the causes which led to the recent disastrous explosion and conflagration in this city is proceeding. The proceedings are conducted in secret. It is officially denied that the cartridges which exploded in the factory contained dynamite. It is believed the explosion occurred in the factory before the petroleum reservoirs caught fire.

Cholera in Athens.

ATHENS, Sept 10. - A number of cases of cholera are reported in this city.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Mistassini Mystery Dissolved—A. G. Allan Admitted to Bail.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—The World this morning gives an account of the trip recently made by Mr. W. J. Loudon and Mr. G. S. Macdonald to Lake Mistassini. From the earliest dawn of Canadian history various and extraordinary accounts have been published from time to time concerning the mysterious character of this great northern lake which lies on the Height of Land around latitude 50° N., longitude 74° W., and which drains, by means of the Rupert's River, far to the westward into James' Bay. Summing the story up, which occupies considerably over a page of the paper, The World says editorially:

Lake Mistassini lies about three hundred miles north of Lake St. John in the Province of Quebec, and between Hudson Bay and Labrador. The Rupert's River, which drains this lake, falls into Hudson Bay about four hundred miles from Mistassini. The Hudson Bay Company have a post on Mistassini and take in their supplies by the Rupert's River route, which, though longer, is much more accessible than from Lake St. John, the starting point of Mr. Loudon and Mr. Macdonald.

What has been called the Mistassini mystery has been dissolved by the journey of these gentlemen. Instead of an immense lake, greater than Superior, as has been current for years, the lake is about one hundred miles long and twenty broad, with a chain of islands running up the centre; and parallel to it, on one of its sides, is another lake of similar shape, making three in all. But the three of them put together would make a very inferior comparison with Lake Ontario. The mystery imparted to Mistassini rests entirely on the tales of men who had never visited it, but who had come in contact with Indians who knew something of these waters and who had been impressed by the terrible privations endured by Montagnais and Nasquapees and the other hunters who lived in that inhospitable country. Most of these who had previously written about Mistassini, not having any facts to present as to its geographical and other characteristics, succeeded in creating a mystery and a terror in regard to it. The Hudson Bay Company, too, it would appear, seem so have been satisfied that the country should remain under the shadow of the mysterious, as their trading monopoly is best protected by absence of intrusion of any kind.

The country about Mistassini, as we learn from the expedition of these gentlemen, is a very poor one, totally unfit for settlement, with little or no timber, inhabited by only a few Indian hunters and their families, whose members are steadily decreasing, marked by an animal life limited to bears and beavers and a few other fur-bearing animals. A land, in the short summer, of heavy rains, and in the winter of nothing but ice and snow for more than eight months in the year. Streams, lakes and rivers, and rushing rapids seem to be everywhere.

There is considerable speculation as to the identity of the woman Alice Tinning, whose death was the subject of an inquest on Tuesday. It is said that she has both a husband and children in the city, but efforts to trace their whereabouts have so far proved unavailing. Yesterday, although the Inspector of Anatomy had been notified, he had not claimed the body.

An inquest on the body of Patrick Brophy, who died in the Model Lodging House yard last Monday night, was held yesterday afternoon at the City Morgue by Coroner Johnson.

The evidence went to show that Brophy had been subject to fits and that his condition was not thought at all serious by those who saw him, also that no application had been made to Dr. Cannifi for an order to remove deceased to the Hospital. The jury brought in a verdict of death from natural causes.

There was a rather interesting case tried before Judge McDougall in the County Court yesterday. It commenced at 11 and lasted until 5 p.m. Annie M. Thornley sued E. J. Reilly for $200 and costs for furnishing liquor to her husband after she had served notice on him not to do so. M. McConnell was also sued for a like amount, but he compromised matters yesterday morning by handing over $200 to the plaintiff's lawyer, who thereupon withdrew the suit. Mr. R. C. Levisconte represented Mrs. Thornley and Mr. W. G. Murdoch the defendant.

Mrs. Thornley is the wife of William Thornley, ex-caretaker of the Masonic Block, Toronto-street. William was addicted to taking too much liquor and in order to break him of the habit and reform his ways his wife served notice on Mr. Reilly, where he was supposed to get most of his supplies, not to give him anything more to drink. The notice was served in July, 1888, but the plaintiff claimed that no attention was paid to it. Anyhow it was proved at the trial that Thornley got liquor in the defendant's hotel, The Senate, on subsequent occasions and hence the present suit.

Mr. Reilly in defence stated he did not know the man, in fact had never to the best of his belief seen him. He had asked his bartender whether he knew Thornley and the answer was no. He took no further steps to obey the notice. The judge made an exhaustive charge rather in favor of the defendant, but the jury, after 20 minutes' absence, returned a verdict of $100 and costs for plaintiff.

Judgment was reserved on the point of law whether the notice served on defendant fully came up to the requirements of the law.

Messrs. Macdonald, McIntosh & McCrimmon, solicitors for Mrs. Jane Ellen Green, yesterday issued a writ against the Conger Coal Co. and Mosher & Arnot, contractors, of this city, for $10,000 damages for the death of her husband, William Green, who fell from the hoist of the Conger Coal Co. on August 2 and was killed. The plaintiff claims that her husband's death was caused by the negligence of defendants in not having the hoist properly guarded with a railing.

THE PROVINCIAL SYNOD.

In Session at Montreal—A List of the Officers Appointed.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—The triennial meeting of the Provincial Synod was inaugurated this morning by a sermon and Communion in Christ's Church Cathedral. The Bishop of Niagara sang the Litany. The ante-communion office was said by the Bishop of Toronto, the Bishop of Maine being epistoller and the Bishop of Albany gospeller. Right Rev. Dr. Courtney, Bishop of Nova Scotia, preached an effective sermon on the "Unity of the Church," choosing as his text the words: "And the apostles and elders came together to consider this matter."

In the afternoon a business session was held in St. George's Schoolroom. Two largely-signed memorials were received from the Diocesan Synods of Ontario and Montreal asking the Provincial Synod to take such action as in its wisdom it considered advisable to have the Jesuits' Estates legislation repealed. These memorials will probably come up before the synod to-morrow.

These officers of the Synod were appointed: Rev. John Pearson, Toronto, Secretary of the House of Bishops; Rev. John Langtry, Clerical Secretary of the Lower House; Very Rev. R. W. Norman, D.C.L., Dean of Quebec, hon. Clerical Secretary Lower House; L. H. Davidson, D.C.L., Q.C., Montreal, hon. Lay Secretary Lower House; A. F. Gault, Montreal, Treasurer; Charles Garth and T. P. Butler, Q.C., D.C.L., Montreal, auditors. Rev. John Langtry was appointed prolocutor.

Singular Suicide at Canfield.

CANFIELD, Sept. 11.—A stranger got off the train on Saturday, walked straight to a neighboring barn, set fire to it, and then pulled out a pistol and shot himself dead. The barn and contents were totally destroyed. The suicide has not been identified.

C. P. R. Earnings.

MONTREAL Sept. 11.—The earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Sept. 1 to 7 were:

1889	$235,000
Increase for 1889	$ 77,000

Above does not include earnings on Southeastern Railway.

The forests of Pentelicus are on fire. Twenty seven thousand trees have been destroyed.

Stanley's Successes.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 11.—The Mouvement Geographique states that Henry M. Stanley is marching toward Mombenza, after fighting his way through the hostile country of the Umjore and Ugande tribes and conquering the natives. He has, the paper says, established the authority of the British East Africa Company over the country from the Upper Nile to the East coast. The paper declares that it is doubtful if Emin Pasha, to whose relief the Stanley expedition was originally sent, is accompanying Stanley to the coast.

Spectators Cause Win Buffalo Prizes.

BUFFALO, Sept. 11.—The Bow Park cattle farm of Brantford secured prizes at the Industrial Exhibition here to-day for best aged bull, best yearling bull, best cow, best 2-year-old, best yearling, best calf, best aged herd, best young herd.

A YANKEE TRUTHTELLER.

U. S. FISHERMEN LIVE BY STEALING CANADA'S FISH.

Several Witnesses Testify at Boston Before the United States Senate Committee on Relations With Canada.

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—The United States Senate Committee on Relations with Canada began its public hearings in Boston to-day. Representative E. A. Morse of Canton addressed the committee. He said he did not think it profitable for the United States and Canada to retain an army of revenue officers on each side of a line 3000 miles long. The customs laws are now only partially enforced and will become more difficult of enforcement as the population along the frontier increases. If Canada would conform its protective tariff to ours and consent to a just adjustment of the fishery difficulty he would favor a reciprocity treaty. The interstate commerce law he considered most unjust to American railroads, driving business away to parallel lines in Canada. The law should be repealed. It is an outrage, an interference with private rights. If not repealed something must be done to protect our railroads from Canadian competition. New England must increase her own food supply and her manufacturers must be nearer their markets and places of consumption. He thought the reports of the workings of the law by the commissioners was entirely false and misleading.

S. P. Hibbard of the Chamber of Commerce said he came from Canada 25 years ago and he believed the reciprocity then in force was better for both nations than anything in force since. He believed in annexation and would oppose any policy to hinder such consummation. He believed the general view in Canada was that the extension of commercial privileges would soon lead to annexation. Canadian roads gave Boston better service than American.

A. Hardy of Boston said members of the Produce Exchange preferred the re-establishment of reciprocity to political or commercial union, both of which he considered impracticable at present. He thought the interstate law might be left to work out its own problem.

B. F. Dutts of Boston said all the fishing interests of Boston had always been in favor of reciprocity. Canada had much to give in return, as 99 per cent. of the fish brought to American ports by American vessels were stolen from within the 3-mile limit and American fishermen must have Canadian bait.

Alden Speare thought annexation the best solution of the problem and commercial union the next best, but thought both impracticable at present. He thought the re-enactment of the treaty of 1854 eliminating fish would be to the advantage of both countries. Mr. Speare gave statistics to show the advantage that would accrue from making coal and pig iron free. He pronounced against the last fishery treaty and advocated retaliatory measures.

St. Paul Earnings.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The directors of the St. Paul road have declared a dividend of 2½ per cent. on the preferred stock payable out of the earnings of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1889. As the dividend last fall was paid Oct. 22, and the one just declared is payable Oct. 21 both are considered to fall within the same year and with the 2 per cent. paid in April supply the 7 per cent. in one year which the preferred stock must receive before the common is entitled to a dividend. The gross earnings of the road during the year ending June 30 were $23,422,559, net revenue $9,099,951, total surplus July 1 $988,410.

Gamblers Defy State Authorities.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 11.—The California State Fair which opened here two days ago has attracted a large number of pool-sellers and gamblers who have been warned by the chief of police that they will be arrested if they attempt to sell pools or carry on games of chance. Kelly & Co., pool sellers, took possession of the government building site here to-day and claimed exemption from the state law, asserting they held a lease on the premises from Washington. The police have not attempted to arrest them.

Killed by St. Louis Footpads.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11.—John Block, a farmer of St. Louis County, was waylaid by foot pads while driving in the suburbs here last night and killed. Several other men were robbed in the same vicinity earlier in the evening. There is no clue.

Turnbull's Column

Not another day is left of the 1889 Summer if we go by the almanac. Its unparalled storms, floods, freshets and singular wetness with us, and extreme dryness in the west, pass into history as part of the record of a remarkable year. It was a strange summer. It was a strangely active summer for us notwithstanding the general feeling of shortness of money and depression. Standing on the edge of autumn, the holidays behind us we now look ahead. Next Saturday, Sept. 7th, we commence the fall cannonade. The troops are passing from all quarters, the sound of the bargain guns will be heard all along the line. What shall be done with the balance of our summer things? Sell them at prices that will pay housekeepers to invest in them! All the while during the spring and summer we've been laying in and laying away autumn things. The time has come to show some of them. Our Dress Goods Department is groaning under the weight of the quantity of beautiful goods we have opened out from all lands where choice goods are made. Next week we shall endeavor to describe some of the different makes. The Mantle Department is more than usually attractive this year. We have full ranges of Ladies' Short and Long Mantles in a variety of Black and Colored cloths.

Our stock of Children's Mantles is so varied the only way to form a correct idea of what we show is to see them.

We hope to largely increase our Tailoring trade this season. Those we have been making for have been well pleased. Our Tailor is hard to beat. Our stock of Imported Tweeds and Overcoatings is very choice, and are sure to find a ready sale as the prices are right. Call early and see the new mantle cloths.

Our Mantle Cutter is always on hand to cut and fit on short notice. With brightened prospects to farmers, and an extensive and well bought stock to select from, we expect this season's trade to be larger than ever.

The new Fall fashion sheets and books have arrived. Call and get one.

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves."
G. H. BEERS, Orbisonia, Pa.

"I am in my 65th year. Have been afflicted in several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite, no courage, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and got relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man."
S. C. EDLARD, D. D., Gonzales, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Strengthens and builds up the old, and cures their infirmities. Rheumatism, indigestion and nervousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 69 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system."
E. MILLER, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1889.

Sanitary Reports for 1888,

The seventh annual report of the Provincial Board of Health contains, as usual, a great many interesting facts, and brings before the proper authorities a great many important suggestions. Every year's experience shows how important and beneficial the work of the Board is in the removal of nuisances, the speedy arrest of infectious diseases, the education of the public in reference to sanitary matters, and the consequent improvement of the general health of the community as well as the increased amenity and comfort of all domestic arrangements. A good deal has been accomplished, but much more remains to be done before the work can be said to be complete. It is surprising how difficult it is to awaken general interest in sanitary matters, and how perverse in their neglect of the most reasonable suggestions very many are from whom better things might have been expected. Nothing apparently but legal force will induce numbers of people to make changes and effect improvements of the most obviously beneficial description. They will very often rather incur all risks and suffer from poor health and unsanitary homes than put themselves to very moderate expense or to temporary trouble and inconvenience. Against this ignorance and vis inertiæ the Boards of Health throughout the Province have had to wage a constant and often a very disagreeable battle. Indeed, in not a few cases these local Boards themselves seem to have been hampered and all but paralysed by the perversity or shortsightedness of some of their own members, and it has only been by persistent and judicious directions and persuasive from the Provincial Board that much of what has been locally accomplished has been secured. Such hindrances are, however, being gradually but surely removed. The twin evils of ignorance and prejudice, which give a sort of eternity to each other, are being effectively dealt with, and it is to be expected that every year will see a more marked improvement in the health of the community and in the consequent greater increase of the population by natural means in addition to that of immigration. And surely it is better to incur expense by such preventive measures, which every year save many valuable lives, than by the importation of those who may supply the blanks caused by unnecessary deaths. The extent to which these sanitary labors have already been carried may be judged of from the fact that there are no fewer than 520 local Boards of Health in the Province, with 350 Medical Health Officers, all more or less busily engaged in performing their duties by perfecting their local sanitary arrangements for the prevention of disease among the people of their several localities. In this way a network of skilled and interested observers and officers is spread over the entire country, all in direct communication with the Central Board, which acts as guide, adviser, and authority to the whole organization. Any outbreak of contagious disease in any locality is immediately reported. It causes are carefully studied, and the best precautions are taken for its localization and speedy removal.

Smallpox has thus been dealt with during the past year in some localities. Diphtheria has been much more widely diffused, and has been much more fatal in its ravages, resulting in many cases from the bad water supply and from the difficulty of isolation caused by the smallness of the house and the poverty as well as the ignorance of the settlers. In some localities the ravages of this disease were very great, and no doubt but for the labors of this Board, ably seconded by the Minister, would have been very much greater.

It is not possible even to touch on many of the important matters brought up in this report, such as the inspection of milk, the best systems of sewerage, the utilisation of sewage, the prevention of the pollution of rivers, the sanitary construction of houses, etc., etc. All these are matters in which everyone has a direct personal interest, for many in fine houses are being slowly but surely poisoned, and many who think that they are safe in the fresh air and open spaces of the country, though they are not very careful about cleanliness and other sanitary precautions, are suffering in their health and comfort far more than they suspect. Sanitary ameliorations have reduced the death rate in many European and Indian cities by fully fifty or sixty per cent. during the last quarter of a century, and there is no reason in the world why that reduction should not go a great way farther. The lowest parts of the East End of London are now healthier than the most aristocratic quarters used to be. Perhaps many in Canada think that because population is still comparatively sparse, even in cities, there is not so much call for such precautions. To a certain extent this may be true, but still it is the fact that the filthy, unsanitary condition of many an isolated farm house puts its inhabitants in as dangerous a position as if they lived in a London slum. This ought not so to be.—Globe.

Canadian Construction.

What the G. T. R. Shops Can Turn out in the Shape of Pullman Cars.

(Montreal "Gazette," August 17th, 1889).

Canadian railroading is by no means confined to rate cuttings, running cheap excursions and fast trains. Our large roads have attached to them at various points, extensive workshops where some of the most skilful mechanics are employed in the construction of engines and rolling stock The Grand Trunk shops at Point St. Charles have given several samples in the last few months of what can be turned out by the hands employed there. If no other purpose than mere curiosity would take one down to the G. T. R. depot just now, he would be well repaid for his trouble by the sight of two magnificent Pullman cars which stand there. They are sister cars, named "Adelaide" and "Acantha," and are two out of four of the same class. The exterior is richly finished, with heavy plate glass windows surmounted by embossed silver. The cars seventy-five feet in length, are mounted on one of the latest improved Pullman trucks, made of steel bolts and plates throughout, which runs on forty-three inch German disc wheels with the well-known Krabb tires. The interior is a perfect palace. The smoker, finished in embossed leather and bevelled glass mirrors on the sides, is a beautifully cozy apartment. It is richly upholstered with blue plush, which contrasts invisibly with the light [illegible] oak of which it is built. The carving here is something exquisite, adjoining this snug retreat for smokers is the buffet, also fitted with considerable taste in English oak. The silverware is extremely delicate, and the crockery, chaste in design.

The car proper is a sight to make one wish to travel always, if such comfort and luxury can be had. Like the smoker, it is heavily upholstered, but it is in old gold, or what is called bronze polish. The chairs are large and very comfortable, and at either end of the car is a rattan settee. Large windows giving a cheerful light, are arranged with the glass fitted obliquely, thus enabling the passenger to sit back and look ahead or behind as he pleases, by simply turning in his chair, and without the trouble and danger of thrusting the head out of the window. The floor is covered with the best and thickest Wilton carpet, and the sides fitted in mahogany. Close to each chair is an electric bell communicating with the buffet, and the passenger can shade himself from the sun by means of delicate bronze silk curtains that drape the windows.

There is a library attached to the car, containing about one hundred and fifty volumes for the free use of the passengers.

A compartment deserving particular notice is the ladies' toilet, a pretty little place, but much larger than in the usual Pullman, and in addition to the ordinary toilet glass, with a large bevelled mirror of English plate, fully seven feet in height. The wash-stand is covered with Tennessean marble, and is supplied with water from a large tank above. The whole is lighted throughout by electric ity, and on the most approved plan.

The cost of constructing these magnificent cars is placed at the modest figure of $20,000 each.

These two cars will run between Montreal and Portland, and the others, whose names will be "Honora" and "Lavina," will run on the line between Montreal and Toronto. The two latter will reach Bonaventure from the shops in about a fortnight, and will be open to the public to visit. In paying these cars a visit, it is well worth while bearing in mind that they are entirely Canadian workmanship and were made wholly here in Montreal. The Point has scored a point in building cars.

A Timely Visit By Prof. Dorenwend.

Our ladies and gentlemen will be pleased to hear that Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, will visit Peterborough with a large stock of his Hair Goods. He will stop at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24 and 25. As everyone knows he does a large business here and as his stay is limited, it is to be hoped that intending purchasers will not leave their calling to the last hour. The Prof. is making a most liberal offer to those who may have to come from a distance to see him. He will pay their fare to and from town. His attractive posters, with full particulars, will be found hung up in the surrounding towns. The Professor calls special attention to his great variety of frontpieces, bangs, waves, etc. Among them are pieces that will become every one. In wigs, switches, etc., he can show probably the largest stock in America. His wigs and toupees for gentlemen need but little description, they can advertise themselves, they rival nature in perfection. Our people can consider themselves very fortunate to be able to secure such goods right at home without much trouble, and we hope that they will keep up their reputation of being progressive and up to the times by calling at the Professor's show rooms and securing one of his styles. His stopping place is Phalen's hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24th and 25th.

Campers Supplies.

A large assortment of canned meats, fish, vegetables and fruit. Lowry's smoked and spiced meats. The finest brands of ginger ale's, sodas, lager's, ale's, wines, clarets, champagnes, in fact everything you need to be supplied with in camp. The largest stock in Peterborough and best assortment at the Palace Grocery, Elliott & Tierney, George street, Peterborough.

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

Chronic Coughs and Colds

and all diseases of the throat and lungs can be cured by the use of Scott's Emulsion, as it contains the healing virtues of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in their fullest form. See what M. S. Muer, M.D., L.R.C.P., etc., Truro, N. S., says: "After three years' experience I consider Scott's Emulsion one of the very best in the market. Very excellent in Throat affections." Sold by druggists at 50c. and $1. w33eod

Constant Care.

CONSTANT care is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard 2w37d

A Corrupt System

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

Rely on This.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for three years, and can always rely upon it as a speedy cure for diarrhœa and all summer complaints. I can recommend it highly and I wish you every success.—MRS. W. FOWLER, 12 Oxford St. Toronto. 2w37d

25 REASONS
FOR
COFFEE

Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep.

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased,
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly;
And many drink but never think,
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all mustown the proverb true:
"When two's a pot to strike it"—
I've just found out the reason why—
All drink because they like it!

PROF. DORENWEND
of the Paris Hair Works Toronto, and his Big Stock of all kinds of HAIR GOODS
FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

He will be in Peterborough, at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24th and 25th.

LADIES should see his New Styles in Front pieces, Bangs, Waves, Plain and Fluffy Switches, Wigs &c.

GENTLEMEN who are partly or wholly bald should avail themselves of this opportunity to procure a fine Toupee or Wig. Hair Goods are now standard articles of necessity. The sooner you get one or other of the styles, the better for your appearance, your health, your comfort. What gives more attraction to the human person than nice hair? Nothing.

What makes persons more satisfied with themselves than to know that their hair is in proper condition and fashion? Nothing.

What affords more protection to the scalp and delicate organs of the head than a good covering of hair? Nothing These are facts worthy of the greatest consideration. Sooner or later you will arrive at the conclusion that these statements are of importance. Come to the Professor's Show Rooms and see his goods, you are sure to be pleased with the results obtained by wearing them. The Stock is complete and it is certain you will find something to suit you. Remember at PHALEN'S HOTEL, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th and 25th.

☞ Persons living out of town look out for Professor Dorenwend's big posters and conditions on which he will pay your fare to town and return.

BYAM'S
Improved "Common Sense"
• SASH BALANCE.
LOCKS AND LIFTS.

THE only practical substitute for weights invented. The most durable, the cheapest and best device for all ordinary windows. Balances when in position are entirely out of sight. No rivets, bolts or screws are used in putting it together so that nothing can get out of order or need repairing. No cutting, boring or marring of the sash, as the Balances are let into the jamb. Especially valuable for repairing old buildings as they can be put in at a trifling expense, as easily put in old building as new ones. Sash can be removed from frame in a moment for cleaning or repairing broken glass. Can be used where it is impossible to use weights or other fixtures. No unsightly cord wearing paint off side of frame. No rattling of sash as pressure against sash prevents it. No rattling of weights or pulleys when Sash is raised or lowered. No sticking of weights in frame. No cords to rust off, wear out and break. No rubber rollers to become flattened by standing in one position for some time. No flimsy coil spring or delicate mechanism to break, wear out or get out of order. Its simplicity of construction and operation is the wonder of all.

Byam's Automatic Sash Locks (self fastening) and Sash Lifts for upper and lower sash are the best and cheapest in the market.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market
That Desirable and Well Situated Property
in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11.—The town of Shoal Lake was almost totally wiped out by fire last night. Fourteen houses were burned. Loss $38,000.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, Sept. 11.—F. F. Passmore, C.E., Toronto, to-day began the work of surveying the land below the mountain at the head of James-street, preliminary to the construction of the long-talked-of inclined railway.

A new hotel, to cost $35,000, is to be erected in Merrick-street on the old church property in rear of the Royal hotel.

There died to-day in this city Mrs. Catharine Miller, at the advanced age of 84 years. Deceased was relict of the late Hugh Miller, and mother of Police Constable George Miller of this city. She was a native of Donegal.

James Walter Stock, youngest son of Thomas Stock, collector of customs at Dundas, died shortly before midnight at the residence of his father-in-law, John Baker, near Waterdown.

A Big Crowd at Little London.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 11.—The second day of the fair was favored with beautiful weather and a large attendance. The cattle exhibits in nearly all classes is a great feature and the poultry exhibit is far ahead of last year. The tastefully-arranged and carefully labeled exhibit of grains grown during the present season on experimental plots at the Ontario Agricultural College Farm, Guelph, is not only one of the most interesting at the Fair, but affords good evidence that new life is being infused into the institution from which it came.

Death of Reeve Taylor of Carden.

UPHILL, Sept. 11.—Mr. Wm. Taylor, Reeve of the township of Carden, is dead. Deceased was without doubt the most popular of all the members of the Council of Victoria County. He was not quite 40 years of age and had been Reeve of Carden almost fifteen years.

Stabber Haley's Trial Postponed.

GUELPH, Sept. 11.—The man Haley who is awaiting his trial in the county jail for stabbing Miss Ellis in Garrafraxa was arraigned this afternoon. Owing to the injured lady not being able to be present the case was further enlarged.

The Canada Central.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—The attendance at the Central Canada Exhibition to-day was by far the largest yet. Over 12,000 tickets were sold. To-morrow has been proclaimed Civic Holiday.

Guelph's High Credit.

GUELPH, Sept. 11.—At a special meeting of the City Council last night the Finance Committee reported that they had accepted the tender of R. W. Smith of Montreal for the waterworks and consolidated debt debentures at 10.54 premium and accrued interest.

Two Murderers Lynched.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 11. One hundred men broke open the jail at Morgantown early this morning, took out Franklin Stack, a white man, and David Boone, a negro, and hanged them. Stack ambushed and killed Robert Parker, a college student who killed Stack's brother some months back, and Boone shot and killed a man at a camp meeting. The people of Morgantown purpose to ferret out the lynchers and punish them.

The U. S. Hog Crop.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. The Farmers' Review says the hog crop of 1889 equals, and probably exceeds, that of 1888. The supply in Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Kansas is somewhat less than that of last year. Wisconsin and Missouri have about the same number of hogs, while Kentucky, Iowa, Nebraska, Michigan, Minnesota and Dakota show an increase, particularly the state last mentioned. As a rule, hogs are reported unusually healthy.

Discussing the Behring Sea Question.

OTTAWA, Sept. 5.—A meeting of the Cabinet was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the ministers present being Sir. John Macdonald, Sir. Adolph Caron, Hon. John Carling, Hon. John Costigan, Hon. John Haggart, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. C. H. Tupper. It is said the Behring Sea question was under consideration.

To Visit the Vatican.

ROME, Sept. 10.—It is reported that the Empress Frederick of Germany will soon visit the Vatican.

Russian Military Movements.

VIENNA, Sept. 10.—Confirmatory advices have been received concerning the reported massing of large forces of Russian troops in Armenia on the Russo-Turkish frontier.

A Socialist Meeting Broken up.

HAMBURG, Sept. 10.—The Socialists attempted to hold an open air meeting here last night. The police broke up the meeting, and arrested thirty persons who had taken active part in the proceedings.

Eight Thousand Perverts.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 10.—Eight thousand Czechs, in Vilna, have recently forsaken the Roman Catholic faith and joined the Greek church.

Denounced as a Sham.

DUBLIN, Sept. 10.—At the fortnightly meeting of the National League to-day, Mr. Sullivan, M. P., denounced the Balfour university scheme as a sham.

They Must Talk Russ.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 10.—The entire bench of judges, district and circuit, of Riga have been arrested for using the German language when they had been ordered to use Russian.

Must Close Oct. 31.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—It is now definitely decided that the exposition will remain open beyond the time originally set. In response to public appeals from many quarters the directors to-day announced that the exhibition must close Oct. 31.

If you could see your own scalp through an ordinary magnifying glass, you would be amazed at the amount of dust, dandruff, and dead skin thereon accumulated. The best and most popular preparation for cleaning the scalp is Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Thoroughly Tired.

HAVING given Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a thorough trial, I do not hesitate to say that I believe it is the best remedy in existence for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, colics, etc. MRS. R. S. WATTS, Springfield, Ont. 2w37d

Thief Arrested.

The news received with the utmost satisfaction by the community that he had terrorized; but the arrest of a disease that is stealing away a loved and valued life, is an achievement that should inspire heartfelt gratitude. Chilliness, cold extremities, depressed spirits, and extremely miserable sensations, with pale, wan features, are the results of disordered kidneys and liver. Arrest the cause at once by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a purely vegetable detective, that will ferret out and capture the most subtle lung or blood disorder. Druggists. b

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6d w37

A Good Regulator.

DISORDERED kidneys give rise to rheumatism, dropsy, pain in the back and loins, etc., besides many dangerous complaints affecting the kidneys themselves, as Bright's disease, traemia, etc. Regulate the kidneys with Burdock Blood Bitters, the best diuretic and kidney remedy ever devised 2w37d

It Don't Matter.

SCROFULA

Humors,

Erysipelas,

Canker, and

Catarrh,

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 906 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Farmers' Excursion.

An excursion party from Harwood and Gore's Landing arrived in town this afternoon per steamer Beaver. It was a farmers' excursion, gotten up by Mr. Alex. McLeod. There was a large crowd aboard the steamer and scow. After remaining in town a few hours the excursionists left for home.

The Canton's Regret.

The members of the Canton have found it impossible to accept the invitation of the Atlantic Division of Patriarchs Militant to be their guests during the Oddfellow's demonstration at Binghampton this month. A resolution was passed last night and sent to General Woodward, regretting that a sufficient number of the chevaliers could not attend to make a fair representation, as they have nearly all spent their holidays this summer, and would be unable to get away again.

Labour's Civic Holiday.

Remember the Labor Excursion and picnic at Campbellford on Monday 16th September. A most attractive programme has been prepared. There will be a baseball match between Peterborough and Campbellford nines, athletic sports and games, a platform will be erected for dancing, and the entire arrangement of the day will be devoted to enjoyment. No pains will be spared to give excursionists every pleasure. Return tickets, only 45 cents, children 30 cents. The excursion leaves the G. T. R. station on the regular time—8.20 a. m.

The Business College.

Business men are constantly applying to us for competent young men and women. At present we have three good positions which we have not students to fill. Young men and women requiring a business training should bear this in mind when they purpose attending any institution. Go to the place where business and professional men will look for their assistants. The value of a practical education cannot be estimated. Give your sons and daughters a good business education and go where they will their services will be in demand. Do not be afraid but situations will be open for them as soon as they are prepared. The Peterborough Business College has every facility for giving a first-class business training. Our Short hand and type-writing department was never so complete before. The fall term has just opened. A commercial training costs less and places its possessor in a better position than any other. Nearly every failure in business is caused by a want of knowledge of business principles. Come where you learn a systematic method of doing business transactions. Write or apply personally to the principals of the Peterborough Business

Cruelty to a Horse.

A case of extreme cruelty to a horse is engaging the attention of the police to-day. A young man hired a horse at a livery stable in town yesterday, and drove it to Lakefield. There he got drunk and abused the animal so unmercifully that a telephone message was sent down for the owners to be on the watch for him on his return. When the horse got to town, about eight o'clock last night, it was reeking with perspiration and bore evidence of cruel handling. The young fellow drove the animal to the stable, but it was in such a condition it required veterinary treatment. The cruel driver paid for his cruelty, as he was himself handled almost as roughly as the poor horse. A police court case may result.

A Chatauqua Course.

A meeting of the joint quarterly and trustee boards of the George street Methodist church was held last night for the purpose of considering a proposal from the officers of the Sunday school to undertake a Chatauqua course of lectures and entertainments. The scheme was approved of, and a guarantee list will be circulated in order to give the committee a warrant for undertaking the expense. It is proposed to hold one a month, and course tickets for the series of five entertainments have been placed at the low price of $1. The best lecturing and musical talent in the country will be procured for this course, provided a sufficient guarantee is secured.

The Company Remains.

Town Clerk Macdonald to-day received a communication from the Ontario Pump Co. of Toronto, enclosing a copy of a resolution passed at a meeting of the board of directors, August 30th. As was feared, the death of the late Mr. Peck has interfered with the decision of the company to remove to Peterborough. Mr. Peck favored the scheme but a number of the other directors opposed it. The company have now decided to remain where they are, for the present at least. The resolution is as follows:—Resolved, that the Secretary be instructed to reply to the communication from the Town Clerk of Peterborough, stating that the present directorate have considered the question of removing to Peterborough, and as unofficially intimated to the Mayor by their solicitor, have decided that it is not advisable to at present further entertain the matter.

The Late Mrs. James Walsh.

In the usual place in these columns will be found a record of the death of Mrs. Jas. Walsh, of Winnipeg, well known in Peterborough. The deceased lady was born at Baillieboro nearly seventy years ago; she was a daughter of the late Robert Graham. Early in life she was united in marriage to Mr. James Walsh, who is left to mourn the loss of the sharer of his joys and trials for upwards of a half a century. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh lived in Port Hope and Millbrook previously to removing to Peterborough, about 25 years ago. Nine years since they removed to Manitoba. While in Peterborough she became a member of the Baptist church, and consistently maintained that relation till her death. She leaves behind her five sons; four living in the Northwest and one in the Western States. Her relatives in and near Peterborough are, Mrs. W. Armstrong, Millbrook; Mrs. W. M. Fair, Smith, and Mrs. Geo. W. Hall, Peterborough. In her domestic relations, Mrs. Walsh was a model wife and mother, and in the social walks of life she won the highest respect and esteem.

A Winter Amusement.

What about a winter carnival for Peterborough? The scheme has been mooted and is being talked up among a few business men, who, if their efforts receive any encouragement will no doubt go ahead and take steps to put the proposal into material shape. Their idea is to make it a four or five days affair largely similar to the famous Montreal carnival. They believe it would boom Peterborough wonderfully, and that thousands of people would be attracted from all over the province, and this district in particular. The carnival would of course entail a big expense, but they believe it could be made profitable. Their proposal is to call a citizens meeting, appoint committees to solicit subscriptions and arrange a programme and estimate the cost. The Montreal carnival is a paying affair; why could not one in Peterborough be made so? The town council might be asked for a grant in this behalf. There would be an ice palace, ice races, snowshoeing, tobogganing and skating, a fancy parade, promenade concerts and balls, etc., after the same style as Montreal. Peterborough possesses facilities for all these, and being the railway centre of this district it is believed there would be a big attendance. Our town has had no big demonstration for two years now, and the gentlemen agitating the carnival scheme say they think it is about time Peterborough wakened up. It would, of course, be a rather risky venture, but its promoters feel confident it could be made a profitable success. A week's carnival in the dull month of February would give a new stimulus to the town and greatly benefit trade. The effect upon the business of the town cannot be estimated. It is to be hoped the scheme will soon take shape and not terminate in what it is as yet—simply talk.

An Open Letter.

TO MR. BARTON EARLE:—

DEAR SIR:—In your communication contained in yesterday's EXAMINER you state that you purpose writing further in reference to your position in the Collegiate Institute &c. Now, Sir, while you have your pen in hand will you kindly answer the following questions, and so assist in explaining matters about which many people want more light? And if you will kindly put a "yes" or "no" answer after the questions, which the Editor has kindly offered to republish, you will greatly oblige.

Yours, very truly,
D. W. DUMBLE.

1. Have you for many years been addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors?
Answer—
2. Have you on many occasions been found helplessly leaning against fences, telegraph poles &c, and required to be assisted home?
Answer—
3. Have you sometimes brought whisky on to the school premises—not only in your skin, but in a glass bottle?
Answer—
4. Have you while under the influence of liquor gone asleep in your class-room?
Answer—
5. Have you when under the influence of liquor used very abusive and insulting language to your pupils—male and female?
Answer—
6 Have you left your class rooms in teaching hours and gone down to Cavanagh's Hotel to drink, the boys shouting after you as you left—"three for five," meaning three drinks for five cents?
Answer—
7 Did you recently when expecting the Inspector, give out a number of questions to your class, assigning each pupil a question, and arrange with them to give the prepared answer on the following Monday, when the Inspector would be present, urging at the same time that your pupils should promptly hold up their hands and answer, when asked the expected question?
Answer—
8 Have you been in the habit of reaning the newspaper during school hours?
Answer—
9 Have you been loud in denouncing the government of the school, even in the hearing of your pupils?
Answer—
If "yes" is the answer to the above questions, are you a fit man to teach in a Collegiate Institute?
Answer—

Personal.

Ashburnham Brevities.

This high pressure with a vengeance—85 to 90 youngsters under the parcnage of one blushing young lady is not bad at all, considering that there is not a room in the school capable of comfortably seating more than fifty. However, it is well to be economical.

Mr. Henry Bennett has been confined to the house for the past two days on account of a slight sunstroke. He is rapidly recovering.

P dest ians on the front street find the disadvantage these days of not having this street watered. The amount of dust blown off each day, and which sooner or later will have to be replaced at an expense, would pay for the watering, not to speak of the damage which is caused from the dust flying round.

A good many think that the rate of 14 mills is a little high for this modest little town to pay. But from an examination of the different items of expenditure there does not seem to be any one, except that of charity, which could have been very much reduced. $2,700 seems a neat sum for roads and bridges. But it must be remembered that part of this goes to pay debentures, and also there were a large number of new streets to open out this season in the northern portion of the town, and each of these demanded a new sidewalk which made the outlay still larger. Then the area covered by streets and sidewalks is very large compared with the population and this again goes to increase the expenditure in keeping the roads in repair. The only place on the roads where expenditure might have been saved is on Lake and Robinson streets where a large amount of money was expended, and which might have been deferred to some future time when so much new work was not required to be done. But it should be kept in mind that the council would not lay out such large sums on the streets, were it not for the fact that they are besieged every day almost by parties wanting some particular part improved. When the people want the taxes reduced they can do it by simply not asking to have so much expended. It is a matter to great extent, in the hands of the ratepayers themselves and not in the hands of the council, either individually or collectively. There is one consolation that the work is generally well done and it would probably be difficult to get a town in Ontario where the streets and sidewalks are in as good repair. This part is due, in a large degree to the energy of the street inspector. The Charity account is the largest for years. There might be, with a show of reason, some righteous indignation raised here as there has been charity dealt out during the past year that should not have been. However this is and always has been, in every municipality a delicate question to handle, it being very difficult to draw the line between those who are worthy and those who are not worthy objects of charity. Councillors are pretty much at the mercy of those who seek charity, having very little means to determining the worthy ones.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Yesterday afternoon the Lecture Committee met and after very careful consideration decided to offer the following for "the star course" of entertainments during the winter, provided our people are willing to subscribe for the course tickets. Our plan is to open the season early in November with the celebrated "Schubert Quartette of Chicago, of which the Courier, Buffalo, N.Y., says:—"The Schubert Quartette of Chicago, was last night paid the just and sincere compliment of a full house, which listened to the musical feast prepared for it with every demonstration of delight. The singing of this quartette is a revelation of what constant practice will do. The balance of voices was such that almost perfect chords were produced. This admirable quartette cannot favor Buffalo too often." The Quartette will be assisted by Miss Inez Mecusker, soprano, of Buffalo, and Miss Georgiella Lay, piano soloist. For those of our people who were anxious to hear again Prof. Wm. Clark, M. A., D.C.L., Trinity College, Toronto, that accomplished scholar and lecturer, we have secured his very valuable services, and he will give one of his popular lectures in December. At a great expense we have been able to secure a rare treat in the concert line, in the renowned Ricoss Castilian Troubadours, who are only able to give three concerts in Canada this season, owing to their many calls in the United States. In January we shall have the greatest orator on the lecture platform of America, Hon. George R. Wendling, New York. He will deliver his brilliant and eloquent lecture "Saul of Tarsus," acknowledged by all who have ever heard it to be his best effort. In February we shall be favored with an illustrated lecture on travel by Rev. Dr. Thomas, Toronto, of which Mr. Wm. McCulloch, Genl. Secy. Y. M. C. A., Toronto writes:—"The lecture is very fine, entertaining and instructive, and the views are magnificent. "Reserved seats tickets for the whole course are placed at the low price of $1.50. Friends should subscribe at once. The town will be canvassed, but some may be overlooked; if so, give your names to any of Committee or the Genl. Secy.

Campbellford High School Record.

Campbellford is very proud over its High School record. The last issue of the Campbellford Herald gives the following statistics:

Last year the record was:—matriculants in arts 3, second class 7, third class 18. This year the numbers are:—matriculants 5, second class 11, third class 24. A total of 40. The summary for ten years is 32 matriculants, 104 seconds and 146 thirds, a total of 282. These results leave such schools as those of Peterborough, Lindsay, Cobourg, Norwood, Trenton, Belleville, Napanee, Kingston, Gananoque, Brockville and Perth, not to mention smaller schools, far behind. The cost per pupil as taken from the Government Report is, Cobourg $52.30, Perth $34.95, Norwood, $24.68, Seaforth, $66.86, Lindsay, $27.55, Mount Forest, $139.32, Campbellford, $13.25."

Last year Campbellford's 150 pupils were taught by 3 masters, the highest salary being $1050. These figures have a bearing upon the discussion now going on respecting our own Collegiate Institute.

To Auld Acquaintance.

The Chicago "Illustrated Century" contains a reference to Mr. Duncan McKellar, of the firm of McKellar & Sons, architects, Bar Harbor, Michigan, with a list of the important public and private buildings erected by the firm. Mr. D. McKellar was born and brought up in Peterborough, subsequently living in Warsaw before his removal west. Older residents will recollect both him and his father, the latter as a carpenter and builder who worked on St. Paul's church at the time of its first construction. He also built the Black Horse hotel, on Aylmer street and the building is now standing, nearly opposite the old Baptist church. The recalling of the above incidents must be like a whiff of the cedar groves that in those days grew on the sites now occupied by busy streets and rushing railways or now covered by business houses and residences. The EXAMINER is indebted to the kindness of Mr. Chas. Cameron, for the paper containing a complimentary reference to Mr. McKellar.

Lawn Social.

A delightful lawn social was held at the residence of Mr. George E. Elliott, Smith, in aid of the parsonage fund of the new Methodist circuit, of which Rev. Mr. Houck is pastor. The weather of the evening was all that could be desired and the attendance was large. The grounds were effectively and originally illuminated. Bricks saturated with coal oil were placed on posts about fifteen feet high, and being lighted, the effect was very fine. The Y.M.C.A. band was present and furnished very creditable music at intervals. After the refreshments, providided by the ladies of the congregation, had been disposed of the following entertaining programme was carried out, Rev. Mr. Houck occupying the chair:—Chorus—Glee Club, Y. M. C. A.; address, Rev. Mr. Lewis; recitation, Mr. Lewis; address, Rev. Mr. Lewis (brother of the first speaker;) vocal duet, Master Fred McKibbon and Miss Edith Garbutt; address, Rev. Mr. Johnston, Lakefield; address, Rev. S. J. Shorey; mouth organ trio by members of the Y.M.C.A. band; address, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P.; recitation, Miss Lewis; address, Mr. R. R. Hall; vocal solo, Miss Garbutt, accompanied by Miss Davidson; closing address by the pastor. The entertainment as an entertainment was signally successful, and the financial receipts also Willow and Wicket.

Napanee vs. Peterborough.

A close and exciting game was played here yesterday between the above clubs, which resulted in favor of the home team by the narrow majority of 9 runs in a two innings game.

Peterborough had the first of a very fine wicket, but nobody made much use of it except Cobb, who made 16, and Montgomery, who played a long time for 7, the pair putting on 27 for the first wicket. Goldsmith, who is a very young player, showed fine form for his 8, and Barnham also played good cricket for a like number.

Cobb and Attewell bowled too well for heavy scoring, 39 being all the Napanee boys could show after their occupancy of the wickets. Stokes and McLeod both played well for their runs. In their second innings it looked as if the score of the home team was going to be very small, but the last half of the wickets pulled the score up to nearly the same as the first, leaving the visitors 86 to get to win. Cobb and Goldsmith again played fine cricket, and we hope for great things from the latter in the future. Jones' bowling was exceedingly good, he getting 7 wickets for 31 runs, and the fielding was very good indeed.

Napanee lost 4 wickets for 25 runs; but when 70 was up and only 6 out the game became very interesting. Stokes batted in grand style and hit hard when the opportunity offered. The problem was how to get rid of him, as with 13 runs to get, 4 wickets to fall and a hard hitter well set, the game looked anything but rosy for the home team. The problem was solved by a legal combination. Cobb served a ball on Stokes which the latter tried to put as far from him as possible, viz., to the fence; Burnham, however arrested the ball in passing, and as the last man was run out the innings finished for 76 Burnham's magnificent catch certainly won the match for his side as Stokes looked like getting the required runs.

The bowling and fielding of both sides were very good indeed.

A Flourishing Lodge.

A meeting of Peterborough Preceptory No. 261, of the Royal Black Chapter of Ireland, was held last night. The Preceptory is in a flourishing condition. Four propositions for membership were put in last night. It is the intention to have a couple of Grand Chapter officers visit the local Preceptory about the first of next month for the purpose of giving the members instruction in lodge work.

We Go One Better.

Other grocers are greatly excited about the prices of some of their goods. But Geo. Carton keeps quite cool, and goes one better every time. See the crashing value he is offering:—8½ lbs. Rice, for 25c. 8 bars of Electric Soap, for 25c. 8 lbs. of Tea, for $1. Push right through to Geo. Carton's red tea store, where you can carry away more goods for a $2 bill than you can get for $3 in other stores. Corner George and Charlotte streets. dw

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tafw

Another Rock Ahead.

Now that the dog-days are over, the fall bonnet is the rock in which the family pocket book will split. This season need be no dread to the family that has patronized Hawley Bros. for teas and coffees. They will have saved enough of money, and get so much comfort from the use of these goods, that fall bonnets will have no fear for them. Remember when you want to get the best of teas at the best of prices, or coffees, ditto, that Hawley Bros. is the best place and only place in town.

Advice No. 1.

IF you have money for which you have no immediate use, invest it at once in Real Estate, but do not do it blindly. If invested wisely it will make money faster than you can.

During the past five years I have supplied investments from which purchasers have realized profits of tens, hundreds and thousands of dollars, and I do no; know a single instance where loss has been sustained.

With this record, I feel justified in soliciting a call from any person wanting a home or an investment, for any amount of money from ten dollars to ten thousand.

I have several bargains to offer just now.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

MEETING OF THE DOMINION ALLIANCE COUNCIL.

Sudden Death of Mr. William Gooderham —An Old Man's Wooing—His Jilted Lover After His Cash.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—William Gooderham, the well-known philanthropist, while addressing the regular week night meeting at the Haven last night closed his eyes, threw back his head and fell to the floor. Physicians were sent for but before they arrived Mr. Gooderham was dead. He has been troubled with heart disease for 16 years. Possessed of great wealth, Mr. Gooderham was liberal in its bestowal on objects which met with his approval. He was a zealous Christian worker himself and aided others in similar work. His sympathies were world-wide and he himself maintained seven laborers in the foreign mission field. He was a warm and liberal supporter of the Salvation Army, and the Christian Institute built at his own cost will be a memorial of his zeal. The funeral will take place on Monday.

The first convention of the newly formed council of the Dominion Alliance was begun yesterday morning at Richmond hall. This meeting is the outcome of a suggestion made at the Montreal Convention in 1888 and its members are made up of delegates from the various religious denominations and temperance societies throughout the Dominion. So far these organizations are represented:

The Diocese of Huron and Montreal of the Church of England.
The Reformed Episcopal Church of Canada.
The Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec.
The Evangelical Association of North America.
The Niagara, London, Bay of Quinte, Guelph, Toronto and Montreal Methodist Conferences.
The African Methodist Episcopal Church.
The Universalist Church Committee of Fellowship.
The Baptist Union of the Maritime Provinces.
Ontario Grand Division Sons of Temperance.
Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia Grand Lodges of Good Templars.
Ontario and Quebec Grand Council of Royal Templars.
Ontario Provincial W. C. T. U.
Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba branches of the Dominion Alliance.

Mr. J. J. Maclaren, Q.C., read the report of the Executive Committee dealing with the failures of the past and the prospects for the future. He read letters from the secretary of the Nova Scotia Diocesan Synod, the Bishop of Rupert's Land, the Roman Catholic Bishops of St. Boniface and St. Hyacinthe, the Bishops of Sherbrooke and Three Rivers, the Nova Scotian Alliance, the New Brunswick Grand Lodge of Good Templars and others, all expressing sympathy with the work and regretting inability to appoint delegates or to be present.

The report of the committee on resolutions was read and adopted. The last clause ran as follows:

That this Council issue an urgent appeal to the Provincial branches of the Alliance to proceed as far and as fast as possible in the formation of branch alliances in those counties where none at present exist.

Mr. Aikins presented an encouraging report of the progress of temperance in Manitoba. The report was referred to the Business Committee.

The report of the committee on legislation occupied considerable time. The first clause recommended that a prohibition resolution be placed before the House at the next sitting, the usual exceptions of liquors for sacramental, medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes being made. A long discussion arose over the question of using fermented wine for the sacrament. In deference, however, to the conscientious scruples of those who believe in its use in this connection, it was decided to leave the clause intact.

Mr. J. R. Dougall, editor of The Montreal Witness, presented the report of the Committee on Political Action, in the absence of the chairman, Mr. Howland, who had been called away by the sudden death of Mr. William Gooderham. The delegates stuck on the very first clause, which recommended that the committee act in conjunction with the county organizations in selecting "independent prohibitionists" as candidates for the House of Commons.

Mr. A. C. Neals went a step further and moved in amendment to the clause, seconded by Rev. W. Ketlewell:

That in the opinion of this convention the time has now come for the organization of a prohibition party.

Finally at the suggestion of Rev. Dr. Parker the amendment was withdrawn and changed to a notice of motion and the clause was adopted.

The second clause of the report was:

That it be recommended to each of the provincial branches of the alliance to appoint a special standing committee of the alliance to be known as the committee on legislation, composed of members of the Provincial legislature and other members of the alliance, which shall hold a special meeting at the provincial capital during each session of the legislature to watch and advise concerning legislation.

The clause was carried.

In the village of Millbrook, Durham county, resides an old inhabitant named Thomas Jamieson, who for the greater part of his life has lived with rigid economy, husbanding his crops, his compound interest and all his other resources with miserly care until now when, in his seventies, he is reputed to be worth at least $100,000. But his wealth could not preserve his wife's health, and she departed this life four or five years ago. Notwithstanding this, his one great loss, the old man's acquisitiveness came into play and he set out to look for wife No. 2. In the course of his perambulations he lit upon the wife of a one-time important justice of the peace, Wm. Reynolds, who in his lifetime resided and wielded the sword of justice in the neighboring township of Cavan and was known as "Lady Polly," not on account of any feminine characteristics but by reason of his extreme politeness. This sacred relict of the departed Lady, who has seen some 60 summers, rather encouraged the overtures of Mr. Jamieson, and his crooked leg, his rheumatism, his age and his physical weakness were no objections if the cash were there. Cupid—or cupidity—reigned supreme.

During one of the old man's visits they had the invariable lovers' quarrel, and the relict gave the O. M. some severe love taps with a broom, and drove him from the house. To the consternation of the fair one he never came back but went browsing in a greener pasture and married an estimable nun. Then the relict brought action for breach of promise to marry her and fixed her damages at $30,000—her dower in $90,000 had she loved more wisely. The action was tried at Peterboro before Mr. Justice McMahon with a jury, and the plaintiff plaintively said how often she had sat upon defendant's knee (his sound one), and brought a respectable neighbor's wife, who had witnessed the performance through a key-hole, to corroborate the story, but she confessed she would not have taken defendant at a less figure than $10,000, and she acknowledged the summary dismissal of her beau.

The Judge decided, without submitting the question to the jury, that though a promise of marriage was proved the breach was caused by plaintiff herself and she was non-suited. She appealed to the Chancery Divisional Court and yesterday they gave judgment in plaintiff's favor, directing a new trial and holding that the question of breach of promise by plaintiff was one for the jury to decide and should not have been decided by the judge.

Iron and Steel Advancing.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 12.—J. D. Weeks, secretary of the Iron Association and editor of The Iron Manufacturer, to-day said: "There is no doubt that there has recently been in this country a decided as well as a healthy and what promises to be a continuing improvement in prices of iron and steel."

Jersey's Jack the Ripper.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A despatch from Camden, N.J., says a horrible crime like those of Jack the Ripper has been committed here. The woman is still alive but is horribly mutilated and dying. The man who committed the deed has been caught.

BALFOUR TO GLADSTONE.

THE TREATMENT OF IRISH PRISONERS DEFENDED.

The Czarewitch Welcomed in Germany—Nihilists Flocking to Copenhagen in Advance of the Czar

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Mr. Balfour has written a letter in reply to Mr. Gladstone's remarks on prison treatment in Ireland, in which Mr. Gladstone commented upon the case of Mr. Conybeare as showing an absence of right judgment and humane feeling. Mr. Balfour denies that the prisoner is suffering from a disease that justifies his release. He says the general treatment of Irish prisoners is more lenient than the treatment of English prisoners and that of all classes of Irish prisoners those convicted under the Crimes Act obtain the largest share of prison relaxation.

The Czarewitch at Kiel.

KIEL, Sept. 12.—The Czarewitch arrived here to-day on board the Czareona. He was received by General Goltz and the officers of the garrison. Under their escort he drove to the castle, where he was received by Princess Henry.

Greeted by the Kaiser.

HANOVER, Sept. 12.—Emperor William met the Czarewitch at the railway station here. After the usual ceremonial greeting they drove together to the castle, where hearty greetings were extended by the Empress and others of the imperial party. The city was gayly decorated in honor of the visitors and the streets were filled with cheering crowds.

Stanley's Movements.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 12.—A despatch from Zanzibar says: Henry M. Stanley, on leaving the basin of the Albert Nyanza, endeavored to make his way southward by passing to the west of the Victoria Nyanza. He failed however in his attempt. He then went northward and reached the eastern shore of the lake. Emin Pasha accompanied him. After a long stay on the borders of the lake awaiting supplies from Msalala and Tabora Stanley leaving Emin Pasha marched in the direction of Mombasa. He is expected to reach the eastern seacoast about the end of October.

One of London's Burdens.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The strike difficulty is drawing the attention of the public to the heavy burden which the unskilled labor of East London lays upon the metropolitan taxpayers. The statistics show that there is a gradually decreasing volume of trade, with a heavily increasing call upon the richer portions of the metropolis for the support of the east end workhouse. This institution absorbs five-sevenths of the total common poor law fund. It is not easy to see a solution of this peculiar and indescribable condition of things, but undoubtedly some agitation will be entered upon for its amelioration.

The Pall Mall Gazette makes a suggestion with regard to the present situation of the strike. It proposes that wealthy philanthropists shall subscribe £20,000 to settle the dispute at once. This is the difference in money which it would cost the dock companies to grant the compromise prices to the men now instead of waiting until January. The idea of The Pall Mall Gazette is to relieve the companies of the loss which the immediate compliance would entail, to enable work to be resumed at once and to avert the loss to the community of the millions sterling which further delay must cause. A leading business man has offered to contribute £2000 for this purpose on condition that the remaining four-fifths be subscribed immediately.

The dock companies have decided to adhere to the offer made by them to raise the wages on Jan. 1.

Drugs Gone up in Smoke.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The works of Burroughs, Wellcome & Co., manufacturing chemists and agents for several American chemical houses, have been burned; loss £20,000.

Nihilists Precede the Czar.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 12.—There are rumors from various quarters that a large number of Nihilists have recently arrived in Denmark. The authorities here are taking extraordinary precautions for the protection of the Czar during his coming visit to Copenhagen, as it is feared that an attempt upon his life is intended.

A Steamer's Cargo Scorched.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 12. A fire broke out in the cotton in the hold of the steamer Britannic during her voyage from New York. A number of burning bales were thrown overboard and the fire was extinguished without causing serious damage.

Liverpool's Precaution.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 12.—The municipal authorities have voted £30,000 to construct depots for the storage of petroleum at isolated points, thus reducing to a minimum the dangers arising from fires and explosions.

The War Cloud.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—The Estafette, M. Ferry's organ, states Germany is about to place an army corps on the Belgian frontier and reinforce the troops in Alsace-Lorraine.

The Autorite publishes a report that De Freycinet, Minister of War, intends to double the strength of the army corps stationed at Nancy.

Official Report of Antwerp's Disaster.

ANTWERP, Sept. 12.—Nothing remains of the cartridge factory in which the explosion occurred Friday. The village of Austruweel, situated 200 metres from the factory and which consisted of forty houses, has vanished. The hydraulic machines used in the dry dock were almost entirely destroyed. A number of merchandise depots, including the Prussian stores, which were constructed of iron, were overturned by the explosion and an immense quantity of goods was ruined. Two stained glass windows in the cathedral were broken but the building is intact. For a distance of 500 to 1000 metres the windows of houses were shattered. Not a drop of the burning petroleum got into the docks, the depots being surrounded by a high embankment. The official report says 135 persons were killed, 21 missing, 100 seriously and 200 slightly injured.

The governor's official report says nothing has been clearly established regarding the origin of the explosion. The governor says the cartridge factory worked three months without a license, when it was closed by order of the city authorities. M. Corvilain, the proprietor of the factory, then applied for a license, which was granted after an inspection of the factory and the imposition of stringent regulations for its management. The governor says he does not know whether the city authorities' inspection was adequate or not. When the explosion occurred an enquiry was proceeding with reference to an accident that had resulted from the unauthorized introduction of a steam engine into the factory.

DAGGET, Cal., Sept. 12.—J. T. Patterson, Superintendent of the Run Over Mine, was knocked off his horse between this place and Calico and robbed of $5000 in gold coin by Parry Dodson last Monday. The robber took Patterson's horse and escaped. He was overtaken and killed. The money was recovered.

Valuable Stock Poisoned.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Mr. Joseph H. Sifton, sixth concession, London Township, has just lost six valuable cows by poisoning, two having died this afternoon. One of Mr. Sifton's horses also shows symptoms of sickness, apparently from the same cause. The animals died soon after drinking water from a creek near the pasture field. The ingredients of the poison have not been divulged. Mr. Sifton offers $200 reward for the discovery of the culprit.

A Sham Battle at Pimlico.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.—Vice-president Morton and 15,000 people at Pimlico to-day witnessed the sham battle which was a reproduction as nearly as possible of the famous battle of North Point in 1814. Troops were detailed to represent the various commands of the British and American forces.

TRADE RELATIONS.

FURTHER EVIDENCE BEFO E THE U.S. SENATE COMMITTEE.

New Englanders Favor Reciprocity With Canada For a Variety of Reasons The Railroad Question Discussed.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—The Senate Committee on the Relations between the United States and Canada continued its session to-day. John L. Batchelder, representing the Coal Trade Association, said the removal of duty on coal would increase the sale of soft coal to Canada.

F. H. Odiorne, a coal dealer, said the removal of the duty would result in reprocity which would double the quantity of our bituminious coals sold in Canada.

T. Jefferson Coolidge, representing the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company of Manchester, N.H., said he was largely interested in the cotton manufacturing industry. Since the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty his company had made no sales in Canada, but when it was in effect they made a few sales there. He thought any interference with Canadian roads would be a misfortune to New England. His company would have to send its goods via New York at additional expense, which, with the small profits now realized, could not be sustained by New England interests. His company employed 7000 operatives, one-half of whom were Canadians. Of these four-fifths became American citizens. He believed in the scheme of a zollverein.

Hon. Jonathan Lane, representing the Boston Merchants Association, thought Commercial Union would be of advantage to both countries. He believed it would be a good thing if the custom houses from the Atlantic to the Pacific could be abolished.

Horace P. Tobey, treasurer of the Tremont Nail Works of Wareham, said they built their hopes of future existence upon the use of coal that comes from the Canadian provinces, and that they were figuring confidently upon the existence of an abundance of coal which would do all the iron making they wished to do in New England. He was in favor of a reciprocity treaty and if a more sweeping commercial union could be negotiated with Canada later on very good.

Ex-Governor William Claflinn, speaking for the shoe and leather industry, said that industry was largely in favor of reciprocity with Canada. The idea that the removal of the duty on hides had anything to do with the export of leather was fallacious. The people of New England were generally favorable to closer relations with Canada. Canadians who came here made good citizens. He did not think the removal of the tariff on manufactured cotton goods would drive that industry out of New England. It might have done so at one time but the effect now would be to reduce the wages of our operatives to a level with those in Europe.

Osborne Howes, jr., secretary of the Boston Underwriters' Union, said the underwriters desired reciprocity with Canada because their profits were derived from commissions upon the amount of business transactions.

The hearing was adjourned until Friday.

HAMILTON AND THE C.P.R.

The Ambitious City Will Grant a Right of Way—President Van Horne Interviewed.

HAMILTON, Sept. 12.—President Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific Railway, accompanied by Chief Engineer Jennings and District Passenger Agent McKinnon, arrived in the city this morning and made an inspection of the east and west approaches to the city. He was interviewed by a Herald reporter in relation to the company's plans for a Hamilton connection but the magnate was extremely non-committal, saying: "The ground I stand on is simply that I refuse to state what are the company's intention or plans, if any, in relation to Hamilton."

Mr. VanHorne met a committee of the City Council to-night and received assurances from them that the city will grant a right of way to the Canad an Pacific Railway for its extension from Toronto via Cookeville. The right-of-way will be either via Carroll's Point or the beach, but the former was the one favored and it will no doubt be the one decided on.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will go on at once with surveys from Cookeville to Hamilton and by that time it is expected a definite understanding between the railway and city will be arrived at. Tracklaying will be begun immediately thereafter.

By the time the Toronto branch is completed Mr. Van Horne thinks his company will be prepared to complete the line from Woodstock to the Niagara River, but they will not go to the river until they learn the decision of the United States Congress as to Canadian railways. This decision will be arrived at the coming session at Washington.

Mr. Van Horne leaves for Toronto tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

THE PROVINCIAL SYNOD.

Memorials Read Touching the Jesuits' Estates Act—Proposed Union.

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—The Provincial Synod resumed its sitting to-day but nearly the whole morning was taken up with a discussion on procedure and in the reading of the minutes. A memorial from the diocesan synod of the diocese of Toronto on the Jesuits' Estates Act was read, which after stating the facts of the case recommended that it be considered in order that some means may be devised for withstanding and neutralizing the dangerous influence of the Roman hierarchy over Parliament and other legislative bodies of the Dominion. A similar memorial was read from Montreal; also one from Rev. Dr. J. D. Borthwick asking that a special service for use in prisons be authorized. A memorial from the diocese of Niagara asking the synod to take steps to define the relations of the Provincial Synod to diocesan synods and to appoint a committee to consider the union of the dioceses of British North America was read. A memorial from the diocese of Toronto asking that a uniform system of lessons be recommended for use in Sunday schools was also received.

A memorial from the synod of Toronto asking that action be taken on their memorial as to the use of the revised version of the Holy Scriptures was also received.

A lengthy report was read from the committee as to the incorporation of the Provincial Synod so as to enable it to legislate for the Canadian church and bring about a uniformity in discipline. The committee reported that no advantage could be gained by incorporation, the present church temporalities act giving the synod all the power it needed.

A delegation was received from the United States and addresses were delivered by Bishop Doane of Albany, Right Rev. Bishop Dudley of Kentucky, Ven. Archdeacon Howard of New Haven, and Ven. Arch-deacon Goodfellow of Alabama. Rev. Dr. Langtry in behalf of the synod made reply and his Lordship of Ontario on behalf of the house of bishops.

The afternoon session was occupied with a discussion on a resolution to the effect that it was in the interests of the Church of England that all seats in churches be free. A large number of members took part and it was finally given as the opinion of the synod that all sittings should be free and unappropriated.

In the evening a public meeting was held in the Queen's Hall for missionary purposes, the voluntary of which was offered to the Algoma Mission. Addresses were delivered by the Bishops of Nova Scotia, Huron and Algoma.

A Mennonite Outrage.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 12.—Five Mennonite men, while under the influence of liquor at one of the Mennonite villages, in Southern Manitoba, brutally assaulted a young Mennonite girl, aged 18. After the brutes had accomplished their foul purpose the poor girl was released in an almost nude condition, and is at the point of death. The matter was hushed up, as the Mennonites do not believe in going to law, and the brutes were let off by the Chief of the village on the payment of one dollar each.

The Manitoba's Trial Trip.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 12.—The new C.P.R. steamer Manitoba made her trial trip to-day. She was out about nine hours, and behaved well.

THE GALT STRIKE.

Lawless Deeds Committed in Several Moulding Shops.

GALT, Sept. 12.—Interest in the moulder's strike has been revived in a rather startling manner. On Saturday night stones were thrown through the windows of boarding houses kept by Joseph Bateman and Angus Stewart and considerable damage inflicted upon property. As non-union moulders board at both places, no doubt exists in the public mind in regard to the motive at the bottom of the outrage. If any doubt did exist it would be dispelled by the occurrences of last night, when the moulding shops of MacGregor, Gourlay & Co. and Cowan & Co. were entered. In the former establishment a great deal of damage was done, all the moulds which would have been ready to cast in the morning being destroyed. The manner in which the outrage was gone about leaves little doubt in the minds of the firm that the perpetrators were either moulders or were working under instructions from those pretty well up in the business. At Cowan & Co's the miscreants contented themselves by throwing the moulders' and pattern-makers' tools into the river, but they have since been recovered. On the same night the house occupied by C. and A. Kischel, two of Cowan & Co's moulders, was badly wrecked with stones and the contents damaged. The residence of Wm. Adams, who works for MacGregor, Gourlay & Co., came in for similar treatment. At a special meeting of the Town Council this afternoon a reward of $150 was offered for information leading to the apprehension of the offenders.

THE NEW SOUTH.

Manufacturing Activity and Enlarged Building—Unprecedented Crops.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.—The Manufacturers' Record publishes letters from leading bankers throughout the south as to the outlook for business. They all report heavy crops with farmers less in debt than at any time since the war, money unusually abundant for the season and the best prospects ever known for industrial activity. The increase in the value of southern crops this year over 1888 will be upward of $125,000,000, though last year's was the largest on record up to that time. Special reports from state officials show the assessed value of property in the south will be $175,000,000 greater than last year. The largest increase is in Texas, $40,000,000; Georgia comes next with $25,000,000.

The Record says that in 3 1-2 years it has reported the organization in the south of upward of 11,000 new industrial establishments, covering every line of manufacturing from making pins to building locomotives, and the building of over 9000 miles of railroad. The railroad mileage of the south has been increased by the addition of over 20,000 miles since 1879. Since that year over $800,000,000 have been spent in building new roads and improving old ones.

The assessed value of property has increased over $1,300,000,000 since 1880.

BEHIND THE TIMES.

The American Workingmen Say European Trades are not Abreast of the Age.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The fifty American workingmen and women who went to Europe last July to investigate the condition of European workmen returned today on the City of Rome. Mr. Thompson, manager of the party, said the workmen on the other side are not to be compared with ours. Almost every trade was represented in the party and they examined carefully the products and machinery of the old country. It was observed that the machinery was cumbersome and lacks the completeness seen in our country. In the Glasgow iron works it was found wages were 33 per cent. lower than in this country. One of the party who investigated the printing trade said that in Europe they are about where the printers of this country were twenty years ago. Another member who looked into the engineering work in Europe said wages were about 50 per cent. lower than in this country.

The Soo's Latest Cut.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 12.—To-day it was announced the Soo would put in a rate of $20 to New York and $19 to Boston, a proceeding which wipes out completely the rate between Chicago and St. Paul, as the rates quoted are those now in effect over differential lines from Chicago to the east. It is expected that unless some adjustment is made Chicago rates will be utterly demoralised.

Turnbull's Column

Not another day is left of the 1889 Summer if we go by the almanac. Its unparalled storms, floods, freshets and singular wetness with us, and extreme dryness in the west pass into history as part of the record of a remarkable year. It was a strange summer. It was a strangely active summer for us notwithstanding the general feeling of shortness of money and depression. Standing on the edge of autumn, the holidays behind us we now look ahead. Next Saturday, Sept. 7th, we commence the fall cannonade. The troops are passing from all quarters, the sound of the bargain guns will be heard all along the line. What shall be done with the balance of our summer things? Sell them at prices that will pay housekeepers to invest in them! All the while during the spring and summer we've been laying in and laying away autumn things. The time has come to show some of them. Our Dress Goods Department is groaning under the weight of the quantity of beautiful goods we have opened out from all lands where choice goods are made. Next week we shall endeavor to describe some of the different makes. The Mantle Department is more than usually attractive this year. We have full ranges of Ladies' Short and Long Mantles in a variety of Black and Colored cloths.

Our stock of Children's Mantles is so varied the only way to form a correct idea of what we show is to see them.

We hope to largely increase our Tailoring trade this season. Those we have been making for have been well pleased. Our Tailor is hard to beat. Our stock of Imported Tweeds and Overcoatings is very choice, and are sure to find a ready sale as the prices are right. Call early and see the new mantle cloths.

Our Mantle Cutter is always on hand to cut and fit on short notice. With brightened prospects to farmers, and an extensive and well bought stock to select from, we expect this season's trade to be larger than ever.

The new Fall fashion sheets and books have arrived. Call and get one.

WARM WEATHER CLOTHING AT THE City Clothing Store

It is bound to come. The warm weather we mean. In fact it is going to be hot, and it makes us think of summer outing—vacation and seasonable sports. These in turn, suggest preparation and imply proper outfits—such as SUMMER SUITS, UNDERWEAR, and FURNISHINGS. 'Tis of these we would speak particularly to-day, because this season we have provided for our patrons a greater variety of WARM WEATHER WEAR than ever before, and at Prices no other dealer in Peterborough can possibly duplicate. We have all the Novelties.

What Gentlemen Will Wear

We are displaying the Finest lines of exclusive styles in the following:

Plain and Fancy Colored Suiting
Light-Weight Underwear
White, Fancy and Colored Vests
Collars and Cuffs, Newest Shapes
Ties in all the Summer Shades
Tennis, Boating, Sporting Outfits

We are bound to overcome the effects of the bad weather of the past month, in point of sales, if not in profits. The prices we will quote will convince you of our sincerity and the genuineness of the sacrifice we will make in values

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1889.

THE general average of the cotton crop of the United States is this year 86.6 per cent. of an average crop, as against 89.3 per cent for last month and 83.8 for September. Although cotton is no longer king even in the Southern states, it is relatively a more important crop than it ever was, mainly because its uses have been so widely extended of late. When cotton was king, it was the fibre only that was of value; the seed and the stems were waste products that had to be got rid of at some expense. Now the seed is worth almost as much as the fibre, as it furnishes an oil almost equal to olive oil, and a valuable cattle food, both of which are largely exported and the stalks are used for making a fine quality of paper stock. It is not only the cotton spinner, therefore, who is interested in the cotton crop, but the manufacturer of leaf lard, the feeder of fat cattle and the paper maker.

ONE result of the Dominion government's policy of trade restriction and high taxation is, as the Ottawa Free Press indicates, the remarkable decline which has occurred during the past few years in the value of farm lands in Ontario. The last monthly bulletin of the provincial bureau of industries shows a decline of $8,000,000 in the aggregate value of farm lands during the year 1888-89. This falling of is more than made up by the increased value of building, machinery and live stock, but the figures indicate that it takes the net earnings of the farmers of Ontario to effect the decline in the value of the land they cultivate. The following table shows the value of farm property in Ontario in 1889 compared with the returns of last year:

Land	$632,329,433	$640,480,801
Buildings	192,464,237	188,293,226
Implements	51,685,706	49,754,832
Live stock	105,731,388	102,839,235
Total property	$952,210,664	$981,368,084

RUSSIA is very jealous of Germany and the Czar's proposed visit to the Emperor William seems to hang fire. One of the drawbacks of being a member of the Royal Family is that there is so much restraint in the matter of marriage. A prince cannot marry whomsoever he likes, nor yet can a princess. The proposed betrothal of Prince Christian of Denmark, eldest son of the Crown Prince, to Princess Margaret of Prussia, youngest sister of Emperor William, has quite upset the Czar of Russia, who sees that it would mean that Denmark would not take sides against Germany in case of war. These are the inconveniences of life to which members of a Royal Family are subjected. Each move has to be calculated for its possible effect in the event of war, and that war is not far off in Europe is pretty generally conceded. In England the old idea that the members of the Royal Family should only marry with members of the Royal Family of some other nation is being diminished, and the princesses are finding spouses at home. There has been intermarrying enough between the reigning royal families, and the English example seems to be an eminently sensible one to follow. The Marquis of Lorne and the Earl of Fife are quite as acceptable as the penniless princelings who have been so freely imported from other countries.

THE unseating of Mr. Colter of Haldimand, is through the indiscreet zeal of persons not his regularly appointed agents; and unhappy Haldimand is again without a representative This riding has had a lively election experience. At the general election of 1882, the late Mr. David Thompson, a very popular man in the county, was re-elected. He died before the expiration of the Parliament of 1882, when Mr. Colter was returned in the Liberal interest, defeating Mr. W. H. Merritt, of Toronto, Conservative, by a vote of 1,875 to 1,760. This election took place in September, 1886, and as Parliament was dissolved in January, 1887, without meeting again, Mr. Colter was unable to take his seat. At the general election which followed, Mr. Colter was opposed by Dr. Montague, who was declared returned after a scrutiny before the County Court Judge, by the presence and dubious majority of one vote, the official vote being Montague, 1,746, Colter, 1,745. The election of Dr. Montague was protested, he was unseated on account of corrupt practices, and a new election took place on the 12th of November, 1887, resulting in Dr. Montague's election, Mr. Colter being defeated by a vote of 1,828 to 1,811. Dr. Montague's election was again protested, again, corrupt practices having been proven, the seat was declared vacant, a new election took place in January, 1889, which resulted in the return of Mr. Colter by a vote of 1,803 to 1,757; and now the seat is vacant, and another election is in sight.

Mr. Dumble's Letter.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I regret that Mr. Dumble did not publish his reply to my first letter in the Review. I have called the attention of the readers of that paper to his letter in Thursday's EXAMINER, that they may not miss any point in the discussion which is now going on between us. I am, Mr. Editor,

Very truly yours,
BARTON EARLE.

Is This What Ails You

Do you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, watery, and inflamed; ringing in the ears, deafness hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; voice changed and nasal twang; breath offensive; smell, taste impaired; is there a sensation of dizziness with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility? If you have all, or any considerable number of these symtoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases anually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive, and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicans. The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer, in good faith, a reward of $500 for a case of this disease which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only 50 cents.

Campers Supplies.

A large assortment of canned meats, fish, vegetables and fruit. Lowry's smoked and spiced meats. The finest brands of ginger ale's, sodas, lager's, ale's, wines, clarets, champagnes, in fact everything you need to be supplied with in camp. The largest stock in Peterborough and best assortment at the Palace Grocery, Elliott & Tierney, George street, Peterborough.

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible cure of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

Chronic Coughs and Colds

and all diseases of the throat and lungs can be cured by the use of Scott's Emulsion, as it contains the healing virtues of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in their fullest form. See what M. S. Muer, M.D., L.R.C.P., etc., Truro, N. S., says: "After three years' experience I consider Scott's Emulsion one of the very best in the market. Very excellent in Throat affections." Sold by druggists at 50c. and $1. w33eod

Constant Care.

CONSTANT care is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 2w37d

A Corrupt System.

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

Rely on This.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for three years, and can always rely upon it as a speedy cure for diarrhoea and all summer complaints. I can recommend it highly and I wish you every success.—MRS. W. FOWLER. 12 Oxford St. Toronto. 2w37d

25 REASONS

FOR DRINKING

ROYAL DANDELION COFFEE

Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep.

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased,
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly;
And many drink but never think
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all mustown the proverb true:
"When iron's hot to strike it"—
I've just found out the reason why—
All drink because they like it!

MUNCASTER'S.

Care of the Eyes.

Sit erect in your chair when reading, and as erect when writing as possible. If you bend downwards you not only gorge the eyes with blood, but the brain as well, and both suffer. The same rule should apply to the use of the microscope. Get one that will enable you to look at things horizontally, not always vertically.

Have a reading lamp for night use. N. B.—In reading the light should be on the book or paper and the eyes in the shade. If you have no reading lamp, turn your back to the light and you may read without danger to the eyes.

Hold the book at your focus; if that begins to get far away, get spectacles.

Avoid reading by the flickering light of the fire.

Avoid straining the eyes by reading in the gloaming.

Reading in bed is injurious as a rule. It must be admitted, however, that in cases of sleeplessness when the mind is inclined to ramble over a thousand thoughts a minute, reading steadies the thoughts and conduces to sleep.

Do not read much in a railway carriage. I myself always do, however, only in a good light, and I invariably carry a good reading lamp to hook on behind me. Thousands of people would travel by night rather than by day if the companies could only see their way to the exclusive use of the electric lamp.

Authors should have black ruled paper instead of blue, and should never strain the eyes by reading too fine types.

The bedroom blinds should be red or gray, and the head of the bed should be toward the window.

Those ladies who not only write, but sew, should not attempt the black seam by night.

When you come to an age that suggests the wearing of spectacles, let no false modesty prevent you from getting a pair. If you have only one eye, an eyeglass will do; otherwise it is folly.

Go to the wisest and best opician you know of, and state your wants and your case plainly, and be assured you will be properly fitted.

Remember that bad spectacles are most injurious to the eyes, and that good and well chosen ones are a decided luxury.

Get a pair for reading with, and if necessary a long distance pair for use out of doors.—Cassell's Magazine.

Tales from the Gum Arabic.

In the visions of th ight Malek Ak Drawbar lay upon his bed, and saw all peoples of the earth hastening together, to be assigned to their future abiding places. As he looked off to the left he saw a vast multitude, whom no man might number, flocking by themselves, and at short intervals large crowds came from various directions to join themselves with this great throng. He noticed also that all these people regarded each other with strong but ill concealed suspicion. "And who are these," asked Malek Ak Drawbar, "who outnumber the sands of the seashore for multitude?" "Oh, those fellows?" replied his guide, "those are the men who discovered Artemus Ward and brought out Bill Nye." "And what will be done with them?" asked Malek. "Can't tell," replied his guide; "they're not all in yet; they'll be coming in along for the next century." And then Malek Ak Drawbar, remembering that he had once written to The Goomer Habbeek that he was the first man to find Mark Twain and develop the humor that was then latent in him, gave a cold shiver a foot long and awoke. "It was a close squeak for me," he said, and he resolved that during the rest of his life he would tell the truth, so far as it was compatible with editorial writing on a reform paper.—Burdette in Brooklyn Eagle.

A Leprous Princess in Paris.

The London leper has caused, I hear, quite a scare. I have no doubt that there has always been lots of leprosy in the world, but that we know nothing about it, because the doctors give it a fine Greek name. Why not translate all the new Greek names of disease into graphic English? If there were a descriptive name that we could understand for every malady a long step would be taken towards curing them. What meaning, for instance, does the word eczema convey to the unlearned mind? Whenever I hear doctors giving evidence to a jury I feel as if they were talking in a foreign language which nobody but themselves can understand. It would, perhaps, startle the world to hear that the Prince of Wales' leper could find his match in a palace in this city, where there is a leper high and mighty from a heraldic standpoint. She is on kissing terms with our royalties. This illustrious person has been nearly twenty years attacked with the disease, which is kept in subjection by careful daily treatment. I never heard that she had given it to any one. There is, however, no doubt whatever as to the nature of her affection. They say that the primary cause of leprosy in her case was the consanguine marriage of her ancestors.—Paris Letter.

Lazy Fishing in France.

A sunburnt Philadelphian who has just got back from a flying trip to the Paris Exhibition amused a party of friends yesterday by telling stories of his visit. He said at Boulogne a fisherman whom he saw had five lines cast in the water. A ball was attached to each line, so that when there was a nibble the bell would ring and the Frenchman would haul in his catch. In the time when none of the bells were ringing this follower of Walton walked up and down the bank not the least concerned about the lines The bells worked like a charm, giving out a low but clear tinkling sound that could be heard a hundred yards away.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

If you could see your own scalp through an ordinary magnifying glass, you would be amazed at the amount of dust, dandruff, and dead skin thereon accumulated. The best and most popular preparation for cleaning the scalp is Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Third Arrested.

The news received with the utmost satisfaction by the community that he had terrorized; but the arrest of a disease that is stealing away a loved and valued life, is an achievement that should inspire heartfelt gratitude. Chilliness, cold extremities, depressed spirits, and extremely miserable sensations, with pale, wan features, are the results of disordered kidneys and liver. Arrest the cause at once by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a purely vegetable detective, that will ferret out and capture the most subtle lung or blood disorder. Druggists. b

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat diseases. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw37

A Good Regulator.

DISORDERED kidneys give rise to rheumatism, dropsy, pain in the back and loins, etc., besides many dangerous complaints affecting the kidneys themselves, as Bright's disease, uræmia, etc. Regulate the kidneys with Burdock Blood Bitters, the best diuretic and kidney remedy ever devised 2w37d

It Don't Matter

HOWEVER old, obstinate or chronic your case may be Burdock Blood Bitters has cured so many seemingly incurable cases that it is well worth a trial in yours. Cases of dyspepsia, scrofula, liver complaint, etc., of twenty five years' standing have been cured by B. B. B. 2w37d

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

County Liquor Cases.

At Norwood yesterday a couple of liquor cases were disposed of before P.M. Edmison. Mr. R. E. Wood, C.C.A., conducted the prosecution. Mrs. Paterson was charged with selling liquor without a license, and pleading guilty was fined $50 and costs. Chas. McDonald was charged with selling after hours, but the offence was not proven and he was dismissed.

Married.

There was a private wedding in St. Luke's, Ashburnham, yesterday morning. Mr. William Moore, son of Dr. Moore, of Norwood, and Miss Annie McCleary, daughter of the late Rev. J. A Good Man Gone.

Mr. Wm. Gooderham, of Toronto, well known as a prominent business man and zealous christian worker, dropped dead while conducting a prayer meeting at the "Haven," Seaton street, Toronto, last night. Heart disease was the cause. Mr. Gooderham has frequently attended meetings of the Salvation Army in Peterborough. He was one of the army's best friends.

The Breach of Promise Case.

Mr. K. B. Edwards, counsel for the plaintiff in the Reynolds-Jamieson breach of promise suit which was tried at the last spring assizes, to-day received the intelligence that the judgment of Justice MacMahon had been reversed. The appeal entered by the plaintiff was argued in the Chancery Court at Toronto some time ago and judgment received. Decision has been given setting aside the non-suit entered by Justice MacMahon and ordering a new trial with costs. The case will therefore come up again at the assizes in October.

An Alleged Crime.

This forenoon His Honor Judge Weller had a female prisoner before him at the court house. Johanna Sullivan, of Galway township, was charged with the concealment of childbirth. The young woman is about 30 years of age, and belongs to a respectable family. The offence, it is alleged, was committed last May, but no information was laid until Monday last, Sept. 9th. The prisoner was arrested and given a preliminary hearing before Reeve Wilson, who sent her down for trial here. She was brought to town Wednesday night, and this morning elected to be tried summarily by the Judge. The trial was set down for a week from Monday. In the meantime the young woman is out on bail.

Social at Lakefield.

A social and concert was held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church, in the P.C.A. hall, Lakefield, last night. The pastor, Rev. F. Johnston, occupied the chair. Recitations were given in good style by Rev. Mr. Nichols and Mr. Lowis, of Smith; Mr. Henderson and Miss Schofield sang several pieces in a very pleasing manner. The little girls of the Sunday school sang well, as also did the choir of the church. Rev. M. L. Pearce and Mr. J. H. Wyatt, secretary of the Laymen's Evangelical Association, Peterborough, delivered very interesting addresses. After the programme the ladies passed around ice cream, cake and lemonade, which brought a very pleasant evening's entertainment to a close. The financial results were very satisfactory.

Horticultural Affairs.

A meeting of the directors of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was held yesterday afternoon at the office of Mayor Stevenson for the purpose of closing up business in connection with the late exhibition. The prize list was ordered to be paid, and the Secretary was instructed to withhold $1 from all prizes-winners of $1 and over for membership fee for 1890. A resolution was also adopted providing that no two entries in the same class shall be made by one person in future. It appears that in the past a number of exhibitors have made two or more entries in the same class with the expectation of getting more than one prize. It was decided not to pay any of the extra prizes recommended by the judges owing to the state of finances.

Range and Rifle.

Capt. Deanistoun wins the Ontario Medal Results of the Last County Match.

The last of the monthly matches of the Rifle Association took place yesterday. On it results depended the winning of the Ontario medal, which is presented every year by the O.R.A. to every club affiliated with it. The member of the local Associations making the highest total in any three of the monthly matches wins the medal. This year it fell to the lot of Capt. Deanistoun, the obliging secretary of the Association, whose skill with the rifle places him in the highest position among local marksmen. The contest between Messrs. Deanistoun and Mason was most keen, while Messrs. Cameron, Fitzgerald and Hill were not far behind. Following are the scores of the first ten riflemen in the struggle for the medal.

Capt. Deanistoun	228
Col. Sergt. Mason	218
D. Cameron	216

Harvest Home Festival.

The Fourth Line Baptists Celebrate the Ingathering of the Harvest—A Highly Successful Festival Sketch of the New Church.

On Thursday afternoon and evening a very successful Harvest Home festival was held at the Fourth Line Baptist church, Smith, in aid of the building fund of the new church it is proposed to erect. The occasion was a gratifying success in all respects, the attendance was large, about four hundred persons having been present, many of them from town. In the afternoon at 2.30 o'clock a special and eloquent sermon suitable to the occasion was preached by Rev. Ira Smith, of Toronto, Secretary of the Home Mission Board. Tea was served on the church grounds from five to 7 o'clock. The grounds were beautifully illuminated with chinese lanterns, and presented a beautiful appearance. At 7.30 the company adjourned to the church, which was beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Over the pulpit was thrown an arch composed of different grains and fruits, while festoons and wreaths of vegetables etc, were disposed with really fine effect in the other parts of the room. Rev. J. B Huff, pastor, in taking the chair congratulated the congregation on the success of the Harvest Home festival and thanked all those who had in any way contributed to such success. The following programme was very effectively presented :—Selection by Y.M.C.A. Band; Address by Rev. W. Peer, Norwood; selection, by the choir; address, by Rev. D. S. Houck; selection, Y. M.C.A. band; address, Rev. Ira Smith, Toronto; selection, choir; address, Rev. T. C. Parker; selection, band; address, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. The concluding address of the chairman and the usual votes of thanks brought a delightful evening and a most gratifying entertainment to a close. The Y. M.C.A. band took their places outside and delighted the dispersing throng with several well-rendered selections. The receipts of the entertainment, to be applied to building fund, were $50.

The plans of the new church which it is proposed to erect, prepared by Mr. Blackwell, call for an edifice 37 x 57 feet, with a seating capacity of 300 not counting the draw-seats. The basement story will be of stone and the superstructure of brick. It is expected that the contract will be awarded this fall, in which event the work of construction can be proceeded with at the opening of spring.

The site selected for the new building is to the east of the present one and facing the town and from the surrounding country the new church will present an excellent and imposing appearance. The present church building will be used till the new one is completed, when it will be disposed of.

News Nuggets.

—The band will play in the park to-night.

—Messrs. Jack White and Robt. Redmond left this morning for the Pacific Coast to try their fortunes.

—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. will meet at the rooms to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—P. C. McGinty has returned from his week's holiday outing, and now it is P. C. Stewart's turn to be on the holiday list.

—Mr. Jas. Redmond to-day shipped a carload of thoroughbred cattle to the Toronto exhibition.

—Seventeen carloads of timber came in by C.P.R. yesterday from Woodbridge. The timber is owned by Mr. Buck of Norwood, and is to be shipped via G.T.R. to Belleville for rafting.

Personal.

Mr. John Fisher, father-in-law of Chief Rossel, has returned to his home in Smithville after a month's visit in town.

Mr. Richard Clegg, of Ingersol, is home on a visit. He is in rather low health and hopes to benefit by the visit.

Mr. Geo. A. Morrison leaves in the morning for New York, Hartford and Boston to complete his arrangements for State agencies for Washington. He is negotiating with several large American companies.

The Business College.

Business men are constantly applying to us for competent young men and women. At present we have three good positions which we have not students to fill. Young men and women requiring a business training should bear this in mind when they purpose attending any institution. Go to the place where business and professional men will look for their assistants. The value of a practical education cannot be estimated. Give your sons and daughters a good business education and go where they will their services will be in demand. Do not be afraid but situations will be open for them as soon as they are prepared. The Peterborough Business College has every facility for giving a first-class business training. Our Short hand and type-writing department was never so complete before. The fall term has just opened. A commercial training costs less and places its possessor in a better position than any other. Nearly every failure in business is caused by a want of knowledge of business principles. Come where you learn a systematic method of doing business transactions. Write or apply personally to the principals of the Peterborough Business College for full particulars.

Labour's Civic Holiday.

Remember the Labor Excursion and picnic at Campbellford on Monday 16th September. A most attractive programme has been prepared. There will be a baseball match between Peterborough and Campbellford nines, athletic sports and games, a platform will be erected for dancing, and the entire arrangements of the day will be devoted to enjoyment. No pains will be spared to give excursionists every pleasure. Return tickets, only 65 cents, children 30 cents. The excursion leaves the G. T. R. station on the regular time—8.20 a. m. 3d

A False and True Charge.

The charge is made that Hawley Bros give no change in their business transactions. This is both true and false. As applied to money it is false, as applied to their choice and ever excellent teas, it is true. There is no change given in their teas in the matter of first class quality. They are always first class and always cheap as must be the case when bought direct and in large quantities. These superb teas thus cost less and the customer gets tip-top teas at low prices. It is the same with their pure coffees and fine glass ware. Hawley Bros., George street Peterborough.

EDUCATIONAL LETTERS.

Mr Earle Replies to Mr. Dumble's Charges.

Number 2.

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

Mr. EDITOR—In my first letter I have shown the malignant character of Mr. Dumble's attacks on our educational institutions; in this I shall show that his malignity is equalled, at least, by his mendacity.

I shall confine myself at present to that portion of Mr. Dumble's speech in which I am more directly interested.

Mr. Dumble, as reported in the EXAMINER, charges me (for of course I am the teacher referred to) with "cramming" pupils for the examinations; and asserts that I am a "bad teacher," and that my teaching "shows up worse than the others."

I might disprove some of Mr. Dumble's statements, at the last meeting of the Board of Education, by quoting the opinions which he has previously expressed to myself and others. The greatest of men may, however, change their minds, and Mr. Dumble is—not one of the greatest of men.

Of the first offence with which I am charged, I was fully acquitted by Inspector Hodgson on the occasion of his last visit. In making this charge, Mr. Dumble is simply exposing his ignorance. Is their a teacher in Ontario, who has a reputation to lose, who dare assert, over his own signature, that Mr. Hodgson, or any other competent inspector, could be so easily imposed upon as Mr. Dumble's speech would imply, or that candidates can be successfully crammed for the Departmental Examinations as they are at present conducted? Let Mr. Dumble get some of the "other teachers" to whom he refers to try the experiment.

Mr. Dumble has chosen a very inopportune time to make his comparisons between me and the other members of the High school staff. The results of the last Departmental Examinations are before me; and, according to promise, I shall present these to your readers in such a form as will be readily understood.

Believe me, Mr. Editor, I regret the disagreeable necessity, which Mr. Dumble's wilful and malicious misstatements have forced upon me, of publishing these results. During the sixteen years that I have taught in the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, I might, on many occasions, have made a similar comparison, to the advantage of the English department; but no ordinary circumstances could justify such a course.

Foiled in his efforts to drive me from the school on the old charge, he has changed his mode of attack. He now accuses me of bad teaching, and more than hints that he is supported in his statements by other members of the staff. While I do not believe that any of my colleagues have been guilty of such baseness, I am driven to do what even now I shrink from.

It is far from my desire to injure in any way a fellow-teacher, nor do I believe that what I am about to publish will have that result.

The present staff of teachers is, on the whole, superior to any previous staff in the employment of the Board. While there may have been abler men in the school than any one of the present teachers, the staff, as a whole, is the strongest that there has ever been in the Institute.

I believe that every teacher has faithfully done his duty, and that the best possible results have been accomplished with the material at our disposal. Nor do I attach much value to the comparisons which I am about to make. With the frequent changes of examiners, and consequent changes, often of a radical nature, in the character of the papers, it will sometimes happen that the ablest teachers will be disappointed in the results. Every High School teacher knows this; and, were Mr. Dumble's remarks addressed to teachers only, I should treat them with contempt which they deserve.

The figures below represent the percentages of marks obtained in the several departments, by the unsuccessful candidates. The marks obtained by the successful candidates are not given in the official report.

I have gone over these figures carefully, and believe them to be correct. If Mr. Dumble doubts their accuracy, he can obtain the official figures from Mr. Long, and make his own calculations.

It will be seen from these figures that the English department "shows up," to use Mr. Dumble's expression, better than any of the others.

To put the matter more clearly before your readers, I shall now proceed to make a more particular comparison between the English and the mathematical departments. I select the mathematical department for reasons which will no doubt commend themselves to even Mr. Dumble's sense of fair play. All the candidates take the subjects of these two departments; this cannot be said of any of the others. Mr. Ellis is an experienced and able teacher. He is a graduate of the same institution which has the distinguished honour of numbering Mr. Dumble among its alumni. It is Mr. Ellis whom Mr. Dumble wishes to place in Mr. Long's position. It will not, I believe, be denied that he was brought here for that purpose; and those, who are best acquainted with our school matters, will not fail to connect Mr. Dumble's course at the last Board meeting, with a desire to fulfil his promise to Mr. Ellis.

Mr. Ellis was, I am informed, present at the last meeting of the Board, and heard Mr. Dumble's charges and comparisons. It is but fitting that he should now learn something of the other side of the question.

I shall begin with the second class candidates; and I may here state for the benefit of your readers, that, in order to obtain a certificate, a candidate's marks must not fall below 33 per cent. in any one subject, nor may he have less than 50 per cent. of the whole number of marks.

It will be seen that, while two have taken more than the necessary 50 per cent. in English, and two others have come very near to the 50 per cent., not one has obtained the necessary percentage in mathematics, and two have gone below the minimum of 33 per cent. The average percentage in English is 46; the average in mathematics, 37.

If the individual failures in the different subjects are compared, it will be found that there are two in English and seven in Mathematics.

The paper on history and geography was a very unfair one. The history is taught by myself; the geography, by Mr. Long. Two failed on this paper, three took more than 50 per cent. while the average percentage is 41.

The results of the third class examinations will be equally interesting to Mr. Dumble. In English, six obtained more than the necessary 50 per cent, in mathematics, four. The average percentage in English is 47; in Mathematics, 42. In history and geography both of which subjects are, in form III. taught by Mr. Long, five took more than the necessary 50 per cent. one took less than 33 per cent. while the average percentage is 46.

The number of individual failures in English, distributed among five subjects, is seven, four of the seven coming only one mark each below the minimum. The number of failures in mathematics, divided between two subjects, is seven.

With regard to the comparative difficulty of the papers set by the examiners, the chief objections were against the second class papers, and especially against the following: Composition and Prose Literature, History and Geography, and Algebra.

It cannot be urged that the mathematical master was unfairly treated in the time allotted for the teaching of his subjects. I was allowed six hours and a quarter a week in form III for teaching five English subjects, representing an aggregate value of 550 marks. Mr. Ellis had the same time allowed him for two subjects, with an aggregate value of 250 marks.

I do not say, Mr. Editor, that the English department has at all times, since it has been under my charge, stood higher than the others; but I do assert, without fear of successful contradiction, that, on the whole, it has much more than held its own. I further assert that the reports of the High School Inspectors have been more uniformly favorable to my department than to any other.

There have been only two instances, so far as I recollect, of pupils of our Institute taking the highest place in any group of subjects, in Toronto University, since I have been in the school. The first was the late Peter Miller, who took scholarships in mathematics and general proficiency during the time that the late Mr. J. B. Dixon was at the head of of the school, and had special charge of the mathematical department. The other was Mr. A. F. Chamberlain, now a fellow in the University, who took the first place in English. In the same year in which Mr. Chamberlain took the first place in Toronto University, pupils of the Peterborough Institute took first, second, fourth and eighth places in English, at Queen's University.

It is with subdued feelings that I introduce into this discussion the name of the late Dr. Tassie. Dr. Tassie was a gentleman for whom I entertained the highest respect, and whom I learned to love. He was one of the best examples I have ever known of a kind hearted, Christian gentlemen—too kind-hearted, alas! for the treatment he received from Mr. Dumble and his friends. Dr. Tassie, after he had had the opportunity of judging for himself, always treated me in the kindest manner. I shall ever gratefully remember the generous way in which he spoke of me to a member of the Board, the day before his death. But Dr. Tassie would be more than human if he had not been influenced to some extent, by the unscrupulous means made use of to excite prejudices against me. That he was so influenced is proved by the disadvantages under which I was placed when he took charge of the school. Though I was the only teacher on the staff who knew anything of the attainments of the pupils, I was not consulted in making the promotions. The time allowed for teaching my subjects was altogether inadequate. The subject of book-keeping, of which I was entirely ignorant, was forced upon me. I was compelled to do a large part of my teaching after the regular school hours, or to leave some subjects untaught. To add to my difficulties at this time, the lady teachers, to whom I have referred, were, to please the fastidious taste and delicate sensibilities of Mr. Dumble, engaged to teach a part of the junior English. To say that the junior English stood still during the whole time these ladies were in the school, is to state the case in a very mild form.

Is it any wonder, Mr. Editor, that, under these circumstances, there should be some falling off in the English Department? But though there was a falling off, my department held its own at the Teachers' examinations, and more than held its own at the University examinations. The most surprising thing to me, Mr. Editor, in connection with this matter, is, that all the candidates passed in book-keeping.

Mr. Dumble charges me with "cramming", a charge which implies that my teaching is not of an intellectual character. This is a charge which Mr. Dumble will, I think, find hard to prove. I do not propose to discuss methods of teaching with Mr. Dumble. He is, perhaps, not aware of the fact that teaching has attained the rank of a profession; and it is just as impertinent for him to criticise my methods of teaching as it would be for me to dispute his opinions on a legal question. The High school masters of Ontario are as able and as well educated a body of men to-day as are those who compose the members of any one of the learned professions, so-called; and it is much too late for a fifth-rate lawyer to set himself up as an authority on educational subjects.

Will Mr. Dumble be supported in his opinions of my teaching by those who are competent, and who are in a position, to judge? He appeals to the pupils. Will the present and past pupils of the Collegiate Institute confirm his statements? Mr. Dumble appeals to the pupils. Will he venture to take the opinions of all the pupils of the Institute as to the teaching and general deportment of the staff? Will the hundreds of teachers of all grades, and the young men in the different professions, scattered throughout the Dominion, in whose training I have had no small part, say that my teaching has not been of an intellectual character?

I ask my past pupils who form a large and important part of the professional men of Peterborough if Mr. Dumble's charges in this particular, are true? I point to the results of the Departmental and University Examinations, and to the reports of the High school Inspector, as evidence against the baseless character of this charge. What, I ask, is the general consensus of opinion on this point not only in Peterborough, but among many of the leading educationists throughout Ontario?

There is one other matter in Mr. Dumble's speech, which I had nearly overlooked. It appears that some one has been complaining to Mr. Dumble about my methods of conducting recitations.

If my cowardly accuser, who carries his complaints to my avowed enemy, and, at the time of making his charges, withholds his name from the public, will formulate his grievances, I will answer him before the proper tribunal.

I have now gone over the ground I had marked out for myself in this letter. I have taken up Mr. Dumble's charges and answered them. I think I have convinced your readers that they are without foundation in fact; and I now appeal to the gentlemen of the Town Council to protect our schools from the malignant influences of this man, who, unfaithful to a public trust, is doing all in his power to injure the institution of whose interests he is appointed a guardian.

In my next letter, Mr. Editor, I shall deal with Mr. Dumble's general charges against the Institute, with other matters of interest to Mr. Dumble and the general public.

I am, Mr. Editor,
Very truly yours,
BARTON EARLE.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, Sept. 13.

Peter Whelan was fined $2 and costs for being drunk and disorderly Wednesday night.

Three more cases of alleged violation of the lunch-house license by-law came up before the magistrate. It will be remembered that last week John Trembley was fined for keeping a refreshment stand on the street without a license, and his being a test case, the others were brought up in consequence of his conviction. The defendants were J. J. Turner, Samuel W. Lowry, and Geo. W. Hall. Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for the defence and Mr. K. B. Edwards, town solicitor, for the prosecution. The same arguments were adduced as in the previous case, the point of contention bein whether the "places for the reception, refreshment and entertainment of the public" mentioned in the Statutes covered street stands such as those kept on circus day by the defendants. The magistrate said there was some doubt in his mind on the subject, but he would impose a fine of $2 in these cases and then an appeal could be entered in order to get the opinion of a higher court. This was agreed to, it being understood that none of the fines would be exacted for the present. Turner's case was appealed, and the decision in this suit will apply to the others.

Advice No. 1.

IF you have money for which you have no immediate use, invest it at once in Real Estate, but do not do it blindly. If invested wisely it will make money faster than you can.

During the past five years I have supplied investments from which purchasers have realized profits of tens, hundreds and thousands of dollars, and I do not know a single instance where loss has been sustained.

With this record, I feel justified in soliciting a call from any person wanting a home or an investment, for any amount of money from ten dollars to ten thousand.

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD ALFRED GADSBY'S SUICIDE.

He Died Rather Than Face the Suspicion of Crime—A Blue Jacket's Fatal Fall—The Provincial Synod

STRATFORD, Sept. 13.—Alfred Gadsby, the 16-year-old son of James Gadsby, marble dealer, committed suicide last evening by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. A companion named Dunham had been arrested in the afternoon on a charge of stealing among other things a shaving case and revolver from the house of George Rennie. These he had handed over to young Gadsby for safe-keeping.

On Gadsby hearing of Dunham's arrest he left the city, walking out the railway track towards St. Mary's, and when about four miles out shot himself. He was found about 7 o'clock and his parents and a physician were summoned from the city. The boy was unconscious when discovered and lingered till 10 o'clock this morning, when death occurred.

A note addressed to his father and mother was found pinned to the fence with a jackknife near where he was lying, in which Gadsby asked for forgiveness, blamed Dunham for getting him into trouble and maintained his innocence of any robbery.

THE PROVINCIAL SYNOD.

Report of the Treasurer of the Missionary Board Members Elected.

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—At the session of the Provincial Synod to-day the report of the committee on work among the French was read, which explained that the work was not a crusade against the hereditary religion of the French people but to meet the growing spirit of enquiry among them. Representatives to the convention of the American Episcopal Church in New York were named. Members of the missionary board were elected, those for the diocese of Toronto being Rev. A. Williams, Rev. Dr. Sweeny, Hon. G. W. Allan and A. H. Campbell, for the diocese of Ontario Ven. Archdeacon Jones of Napanee, Rev. H. Pollard of Ottawa, R. T. Walkem, Q.C., and R. N. Rogers of Kingston, and for the diocese of Niagara Rev. A. W. Macnab of St. Catharines, Rev. Canon Houston of Niagara Falls, Henry McLaren of Hamilton, W. Ellis, St. Catharines.

The Treasurer's report showed a total for domestic missions of $45,574, for foreign missions $35,740, in all $81,315. Rev. Dr. Mokridge was re-elected Hon. Secretary and J. G. Martin of Hamilton Treasurer.

THE HALDIMAND TRIAL.

The Personal Charges Against Mr. Colter Dismissed by the Court.

CAYUGA, Sept. 13.—The trial of the Haldimand elect on petition was resumed this morning at the courthouse before Judge Falconbridge. Mr. McCarthy, for the petitioner, offered further evidence in support of the Caledonia bogus telegram charge. The judge ruled that as he had given judgment upon the part of the case involving corrupt practices by agents he was precluded from receiving any further evidence upon that branch.

Charges No. 1 and 2 were then gone into. They were to the effect that on polling day Mr. Colter treated several voters at Boyr's Hotel in Nelles' Corners. The bar-tender at Boyr's gave evidence to the effect that Mr. Colter came in the bar on the afternoon of polling day and said: "if they had all voted (referring to those in the bar), there was no harm in giving them cigars."

Mr. Colter was then called and explained that to the best of his knowledge no liquor had been supplied to those to whom cigars had been tendered.

After argument by counsel His Lordship gave judgment dismissing the personal charge of corrupt practices. He reserved his decision on the question of costs.

Manitoba Matters

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—Henry J. Clarke, Q.C., of this city, died suddenly on a Canadian Pacific train at Gull Lake, N.W.T., to-day, while en route to the Pacific Coast for the benefit of his health. He was at one time Attorney-General of Manitoba.

It is said the writ for the new election in Dennis, rendered necessary by the appointment of Mr. Maclean as Provincial Secretary, has been issued. Nomination is fixed for the 28th inst., and polling a week later.

A brakesman named Kennedy was killed near Medicine Hat while coupling a car. His parents reside in this city.

Mandeville's livery stable, on the corner of Graham and Fort-streets, was destroyed by fire and also the adjoining building, known as the old International Hotel. Seven valuable horses were burned. Total loss, $12,000.

Ambitious City News

HAMILTON, Sept. 13.—Burglars broke into Mailoy & Malcolm's finishing warehouse last night and stole cloth worth about $100.

A barber named Little, residing on Bay street north, reported to the police yesterday that all his razors had been stolen.

W. Edwards and J. Tufford were fishing in Desjardins Canal yesterday afternoon when one of them caught on to something which tugged like a shark. Both gentlemen pulled it to the surface, and instead of a fish it proved to be a railway signal lamp of ancient pattern and weighing fully seven pounds. It is made of copper, has the usual arrangements for signalling and is supplied with a coal oil lamp, the wick of which is intact and the oil still in the tank. Last night, after it was taken from the water a match was applied and it burned up brightly. It is presumed that the lamp went down with the ill-fated train in March, 1857.

Burnt to Death

VIENNA, Ont., Sept. 13.—While Mrs. Margaret Pace, 74 years old, in company with her nephew, were setting fire to some brush piles in a field near this village her clothing caught fire and burned her so badly that death must have ensued very quickly. She was found by her nephew with her clothing almost burned off, and her body horribly burned.

A Blue Jacket's Fatal Fall.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 13.—This morning one of the blue jackets on H.M.S. Swiftsure while going through sail drill fell from aloft to the deck of the vessel, and was instantly killed, his brains being dashed out. Deceased was only 18 years of age.

Acquitted of the Charge of Murder

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—At the Assizes to-day Mr. and Mrs. Heinrichs and Mrs. Cooper were acquitted of the charge of murdering Mrs. Kelly in a lower town house last spring. The case did not go before the jury, the judge deciding that there was not sufficient evidence.

Killed by a Train

HALIFAX, Sept. 12.—On Monday as the C. P. R. express going north was passing Greenville it struck a young Frenchman named Melanson, a laborer on the ballast train which had taken the siding to allow the express to pass. It is supposed he was standing too near the track. He was badly cut and bruised about the head. His jaw was broken in three places and his collar-bone broken, besides internal injuries. The man was taken to Oxford for medical attendance and thence to his home at Meadowbrook, Westmoreland County, N.B., where he died last evening.

Caught Fire and Sunk

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—The propeller A. Y. Gower caught fire while being unloaded here to-day and was towed out and sunk in 20 feet of water.

Financier Ives' Bad Night.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The trial of Henry S. Ives was continued to-day. Ives spent the night in the Tombs and it did not agree with him. He looked pale and his eyelids were red.

At the adjournment the sheriff's officers proposed to handcuff Ives on an order from the under-sheriff. His counsel professed the greatest indignation. Lawyer Brooks rushed to the Assistant District Attorney to learn if he had anything to do with it. Judge Fullerton went to the sheriff's officer when he learned it was all a mistake. In the interval the prisoner grew greatly excited. "I will not wear handcuffs," he said. "They shan't put them on me. I want to go out like a gentleman." Finally a cab was procured and the prisoner conveyed in it to the Tombs.

TO RESUME WORK MONDAY

INCREASED PAY WILL BE GRANTED IN NOVEMBER.

End of the London Dockmen's Strike—Boulanger Issues Another Manifesto—His Candidacy for the Chamber.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The joint committee appointed to consider the proposals of the strikers have agreed that the wages demanded by the dock laborers shall be conceded, the advance to take effect Nov. 4.

The Lord Mayor, at a conference with the directors of the dock companies to-day, gave assurance that the men were now ready to resume work on Monday.

In view of the approaching end of the dock laborers' strike the lighter men are seeking to resume work.

The Mansion House Committee announce that the dock directors and the men have practically agreed and that as soon as other interests are arranged all the men will resume work on the understanding that the deferred concessions will be granted in November.

Mr. McArthur, M.P., presided at the church meeting in the City Temple this evening. Messrs. Parker, Hughes, McNeill, Hannay and Clifford and other ministers were present. Resolutions were adopted expressing sympathy with the dockmen and asking churches throughout the country to subscribe to the strikers' relief fund.

The Papal Succession.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—A well-informed correspondent at Rome has written two articles in which he discusses at considerable length the probabilities in relation to the papal succession when Pope Leo shall have ended his career. After eliminating some eminent cardinals, whose names have been in the mouths of various parties as almost certain of this succession, this correspondent names Vicar-General Parocchi as the most likely man to have the suffrages of the college of cardinals. He describes him as a man of iron will and clear aims, who carries the organization of the church exclusively in his own hands, and is a most able and politic administrator.

Revising the German Bible.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The work of revising the German bible at Berlin has advanced so far that a conference of the revisers is to be held in October. Their labors have been carried on with much energy and rapidity. Not only has the old testament been revised very thoroughly, but the revised version of the new testament, which has been previously completed, has again been corrected so as to insure uniformity throughout.

The Man of Manifestoes.

PARIS, Sept. 13.—Gen. Boulanger has issued a manifesto to the electors of Montmartre. In it he says: "If I ask the suffrages of the people it is because I represent, not the personality depicted by my calumniators, but a national sentiment aspiring to throw off the burden of a growing debt, and the intolerable iniquities and humiliations to which the country is subjected."

Despite the refusal of the prefect of the Seine to receive Gen. Boulanger's declaration of candidacy for member of the Chamber of Deputies, placards were posted in Montmartre in the department of the Seine announcing that he would be a candidate. The police have torn down the placards and arrested the men who posted them.

The Boulanger Conspiracy.

PARIS, Sept. 13.—The extent of the peril which Boulangism has imposed on France can now be measured. Many people refused to believe up to the last moment that there was any threatening enterprise behind the caprice of popularity exploited by Gen. Boulanger and the men gathered under his political banner. People persisted in looking upon him simply as a vain man serving as the puppet of powerless politicians. To open their eyes it needed his election as Deputy of Paris in the month of January last. But even that did not suffice to dispel completely all incredulity touching this audacious adventurer. Even his flight to Brussels was hardly considered as an indication of guilt. The trial before the senate, however, has shed considerable light upon the matter. There is no longer room for doubt in regard to the conspiracy which came so near throwing France into a state of revolution.

The cold facts revealed in the trial went far beyond the worst suspicions. In spite of the affected cries of indignation and offended virtue that the Boulangists uttered, his character, his acts and his ambitious dreams remain established beyond all question. There is no chance for denial. The man who posed as the savior of France, who proclaimed himself so alone able to regenerate her, who pretended to personify honor and honesty, has never been anything but an impatient and needy vivour, an undisciplined officer, pursuing rank and fortune at all hazard, constantly mixed up in schemes of a more than doubtful character, and with about as much scruple in his conduct as in the choice of his acquaintances.

It is also positively shown that this parvenue of intrigue had conceived the project and the hope of substituting himself for the president of the republic and of bringing about a dictatorship for his own advantage. To cut out a passage for himself he stopped at nothing, not even an act of prevarication while using the funds of the war ministry to defray the expenses of his political propaganda. Solely occupied with recruiting auxiliaries to aid him in the work of upsetting the government, which he was meditating, he tried to disorganize the administration and to throw discord into the army. He even went so far as to attempt riots.

But Boulanger has had his downfall, and his conspiracy has been well advertised. It has been established in his trial that he tried to overthrow the Government by foul means and the future is brighter in consequence. The legislative returns are announced for Sept. 29. In one way or another the result that they will give in the composition of the future chamber of deputies will exercise a considerable influence on the future of France.

CANADA AND THE STATES.

ANOTHER DAY'S DISCUSSION AT THE "HUB."

The Dominion Exported Nearly $1,000,000 Worth of Coal to the Republic Last Year—Bostonians Favor Reciprocity.

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—The Senate Committee on Canadian Relations to-day heard Osborne Howes, jr., secretary of the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, who said Boston suffered by the limitations put upon her in the way of transportation. Boston is now used as a winter port, but if we had complete reciprocal relations it would probably be us d all the year.

F. S. Emery of the New England Shoe and Leather Association spoke upon the advantages of a union with Canada and argued that 25 per cent. of the earnings of the shoe and leather workmen is drawn from them by an unnecessary tariff.

L. G. Burham, representing the Coal Trade Association, thought a system of reciprocity which should abolish the duties on coal would benefit the country. Under it we should increase the quantity of coal exported, while the amount of foreign coal brought here would not be increased.

Dr. J. Burnett of the Druggists' Association believed reciprocity would relieve the drug trade with Canada.

Jerome Jones, for the Earthenware Association, and Wm. J. Goulding, for the oil trade, both favored a reciprocity treaty, Canada might thereby lose revenue but would gain in the reduced cost of goods.

Alden Speare showed that the value of the coal imported from Canada during 1888 was $1,425,745.

James S. Allen of Brockton, a boot and shoe manufacturer, said the prosperity of the boot and shoe trade depends on the tariff of 30 per cent. which has existed for years. He said he would not repeal all duties but would have a reciprocal trade so adjusted as to benefit all industries.

A RACE AND A SCRAP.

The Teemer-Gaudaur Contest in Dispute—A Miserable Farce.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 13.—Gaudaur defeated Teemer in the scull race at McKeesport this evening in 23 minutes. Teemer claims a foul.

The race was a miserable farce. At 5.35 Teemer rowed to the starting point amid the cheers of hundreds of admirers. Numerous bets of $100 to $75 and $100 to $60 were offered, but none were taken. Teemer's friends then offered two to one on their favorite and several small bets were taken. At 5.45 Gaudaur came to the starting point, and his trainer entered the boat at a quarter of a mile further up the course and took a position well out from the shore.

Gaudaur won the toss for position and took the north shore of the river. The referee J. D. Pringle, sporting editor of The Pittsburg Despatch, gave the word "go" at 5.47.

Teemer took the lead at the first stroke. When they had reached the point where Hamm set out Teemer was nearly two boat lengths ahead and soon took the inside track. Before a mile had been made Hamm was seen by those on the referee's boat to put directly in Teemer's way and collide with his boat. Soon Teemer fell behind both Gaudaur and Hamm, who rowed leisurely away from him, followed closely by the river craft carrying spectators. They reached the end of the course at 6.06.

Teemer although apparently pulling with all his might was nearly half a mile behind. Teemer's friends made a claim of foul when Hamm was seen to get in Teemer's way. Teemer continued over the course although the waves from the numerous steamers which had passed him were running four feet high.

At 7 o'clock the referee, Gaudaur, Hamm, Teemer and a few of their friends had a conference at a hotel. Teemer claimed the race on a foul. He said Hamm ran into his boat knocking a hole in it and causing it to fill with water. Hamm denied this and intimated Teemer was lying, whereupon the latter struck him a fearful blow in the face. The two men clinched and rolled on the floor but were separated and Hamm was induced to leave.

The crowd outside clamored for a decision by the referee. In order to avoid violence he might the referee said he would not announce his decision until to-morrow afternoon. It is generally believed Pringle will decide that Teemer won the race.

The crowd along the river banks and on the boats numbered 25,000 and as Hamm rowed ahead of Gaudaur the crowd mistook Hamm for Teemer and the shouts which went up for Teemer lasted several minutes before the mistake was discovered.

SUSPECTS IN THE SOUP.

No Money for Their Defence and Counsel and Friends Deserting Them.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The attorneys for the defence in the Cronin case are complaining more loudly than ever of a lack of funds. Mr. Foster appears to have retired permanently from the case. Senator Kennedy of Wisconsin is only nominally connected with it now. Joe David, a local attorney, was frozen out a month ago. The "triangle" camps have not contributed according to promise. The Michigan camps have been drained of all their resources. The Pennsylvania coal region camps are poor, and O'Boyle of Pittston, the "triangle" chief of the district, not fancying the unpleasant reputation he was getting on account of his early expressions of hostility to the Cronin sympathizers, has pulled out altogether.

The wealthy wranglers of the town of Lake and of Omaha and Lincoln have buttoned up their pockets.

A Macedonian cry was sent forth last week for more funds, and Larry Buckley, the Chicago member of the Clan-na-Gael "triangle" Executive, captain of the Clan-na-Gael Guards, was sent East to raise the wind, but his mission has been a flat failure.

Tierney, the treasurer of the Clan-na-Gael, who resides in Brooklyn, refuses to give up one dollar for the defence. On the contrary, he has contributed of his own private funds for the prosecution; and he has tried hard to induce his fellow members of the Executive to vote a portion of the funds of the organization for the purpose. Buckley, Bradle of Philadelphia, Leonard of Fall River, and Ronayne have resisted. They have also resisted the calling of a Clan-na-Gael convention, as required by the constitution of the organization.

It is probable under the circumstances that there will be a disruption of the organization and that all the "triangle" camps will be frozen out. This will be followed by disbandment. All the respectable men who were tricked into joining the organization have dropped since the facts concerning the Cronin murder were developed.

It is said that a Chicago detective is in Winnipeg searching for a trunk supposed to have been taken there by Martin Burke. This trunk, it is suspected, contains the mysterious tin box which Burke had so carefully sealed soon after Dr. Cronin's death. The trunk is thought to be either in Winnipeg or Montreal. It is also asserted that a book of records of Camp 20, Clan-na-Gael, containing the minutes of the meeting of February last, at which a committee to try Dr. Cronin for the son was appointed, has been found.

Money That Was Sent to Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 13.—It has become known that after Burke was sent back to Chicago several remittances of money were received by Isaac Cambell, his lawyer. Campbell, upon being questioned, admitted the statement to be true, and intimated that about $500 had been received. It was sent in American bills, folded in white paper and enclosed in a plain envelope. One of the letters was sent from Chicago and another from Wisconsin. No sign was given as to where the money came from or what it was for. Assuming that it was for services in the Burke case Campbell divided equally with Mr. Perlue.

Accident to a G. T. R. Brakeman.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 13.—A brakeman on the Grand Trunk Railway, who is said to hail from Hamilton, had his right hand frightfully mangled this morning while coupling cars at the station here. He will likely lose the hand.

ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Rev. M. G. P. Nickens of St. Paul, Ark., Indicted for Killing Rev. Jaird Carnutt.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 14.—Advices from Huntsville say that the Madison County Grand Jury has indicted Rev. M. G. P. Nickens for murder in the first degree. Nickens is in jail at that town and will be tried at the next term of the Circuit Court, which convenes in February, 1890.

The crime with which Nickens is charged is the most remarkable in the criminal annals of the State, or indeed of the Southwest. His victim was a Baptist preacher named Jaird Carnutt, aged about sixty. Carnutt lived for many years in Crawford county, where he was well known. He had enemies, but his reputation was good. He was eccentric, and many stories are related of this trait in his character. As a minister he was recognized more for zeal and piety than for learning or ability. He was not a member of the orthodox Baptist denomination, but while accepting and advocating the main doctrines of that faith, inclined to accept the Bible as a guide independent of church creed.

Mr. Carnutt peddled dry goods through the mountains of Northwestern Arkansas, occasionally exhorting all with whom he came in contact. He made an impression as being upright and sincere. About a year ago he moved from his old home, selling near St. Paul, Madison county, this State. He owned a small piece of land, the cultivation of which, together with the sales made on peddling excursions, yielded him an income sufficient for his frugal wants.

Mr. Carnutt lived only a little distance from Rev. M. G. P. Nickens. At first, it appears, the relations between the ministers were very cordial, but this sentiment did not endure. Carnutt told throughout the neighborhood that Nickens had criminally assaulted his own daughter, and Nickens had Carnutt arrested for slander. The trial, which set the community agog, resulted in the acquittal of Carnutt, and the ill feeling between the men increased.

Some time later, Carnutt, while riding along the highway, was fired on by a party hid in the underbrush and narrowly escaped death. Suspicion pointed to Nickens as the would-be assassin, but he was not arrested.

The sensation produced by the attempted assassination had scarcely died away when the community was startled by the announcement of the murder of Carnutt. His dead body was found on the roadside half a mile from Nickens' house on the evening of August 13. The evidence showed that he was driving a wagon, in the running gear of which he was riding, when the murderer crept up and dealt him a blow on the head, knocking him from the vehicle to the ground. The murder was then completed, the head of Carnutt being nearly severed from the body with an axe or hatchet and the skull broken in several places.

There was no attempt at robbery, a sum of money being found on the dead man and his pockets being undisturbed, showing that revenge was the motive for the crime. The inquest developed enough evidence to cause the arrest of Nickens on suspicion, but before it was effected he escaped from the officers. A posse pursued and captured him in Franklin County, nearly 100 miles from the scene of the murder. When the officers came in sight he jumped from his horse and plunged into the underbrush, where he was quickly surrounded.

Several shots were fired, but without wounding the fugitive, who soon announced his willingness to surrender. Since then he has been an inmate of the Huntsville Jail.

Feeling against Nickens is strong, but the people are law-abiding and he will have a fair trial. The most damaging evidence against him is a bloody hatchet found on his premises, with which weapon it is believed the murder was committed.

This Sealer Was Not Seized.

Turnbull's Column

Not another day is left of the 1889 Summer if we go by the almanac. Its unparalled storms, floods, freshets and angular wetness with us, and extreme dryness in the west pass into history as part of the record of a remarkable year. It was a strange summer. It was a strangely active summer for us notwithstanding the general feeling of shortness of money and depression. Standing on the edge of autumn, the holidays behind us we now look ahead. Next Saturday, Sept. 7th, we commence the fall cannonade. The troops are passing from all quarters, the sound of the bargain guns will be heard all along the line. What shall be done with the balance of our summer things? Sell them at prices that will pay housekeepers to invest in them! All the while during the spring and summer we've been laying in and laying away autumn things. The time has come to show some of them. Our Dress Goods Department is groaning under the weight of the quantity of beautiful goods we have opened out from all lands where choice goods are made. Next week we shall endeavor to describe some of the different makes. The Mantle Department is more than usually attractive this year. We have full ranges of Ladies' Short and Long Mantles in a variety of Black and Colored cloths.

Our stock of Children's Mantles is so varied the only way to form a correct idea of what we show is to see them.

We hope to largely increase our Tailoring trade this season. Those we have been making for have been well pleased. Our Tailor is hard to beat. Our stock of Imported Tweeds and Overcoatings is very choice, and are sure to find a ready sale as the prices are right. Call early and see the new mantle cloths.

Our Mantle Cutter is always on hand to cut and fit on short notice. With brightened prospects to farmers, and an extensive and well bought stock to select from, we expect this season's trade to be larger than ever.

The new Fall fashion sheets and books have arrived. Call and get one.

GREAT PROFESSION AND LITTLE FAITH.

Sermon By Layman.

To the Editor of the Examiner

When I see a man going round with a long, demure, sanctified looking face I put him down as one who is trying hard to appear that which he is not. When I hear a man saying loud prayers or talking much about his piety or about religion I suspect he is making great profess. s and has but little faith. If a man is what he thus professes to be, he will let his actions tell what he is and he will say little about it—for actions speak louder than words. If he has real true religion he will carry around with him a happy, smiling countenance and his whole life will be full of cheerfulness and contentment. And he will make others happy and will bring joy into the household. And he will make allowance for little offences which are incident to human nature and common to all the world besides. And he will always have a kind word and strive to bring comfort where there is so much misery. And, like our Lord, he will forgive and say go but sin no more. And he will do all this modestly and unostentatiously, not even letting his left hand know what his right hand doeth. He will be an example of meekness and lowliness of heart. And his own home will not only welcome his coming but the companions of other homes will look for, and their hearts made glad at, his coming also. Such is the truly religious and good Christian. And if there are not many like him his example will be all the greater for good and his life all the better. One person of this kind, one quiet, modest Christian of this kind is worth any number of men and women who go about proclaiming to the world virtues which they never professed, but whose whole aim and object is to make people think they are honest and true. True to their Maker and true to their fellow men. Every one is pretty sure to unite himself with some church and make himself conspicuous as a religious man and worker. He will give freely to religious objects when he is sure it will be widely known, although he would refuse a penny to a poor little wanderer crying for bread. He will make long and loud prayers, the same time thinking how he is to circumvent some friend and make money out of him. He is something like the holy man whom I once knew, and a local preacher too, who kept a small store where he sold whisky, and who, one morning stopped praying to ask the boy if he put the water in the whisky which had just been sold, and then went on with his praying again. We often hear of the bad repute of members of a man's family, who enjoys the reputation of being a good man, and people wonder why it is that the children of such men often turn out so badly. The reason no doubt is because the parents are hypocrites in religion and make great professions, but have but little grace. The children are quick to detect such hypocrisy, and soon learn to despise its authors, and to imitate the example thus set them. They laugh at the efforts of their fathers to appear that which they are not, and they say what is good for father is good for son. Parents imagine that they can cheat both God and mankind with their long sermonizing prayers; and they apparently think that if they make their children kneel down and try to keep quiet while they pray long and loud, that they have done all their duty, and their children must surely grow in grace and become examples of truth and piety. And, no doubt, many a child is thus encouraged to keep on wrong doing and many a man owes his irreligious life to the false education which he received at home, at a time when his childish mind was opened to be influenced by home examples, by the circumstances surrounding him there. Many parents, who

but w he have little grace, will tell their children to be good and avoid evil company and will then willingly allow them, and sometimes make them go out upon the street, where they are sure to fall into bad company, which in a short time turns them against their quiet home life into a life of wickedness and shame. And then their hypocritical parents wonder at this result of their own indifference and pretend that they do not see why their children have turned out so badly. But when their ruin is completed and all hope is gone, their children turn upon them and tell them that they alone are to blame, and that had they used their position and authority rightly, and made their house their home, the present state of things would never have existed, and they, the children, would now be occupying honourable positions and receiving praise instead of blame. They will tell their parents that their lives were not of their own making, and all this from parents who profess great piety and who pray long and loud in public. But by their fruits ye shall know them. For if they are what they profess to be, their children would necessarily be better, and their home life would be to them a constant source of comfort and joy. And they would have confidence in and respect, instead of hating and despising, their parents, and then theirs would be home, sweet home and no place like home. There once lived in a pleasant part of the country a family, consisting of a man, his wife and several children, they were well to do and they might have been contented and happy, but unfortunately the man was a canting hypocrite, pretending to be what he was not and the wife was careless of the wants of her children, and they thought that if they were made to kneel down and listen to long prayers, and went to church, that was all that was required. They soon saw through the hollowness of their father's professions, and they, in consequence of his example, became and acted as their own inclinations led them. And, as they grew up to manhood or to womanhood, they left the old home and went out into the world to seek their own fortunes. But the great short anchor of their success was wanting. They had no fixed religious principles and consequently nothing to guide them safely through the temptations and difficult ways that lay before them. They were surrounded by professing Christians who were content to leave them to the care of the minister, who, in his turn thought he had enough to do to preach cold, barren sermons twice a week. And if, by chance, he came into contact with them, his manner was so formal and cold that they turned away and were glad to get out of his presence. After a time one of the sons was stricken down with a severe sickness. One day, while thinking over his past life, he was visited by a kind, good man who remained with him many hours through the night, and who talked with him about the time to come and exhorted him to prepare for the great change which, sooner or later, must come upon him. So he began to set his house in order and to do that for himself which, until now, no one had ever tried to do for him. And, when he rose from his sick bed, he came forth a wiser and a better man. But no thanks to the minister, the church or the professing Christians for it. It was the poor, good, simple-minded old man who interested himself in his favor and who showed him the way of truth and right. And as it was with this sick man, so has it been with many others besides. I once heard a person say, speaking of a dying friend, that he sat by his sick bed one night and that he asked his friend if he should call in his minister to talk and pray with him, when he said no. He further said that as he referred to was well enough to live by but was a very poor help to die by, and he said that thereupon a good, old, honest neighbour, and a God fearing man, was called in instead, and that it was remarkable how soon the dying man found Jesus, and how ready he was to be called away. He said that he had seen enough of pretended Christians, in whom he had no confidence, and that he wanted now, in his dire extremity, a real true simple man who had a heart filled with the love of God and who could speak to him from a heart filled with grace and love. A man who would come in unpretendingly and quietly sit down by his bedside, take him by the hand and fill his heart with peace and joy. There is so much insincerity existing in the world, so much selfishness, so much hypocrisy and so much pretence of that while the most of people don't profess, so much pride and despotism in the churches and so little sympathy shown to others and so little done to help the weak and the failing, that it is little to be wondered at that there exists so much religious indifference and so much of what may justly be called worse than indifference. There is only one really practical remedy for this state of things. The churches must come down to the wants of people. They must open their doors wider and offer invitations to the people to come in and worship and be one with them. They must hold forth the hand of peace and grace and they must condescend to be of the people, and to work for the people, and they must come outside of their own affected sanctuaries and show the people, by their humility and kindness, that they are in earnest in the call of duty. And they must bid the people welcome.

I do not like to hear him pray, on bended knee about an hour,
For grace to spend aright the day, who knows his neighbour has no flour.

I'd rather see him go to mill and bring the luckless brother bread,
And see his children eat their dill, and laugh beneath their humble shed.

I do not like to hear him pray, "let his sings on the widow be."
Who never seeks her home to say, "If want o'er take you come to me."

I hate the prayer so loud and long that's offered for the orphan's weal,
By hi u who see him crushed by wrong and only with the lips doth feel.

I do not like to hear her pray with jewelled ear and silken dress,
Whose washer w man toils all day, and then is asked to work for less.

Such pious shavers I despise, with folded hands and face demure,
They lift to Heaven their "angel eyes," and steal the earnings of the poor.

I do not like such soulless prayers, if wrong I hope to be forgiven,
No angel's wing them upward bears, they're lost a million miles from Heaven.

STARTLING EVIDENCE

Of the Cure of Skin Diseases When all Other Methods Fail.

Psoriasis 5 years, Covering Face, Head and Entire Body with white scales. Skin red, itchy, and Bleeding. Hair all gone. Spent hundreds of Dollars. Pronounced Incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the nails would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They cured me, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use

BYAM'S Improved "Common Sense" SASH BALANCE. LOCKS AND LIFTS.

The only practical substitute for weights invented. The most durable, the cheapest and best device for all dismay windows. Balances when in position are entirely out of sight. No rivets, bolts or screws are used in putting it together so that nothing can get out of order or need repairing. No cutting, boring or marring of the sash, as the Balances are let into the jamb. Especially valuable for repairing old buildings as they can be put in at a trifling expense, as easily put in old buildings as new ones. Sash can be removed from frame in a moment for cleaning or repairing broken glass. Can be used where it is impossible to use weights or other fixtures. No unsightly cord wearing paint off side of frame. No rattling of sash as pressure against sash prevents it. No rattling of weights or pulleys when Sash is raised or lowered. No sticking of weights in frame. No cords to rust off, wear out and break. No rubber rollers to become flattened by standing in one position for some time. No flimsy coil spring or delicate mechanism to break, wear out or get out of order. Its simplicity of construction and operation is the wonder of all.

Byam's Automatic Sash Locks (self fastening) and Sash Lifts for upper and lower sash are the best and cheapest in the market.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hazlon streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect the property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

SWEPT BY THE STORMS.

Further Details of the Disasters on the Atlantic Coast.

CAPE MAY, C.H., N.J., Sept. 12.—The storm in this vicinity was the worst known since the blizzard. No lives have been lost but the following properties have been destroyed: Mosch's house and pavilion, Daboise cottages, Rogers' house and pavilion, Burke's two houses and the houses of Dr. Hutchinson, Needham, Babcock and Isle and more may go if the storm continues.

At Wildwood the Wildwood Hotel is a total loss and part of the sea wall is gone. Anglesea is not submerged and has thus far escaped with little damage. Sea Isle City, Ocean City and Avalon are entirely off from communication and the extent of the damage can only be surmised. The storm is still raging with the wind blowing fifty miles an hour

The England's Rough Voyage.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The steamer England, from Liverpool, had one of the roughest voyages her commander ever encountered. At midnight Tuesday one of the firemen was washed overboard and drowned. The wind and sea were something terrible. The steamer careened over until the tips of her yards dipped into the water.

At Long Branch.

LONG BRANCH, N. J. Sept. 12.—The high tide of this morning threatened to topple several more summer colleges into the surging waves. The new inlet cut through the Sandy Hook peninsula is being rapidly widened and deepened. The streets on the west side of Seabright are still under six feet of water.

Blowing "Great Guns."

ASBURY PARK, N.J., Sept. 12.—The storm is still raging heavily along the coast. The rain is falling in torrents and it is blowing "great guns."

Still Raging Along the Hudson.

NYACK, N.Y., Sept. 12.—The storm is still raging and has increased in violence along the river Hudson.

A Whirlwind at Lulu Island, B.C.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 12.—A whirlwind at Lulu Island, B.C., Tuesday devastated the whole country through which it swept. Its uprooted gigantic trees and left the surface bare as a board. As far as can be ascertained no lives were lost, though several homesteads were torn down.

HOLDEN'S DEAD LETTER.

The Would-be Queer Shover at the Capital Found Guilty.

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—The Queen v. Holden was tried at the assizes here to-day. The prisoner Charles J. Holden sent a letter to a New York swindler about ten months ago for the purpose of securing bogus currency. The communication returned through the dead letter office in this city, and in that manner fell into the hands of the Government police, who immediately arrested Holden on a charge of offering to purchase "green goods." This was the first case ever tried in Ontario relating to counterfeit money under the present law. The prisoner was found guilty but was recommended to mercy. The judge reserved the case, the prisoner being admitted to bail.

The storm at Atlantic City has subsided.

News from Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 12. Victor Emile Michea, the young Frenchman who was extradited on a charge of embezzlement and taken to France by High Constable Bissonnette some time ago, has returned to Montreal with his wife, having been acquitted by the French Courts.

James McAllister, a cigarmaker 25 years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon by the harbor police just as he was going to throw himself into the river near the Beaver Line shed, being in delirium tremens. He was so weak this morning that he had to be carried out of the cells to appear before the police magistrate. Judge Desnoyers finding him so weak, discharged him and ordered his removal to the general hospital.

There were two thousand actions taken in the Recorder's Court this week against owners of unlicensed dogs.

Increase of Bells Stock.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—At a special meeting of the Bell Telephone Company directors to-day the act of the legislature authorizing the increase of the company's stock was accepted and it was voted that the capital stock be increased from $10,000,000 to $12,500,000, that the number of shares be increased from 10,000 to 12,500, stockholders to be entitled to take additional stock in the proportion of one new share for every four shares now held.

Eighteen Lives Saved

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Captain McKee of the steamer Yemassee reports picking up, two miles northeast of the lightship, from two lifeboats, Captain F. A. Bull, wife and two children and the crew of 14 of the bark Aksyola, from Copenhagen, out 14 days, which became waterlogged in the gale. They were nearly dead.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Bradstreet's reports 11 failures in Canada this week as against 25 last week. Dun-Wiman's report shows 23 failures in Canada for the week as against 27 same week last year. The U. S. failures for the present week were 170.

Divorced in Ten Minutes.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—One of the most remarkable divorce cases tried in the courts of this county was disposed of in ten minutes to-day. A decree was entered in fourteen minutes from the time the bill was filed. The defendant helped her husband, Edwin D. Tucker, son of a Chicago physician, to procure his divorce. In 1878 he married Josephine Peterson. She deserted him, and the next thing he heard was that she secured a divorce from him in Kansas. She married again and Tucker did the same. He deserted his second wife and got a divorce from her in Utah. He returned to Chicago and went through the marriage ceremony for the third time with the second wife bail him out and sued for bigamy, as his second divorce was illegally obtained. He was sent to jail. Now two got a divorce and married again. It turns out that his first divorce was void and that he was still the husband of the wife of twenty years ago. Tucker was granted Tucker on the grounds of desertion.

A Corrupt System.

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

Thoroughly Tired

HAVING given Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a thorough trial, I do not hesitate to say that I believe it is the best remedy in existence for all summer complaints, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, etc. MRS. E. S. WATTS, Springfield, Ont. 2w37d

PICKLING vinegar at M. R. KIDD'S.

Is This What Ails You

Do you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, watery, and inflamed; ringing in the ears, deafness hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; voice changed and nasal twang; breath offensive; smell, taste impaired; in fact a sensation of dizziness with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility? If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive, and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicans. The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer, in good faith, a reward of $500 for a case of this disease which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only 50 cents.

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully compat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw37

A Good Regulation

DISORDERED kidneys give rise to rheumatism, dropsy, pain in the back and loins, etc., besides many dangerous complaints affecting the kidneys themselves, as Bright's disease, anaemia, etc. Regulate the kidneys with Burdock Blood Bitters, the best diuretic and kidney remedy ever devised 2w37d

It Don't Matter

HOWEVER old, obstinate or chronic your case may be Burdock Blood Bitters has cured so many seemingly incurable cases that it is well worth a trial in yours. Cases of dyspepsia, scorfula, liver complaint, etc., of twenty five years' standing have been cured by B. B. B. 2w37d

TO THE DEAF.—A person cured of deafness and noises in the head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy, will send a description of it FREE to any person who applies to NICHOLSON, 30 St. John street, Montreal.

A REMEDY that is of such benifit in cases of indigestion, Neuralgia, loss of appetite, Dyspepsia, as Dyers Quinine and Iron Wine, is worth gold. It is easily taken by the weakest invalid. W. A. DYER & Co. Montreal. 6d59

SCROFULA

Humors,

Erysipelas,

Canker, and

Catarrh,

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Trespassing on the Railway.

Yesterday afternoon a man, who gave the name of Peter Davis, and claimed Norwood as his home, was arrested at the C.P.R. station for trespassing. It seems he broke into a box car and was not discovered till the train arrived at Peterborough. At the police court this morning he was remanded till three o'clock, when the conductor of the train was on hand to give evidence.

Last of the Camps.

This week sees the breaking up of a number of camping parties on Stony Lake. Mr. W. A. Sanderson's cottage is closed, and Mr. D. H. Moore and party, who have been occupying Mr. D. Breese's cottage, will return to-night. Mr. Best and family are with Mr. Moore. Mr. R. W. Grubbe is camped at Eel's Creek, and Mr. R. J. Lundy and wife and Mr "Duke" Lundy are also enjoying themselves in that locality.

Campers Supplies.

A large assortment of canned meats, fish, vegetables and fruit. Lowry's smoked and spiced meats. The finest brands of ginger ale's, sodas, lager's, ale's, wines, clarets, champagnes, in fact everything you need to be supplied with in camp. The largest stock in Peterborough and best assortment at the Palace Grocery, Elliott & Tierney, George street, Peterborough.

Threshing Operations.

The harvest is about over and the hum of the Scotch gang threshingmills is heard in our land. We have "separated" these five weeks over the wheat valley of Otonabee. We have cleared out over 30 barns and threshed over one thousand bushels of peas. So that there will be no more starving farmers of Otonabee.

Public Talk.

How is it parties are heard saying every day they would not think of buying Groceries outside of W. J. Morrow's? Because they are people of common sense. Many who have tried every house in town could not now be enticed by any sort of cheap baits to leave there, as by honest dealings W. J. Morrow has proved himself Peterborough's only reliable cheap Grocer. For a few weeks he will sell his best Matches, 4 large boxes—full count, for 25 cents, 5 lbs. Starch, 25c. All other goods in proportion.

Labour's Civic Holiday

Remember the Labor Excursion and picnic at Campbellford on Monday 16th September. A most attractive programme has been prepared. There will be a baseball match between Peterborough and Campbellford nines, athletic sports and games, a platform will be erected for dancing, and the entire arrangements of the day will be devoted to enjoyment. No pains will be spared to give excursionists every pleasure. Return tickets, only 65 cents, children 30 cents. The excursion leaves the G. T. R. station on the regular time—8.20 a. m. 2d

Band of Hope Picnic.

This afternoon the members of the Baptist church Band of Hope had a delightful picnic at Mrs. Dixon's grove at the quarry. About 75 little folks with the officials of the band enjoyed themselves in a very pleasant manner.

Junior Baseball.

Two junior baseball teams, representing the Grits and Tories, played a match this forenoon. Last Saturday the Grits wiped the Tories out at cricket, and to-day they again defeated them at baseball on a score of 23 to 12. The battery for the winners was F. Goldsmith and Geo. Dickson. The Tories had no less than four different pitchers in the box and three catchers; but the Grits outplayed them and won easily.

Distinguished Divines.

The Rev. Wm. Scott, of Ottawa, who was formerly the Pastor of the Methodist church in this town, is a guest of the Mayor. Mr. Scott was a resident here when there was but one Methodist church in Peterborough. He will preach in the George street church tomorrow morning.

The Rev. Alex. Campbell, the agent of the Montreal Dominion Evangelical Alliance, will preach in St. Paul's in the morning and George street in the evening.

A False and True Charge.

The charge is made that Hawley Bros give no change in their business transactions. This is both true and false. As applied to money it is false, as applied to their choice and ever excellent teas, it is true. There is no change given in their teas in the matter of first class quality. They are always first class and always cheap as must be the case when bought direct and in large quantities. These superb teas thus cost less and the customer gets tip top teas at low prices. It is the same with their pure coffees and fine glass ware. Hawley Bros., George street Peterborough.

A Fancy Table.

In the show window of York & Lee's furniture shop a remarkable fine piece of mecanicism is exhibited. It is a fancy inlaid table, the workmanship of Mr. Thos. Burns, who intended it for the Toronto exhibition but did not have it done in time. Mr. Burns is partially paralyzed and has only the use of one hand, but he is very clever at wood working and has turned out some fine pieces. The article in question is a large centre table, on the top of which is skilfully outlined the front of a handsome modern residence. The proportions are exact and the workmanship almost faultless. Half a dozen different kinds of wood are used in the construction of the table. The result is a unique and exceedingly handsome house ornament. Mr. Burns will sell the table for $100.

The Collegiate Institute Investigation.

A meeting of the committee appointed by the School Board "to investigate the condition of the Collegiate Institute," was held last night. All the members were present, including Messrs. Dumble, McWilliams, O'Meara, English and Hamilton. Mr. Stevenson, chairman of the Board, was also present. Mr. J.B. McWilliams was appointed chairman, and a long discussion followed upon the merits of the Collegiate Institute teachers. The reporters were present, but were requested not to publish the details. Then the question as to what nature the investigation should be, whether private or public, was brought up. It was finally decided that the investigation should take the form of an examination of the teachers and pupils of the Institute in order to ascertain if the charges made against the teachers were true. The Secretary was instructed to issue a hundred notices to parties whose evidence would be required, to be present at the meeting of the committee next Friday evening. It is understood the witnesses will be examined one by one, and probably a stenographer will be engaged to take down the evidence. All these details were talked over and the Board adjourned for one week.

The Business College.

Business men are constantly applying to us for competent young men and women. At present we have three good positions which we have not students to fill. Young men and women requiring a business training should bear this in mind when they purpose attending any institution. Go to the place where business and professional men will look for their assistants. The value of a practical education cannot be estimated. Give your sons and daughters a good business education and go where they will their services will be in demand. Do not be afraid but situations will be open for them as soon as they are prepared. The Peterborough Business College has every facility for giving a first class business training. Our Short hand and type-writing department was never so complete before. The fall term has just opened. A commercial training costs less and places its possessor in a better position than any other. Nearly every failure in business is caused by a want of knowledge of business principles. Come where you learn a systematic method of doing business transactions. Write or apply personally to the principals of the Peterborough Business College for full particulars.

Bellegham and the Baby Show.

Everybody is interested in the baby show annex of the Central Exhibition. No doubt the competition will be keen, but as every baby can't get a prize, there will be wailing and gnashing of—gums among slighted exhibits. For the disappointed ones there is compensation and consolation. At the warerooms of Bellegham, the furniture king, there are all prizes, no blanks. Everybody who buys an article of furniture at Bellegham's, gets a prize in the superb quality of the goods and the lowness of price. While Bellegham keeps only the best of furniture, he is bound not to be undersold. Remember these two facts when you want to buy furniture. Don't pay high class prices for low class furniture, but go straight to Bellegham's and get the best goods made at the lowest prices. An immense stock to select from, and the variety will suit every purse—whether it is required to furnish a cottage or a castle—a kitchen or a drawing room. Don't be deceived; don't pay high prices and get inferior goods, but patronize Bellegham and get furniture that will not only adorn but last. If his warerooms do not contain what you require, you must want something special, and this can be produced to your order on short notice. A thoroughly equipped factory, skilful hands and expert finishers will meet your wants. All lumber used thoroughly kiln-dried and put together substantially, solidly and elegantly.

Labour's Civic Holiday.

Monday is civic holiday very properly so declared is one for the most important interests of the town, that of labour. In one sense the holiday season is over and everybody who had the good fortune to enjoy the opportunity, has had his holidays. But the labouring men as a class have not been in a position to take these holidays; the demands of their employment and in no few cases the demand of little mouths at home to be filled, have required them to keep plodding. They have wrought faithfully, many without rest or cessation. A holiday is richly earned and he is a selfish carper, who would deny the boon of a holiday under such circumstances. No doubt the morning train on Monday will at 8:20 steam out of the Midland station, with a large number of pleasure seekers representing the real back-bone of the town, and the EXAMINER cordially wishes them in anticipation a delightful holiday. Labour has its own peculiar interests to guard and organization and co-operation are the only means of securing the justice it deserves and such merry makings and days of enjoyment are a powerful means of cementing the labour interests and thus facilitating harmonious co-operation. The EXAMINER in order to allow its employes to join the excursion, will omit publication on Monday. It is to be hoped that the excursion will bring the greatest measure of enjoyment, unmarred by accident or untoward event. The excursion rates, 65 cents for return tickets, brings the pleasures of the day within reach of all. Train leaves the Midland station at 8:20 o'clock Monday morning.

Calcutt's Line of Steamers.

The "Golden Eye" will run a cheap trip on Monday, 16th Sept., labor holiday, to Jubilee and Idyl Wild. Return tickets—to Jubilee, 40 cents; Gore's Landing, Harwood and Idyl Wild, 50 cents. Children under 12 half fare. Boat will leave Peterborough at 8 a.m. and return at 8 p.m. Good fishing at Jubilee. 3d61

Correction.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

MR. EDITOR,—Permit me to call attention to a slight omission in my last letter, as published in the EXAMINER. The percentages obtained in French by four of the Third Class candidates are left out. They are as follows:—James Bradley, 37; Clara Cameron, 51; M. Chase, 23, and A. Cookson, 42. The EXAMINER used a copy, and I presume the fault is in the manuscript. In the Review, which used my own manuscript, the omission does not occur.

I am, Mr. Editor,

Truly Yours,
BARTON EARLE.

Coldsprings.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On Tuesday, Sept. 10th the Coldsprings Union Sunday school had their annual outing to Jubilee Point. In the morning there was every indication of a fine day, and the pic-nicers seemed to have made up their minds to thoroughly enjoy it. At 8:45 the "Golden Eye," with a number of the excursionists already on board, arrived at Kennedy's Landing, and in very short order everybody was aboard, and we were steaming down the picturesque Otonabee, towards our destination, which we reached in good time. There was then a scramble for the tables, which were soon groaning under their precious burdens. As every one had found an appetite somewhere on the way down, it is needless to say, that the tables were soon soon somewhat relieved, and ceased their groaning. After dinner the little folks repaired to the swings where they greatly enjoyed themselves, while the committee on amusements were making arrangements for the games and sports, of which a fine programme had been prepared. To make these events the more interesting, a fine assortment of prizes had been purchased for the boys and girls. Besides these, a number of the most prominent merchants and manufacturers in Peterborough, donated valuable presents as follows:—

R. J. Kidd—A pair of lacrosse shoes for young mens' race.

Hall, Innes & Co.—1 doz. fancy border handkerchiefs for the little children.

O. C. Rowe—A white satin and lace parasol, for the young ladies race.

J. C. Turnbull—A ladie's hand satchel, 2 silk handkerchiefs, 2 fancy handkerchiefs and 2 pr. braces.

McKee & Davidson—one buggy whip for high jump.

B. Shortly—one buggy whip, for standing long jump.

M. R. Kidd—one lb. candies.

—— Carton—two lbs. candies.

T. W. Robinson—1 basket tea for married women's race.

J. R. Stratton—one plush dressing case for the vaulting by young men.

Peter Hamilton—one turnip cultivator, value $10), for married men's race.

Ormond & Walsh—one toilet set (plush) for young ladie's race.

The following is a list of the races etc.,

Boys 8 and under—1st Bert. Huston, 2nd Lorne Brooks, 3rd Roy Spears.

Boys 9 to 12—1st A. Frost, 2nd Alex. Thompson, 3rd M. S. Kennedy.

Boy's. 13 to 16, 1st, C. Frost, 2nd, John Rose, 3rd, J. Welch

Young men's race—1st, John Rose, 2nd, C. Frost, 3rd, T. Welch.

Boys, 3 legged race—1st, Alex. Thompson and Adam Thompson, 2nd Albert Frost and Marvin Kennedy.

Married men's race—1st, Jas. Rose, 2nd, Thos. Huston.

Company race—1st, Thos. Huston, captain.

Tug of war—1st, H. D. Kennedy, captain. Standing long jump—1st, Jas. Rose, 2nd, J. Fawcett, 3rd, Thos. Welch.

Hop-step and jump—1st, John Rose, 2nd, J. Fawcett, 3rd, Chas. Frost.

High jump—1st, John Rose, 2nd, J. Fawcett, 3rd, Chas. Frost.

Vaulting with pole—1st, H. P. Kennedy, 2nd, Jas. Rose, 3rd, H. D. Kennedy.

Girls, 8 and under—1st, Minnie Long, 2nd, Audrey Spears, 3rd, Ettie Guthrie.

Girls, 9 to 12—1st, Carrie Huggins, 2nd, Annie Guthrie, 3rd, Ada Rose.

Girls, 13 to 16—1st, Minnie Rose, 2nd, Mary Guthrie, 3rd, Ruth Fawcett.

Egg race, girls 9 to 14—1st, Annie Guthrie, 2nd, Ada Rose, 3rd, Jennie Huston.

Young ladies' race—1st, Miss L. Bennett, 2nd, Miss J. Ambrose, 3rd, Miss J Scollie.

Married women' race—1st, Mrs. A Thompson, 2nd, Mrs. D. Spears.

The races were just nicely over when we were called to the boat for the return trip. The sail both down and up was enjoyed by all. The prizes were distributed to the winners on the home trip by Mrs. Huston and Mrs. Kennedy, who performed their duty to the satisfaction of everybody, and were awarded by a memorial badge apiece.

The trip up was a quick one and the boat reached the landing about 7.30 p.m., when the excursionists disembarked and wended their way homeward, regretting only that such days come so rarely.

EXCURSIONIST.

Young's Point.

EXCURSION.—On Monday, Mr. P.P. Young the proprietor of the "Mary Ellen" treated his friends to an excursion to Lindsay, returning the following day. As the boat did not wait for the arrival of the morning train from Peterborough the party was small, but all enjoyed themselves thoroughly—so much so in fact that they have requested Mr Young to run a similar trip early next month. Excellent time was made, and although delayed for three hours at Bobcaygeon owing to a blockade of the locks, Lindsay was reached in ample time, for those who wished to return to Peterborough by the evening train. This was the Mary Ellen's first appearance in the waters beyond Bobcaygeon, and Mr. Young was congratulated on being the owner of a craft that beat the record from Bobcaygeon to Lindsay by twenty minutes. All speak highly of the treatment received at the hands of Captain Scollard and crew, and should Mr. Young decide to run another such excursion, no doubt it will be better patronized.

ROWDYISM.—On Wednesday about midnight three young men from Lakefield drove to our village, and made the night hideous with shouting and foul language. Such rowdyism should be stopped at once, and should it occur again their names will be given to the public, as they are well known here.

IMPROVEMENT.—Mr. McFarlane has constructed a minnow box, capable of holding 10,000 for the convenience of his guests. Next spring, when the minnows can be taken with a net, he will keep a constant supply on hand, it being so arranged that they may kept alive by feeding them. This will prove a great boon to those who visit our village for a day's fishing, and our host deserves credit for the endeavors put forth to accomodate his guests. He is no mean fisher himself, for one morning in a short time, he had the luck to capture twenty-seven fine bass.

ON A TRIP.—Mr. W. J. Young, who has been ailing for some time, started on Monday on an extended tour of the large American cities. He will spend a week in Detroit, New York and Buffalo, returning by way of Rochester. He will be sadly missed by the boys, and all heartily hope he will return much benefitted in health.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Last Sunday while a son of Mr. E. Anglesea was bathing, he got beyond his depth, and had sunk twice when his dangerous position was noticed by Mr. Ed. Young, of the "Mary Ellen," who bravely plunged in and went to the rescue. When brought ashore the lad was insensible, but soon recovered. But for Mr. Young's brave action a fatal accident would have occurred.

Personal.

The Mount Pleasant correspondent of the Omemee Herald writes:—Joseph Gardiner has rented a farm near the town of Peterborough. He has sold the one he is living on. Mrs. John Jackson of our village intends to move to Peterborough where she will reside in the future.

A correspondent of the Post, writing from South Ops, says:—Misses Ella and Maggie O'Connell of Peterborough are visiting at Mr. R. Miller's.

News Nuggets.

—The Lakefield Chronicle says:—Bellegham, the furniture man of Peterborough, is negotiating for a building site on Queen street. He intends opening a branch of his business in Lakefield.

—Miss Fady, a lady employed in the Times office, had her right hand badly crushed in a press this morning. Fortunately none of the fingers will have to be amputated.

Church Chimes.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.—At St. Peter's Cathedral, Roman Catholic, there will be two masses celebrated, the first at 8 a.m., the second at 10.30 a.m. Vespers at 7 p.m.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Dominion Alliance Council Ends Its Labors—Ontario Appointments.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—The Council of the Dominion Alliance concluded its business yesterday morning in Richmond Hall. Senator Vidal was in the chair. On recommendation of the nominations' committee these officers and committees were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Senator Vidal, Sarnia.
Corresponding Secretary—F S Spence, Toronto.
Recording Secretary—J H Carson, Montreal.
Treasurer—W H Orr, Toronto.
Vice-Presidents:
For Ontario—Hon J C Aikins, W H Howland.
For Quebec—J R Dougall, S A Fisher, M.P.
For the other Provincial Alliances the President and Secretary in each case.

Executive Committee—Hon J J Maclaren, Q.C, Rev Dr Potts, Jacob Spence, A M Featherstone, J W Manning, Rev J A Newnham, George D Parker, Rev Dr A Sutherland, Thomas Webster, J H McMullen, W W Buchanan, R J Fleming, William Lees, J M M Duff, J S Robertson, Dr C V Emory, Rev T G Williams, James Hoyle, Rev A M Phillips, B D, Rev Dr Stone, Rev W A Hunter.

Permanent Committee on Legislation—Hon J C Aikins, J J Maclaren, J R Dougall, R C Smith, B C L, W H Howland, A M Featherstone, Rev A P McMarmid, Rev John Wood, Rev W Scott, F S Spence, J H Carson and member of both Houses of Parliament favorable to Prohibition.

The arranging for the next place of meeting was left in the hands of the Executive Committee with a recommendation that Montreal be selected.

A discussion arose over a notice of motion given by Rev. Dr. Parker to the effect that the Legislature and other representative bodies be asked to petition the House of Commons for prohibition. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Political Action.

The report of the Law Enforcement Committee, recommending that all temperance organizations should see that the license laws are rigidly enforced, was adopted.

The Finance Committee's report showed a satisfactory balance on hand of $47. It was suggested that the various temperance bodies in the Dominion be asked to share between them the expenses of the alliance and Dr. Emory, on behalf of the Royal Templars, and Mr. G. M. Rose, for the Sons of Temperance, guaranteed that these bodies would bear a reasonable share of the expenses. After some discussion this method was decided upon.

The report of the Committee on the Constitution of the Council recommended that county alliances be formed on the basis of the council and that the executive be instructed to draw up constitutions for such organizations. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Political Action then reported on Dr. Parker's motion recommending that such petitions from the representative organizations of the Dominion be sent into the House of Commons in 1891.

The council meets again in September, 1890.

A proclamation has been issued by the Ontario Government re-dividing the town of Owen Sound into four wards, such division to take effect on the first Monday in January next.

Letters patent have been issued incorporating the Niagara Casket and Coffin Company, with a capital of $100,000, and the Niagara Falls Natural Gas, Fuel & Light Company, with a capital of $40,000.

M. Olivier of L'Orsinal has been appointed a local master of the Supreme Court, vice Mr. Thistlethwaite, resigned. Thomas Copland of Saskatoon has been appointed a commissioner for taking affidavits in relation to Ontario. R. A. Dickson and T. A. Rowan of Toronto, George W. Bruce of Collingwood, A. G. Browning of North Bay, Charles E. Weeks of Kenningtton, have been appointed notaries public; Angus McKay of Ripley, clerk of the ninth division court of the county of Bruce; A Boomer of Linwood, clerk of the sixth division court of the county of Waterloo.

A Summer Resort Submerged.

LEWIS, Del., Sept. 13.—Waterloo, a summer resort on Delaware Bay, is entirely submerged. Out of 20 cottages in the place one remains.

A Norwegian bark is sunk on five fathom bank. The steamer Old Dominion picked up, dismasted, off the capes a new American three-masted schooner bound to Baltimore with a cargo of ice and towed her into the breakwater last night.

The Gaol Population.

The present population of the gaol is the lowest it has ever been since 1882. There are but six inmates, the most of these being vagrants. Only one lunatic is at present confined in the gaol—the man Yeomans, of Chandos, who attempted to kill his son. A few years ago the gaols all over the country were over-crowded with lunatics, and every Grand Jury that sat in Peterborough urged their removal to the asylums. The Ontario Government have been extending their asylum accommodation and relieving the gaols of their lunatic inhabitants. In the last year no less than 12 of those poor unfortunates have been removed to different asylums, leaving only one in the gaol now.

Advice No. 1.

IF you have money for which you have no immediate use, invest it at once in Real Estate, but do not do it blindly. If invested wisely it will make money faster than you can.

During the past five years I have supplied investments from which purchasers have realized profits of tens, hundreds and thousands of dollars, and I do not know a single instance where loss has been sustained.

With this record, I feel justified in soliciting a call from any person wanting a home or an investment, for any amount of money from ten dollars to ten thousand.

I have several bargains to offer just now.

VOL. IX. NO. 65. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

THE END OF A DEBAUCH.

HOW WILLIAM WATSON OF LANARK CAME TO HIS DEATH.

DRUNKEN YOUNG MEN ASSAULT AN IMBECILE GIRL—ONE OF THE PARTY SHOT—VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY.

LANARK, Ont., Sept. 17.—On Friday night last six or seven young men from the country, all more or less under the influence of liquor, when on the way home late, stopped at Margaret Robinson's, on the outskirts of the village. Some of them entered the house and were in the act of committing a criminal assault on an imbecile girl about 16 years old.

Alarmed by the cries for help Thomas Cameron and his son, who live near, went to the house and ordered the men off, who defied them. The young men, having put out the light in the house, the Camerons were afraid to enter and fired some shots with the intention of frightening the parties away.

Sunday the body of one of the men, William Watson, was found about fifty yards from the house in such a position that it could not be seen either from the house or road. It is supposed that he ran back that way after being shot.

Mr. Cameron has been a member of the council for a number of years, and he and his son are amongst the most peaceable and law-abiding portion of the community, and feel their position keenly.

The coroner's jury returned this verdict: "That William Watson came to his death from a wound caused by a gun shot in the hands of Benjamin Cameron, by casual misadventure."

The whole may be summed up as the result of a drunken spree by a number of young men.

THE PROVINCIAL SYNOD.

A Move Towards Uniting the Different Synods of the Church.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—The synod of the Church of England in Canada met again yesterday. The treasurer's report showed a deficiency of $184 and an assessment of $150 was levied on each diocese. Rev. Canon Houston read the report upon immigration, which pointed out the desirability of increased attention at the hands of the church when the immigrants landed.

C. H. Vroom gave notice of this motion: That this Synod recognizes the evils of intemperance as one of the greatest obstacles to the spread of Christ's kingdom, and hereby expresses its sympathy with all proper efforts for the suppression of intemperance and the reclaiming of those who have fallen under the use of strong drink and urges on clergy and laity to give all possible countenance to such effort.

This motion was adopted:

That a committee be appointed which shall be authorized to invite a conference of representatives from all the dioceses in British North America and confer with them and if possible agree with them upon some ground upon which a union may be formed, the same to be submitted to the synod of every diocese for their consideration before next meeting of provincial synod and to report.

Canon Dumoulin of Toronto was appointed a delegate to the New York convention instead of Dr. Langtry who resigned.

The Synod held a night session and occupied the time in discussing a canon introduced by Dr. Partridge of Halifax dealing with divorce. It is proposed to prohibit any clergyman of the Church of England from performing the marriage ceremony when either party has a divorced husband or wife still living. The consideration of the matter was adjourned.

Anathemas at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, Sept. 17.—The missionary meeting held in the Roman Catholic Church here during the past week were brought to a close yesterday morning. Rev. Father Tremble of Boston, who conducted the services, recited the words of excommunication Sunday after second mass, which put terror into the hearts of all present, as they were supposed to be intended for the persons who struck the parish priest last July.

The Injured Telegraph Operator.

HAGERSVILLE, Sept. 16.—Shoupe, the victim of Friday night's row on the train from Hamilton, is still alive and is reported as being somewhat better. The doctors express some hope of his recovery if inflammation can be prevented.

The Ancient Capital.

QUEBEC, Sept. 17.—Notwithstanding the many privileges for securing an abundant ice harvest around this district during the winter months, and the amount housed, a famine in that commodity is threatened in this city and the price has gone up fully 100 per cent.

An accident occurred Sunday to a young boy, son of Mr. Drolet, flour merchant of this city. He was examining a pistol that was loaded and not thinking of the danger he pulled the trigger and the ball passed through the thigh, worked along about seven or eight inches and came out at the knee. He is now doing well under the circumstances.

The Deadly Level Crossing.

MILTON, Sept. 17.—Last evening an old gentleman named Thomas Howson, a resident of Milton, was driving into town as the 5.35 C.P.R. express was coming in from Toronto. It is supposed that as Mr. Howson was hard of hearing he did not hear the signal for the cross-road, and he was killed by being pitched out of his rig, being thrown clear of the track. The buggy was completely smashed and the horse badly injured. Deceased leaves a wife and a family of grown-up children. One of the sons is a resident of Parkdale.

The Jesuits v. The Mail.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—The Court of Appeals opened yesterday morning, Justices Tessier, Baby, Church and Bosse being on the bench. R. C. Smith, the attorney of record for The Mail in the Jesuit lib l case, said that he would file an inscription during the week so that argument in the case may be fixed for next Monday. The Mail is appealing from Judge Loranger's judgment limiting its plea to the constitutionality of the act of incorporation and striking out the other portions in which the defendants sought to plead that the teachings of the Jesuits are subversive of civil and religious liberty and of the British constitution.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 17.—Joseph P. Huych, one of the oldest Freemasons in Ontario, is dangerously ill.

H. K. Smith caught a 36-pound maskalonge, the largest of the season, at Montauto Bay on Sunday afternoon.

Notes From the Capital.

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—The collector of customs at Chatham N. B., has seized the schooner Delhi of Glasgow because some of her crew smuggled goods on shore and sold them. She will be held until the minister is communicated with.

Officials of the Customs Department are engaged in collecting statistics showing the volume of the transit trade through Canada from one United States point to another, and also the imports into Canada from Europe through American ports.

Construction of the Westminster Southern Railway is progressing very fast both on the British Columbian section and on that south of the boundary. It is expected that the line will be completed by May next. The rails are being loaded in England and will all be shipped by February, half to San Francisco and half to New Westminster.

DOWN ON THE BLACKLEGS

THE LONDON DOCKMEN NOT ENTIRELY SATISFIED

THREATS OF ANOTHER STRIKE—TRAVELERS IN SERVIA ARRESTED AS BRIGANDS—BULGARIA'S INDEPENDENCE DAY.

LONDON, Sept. 17. Much ill-feeling exists between the dock laborers and the "blacklegs," and the former refuse to work with them. Several encounters have occurred between them. Many of the dock laborers protest that the leaders of the strike had no right to agree to the proposal that the strikers should work hand in hand with the "blacklegs." The officials of the dock companies made a strong complaint to the Lord Mayor against the action of the returned strikers and he had promised to do his utmost to compel the men to live up to the terms of their agreement. A meeting of the joint docks committee, the conciliation committee and the leaders of the strikers was called at the Mansion House to consider the situation. Mr. Burns instanced several cases where unreasonable preference had been given to "blacklegs." It was finally agreed by all present to endeavor to have the agreement kept intact by all parties."

At the meeting at Poplar last night Mr. Burns said the treaty with the workmen had been broken by subordinate officials of the dock companies. Some of the wharfingers also had tried to get the men at the old terms, but had failed. Unless the agreement with the men was kept there would be another strike. The directors of the dock companies, however, had assured him they would prevent any unfair preference being shown and the shipowners had anvised the directors to pay the fares of the "blacklegs" and send them back to their homes.

Sydney Buxton, M.P., expressed the belief that matters would settle down quietly in a few days. He understood from Mr. Tillett that the men would be advised to continue at work, while the "blacklegs" would be gradually weeded out or induced to join the dockmen's union.

The Empress Augusta.

BERLIN, Sept. 16.—The report cabled to the effect that the dowager empress has joined the Roman Catholic Church is denied by those most intimate with her. The rumor started at Vienna. A gentleman well acquainted with everything pertaining to the Berlin court says: "The Empress Augusta is a broad-minded, philosophical woman. Had she not been an empress she would probably have gained fame as a writer on social problems. She is very tolerant in her religious views, and takes an active part in all charities, no matter whether they are Protestant, Catholic or Jewish. The extreme orthodox wing of the Lutheran Protestants in Prussia have for a long time been trying to control her religious action, but without avail. Blinded by their zeal and misled by the empress' apparent leaning towards Catholics, these people have spread the false report of her conversion. Coblentz is a strong Catholic city and the empress has visited the Catholic church there several times, as she has also done at Frankfort and Schwalbach, but she has also visited the Jewish synagoga. There seems to be about as much foundation for her reported conversion to one faith as to the other."

AUCKLAND, Sept. 17.—The Tonga steamer Wamm has brought here the captain and crew of the British ship Garston, which foundered in mid-ocean. The shipwrecked sailors were 22 days in an open boat without food or water. On the 22nd day the men, driven to desperation by hunger and thirst, decided that one of their number must be sacrificed to save the lives of the others. The were casting lots to see who should be the victim when they sighted Wallis Island. The natives of the island assisted the exhausted men to land and treated them most kindly. A mission boat took them to Tonga.

MASSOWAH, Sept. 17.—A famine prevails throughout Tigre, a state of Abyssinia. Bands of starving peasants are ravaging the country around Sokata.

SOFIA, Sept. 17.—It is officially stated that the independence of Bulgaria will be proclaimed Friday next.

BELGRADE, Sept. 17.—Mr. MacDonald, the British Consul at Niach, and a party of friends were recently arrested as brigands while traveling in Servia. It was some time before they could establish their identity and secure their release.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 17.—Frank Amos, one of the most prominent citizens of Morgan County, was murdered at his home in the western part of the county yesterday by Mrs. Hampton, his niece, who hacked his face and head to pieces with a butcher knife, which she carried for weeks avowedly for the purpose. Amos was picking berries in the field with his wife when the attack was made. Mrs. Amos and a man passing by were attracted by Amos' cries and reached him only in time to see him breathe his last and to see Mrs. Hampton and her daughter run away. The murder grew out of a law suit in which the testimony of Amos threw the costs on Hampton.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Judge Sawyer in the U.S. Circuit Court yesterday rendered a decision in the case of Depty Marshal David Nagle who killed Judge Terry, and discharged Nagle from custody. A bill of exceptions filed by counsel for the state was allowed by the court and pending an appeal to the United States Supreme Court Nagle was ordered released on his own recognizance with bonds fixed at $5000.

Montreal's Protestant Schools.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—The Protestant board of school commissioners have issued their annual statement which shows that the total cost of maintenance of all the schools for the year was $86,000 as against $78,043 for the previous year. That the pupils in attendance were 5275 as against 4851, that the number of teachers was 147 being an increase of 14 over the previous year and that the entire cost per scholar paid out of the city school tax was $7.74 as against $7.08 last year.

A RAILWAY COLLISION.

TIOGA JUNCTION, Pa., Sept. 17.—About 7.05 p.m. yesterday the train from Elmira South, carrying seven coaches, ran into a Fall Brook engine at this station, causing a fearful wreck, killing two persons and injuring about 25. The dead are: Eugene Daighne, newsboy; Harry Oliver of Union, N.Y. None of the injured are supposed to be fatally hurt, but all are badly injured: broken limbs, arms and broken backs, and many were scalded.

ARRED AND FEATHERED

THE STORY OF CHARLES HAMBLY'S DEATH.

FIRST DAY OF THE TRIAL—THE EVIDENCE OF A PASSENGER ON THE BALTIC—THE VICTIM GOADED TO DEATH.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 17.—The trial of Russell, Tripp, Daggett and McFadzen for causing the death of Charles Hambly Aug. 26 opened in the Court House yesterday at 2 p.m., before George Price, J.P., George Spencer, P.M., and John Rutherford, J.P.

The father and sister of deceased testified to his personal appearance in order to identify him, and also to his quiet and peaceable disposition.

Fireman Joseph Ward gave a description of the boy that fully agreed with that of the other witnesses.

Jacob I. McInnes testified: I live in Owen Sound. I have been at Little Current lately. Went up three weeks ago Aug. 15 on the steamship Baltic. About 9 p.m. when we had been out about an hour, I was standing aft on the main deck and saw the people running forward. I also went forward to see. I went to the forward gangway and saw that a young man had been tarred and feathered. When o went forward they had him stripped stork naked and the coat of tar and feathers on. He was trying to pull the feathers off himself, and the crowd around was having fun in tormenting him.

I was standing aft of the aft starbord gangway when the unfortunate boy came along with a valise in his hand. There was a young man named McMillan with him talking to him. McMillan had a bottle in his hand. The deceased set his valise down and went back to the forward gangway. Then he came back again to his valise. He then went aft three or four times and caught hold of the iron ladder by the gangway, gave a yell and jumped overboard.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—The police have taken a hand in the little game by which a commercial traveler named S. A. Potter was relieved of the trouble and care caused by carrying $158. Potter says he was invited into the Hub saloon by Dan Small and another traveler by the name of William G. McSherry, who was also stopping at the Palmer House. There he was served with one good-sized drink which relieved him of all remembrance of that which transpired afterwards. The only fact that he does remember clearly is that when he again reached the cool, fresh air that sometimes circles down Leader-lane his pocket-book was light and lean. The spectators state that Potter lost his money on betting in the saloon. Small, who keeps a saloon at the corner of Queen and Parliament-streets, won some of the lucre by jumping up on the bar counter. A policeman was called in at the time, but accepted the statement of the proprietor that nothing wrong had taken place. Yesterday morning William G. McSherry, a sharp-looking Chicagoan, who travels for the New Era Baking Powder Company of Detroit and Windsor, and Small were arrested.

At the Police Court yesterday several important cases were called, but they were all remanded without any evidence being taken. William H. Dean, the young man charged with abducting and seducing Marion Atkinson, was allowed out on his own bail, Inspector Archabold stating that he had consented to marry the girl. Dean has been in jail since his arrest, and has had lots of time to reflect on his folly. Henry Parry, sr., too, has been languishing in jail for several weeks on the charge of procuring an abortion on Mrs. Elliott. It is unfortunate for him that the woman continues too ill to give evidence, as he must remain in custody until she testifies. The doctors at the Hospital state that it will be two weeks yet before Mrs. Elliott can leave that institution, and in the meantime Parry was remanded for a week. Selby G. Allen, charged with stealing $1600 from H. E. Hamilton & Co., was remanded until Wednesday, and M. D. Murdoch, charged with embezzling $980 from the Grand Trunk Railway, was remanded for a day.

The funeral of the late William Gooderham took place yesterday afternoon from Sherbourne-street Methodist Church to the family vault in St. James' Cemetery. The procession extended from the church nearly to the cemetery. It is understood that among the benefactions in the will of the deceased is one of $100,000 to Victoria College.

About eighteen months ago W. R. Blowers arrived in this city professing to hail from New York. He obtained employment in the Parkdale rubber factory. In society he has passed himself off as an unmarried man and has been assiduous in his attentions to the fair sex. It is alleged he went so far as to ardently declare his love and plead his suit. He was, it is said, boastful of his wealth and pictured to the fair ones his intense desire to have the opportunity to provide for some of them a palatial home. He was evidently having a fine time, making new conquests day by day, or rather night by night, for the darkness was more in keeping with his hidden character. But on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock a thunderbolt from an apparently clear sky dropped upon him and the villain was unmasked. Private Detective John Reid walked into the factory in company with a lady and gentleman, who were none other than Blowers' deserted wife and her uncle from Boonton, N.J. At the invitation of the detective he concluded to take a trip down town and was soon landed in Inspector Archibold's office to give an account of himself. He professedly became quite repentent, but could give no explanation why for over twelve months he had not sent one dollar home for the support of his wife and child. He declared that he had no money that he could give his wife here now, that he only earned $60 per month, which he had spent as it was earned. He expressed his willingness to go back to New Jersey with his wife and to ask his father to help him to provide a home for her and to support her in the future as he ought. Upon these conditions he was let go with a caution.

A Senator's Prodigal Son.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—Arthur Armand, son of Senator Armand, has been interdicted for prodigality and his father has been appointed curator.

Quarrelled About Money.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 17.—John Devereux, 35 years, got into an altercation Sunday with James Delaney, 65 years, about the paying of some money. Devereaux kicked Delaney against a fence and he fell. He became insensible at once and has remained so ever since. The doctors have little hopes of his recovery. Devereaux has been placed under arrest.

Fatal Sport.

PETERBORO, Sept. 17.—While some lads were playing with a revolver Sunday a young son of Butcher Thomas Hawdan was shot through the head. He will die.

Struck by Lightning.

PARKHILL, Sept. 17.—During the storm Sunday John Macdonald of the 12th con. West Williams had his large barn and outbuildings struck by lightning and totally destroyed with all this year's crop.

A Strike in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Sept. 17.—Police officers are guarding the New York Central Railroad freight house in Ohio-street as the result of a strike of 200 Italians, Poles and Germans. The men get $1.40 a day and work 10 hours a day. Sunday the men got tired of working on Sunday for the wages they receive every day and demanded an advance, saying they wanted $2.10 for Sunday's work and 20 cents an hour for overtime. Boss Dean refused the demand and the men went out on strike.

AT TURNBULL'S

If you come with us we will show you through our new Dress Goods this morning. First we shew you Scotch Osturme Cloths in stripes and checks, that handle like Tweeds in weight. When told the price you wonder, as they are only 10 and 12½c. a yard.

All-Wool French Serges are here again; they appear to have come to stay, and why should they not. There has never been a cloth introduced in wool with more weight or appearance for the money—20c. a yard, not 25c. remember. Cast your eye up the shelves; you can count about 18 colors, some of them exactly the c lor your little daughter has asked you to buy the next time you are in town.

This little lot of Costume Tweeds in right patterns, which embrace all the best colors, will make up well in tailor-made suits, bound or trimmed with braid. The price is 22 cents.

If you have a dress you want to make over, this broken check cloth at 25c., is wanted. Did you ever see a prettier plaid for the money? Look along the table; you will see a full range of Amazon Cloths, at 50c., 60c., 75c., and 90c. a yard. The higher the price, the finer the goods—all equally good value.

Now we come to the Novelties in this line that has the appearance of a plain satin, with a large brocade thrown on it. It is made in Germany. Doesn't it open out prettily? It will certainly be one of the favourites. The colors are new and striking. This is another line of German Jackard Cloths. As you have not seen them, you will want me to describe them. They have the greatest likeness to an onion bed in early spring, covered with brushwood; nevertheless they are making up beautifully in dresses and wraps.

Lustres are slowly coming in again. They will shortly be the leading cloth, so our manufacturers prophesy. We show fine goods in Black.

Our space is nearly full, and the story of our Dress Goods is not half told. We have not mentioned Black Goods of which we have an immense variety. Buttons, trimmings, and braids, we are showing to match every style of material

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves."
G. H. BEERS, Orbisonia, Pa.

"I am in my 64th year. Have been afflicted in several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite, no courage, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and felt relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man."
S. C. KINKAID, D. D., Gonzales, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Strengthens and builds up the old, and cures their infirmities. Rheumatism, indigestion and nervousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 69 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system."
H. MYLIUS, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

The Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1889.

In protected France, Mr. Delaney, a stonemason and a member of the American workingmen deputation to the Paris Exhibition, says masons work eleven hours a day and seven days a week and only make as much wages as masons in free trade England, who only work nine hours a day for six days a week. Score one for free trade.

A STEER weighing 1,200 pounds is worth $18 or $20 in Chicago before he is killed. After he is killed he is sold—beef, hide, hoofs, tallow, etc.—for $32. The farmer gets half as much for his steer as he did eight or ten years ago. These facts lead the Philadelphia Record to opine that a lot of highwaymen stand between the farmer and the consumer.

MR. MILLIGAN, the car builder who accompanies the United States workingmen in their present European tour, says the railroads in Great Britain are the finest in the world and the trains make the best schedule time. And yet we find bilious croakers urging that under Free Trade England is sinking into decay. But all the facts point to an opposite conclusion. Great Britain is the centre of civilization and progress, and every year the reach of her influence is widening, the spread and influence of christianity and British civilization marching onward side by side. When Christianity begins to decay then will Britain's decay begin.

THE Ontario Minister of Agriculture made quite an impression on the folks up in New Ontario. The Port Arthur Herald predicts that he is going to be a great favorite with the people of Algoma. It says: "By the death of Hon. T. B. Pardee we lost one of our best friends, but the Hon. Charles Drury is acting in such a way as to win our sincere regards. A practical farmer himself, he has no pride or nonsense about him, and his visit to Algoma in his first year of office, his promise to come again next year, and his great liking for, and faith in our future, are bound to make the name of Drury a household word in Algoma. One of his first acts was to give $200 to assist in placing the exhibit of West Algoma resources before the people of Ontario at Toronto's great exhibition."

Warsaw.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On the 11th inst., a Methodist Sabbath School Tea Meeting was held at Bethel church on the Warsaw Circuit, followed by a Social the next evening, the net proceeds of which were $75 00. It was one of the most successful Sabbath School entertainments ever held in this part of the country. The programme was made up entirely by the children of the school. The recitations and dialogues were of good selection and rendered in an excellent manner. The singing was admirable, and the pieces sung were of first-class quality. We condemn anything of a trashy nature being given in our churches. We want the intellectual part to benefit both the moral and the spiritual, for only such service is becoming in the church of God. Great praise is due to Mr. Jacob White, who is Superintendent, and his able staff of teachers, for the large measure of prosperity attending the work. Quite a number of elderly people in this section, take a deep interest in Sabbath school work, as is evinced by their presence from Sabbath to Sabbath, which is a commendable feature. The Sabbath School is in a flourishing state. We have four Sabbath Schools on this Circuit, all doing a good work. There is a large sphere for Christian endeavor in this department of the church.

Grand Master Bell.

The Dominion Oddfellow pays the following tribute to Grand Master Bell:—The Grand Master, Bro. R. W. Bell, had a grand reception in his own lodge, Otonabee, No. 13, on Monday evening last. The brethren turned out in full force, with many visitors, to give their worthy Grand Master a hearty reception and to congratulate him upon his elevation to the highest gift within the franchise of his brethren. His lodge presented him with an elegantly illuminated address, and accompanied their kind words with a fine, gold-headed, ebony walking stick. Woe betide the rash man who dares now to attack our Grand Master in his peregrinations round town. He will find that a solid walking stick is useful for more purposes than merely an assistance in walking. We extend our hearty congratulations to Bro. Bell. May he live to serve his lodge and the Order for very many happy years to come—as long in fact that the elegant cane, which now may be an ornament, shall become aid to his locomotion.

The use of cascarets for derangements of the liver has ruined many a fine constitution. Those who, for similar troubles, have tried Ayer's Pills, testify to their efficacy in thoroughly remedying the malady, without injury to the system.

A REMEDY that is of such benifit in cases of indigestion, Neuralgia, loss of appetite, Dyspepsia, as Dyers Quinine and Iron Wine, is worth gold. It is easily taken by the weakest invalid. W. A. DYER & Co. Montreal. 8d50

Advice No. 1.

IF you have money for which you have no immediate use, invest it at once in Real Estate, but do not do it blindly. If invested wisely it will make money faster than you can.

During the past five years I have supplied investments from which purchasers have realised profits of tens, hundreds and thousands of dollars, and I do not know a single instance where loss has been sustained.

With this record, I feel justified in soliciting a call from any person wanting a home or an investment, for any amount of money from ten dollars to ten thousand.

I have several bargains to offer just now.

INVENTED PANORAMAS.

IT IS SAID THAT A SCOTCHMAN FIRST PAINTED THEM.

Robert Barker and His Career—How the Idea First Occurred to Him—Edinburgh Painted as a Beginner—A Rival Claimant—The Panorama of Joan of Arc.

Robert Barker is generally credited with being the first painter of panoramas as we know them today. He was born in Edinburgh, where he lived for sixty years during the last century. Originally he made his living by painting portraits, and it is said of him that the first notion of a picture that would take in the entire scene visible from a certain point on every side occurred to him when he was sitting on the top of Carlton hill in Scotland's capital. He went home and began painting on a cylindrical surface a picture of the town as it appears to anybody viewing it from that famous eminence, which would include Arthur's seat, the Castle Rock and the distant Firth of Forth.

SIR JOSHUA CONVINCED.

His first picture was on paper pasted on to linen. He came to London with it, and invoked the patronage of Sir Joshua Reynolds, who declared the plan of such a picture so impracticable that he would willingly, he said, get out of his bed at night time to inspect the work of art if it could be produced. When Barker did actually surmount all difficulties and opened his panoramic exhibition in Castle street, Leicester square, skeptical Sir Joshua was as good, or almost as good, as his promise. He sallied forth one morning in his slippers from his breakfast table to see the marvel, and, having received ocular demonstration that a panorama was a possibility, generously congratulated the artist on his success.

The first picture was painted in a circle, the diameter of which was twenty-five feet, but afterwards Barker became more ambitious. He had succeeded with Edinburgh, why should he not try London? This he at once set to work doing, and he produced a picture taken from an elevated position in the old Albion mills, near Blackfriars' bridge. By dint of "pegging away," and with the assistance of one or two kindly and wealthy patrons, such as Lord Elcho, Barker had contrived to snatch pecuniary success out of the jaws of apparent failure, and five years after he arrived in London, in 1793, he took the lease of a piece of ground in Cranhourn street and erected thereon a large building simply and solely for the purpose of exhibiting his panoramas there. A joint-stock company helped him to find funds for this building, where he had three rooms, in the largest of which the diameter of the picture was ninety feet, and the chief opening attraction was a representation of a review of the fleet at Spithead. This succeeded so well that the inventive Barker bought up the shares in his own company and became sole proprietor.

From this time onward the Leicesters square panorama was one of the lions of London, and its inventor having made a thoroughly good thing out of it, and having pleased and improved the minds of countless spectators, died in the year 1806, leaving his profitable occupation to his son, Henry Aston Barker, "who kept on the business still, resigned," or not as the case might be, "unto the heavenly will." At all events Barker the younger was a conscientious panoramist, for he journeyed all over Europe in his search for "subjects." He "panoramed" Malta and Elba, and in the course of his visit to the latter place interviewed the great Napoleon. He illustrated Nelson's most famous sea fights, and he went to Constantinople and Waterloo to make drawings of each.

THE BIG PICTURE IN PARIS.

From Waterloo he journeyed on to Paris, which the allied troops were then occupying, in order to obtain perfectly correct accounts of the dispositions of the forces from the actual leaders in the fight. As no inventor is ever allowed to be the first in the field, it may be well in the interests of historical accuracy, to say that Robert Barker's fame is troubled by a rival discoverer of panoramas, one Professor Breisig, of Danzig; but it is acknowledged that Barker was the first actually to paint and exhibit a panoramic picture on a large scale.

The latest development of the panoramic art is to be seen, along with other wonders, at Paris. Patriotism has inspired some enterprising Gaul with the very happy thought of seizing the opportunity for interesting his countrymen and women and the whole world in the story of Joan of Arc. He has accordingly had painted and is exhibiting a colossal and beautiful panorama of the life of the Maid of Orleans in several scenes. Realism is, of course, to the fore, and during the battle scenes before Orleans the peal of trumpets is heard, while the painting of the groups of figures in the coronation scene at Rheims and in other episodes is said to be marvelously life-like. This panorama, if it does nothing else, affords an agreeable way of learning the chief facts in the life of a great historical character.

Many people will wish that they could learn all their history in the same easy fashion. To have well painted tableaux pass in succession before one, each depicting a famous scene in a great drama of actual life, is not a contemptible aid to education. If there is any lecturing to be done the lecturer's remarks are listened to with far more patience when the eye has all the time before it the actual scene of which mention is being made. Even a humorist like Artemus Ward found that his comic addresses "went" much better when aided by a panorama, in which a comic moon that tried to rise and got stuck half way up the sky added to the total effect.—London Telegraph.

"What is Home Without a Housekeeper" is the degraded view taken from a gruff old bachelor, of the holy office of wife and mother. And yet how many mothers and wives there are who are simply "housekeepers" household drudges, whose life is worked out while disease is let in, during the ceaseless round of washing and scrubbing and dusting and baking and cooking. The same clothes and floors and furniture and dishes are gone over and over until the heart is sick and the body is broken with worry and disease. Amid this toil nervousness begins, bad digestion, irregularities of the reproductive organs, prolapsus or other displacements, popularly known as "female weakness," sick headache and a host of female complaints follow on. For all such take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only remedy sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction or money will be refunded. s

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully compat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6d w37

A Good Regulator.

DISORDERED kidneys give rise to rheumatism, dropsy, pain in the back and loins, etc., besides many dangerous complaints affecting the kidneys themselves, as Bright's disease, anæmia, etc. Regulate the kidneys with Burdock Blood Bitters, the best diuretic and kidney remedy ever devised 2w37d

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

It Don't Matter.

HOWEVER old, obstinate or chronic your case may be Burdock Blood Bitters has cured so many seemingly incurable cases that it is well worth a trial in yours. Cases of dyspepsia, scorfula, liver complaint, etc., of twenty five years' standing have been cured by B. B. B. 2w37d

TO THE DEAF.—A person cured of deafness and noises in the head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy, will send a description of it FREE to any person who applies to NICHOLSON, 30 St. John street, Montreal.

For Toilet Use.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. —Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

PERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver.

I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly move my bowels, and free my head from pain.—William L. Page, Richmond Va.

Sporting Notes.

The Association baseball team did not go to Port Hope Monday, a telegram message stating that the game could not be played on account of the rain.

A lacrosse match took place on Riverside Park yesterday afternoon between the Ashburnhams and Stanleys'. The match was for the junior championship of the town. The Ashburnhams won easily on a score of three games to none.

St. Paul's Christian Endeavour Society.

A regular meeting of St. Paul's Christian Endeavor Society, was held on Monday evening. There was a good attendance of members. In the absence of the president, Mr. Alfred Johnston, occupied the chair and conducted the meeting. A pleasant feature of the meeting was the visit of Miss Smart of Port Hope, a member of the Christian Endeavor Society of that town. She stopped in town on her way to Norwood and during her stay was the guest of Mr. Walter Paterson. She gave an interesting address upon the general subject of the work of the society. Her presence added much interest to the meeting. She left on the mid-day [illegible]

Union Officers.

The annual meeting of the W.C.T.U., for the election of officers for the ensuing year, was held Monday afternoon, and the following appointments were made:—President, Mrs Paton; Vice-Presidents, Mesdames Rutherford, Stratton, Martin, Alexander and Wand. Recording-Secretary, Mrs. Price; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Macdonald; Treas., Mrs. Lousley. Mrs. Paton and Mrs. P. H. Green were appointed delegates to the Annual Convention to be held in Galt in October.

Civic Holiday.

Civic holiday was pretty generally observed in town, nearly all the stores being closed and a large percentage of the population leaving town to spend the day elsewhere. The labor picnic drew a large crowd, but perhaps the bulk of the pleasure-seekers visited Toronto and the great exhibition. A few fishing parties hied themselves to Young's Point, where they enjoyed splendid sport. A few townspeople spent the day at Stony Lake. The inclement weather interfered greatly with the holiday amusements.

County Police Court.

Police Magistrate Edmison held court at Lakefield Monday, when Wm. Northey, of Smith, was fined $50 for selling liquor without a license.

At Ashburnham this forenoon John Swanson was charged with house-breaking. It would appear from the statement of the plaintiff, Mr. John O'Connor, of the Albion Hotel, that Swanson and one Edward Greer, on Wednesday, Sept. 4th, broke into the room where the liquors were stored and drank and wasted a considerable quantity. Swanson was allowed out on bail, but Greer has not yet been apprehended.

He Carried a Razor.

Monday afternoon Samuel Duval was arrested for being drunk and disorderly. He was not searched when placed in the cells, and but for for a fortunate (or unfortunate) circumstance might now have been at liberty instead of languishing behind the bars. About eight o'clock in the evening a friend of the young man called at the police station and asked to have Duval let out on bail. This was refused him, and he replied, "Well he won't be alive in the morning if he has to stay in there all night." The Chief questioned him, and learned that Duval had a razor in his pocket. He went into the cell to search the prisoner, and on opening the door found that Duval had not one razor but three of them and a jack-knife besides, and that he had been utilizing the time since his arrest by hacking at the lock on the door until he had nearly accomplished his purpose. The woodwork was cut almost to the lock, and in a time short Duval would have been able to let himself out. The weapons were taken from him and the prisoner moved to another cell. At the police court this morning Duval was fined $10, and having no money was committed to jail for 20 days. His fine may be paid in the meantime and he released.

She! She!

The Los Angeles Herald says: H. R. Haggard's novel of "She," in a well constructed dramatic form was seen for the first time last evening, presented by the Webster-Brady Company, who have installed themselves as great favorites here, to judge from the large and appreciated audience presented last night. The dramatization is the work of Mr. W. A. Brady, and it reflects a great deal of credit on that young gentleman. The scenery, which was very elaborate and handsomely painted, was the greatest surprise to the audience, and each scene was greeted with loud and hearty applause. The "Ruins of Kor," "The African Sunset" and "The Hot Pot Cave" surpassed anything ever seen in the scene painting in San Diego. Of the acting, nothing but praise can be given. A great deal of interest was shown in the impersonation of "She," Miss Marie Rene surprised everybody by her splendid performance of that very difficult part. Her musical voice, graceful carriage and handsome appearance fits the part exactly. Miss Corlette as Ustane, looked a picture. Mr. Webber as Horace Holly presented a realistic make-up and made the most of a thankless part. The above play will be produced in Bradburn's Opera House on Friday evening, Sept. 20th. Plan now open at Doucet's. 1d

Accidentally Shot.

Bert Howden Receives a Bullet in His Brain from an Old Revolver.

Sandy Point is rapidly earning notoriety as a place of tragic events. A number of fatal accidents have already occurred there, and on Sunday another casualty, which may yet prove deadly to the victim, was added to the awful list. A half dozen boys were shooting at a target with a pistol, and one of them had another old weapon which was almost useless, but could be fired by striking the hammer. About three o'clock this disabled revolver came into play. Willie Guilbault and another lad had a friendly struggle for possession of the weapon, each claiming it was his turn to shoot. Bert Howden, an eleven year old son of Mr. Thomas Howden, butcher, was sitting on the ground only a couple of feet away. Guilbault secured the revolver and then the accident happened, he does not know how. He was trifling with the hammer when the weapon exploded and the bullet crashed into young Howden's brain, entering the head just over the left eye. The boy was fortunately not killed outright and may yet recover. Dr. Yelland was at once summoned and endeavored to extract the ball, but as yet in vain. The young sufferer is receiving the best surgical attendance, but it is feared cannot recover. The blow is a sad one to Mr. Howden, who has been particularly unfortunate in the way of accidents recently.

Personal.

Rev. E. A. Pearson, B.A., of Cannington, is in town this week.

—E. Lang, a pupil of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, has been given a Third-Class Certificate, on appeal.

The Rev. M. L. Pearson leaves for Napanee to morrow morning to conduct the burial services of the Rev. A. C. Chambers, of Ashton, Quebec. The deceased clergyman passed away quietly after a long illness at the residence of his brother the Rev. A. B. Chambers, L.L.B., of Napanee.

The new Arlington situated on the corner of King and John streets, Toronto, which has just been opened, has already taken a prominent position among the leading hotels of Western Canada. Its management and appointments are thoroughly up to the requirement of the times, and visitors to the Queen City will find its hospitable quarters most pleasant, attractive and comfortable.

It is astonishing how rapidly the feeble and debilitated gain strength and vigor when taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For what are called "broken-down constitutions," nothing else has proved so effective as this powerful but perfecting safe medicine.

The Labor Union's Pic-nic.

A Successful and Pleasant Day at Campbellford—Rain Interferes but Does not Spoil the Sport.

Following their annual custom, inaugurated last year, the labor unions of the town celebrated Labor Day by a grand pic-nic at Campbellford on Monday. By request of the workingmen the day was proclaimed as civic holiday and business was pretty generally suspended. Unfortunately a severe change came over the uniformly fine weather of last week, and during Sunday night rain began to fall and the atmosphere cooled rapidly. Monday morning the outlook was was anything but cheerful, and no doubt the gloomy weather had a depressing effect upon the excursion. However, a large crowd of the workingmen and their families and friends boarded the train at half past eight, and in spite of the weather enjoyed a pleasant pic nic. Headquarters were established at the agricultural grounds, where there was ample shelter from the showers. At noon the day brightened somewhat, and no more rain fell to mar the pleasures of the picnic. Some of the excursionists had their baskets with them and spread a table in the agricultural hall. Others patronized the hotels, and with the large influx of visitors it was altogether quite a busy day in Campbellford.

The scene at the grounds in the afternoon was a lively one. In the middle of the spacious park a cricket match was in progress, while the programme of sports was carried out one side of the grand stand. The air was decidedly cool, but great interest was manifested with the performances of the contesting athletics. The sports were carried out under the supervision of the committee. Valuable prizes were offered for the different events, principally the donations of merchants of the town. Following are the results of the sports.

THE SPORTS.

Half mile race, open—Five entries, A. Moore, H. Saunders, G. Dredge, G. Ringer, T. Cronin. 1st A. Moore; 2nd T. Cronin.

100 yards race, open to Carpenters' Union—1st R. McGregor; 1nd John Hickey.

100 yards race, open to Bricklayers' Union—Three entries, 1st, R. Sheehy, 2nd, H. McDonald; W. McNamara.

100 yards race, open to Knights of Labor—Four entries, 1st G. Dredge, 2nd D. Jones; J. Gibson, J. Flaherty.

Girls race, 100 yards—1st Katie Cronin, 2nd Martha Jones.

Hod carrier's race, 100 yardf—1st, G. Dredge, 2nd D. Jones.

Boy's race, 100 yards—Eight entries, 1st, Jerry Flaherty, 2nd John Gibson; M. Faelin, W. Menzies, J. Senior, F. Conway, W. Nancarl, Tom Malone.

Three legged race, union—1st, Sheehy and 2nd, W. and P. J. McNamara; McGregor and Hickey.

Hop, step and jump union—Six inches, 1st R. Sheehy, 2nd W. McNamara, R. McGregor, W. Saunders, G. Dredge and H. McDonald.

Running long jump, open—Seven entries, 1st A. Moore, 2nd R. Sheehy; T. Cronin, H. McDonald, R. McGregor, E. Daly and W. McNamara.

Fat men's and old mens, (over 50 yds.) race—1st W. Buntin, 2nd John Cronin; John Burns.

Throwing shoulder stone—Seven entries, 1st A. Moore, 2 d W. Buntin; R. Sheehy, J. Burns, E. Daly, T. J. Barrie and Jas. Drake.

Irish jig, single—1st John Cronin, 2nd Jas. Hayes.

The sports were all well contested and proved interesting.

A SUCCESSFUL DAY.

The excursion was under the auspices of the Bricklayers and Carpenter's Union's and Knight's of Labor, and the joint committee in charge of the arrangements deserve credit for the success which resulted from their efforts. Mr. Geo. Rose was chairman of the committee, Mr. R. McGregor, secretary and W. Huffman treasurer. The other members were John Hickey, W. J. Millar, John Gibson, John Kelly, Geo. Lickies and P. McNamara, jr.

It was expected that Belleville labor unions would also be on hand to co-operate with the Peterborough workingmen, but no doubt owing to the unpleasant weather very few if any of them came up from the Bay City. However, the pic nic was a success in spite of the discouraging circumstances, and once more has Labor Day been appropriately celebrated by the workingmen of Peterborough.

The Peterborough Central.

The Date of the Great Exhibition Approaching—Programme of Events at the Fair—Special Attractions Provided.

A meeting of the Directors of the Central Exhibition was held Saturday afternoon for the purpose of completing arrangements for the fair next week. As the date approaches the directors are becoming very busy, and the Secretary is obliged to "hustle" in order to fulfil his many duties. The exhibition promises to be unusually meritorious this year. The entries are more numerous than ever, and fine special attractions have been provided. The directors aim to amuse as well as instruct the public. In the exhibition buildings and on the grounds all the departments will be well filled and some rare exhibits are exhibited. The Manitoba display of farm products and minerals will be particularly interesting.

The sports this year will be exceptionally attractive. There are more horse races than before, no less than eight events being down on the programme, for which about $700 are offered in prizes. The baseball tournament and baby show will also prove drawing cards. The prize list contains full information about these different features.

Special rates have been procured on all the railway and steamboat lines leading into Peterborough.

All entries must be made by 21st September. The secretary can be found at W. J. Green's clothing store, Hunter street, at almost any time. Miss Collins takes ladies' entries on Wednesday's and Saturday's.

Information regarding the exhibition may be had from any of the directors or the secretary, Mr. Wm. Collins. Mr. Jos. Tully is general superintendent of the exhibition and Miss Caldwell lady superintendent. Each of the departments is handled by a capable committee of management.

Following is the official programme:—

TUESDAY, 24th SEPTEMBER.—All entries in classes 24 to 39, inclusive, to be delivered on the ground by 1 p. m., in order that the judges may complete their work in these departments this day.

WEDNESDAY, 25th SEPTEMBER.—The gates will open for the reception or visitors at 9 a. m., and continue open until 6 p.m.

All exhibits in classes 1 to 23 inclusive, must positively be on the ground by 10 a.m. of this day, and remain there until the close of the Exhibition, except in the case of animals, which may be removed from the grounds between 6 p.m., and 8 a.m., upon the exhibitor thereof depositing with the Secretary, the sum of $5 for each animal removed, which sum of $5 will be returned to the exhibitor if he returns the animal for which it was deposited by 8 o'clock on the following morning, otherwise the said deposit shall be forfeited, and become the property of the Society.

Some of the events mentioned in the Special Class, speeding in the ring, will take place on this day, commencing at 2 o'clock p.m. sharp, unless otherwise ordered. These events are likely to be the most attractive and interesting of these offered on the programme during the Exhibition.

Arrangements are in progress for other attractions during the afternoon of this day and each afternoon of each Exhibition.

The 57th Battalion Band will be on the grounds each day of the Exhibition.

THURSDAY, 26th SEPTEMBER, school children's day—The gates will open for the admission of visitors at 9 a.m., and remain open until 6 p.m.

Speeding in the ring continued. Grand base ball tournament for two splendid silver cups, commencing at 10 a.m. If more than four clubs compete, another cup will be offered. Also, a number of other attractions will be secured.

Several of the best prizes in the special class will be competed for on this day, commencing at 1 o'clock p.m. sharp. School children under 14 years will be admitted for 10 cents on this day, when some good sport may be expected.

Friday, 27th September, a grand parade of all the prize animals will take place at 1.30 o'clock sharp on this day. Some of the best events will come off in the horse ring. Also, the baseball tournament to be completed.

Admission fees. Members will be admitted once on presenting their membership ticket; others will be charged 25 cents each time of entering.

A charge of 10 cents will be made for admission to the grand stand, which will be cleared of its then occupants at 1 p. m. each day.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Ladies Auxiliary met Saturday and further arranged for the promenade concert in Charlotte street rink, on Thursday, 26th Sept. Sergt. Randle has kindly consented to have a class of his pupils, who will give an exhibition of club swinging and calisthenics. Special music is being provided and every effort will be made by the ladies to make it the event of the season.

Mr. W. H. Stevens, former Secretary, gave a practical Bible reading at our young men's meeting Saturday evening. It was greatly enjoyed by all present.

A mass meeting, for men only, was held in the George street Methodist church School Hall, on Sunday afternoon, which was largely attended, and much interest was manifested in the stirring and touching address of Mrs. Bradley, which carried conviction to all hearers, and made a profound impression. Fifty-five pledges were taken for the White Cross, and we purpose making this movement one of the features of our work among young men. Mr. G. M. Roger occupied the chair. Rev. Messrs. Pearson and Parker were on the platform. Owing to this meeting no regular gospel and song service was held, but Mr. Smith, of Truro, N.S., a very prominent Y. M.C.A worker in the Maritime provinces, and Mr. Brooks, Montreal, an old member of our Association, held a short meeting on Sabbath evening. We have during the past week had very pleasant and profitable visits from different Association workers in United States and Canada. It is so helpful to see the interest taken in the work for young men. We have the promise from an old friend of our Association, that he will bear a tenth of the cost of a building for a home for our young men. We do thank God for this, and now who will give us a site for the home?

Campbellford vs. Peterborough.

Peterborough scored its tenth win yesterday by defeating the Campbellford club on their own ground. Owing to the rough shape of the ground the scores were very small and some of the players received hard knocks, Attewell, Salisbary and Montgomery being particularly unfortunate in that respect.

Public Talk.

How is it parties are heard saying every day they would not think of buying Groceries outside of W. J. Morrow's? Because they are people of common sense. Many who have tried every house in town could not now be enticed by any sort of cheap baits to leave there, as by honest dealings W. J. Morrow has proved himself Peterborough's only reliable cheap Grocer. For a few weeks he will sell his best Matches, 4 large boxes—full count, for 25 cents, 5 lbs. Starch, 25c. All other goods in proportion.

DROP in sugars at M. R. KIDD's.

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.

Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tafw

We Go One Better.

Other grocers are greatly excited about the prices of some of their goods. But Geo. Carton keeps quite cool, and goes one better every time. See the crashing value he is offering:—8½ lbs. Rice, for 25c. 8 bars of Electric Soap, for 25c. 8 lbs. of Tea, for $1. Push right through to Geo. Carton's red tea store, where you can carry away more goods for a $2 bill than you can get for $3 in other stores. Corner George and Charlotte streets. dw

Tomatoes 40c. Per Bushel at Ostrom's.

A False and True Charge.

The charge is made that Hawley Bros give no change in their business transactions. This is both true and false. As applied to money it is false, as applied to their choice and ever excellent teas, it is true. There is no change given in their [illegible] in the matter of first class quality. They are always first class and always cheap as must be the case when bought direct and in large quantities. These superb teas thus cost less and the customer gets sip top teas at low prices. It is the same with their pure coffees and fine glass ware. Hawley Bros., George street Peterborough.

The Business College.

Business men are constantly applying to us for competent young men and women. At present we have three good positions which we have not students to fill. Young men and women requiring a business training should bear this in mind when they purpose attending any institution. Go to the place where business and professional men will look for their assistants. The value of a practical education cannot be estimated. Give your sons and daughters a good business education and go where they will their services will be in demand. Do not be afraid but situations will be open for them as soon as they are prepared. The Peterborough Business College has every facility for giving a first class business training. Our Short hand and type-writing department was never so complete before. The fall term has just opened. A commercial training costs less and places its possessor in a better position than any other. Nearly every failure in business is caused by a want of knowledge of business principles. Come where you learn a systematic method of doing business transactions. Write or apply personally to the principals of the Peterborough Business College for full particulars.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

THE GREAT NORTHWEST CENTRAL RAILWAY'S PROGRESS.

Crude Oil in Paying Quantities Struck at Ottawa—Boys Arrested for Attempted Train Wrecking.

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—The agent of the Regina Ranch Company left last evening for Adolphustos, B.C., with a gang of 65 men from Ottawa besides a large gang from Montreal, for work on the Canadian Pacific Railroad at Donald, making square timber and ties. The general run of the men will derive $26 a month and their board, whilst axe men will receive wages at the ruling prices in British Columbia. A large gang of bricklayers leave for the same place at the end of the month, they will receive $5 a day wages.

Messrs. C. R. Stevens and J. Gregson, well-known London, Eng., capitalists connected with the recently re organized Great Northwest Central Railway Company syndicate, arrived in the city yesterday and paid in cash into the company $972,000. Steel rails for the first 50 miles of the road are now being unloaded at Montreal and it is expected the first 50 miles will be ready for traffic this fall. Mr. J. Travers Lewis visited England recently and got upwards of $10,000,000 of English capital subscribed.

Hard coal is said to have been found on a farm near St. Thomas and steps are being taken to work the supposed seam. Geologists say that it is impossible to get coal in Ontario as the necessary formation of rock is not here.

The directors of the natural gas company which is boring here claim to have struck crude oil in paying quantities. A couple of months ago a small vein of oil was struck but not being considered of importance was cased off and passed. It is also stated that sulphur water and saline water were passed over in like manner. It is understood that even if the present find proves up to expectations it will be cased off and the drill continued down a 1000 feet or more on the hope of finding gas. If no gas is found the company will fall back on the oil.

Lord Stanley Goes West.

OTTAWA, Sept. 18. His Excellency the Governor-General, Lady Stanley and suite started on their western journey by special train at 11 a.m. yesterday. It is the intention of the party to travel only by day, so that they may have an opportunity of viewing the scenery along the road. Mr. Kimber, M.P., London, Eng., who arrived here late Monday evening, left along with the party.

Shoupe May Recover.

HAGERSVILLE, Sept. 18.—No new developments are reported in the Shoupe case. The victim continues the same with the chances slightly in his favor. The doctors are hopeful of his ultimate recovery. The two men, William Vaughn and John Moore, will be kept in custody until Friday noon, when they appear for trial. Joseph Gibson, who was also arrested, is out on ball, and will appear as a witness.

Jack the Ripper in the Sault.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 18.—Isaac Scott brought word to town that mutilated portions of a human body were found by two of the Wawmosh Home girls about 1¼ miles east of the Northern road, along the C.P.R. line. Mr. Scott says that a leg was found, in the bush and the intestines in a hollow stump. A party has gone down to make an investigation.

The Ancient Capital.

QUEBEC, Sept. 18.—Two little boys, named Joseph and Louis Gagnon, of St. Roch des Aulnais have been arrested charged with placing an obstruction on the Intercolonial Railway track between that place and St. Anne.

Mr. Sheyn, Treasurer of the Province, and Mr. Garneau, Commissioner of Public Works, leave on Sept. 28 to spend a couple of months in Europe. In their absence Mr. Mercier will fill Mr. Sheyn's position and Mr. D. A. Ross will act as Commissioner of Public Works.

A Farmer's Heavy Loss.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 18.—The barn and other outbuildings on the farm of Alva Spenser, 2d con. Huntingdon, were burned on Sunday morning. Loss heavy, insured for $424 on buildings and $400 on contents in the Norwich Union.

Eleven factories boarded 980 boxes at the cheese market yesterday, sales 50 boxes at 9 3-4 cents.

Asking for a Divorce.

FREDERICTON, N.B., Sept. 18.—J. Edmund Collins of Newfoundland taught school at Fredericton about 12 years ago, afterwards published a little paper there and subsequently went to Chatham, thence to Toronto and finally brought up in New York, where for several years he engaged, with varying success, in literary pursuits. While in Fredericton he married Miss Murphy, daughter of the late Dr. Murphy, and the couple have one child. For several years the domestic horizon has been clouded and a few months ago Mrs. Collins felt compelled to leave her husband because of the treatment she received. Now she is applying for a divorce on the statutory grounds in New York.

Fire in Goderich.

GODERICH, Sept. 18.—About 5 o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in Kidd's salt block, near the Grand Trunk depot, and before the fire company were in position to play upon it the block was entirely consumed. The block was one of the largest in Canada and the loss will be heavy. The insurance was $3000 in the Western. The cause of the fire is at present unknown, but there is every reason to believe that it was the work of an incendiary.

Shadowing the President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Since Corporal Tanner was bounced from the Pension Office several ugly anonymous letters have been found in the President's mail. The friends of Mr. Harrison have thought best to guard against a repetition of the Guiteau episode and detectives now accompany the President whenever he appears in public.

Lord Stanley's Movements.

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—Lord Stanley arrived here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by special C.P.R. train and afterwards proceeded to Rideau Hall, where he and his family had dinner at Capt. Colville's cottage. His Excellency and suite will leave to-day by special train for the west and Pacific Coast.

Swindled by Her Pastor.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 18.—Some days ago the Ypsilanti Savings Bank began suit against Rev. Dr. Earp, late rector of St. Andrew's Church, and Mrs. Henriques, a widow of this city whose name appeared as an endorser on $65,000 worth of notes made by Earp. Now comes Mrs. Henriques with a bill in chancery against the bank asking that it be enjoined from collecting from her or disposing of the notes. She says Earp came to her in the capacity of her pastor and got her to sign something which he said had reference to a little affair at Ypsilanti. She says she supposed it was some church matter and signed the two papers. Last July she learned they were promissory notes.

A WITNESS BREAKS DOWN

OVERCOME BY THE RECOLLECTION OF A HORRIBLE SCENE.

The Outrage on the Baltic—How Hambly Was Treated—Evidence of Passengers—Prisoners Identified.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 18.—Malcolm McEachren was the first witness examined today with reference to the outrage on the Baltic. He was a passenger on the Baltic on Aug. 26. Hearing that something was going on below he went down and saw a man there surrounded by the crowd. He was naked and all blackened with tar and covered with feathers. He had been down in the forecastle. He came up and walked aft, carrying his satchel as far as the purser's office. He laid down his satchel and stood there awhile. After he jumped overboard somebody cried, "Man overboard!" I ran around to the stern. I could see nothing of him. A man came with a lantern and held it over the water. It would not be a minute from the time he jumped till I was aft. The engine stopped a short time. A life preserver was thrown from the deck by one of the crew. The rope was left fast to it and the end of the rope held fast on the boat. The steamer was moving on.

Hector Lamont of Collingwood, also a passenger on the Baltic, gave similar evidence. At one point in his story witness broke down completely and burst into tears. He said privately afterwards that the recollection of the awful scene and the fact that he knew his evidence was condemning the men overcame him. Witness identified Second Engineer Russell as the man who said: "It was good enough for him, it served him right.

John Baxter, another passenger, corroborated the previous witnesses. He seemed troubled with a very defective memory, and was sharply questioned by the Crown Attorney as to whether he had been counselled to conceal the facts.

Joseph J. Cherry witnessed the entire outrage. He testified that the four prisoners were all there, and some of those who are witnesses. [Charles Backhaus, Walter Jennings and James Peitch were here brought in and identified.] Witness protested against the proceeding. Hambly seemed stupified. Another passenger protested and a fireman said if we didn't shut our damned traps they had more tar and would give us a dose.

The court then adjourned.

IN TERROR OF THE TRAMPS.

Pennsylvania Railroad Men at the Mercy of a Brigandish Army.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 18.—A vast army of tramps, the lines of which extend from Wall's Station to Altoona, is now quartered along the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad. A portion of this vast body is marching towards Pittsburg, other members of the fraternity are going eastward, while many have established permanent camps and only move when foraging the surrounding country for "grub" or any other article which can be conveniently carried. A move is on foot to organize a vigilance committee in each of the counties lying between here and Altoona for the purpose of regulating the great nuisance. George Stevenson, an old-time brakeman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, in speaking on the subject, said: "There is a law to punish these offenders, and it is about time it was enforced. I am not drawing on my imagination when I say that there are at this moment 2000 tramps on the road between here and Gallitzin, and nine-tenths of that number are ready to commit almost any crime. We trainmen have grown to regard a tramp as our deadliest foe, and well may we, as they are ready at any time to injure us. They break into freight cars and our cabooses and steal. I could furnish instances where at least fifty trainmen have been assaulted and beaten by these scoundrels within the past year.

"Those of our number whose families live in isolated houses hear frequently that their wives and children have been insulted and their spring houses and cellars robbed by these fellows. Since the Johnstown flood the number has increased four-fold, and they grow much bolder as they grow stronger."

A Miniature Johnstown.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Sept. 18.—The breast of the large dam belonging to the Kennebec Mill Co. of Wilmington, Del., located at Hibernia, this county, burst yesterday morning and a tremendous amount of water rushed down the Brandywine, overflowing the banks and sweeping everything before it. The large heavy bridge which crossed the Brandywine just below the dam was swept away and several frame buildings were carried on the flood to Coatesville. Many streets of Coatesville were overflowed, several being four feet deep in water. The people living along the stream were warned by the sound of the rushing waters and ran to the high hills which line the stream. So far as heard from no lives were lost, though the damage done is considerable. The water that passed down the stream has made the creek roads impassable. In places the meadows are covered 10 feet deep. The break was caused by Monday night's heavy rain.

JACK THE RIPPER

The Whitechapel Fiend Threatens Another Butchery for Next Week.

LONDON, Sept. 18. — A letter, signed "Jack the Ripper," has been received at a news agency, in which the writer states that in about a week another murder will be added to the list of Whitechapel horrors.

Several newspapers here charge a Scotch peer with having committed an indecent assault upon a little child. Testimony, they say, was given to show that the peer accused was guilty of the crime, but the magistracy were afraid to take immediate action.

LATEST LONDON GOSSIP.

EDMUND YATES DISCOURSES CONCERNING ROYALTY.

Her Majesty's Improved Health—An Innovation in the Family Circle—The Emperor of Morocco's Carriages.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The Queen has been very much better since she came from Balmoral. Her sciatica has for a moment gone and she walks better and with more ease than for some months.

The Prince of Wales is looking much better and stronger since his return from Homburg. He is still lame, but his leg has resumed its normal size, and he can walk fairly well. He was rather lame at Aberdeen on his arrival there the other day, but assured everyone that he felt much better. There will be deer drives during his stay at Mar Lodge, but he will not take much part in them, as absolute rest and quiet are enjoined by the doctors to restore him to his usual fairly good health.

Princess Beatrice has been driving herself a great deal this year at Balmoral in a very smart cart, in which she drives a very high stepping pony. She is a very good whip, and she and Princess Alice, of Hesse, are constantly to be met along Deeside. Sometimes she drives Prince Henry's phaeton, but more usually is met in the cart. All these amusements are a great inovation in the royal circle, for the Queen entertains very strong opinions as to modern ways and fashions for women. The cart driven by Princess Beatrice is one of the best evidence of how much the youthful society which she has around her has modified the Queen's views. There was a story that each new maid of honour was told by the Queen that she wouldn't allow fringes or ulsters to be worn. But everyone now who is of the age to do so, wears an ulster, and the rules about fringes have been relaxed also.

The lord chamberlain and lord steward will in future be obliged to content themselves with £500 a year each, instead of £2000, and some subordinate offices will be abolished and others amalgamated. It is proposed to reduce the number of lords, grooms and equerries-in-waiting, and the expenses of the body-guards will be reduced considerably.

The imperial palace at Strasburg, where the German Emperor and Empress resided during their recent visit to that city, has taken five years to build and has cost £130,000. It is the most imperial palace that has been built by the royal family of Prussia, and the contractors for the various parts of the work have been exclusively Alsatians or natives of South Germany.

Two magnificent carriages of oriental design have just been built in London for the emperor of Morocco. One is a hansom cab of green and gold which is to be drawn by led mules, as there is no driver's seat. The other is a palanquin, which is to be carried by mules instead of human bearers. The interior is sumptuously decorated in green silk, and the seat is so arranged that the emperor can sit cross-legged if he is so disposed. On the right side is a little cupboard which contains a little four-chambered revolver, with gilt barrels and a receptacle for ammunition. On the left side are a sword stick and other weapons, also a letter-box and writing stand. The palanquin is ingeniously made so that springs and wheels can at any time be added.

The Times paid 40 shillings in court as an answer to Sir Morell Mackenzie's action for libel, but the case will be fought out to the bitter end, and is expected to come on for a hearing after the long vacation. Sir Charles Russell and Mr. Asquith will appear for the plaintiff.

Rosa Bonheur, who works as indefatigably as ever, is making some studies of the Indians and the animals of Buffalo Bill's troupe for a large painting she intends to execute.

The Queen has sold the splendid Hereford bull Favorite, who was the first prize-winner at the Windsor show, for exportation to Buenos Ayres. Favorite is of the famous court-house breed.

The roan Shorthorn bull which the Prince of Wales sent from his herd at Sandringham to the Paris exhibition, has been sold for £210, to go to Spain, after having taken the second prize. This was by far the highest price which any of the exhibited animals realized, the next being £150, which was paid for a heifer. Very large purchases of breeding horses have been made in Lincolnshire during the last fortnight for export to the United States and Canada.

BLOODSHED WITHIN TEN YEARS.

Bishop Fowler on the Result of the U.S. Anti-Chinese Laws.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Rev. Charles H. Fowler, D.D., of San Francisco, a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church who has completed a trip around the globe, expressed the belief that ten years hence no one will pay for its anti Chinese laws the blood of her best citizens. He spoke the entire session of the Methodist Conference in speaking about his observation of missionary work abroad, the object of his visit being to personally inspect the work of the missionaries. In speaking of the laws prohibiting the Chinese from coming to America, Bishop Fowler said it was "the most dastardly and disgusting thing America ever did." "And," he said with a slow emphasis, which was very impressive, "It will be paid for some day by the blood of some of America's best men."

He thought every American should blush for shame when he thought of the violation of the treaty with China whereby Chinamen were refused permission to land on our shores. "China is not asleep," he said. "They talk little but they think" In some of the interior I was I met Chinamen who would surprise you by their knowledge. The greatest prince in China said to me one day: "We are looking after our own home interests now, ten years will put China in shape as to her interior arrangements, then we will look after her outside interests."

They are making great guns and ironclads and manning them. In ten years a country with one third of the inhabitants of the globe will be ready to ask what we meant by trifling with her treaty.

Opening of the Dutch Parliament.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 18.—The Dutch Parliament was opened yesterday. The King's speech alluded to the enthusiastic celebration of the jubilee of his reign and said it testified to the bond of friendship between the House of Orange and the people. The speech congratulated Parliament upon the improvements in the trade and manufactures of the country. The finances of the nation, it said, are in a satisfactory condition. It promised a modification of the customs tariff on the basis of ad valorem duties immediately after the conclusion of a treaty with England. The King also announced that bills would be introduced by the Government for the establishment of obligatory military service and for a re-organization of the postal and railway service.

Taken Captive by Pirates.

GIBRALTAR, Sept. 18.—A Spanish vessel plying between Malaga and Tangiers was ransacked by natives off the Riff coast of Morocco a few days ago and the captain, four sailors and one passenger were made prisoners. A Spanish warship is about to leave Cadiz to rescue the prisoners and punish the offenders.

A Chicago Bluebeard Dead.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.— Lorenzo King, who poisoned his step-daughter, Lucy Heidimeyer, in this city, died of consumption in the penitentiary at Joliet yesterday. King was suspected of having poisoned three wives in succession to obtain the insurance money on their lives, but he was not tried on these charges on account of the difficulty in procuring evidence. On the charge of poisoning his stepdaughter, however, he got an 18-year sentence two years ago. All of his victims were insured in benevolent societies.

Northern Pacific's Financial Scheme.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The new financial scheme of the Northern Pacific Railroad provides for a blanket mortgage of $160,000,000 of which branch line bonds will require $26,000,000, tributary roads $13,000,000 and terminal betterments, etc., $35,000,000. AT TURNBULLS
If you come with us we will show you through our new Dress Goods this morning. First we shew you Scotch Costume Cloths in stripes and checks, that look like Tweeds in weight. When you hear the price you wonder, as they are only 10 and 12½c. a yard.
All-Wool French Serges are here again; they appear to have come to stay, and why should they not. There has never been a cloth introduced in wool with more weight or appearance for the money—50c. a yard, not 25c. remember. Cast your eye up the shelves; you can count about 18 colors, some of them exactly the color your little daughter has asked you to buy the next time you are in town.
This little lot of Costume Tweeds in eight patterns, which embraces all the best colors, will make up well in tailor-made suits, bound or trimmed with braid. The price is 22 cents.
If you have a dress you want to make over, this broken check cloth at 25c., is wanted. Did you ever see a prettier plaid for the money? Look along the table; you will see a full range of Amazon Cloths, at 50c., 60c., 75c., and 90c. a yard. The higher the price, the finer the goods—all equally good value.
Now we come to the Novelties in this line that has the appearance of a plain satin, with a large brocade thrown on it. It is made in Germany. Doesn't it open out prettily? It will certainly be one of the favourites. The colors are new and striking. This is another line of Germen Jackard Cloths. As you have not seen them, you will want me to describe them. They have the greatest likeness to an onion bed in early spring, covered with brushwood; nevertheless they are making up beautifully in dresses and wraps.
Lustres are slowly coming in again. They will shortly be the leading cloth, so our manufacturers prophesy. We show fine goods in Black.
Our space is nearly full, and the story of our Dress Goods is not half told. We have not mentioned Black Goods of which we have an immense variety. Buttons, trimmings, and braids, we are showing to match every style of material.

WARM
AT THE City Clothing Store
It is bound to come. The warm weather we mean. In fact it is going to be hot, and it makes us think of summer outing—vacation and seasonable sports. These in turn, suggest preparation and imply proper outfits—such as SUMMER SUITS, UNDERWEAR, and FURNISHINGS. 'Tis of these we would speak particularly to-day, because this season we have provided for our patrons a Greater Variety of WARM WEATHER WEAR than ever before, and at Prices no other dealer in Peterborough can possibly duplicate. We have all the Novelties.
What Gentlemen Will Wear
We are displaying the Finest lines of exclusive styles in the following:
Plain and Fancy Colored Suiting
Light-Weight Underwear
White, Fancy and Colored Vests
Collars and Cuffs, Newest Shapes
Ties in all the Summer Shades
Tennis, Boating, Sporting Outfits
We are bound to overcome the effects of the bad weather of the past month, in point of sales, if not in profits. The prices we will quote will convince you of our sincerity and the genuineness of the sacrifice we will make in values

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves."
G. H. BAIRD,
Orbisdale, Pa.

"I am in my 65th year. Have been afflicted in several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite, no courage, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and felt relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man."
S. G. KINKAID, D. D., Gonzalis, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Strengthens and builds up the old, and cures their infirmities. Rheumatism, indigestion and nervousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 69 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system."
H. MYLIUS, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

NEXT Tuesday the annual exhibition of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society begins at the grounds, South Peterborough. It is probable that the Exhibition will, this year, in all respects, be in advance of anything hitherto effected by the efforts of the Society. The weather promises to be settled after the equinoctial disturbance. The directors are active and energetic, and are using every means at their command to make the Exhibition worthy of the large patronage which it is to be hoped will be accorded it. It is too late in the day to feel it necessary to point out the inestimable benefit that agricultural exhibitions have been to the farming industry in every department. Both grain raising and stock raising have been stimulated, and it is to agricultural exhibitions of the past, that the fact is due that such exhibitions at the present day are so well worth attending and are such valuable instructors to the farming community. Rivalry in stock exhibits—rivalry in grain and fruit exhibits, have led to the breeding of improved kinds of stock and the growing of improved samples of grain and fruit; and necessarily these processes have involved the devotion of greater study and closer observation. Better modes of tillage, and close study of the matter of stock raising have resulted, and the consequence is that few if any countries of equal size, can surpass either the grain products or the stock of Canada—the Province of Ontario especially. No farmer, no matter how lengthy or varied his experience, but can learn something by visiting an agricultural exhibition. It is therefore to the interest of the farming community, generally to attend the coming exhibition, which will comprise a splendid collection of the best stock, best grains, best fruits, best produce of all kinds, grown in the district. Many farmers lead too humdrum and monotinous lives. Let farmers of this class break the monotony by visiting the Central Exhibition where instruction and amusement judiciously combined, will make the visit one of profit as well as pleasure.

The Witness Prize Competition.

The winners of the Montreal Witness "Dominion Prize Competition" have just been announced. The competition, concerning which we notice some writers request that it should be made annual, or at least repeated, was a capital device for stimulating patriotism and native literature at the same time. Tales and sketches were asked for from all school children, illustrative of pioneer life in Canada. The Northern Messenger, a small paper published at the same office, was offered as a prize for the best tale in every school in the Dominion. A prize of greater value, Macaulay's history in five volumes, was sent to the writer of the best tale in each county, and a set of Parkman's works was the reward of the best in each province.

Following is the name of the County prize winner for Peterborough County.—Miss Mary Northey, Peterborough.

Those who took school prizes were: Peterborough County.—Miss Mary Northey, Marrin Kennedy, Peterborough; Percy Udy, Bridgeworth; Miss Ella Cameron, Westwood; Fred Spiers, Villiers; Thomas Collins, Hastings.

The best paper for your family or your friend's family is the Montreal Witness, which, while it is abreast with the news, is notable for its unexceptionable family reading and for its adherence to the great principles which it has consistently advocated for a generation. It has been during all that time the uncompromising foe of ecclesiasticism, of the drink traffic, and all forms of oppression, among which it counts protection. It has devoted itself much of late years to the promotion of reciprocity with the United States and has recently been with the contest against Jesuit aggression, on which battle field it is, as might be expected, the foremost and most fearless champion. The question and answer departments of the Witness have grown into an institution in the country, and the paper is well known as an old friend and instructor of the farmer, "Lindenbank" and "Rusticus" being still constant contributors. The children look for their special stories and for the puzzle department. The yearly subscription to the Daily Witness is $3 00 and to the Weekly Witness $1.00, which should be addressed to the publishers, John Dougall & Son.

The Northern Messenger, issued by the same publishers, is still the cheapest illustrated paper published, and is full of the best of family reading as well as reading for the young. The subscription price is only 30 cents a year. 1d-1w

Coverings for Bald Heads.

Prof. Doraswend of Toronto is coming to town. He will be at Phalens Hotel on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24 and 25. He wants all gentlemen who are bald to come and see his toupees and wigs, they are made of real human hair and so well shaped that they take the place perfectly of the departed growth both as to appearance and protection. If you live out of town don't let that stop you, but come in and Professor will pay your fare both ways. There is now no excuse for you to go bald headed. Come and see the Professor. dw

Baptist Church Mission Band Report.

The Mission Band of the Baptist church celebrated their annual meeting by holding a picnic at Mrs. Dixon's grove, known as the quarry. There was a good attendance of the members and friends of the band, including our Pastor and his family. The service was a novel one, held in a pretty shaded spot on the grass. The meeting was opened with a hymn, the President read the Scripture lesson, after which prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Parker. The officers for the ensuing year were appointed, and are as follows:—President, Miss Gilmour; Vice President, Miss E. Stratton; Secretary, Ada W. Aldridge; Treasurer, Algie Duff; also the Vigilant and box-opening committees. Several new members were added to the band, and the prospects look bright for the future. After an intermission for play, the children sat down to a bountiful tea, after which our new President addressed the band and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers. The treasurers' report showed that the total receipts for the year, including the members fees and quarterly box-opening, are $23.97. The following is the secretary's report for the past year:—Another year has passed away and to day we are celebrating our third birthday. Our President has been very faithful in preforming her duties, and we know she has taken interest and pleasure in her work. "Life," said Darrah, "is always interesting when we have a purpose and live in its fulfilment." Miss Nicholls can look over this band to-day, and see a part, at least, of the result of her work. The aggregate attendance for the year was 297, and the average 25. We have a membership of 83; the lowest monthly attendance was 14, and the largest 49. If we had any proper conception of the state of the heathen, the deep darkness by which they are surrounded, our interest would not flicker, and almost go out, as it seems to do sometimes. We have been taught a great deal about foreign missions this year, but the more we hear, the more we feel that we do not understand what it is to be a heathen. Our knowledge of home missions is greatly limited, too, we can hardly believe that the inhabitants of the Muskoka District are so completely shut off from many of the privileges of the Gospel that we enjoy, and also from many of the luxuries in their homes, that we conside. mere necessities. Certainly their privations increase our responsibilities. We have held meetings every month during the year, and they have been interesting, we have usually had a good programme, and the little ones have helped us not a little, in fact we have to say that their songs have been the most attractive feature of our meetings. The mission boxes have been opened once a quarter. We have not had any public meeting during the year, but in January, the Ladies' Mission Circle and our Band held a united meeting. We had the pleasure of listening to an address given by Mademoiselle La Porte, on La Grande Ligne Mission. It is almost needless to say that this address was given in a charming manner, and the speaker had the attention of everyone present. Our pastor, Mr. Parker, paid us a welcome visit in July, and gave us a very practical address. Several new members have been added to our band during the year, we have much to be thankful for, and we hope for better results this year.

"Does the road wind up-hill all the way?
Yes, to the very end.
Will the journey take the whole long day?
From morn to night, my friend.

And if fierce storms beat round me,
And the heavens be overcast,
I know He will give his weary one
Sweet peace at last.

Take courage—faint not, but endure!
Soon shall thou say, "The day is past!"
At eventide the end shall come,
And bring thee quiet rest at last."

ADA W. ALDRIDGE, secretary.

It is astonishing how rapidly the feeble and debilitated gain strength and vigor when taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For what are called "broken-down constitutions," nothing else has proved so effective as this powerful but perfecting safe medicine.

Constant Care.

CONSTANT care is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 2w37d

Rely on This.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for three years, and can always rely upon it as a speedy cure for diarrhœa and all summer complaints. I can recommend it highly and I wish you every success.—MRS. W. FOWLER. 12 Oxford St. Toronto. 2w37d

A Corrupt System.

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

A REMEDY that is of such benifit in cases of indigestion, Neuralgia, loss of appetite, Dyspepsia, as Dyers Quinine and Iron Wine, is worth gold. It is easily taken by the weakest invalid. W. A. DYER & Co Montreal. 6d39

A False and True Charge.

The charge is made that Hawley Bros give no change in their business transactions. This is both true and false. As applied to money it is false, as applied to their choice and ever excellent teas, it is true. There is no change given in their teas in the matter of first class quality. They are always first class and always cheap as must be the case when bought direct and in large quantities. These superb teas thus cost less and the customer gets sip-top teas at low prices. It is the same with their pure coffees and fine glass ware. Hawley Bros., George street Peterborough.

STARTLING EVIDENCE

Of the Cure of Skin Diseases When all Other Methods Fail.

Psoriasis 5 years, Covering Face, Head and Entire Body with white scabs. Skin red, itchy, and Bleeding. Hair all gone. Spent hundreds of Dollars. Pronounced Incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffer d for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use.

25 REASONS

FOR

DRINKING ROYAL DANDELION COFFEE

Some drink because they are hungry,
And some because they're dry,
Some drink to keep them in good health,
And some that they may thrive.

Some drink because they are too hot,
And some because they're too cold,
Some drink to strengthen them when young
And some when they are old.

Some drink to keep them wide awake,
And some that they may sleep,
Some drink because they merry are,
And some because they weep.

Some drink when they do money gain,
And some because of loss;
Some drink when they are pleased,
And some when they are cross.

Some drink when they are hard at work,
And some when they do play;
Some think it right to drink at night,
While others drink by day.

Some drink for sake of company,
While others drink on the sly:
And many drink but never think,
About the reason why.

Some say they drink for pleasure,
And some they drink for pain,
Some say 'tis good, some very bad,
But never once refrain.

Yet all must own the proverb true:
"When iron's hot to strike it"—
I've just found out the reason why—
All drink because they like it!

JOKING IN EARNEST.

Pranks Which Often Proceed from Serious or Malicious Purpose.

The various professions have their own records of practical jokes, which too often proceed from some serious or malicious purpose. One such prank, undertaken with vengeful design, was that of the Belgian painter Wirtz, who, year after year, sent pictures to the Salon, only to have them returned, as the judges, whose duty it was to pass upon the pictures submitted, would have nothing to do with him.

Finally he became possessed of a genuine Rubens, which he sent off to the Salon bearing his own name. It was at once sent back to him, and then, as the phrase goes, he had the judges on the hip, and could taunt them with not knowing the work of a master when they saw it.

Another such practical joke was played upon the late Mme. Rudersdorff by Sir Michael Costa, the conductor. At rehearsal one day the lady declared that she could not sing her song as it was written, but must have it transposed half a note lower.

"But, madam," said Costa, "consider the inconvenience, especially to the wind instruments, and particularly as all my men cannot be counted upon to transpose at sight."

But madame was obdurate, and Costa, shrugging his shoulders, bowed in acquiescence.

"Very well, gentlemen," said he, turning to the bewildered orchestra, and closing his score. "To-morrow you will play it a note lower."

The next day, however, just before Mme. Rudersdorff came on to sing, Costa whispered to the orchestra: "In the original key! No change." And so it was sung.

At the close of the air the singer turned to Costa and thanked him warmly.

"I am charmed!" she said.

"Madame," replied Costa, with a touch of pleasant irony, "we are also charmed. You sang it in the original key."

Had Mme. Rudersdorff's ear been as unerringly correct as that of certain phenomenal musicians the joke could never have been successfully carried out, but the conductor, of course, knew with whom he had to deal.—Youth's Companion.

Disease in Books.

"I sometimes am almost led to believe that the intellectual benefit derived from a public library is outweighed by the physical detriment," were the words that fell from the lips of a distinguished physician a day or two ago, as he rather gingerly handled a greasy looking volume that ornamented the mantel piece of a patient's sick chamber.

"Not only is a bookworm's absorption often injurious to his health, but it is a well authenticated fact that disease may be written between the lines of books, be they fiction, poetry or theology. The average patron of a circulating library is a person not overscrupulous as to the care of a borrowed volume. He will allow filth to accumulate rapidly within and without, and, if a member of the household be stricken with measles, or scarlatina, or even diphtheria or small pox, like as not the book will find its way into the presence of the lapof the invalid, to be transferred thence a little later to the shelves of the library, and then to the hands of some unsuspecting reader.

"The leaves of the book easily absorb the germs of disease that float in the atmosphere. Microscopes have brought to light the fact that bacilli sometimes oversprinkle a page with the frequency of periods and commas. The handling of such a book might be fatal to the reader. It is not actually known that many illnesses result from such causes, but there is always the danger."—Indianapolis Sun.

A London Cabby's English.

One does not expect to speak his mother tongue in the highways and byways of Paris, Berlin or Vienna, but in London one hopes at least to be understood, as is often not the case. A Washingtonian doing the sights of this English capital ordered his cabman to drive to the Alhambra. "Where is it, sir?" asked the cabby. "Well, my man, that's what I don't know and what you ought to know, if you pretend to know your business." Poor cabby was nonplused and asserted with evident mortification that though he had made his living as a London cabman since boyhood he had never heard of such a place as the Alhambra. "Why," said the much disgusted American, "it's a place where they have music and dancing and plenty to drink." "Oh! it's the Helumbria you mean, sir," and with a sarcastic smile on his face at the pronunciation of his American cousin he drove to the place in question.—Washington Herald.

An Interesting Family.

Old Mrs. Baron Mure told me that Lord Byron's mother was a fool and his father was a rascal. He poisoned his first wife, Lady Caermarthen, who was divorced from him because her father, Lord Holderness, left his money to her illegitimate children, and he had nothing more to expect. Miss Gordon, though she was told of this, and had a fortune of £3,000 a year, married him. He spent all her estate, saving about £30 a year, on which she lived with her son in a garret at Aberdeen, supported in a great measure by her friends, who, when they killed a cow or sheep, would send her part. She was always fat. When Mrs. Siddons appeared first in Edinburgh, Miss Gordon took a hysteric fit in the playhouse, clung round Mrs. Mure's neck, kicked off her shoes, and was carried out by Mr. Dundas, now chief baron, and put into Lord Napier's carriage, which conveyed her, screaming all the way, to George's square, where she then resided with Baron Clark's mother.—Charles K. Sharpe.

Tells on Itself.

"I wish I knew how to tell a good egg from a bad one," writes a young housekeeper; "they all look alike to me." Look at 'em with your nose, Clara, look at 'em with your nose. You must be blind if you couldn't hear the difference then.—Burdette in Brooklyn Eagle.

IT CAN DO NO HARM to try Freeman's Worm Powders if your child is ailing, feverish or restless. dw

Have you got salt-rheum or tetter, Scrofula or fever-sores? You will never be the better For your faith in quackish bores. Seek from nature's store the treasure That will save you from the grave, And give blessings without measure— Not to fool, or quack, or knave, but to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the world-famed cure for the above diseases. It is guaranteed to cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded. b

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less away. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully compat disease. Polson's Nervilline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw37

Thoroughly Tired.

HAVING given Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a thorough trial, I do not besitate to say that I believe it is the best remedy in existence for all summer complaints, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, etc MRS. R. S. WAITE, Springfield, Ont. 2w37d

A Good Regulation.

DISORDERED kidneys give rise to rheumatism, dropsy, pain in the back and loins, etc., besides many dangerous complaints affecting the kidneys themselves, as Bright's disease, uraemia, etc. Regulate the kidneys with Burdock Blood Bitters, the best diuretic and kidney remedy ever devised 2w37d

The Loss of the Hair

is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

It Don't Matter.

HOWEVER old, obstinate or chronic your case may be Burdock Blood Bitters has cured so many seemingly incurable cases that it is well worth a trial in yours. Cases of dyspepsia, scorfula, liver complaint, etc., of twenty five years' standing have been cured by B. B. B. 2w37d

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. —Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. K. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

PERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver.

I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly move my bowels, and free my head from pain.—William L. Page, Richmond Va.

Seasonable and Fashionable.
J. J. Sheehy has just received a splendid lot of ladies' waterproof cloaks. The styles are the Connemara, Edinburgh and Sling Sleeve, and are worth inspection. 57 patterns to select from, in any length from 54 to 66. A call solicited. No trouble to show the goods.

Thanksgiving Services.
The annual harvest thanksgiving services will be held in St. Luke's Ashburnham, on Thursday. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 10 a.m. and evening Prayer and sermon at 7.30 p.m. The church decorations will be appropriate to the season.

Lecture.
Rev. Alex. Campbell, general agent of the Dominion Evangelical Alliance will deliver a lecture on "The History—the morals and the aggression of the Jesuits" in the Opera House, on Thursday 19th, at 8 o'clock p. m. Collection at the door. 3d65

Rev. Messrs. Crossley and Hunter.
These two Evangelists after having concluded a successful series of meetings at Parkhill, go next to Kingston. They will pass through Peterborough on Saturday next 21st inst., on the midday train. This will afford an opportunity to the many friends of these gentlemen in town to see and greet them on their way to another field of work.

The Winter Carnival.
The petitions requesting Mayor Stevenson to call a public meeting for the purpose of discussing the winter carnival question, are being freely signed by all the ratepayers to whom the papers are shown. In the hands of competent men the carnival could be made a splendid success. Let the scheme be talked up and brought to some material conclusion.

Public Talk.
How is it parties are heard saying every day they would not think of buying Groceries outside of W. J. Morrow's? Because they are people of common sense. Many who have tried every house in town could not now be enticed by any sort of cheap baits to leave there, as by honest dealings W. J. Morrow has proved himself Peterborough's only reliable cheap Grocer. For a few weeks he will sell his best Matches, 4 large boxes—full count, for 25 cents, 5 lbs. Starch, 25c.

Personal.
Dr. E. A. Spilsbury, of Toronto, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, Sept. 28th, from 9 to 11 a. m., for consultation. See card.

Campers Supplies.
A large assortment of canned meats, fish, vegetables and fruit. Lowry's smoked and spiced meats. The finest brands of ginger ale's, sodas, lager's, ale's, wines, claret's, champagnes, in fact everything you need to be supplied with in camp. The largest stock in Peterborough and best assortment at the Palace Grocery. Elliott & Tierney, George street, Peterborough.

DROP in sugars at M. R. KIDD'S.

We Go One Better.
Other grocers are greatly excited about the prices of some of their goods. But Geo. Carton keeps quite cool, and goes one better every time. See the crashing value he is offering:—8½ lbs. Rice, for 25c. 8 bars of Electric Soap, for 25c. 8 lbs. of Tea, for $1. Push right through to Geo. Carton's red tea store, where you can carry away more goods for a $2 bill than you can get for $3 in other stores. Corner George and Charlotte streets. dw

"English-Canadian Canoes."
The Montreal Witness in an article on "Canadian Canoes" with especial reference to the winners at the Stave Island meet, thus refers to a canoe built by Mr. Wm. English, town:—"The "Mac," the Record winner, was designed throughout by her skipper, Mr. Will G. Mackendrick, and built by Mr. English, of Peterborough, and she is certainly the prettiest specimen of the best builder's art ever turned out of a Canadian yard. She is also, a 16x30, built to be sailed without ballast, but she is a big, capable craft, twenty-one inches high at the bow, eighteen or nineteen at the stern, and about twelve amidships. Her sheer, is, therefore, much greater than is usual in these days, but it is very fair and pretty, and she looks as well as she sails. Her centre-board is far enough forward to leave a clear space of five feet between its after end and the mizzen mast tubes; she has big water tight compartments fore and aft, and think of this, ye cruisers, a spirit level in her floor boards."

A Timely Visit By Prof. Dorenwend.
Our ladies and gentlemen will be pleased to hear that Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, will visit Peterborough with a large stock of his Hair Goods. He will stop at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24 and 25. As everyone knows he does a large business here and as his stay is limited, it is to be hoped that intending purchasers will not leave their calling to the last hour. The Prof. is making a most liberal offer to those who may have to come from a distance to see him. He will pay their fare to and from town. His attractive posters, with full particulars, will be found hung up in the surrounding towns. The Professor calls special attention to his great variety of frontpieces, bangs, waves, etc. Among them are pieces that will become every one. In wigs, switches, etc., he can show probably the largest stock in America. His wigs and toupees for gentlemen need but little description, they can advertise themselves, they rival nature in perfection. Our people can consider themselves very fortunate to be able to secure such goods right at home without much trouble, and we hope that they will keep up their reputation of being progressive and up to the times by calling at the Professor's show rooms and securing one of his styles. His stopping place is Phelan's hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24th and 25th.

Police Court.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 18.

Two young men, arrested last night while drunk, were this morning fined $2.

Hugh MacPherson, a young man hailing from Brockville, was yesterday arrested for drunkenness and this morning charged with vagrancy. His arm is injured and he has been begging about town. He celebrated his success by getting drunk. The magistrate let him go on condition that he left at once.

The assault case of Edward Shields against Thomas Foster proved quite interesting. The plaintiff appeared in court with a pair of badly battered eyes, and accused Foster of knocking him down and kicking him. Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution. From the evidence it appeared that Shields married Foster's sister, but has proved himself an improvident husband. Foster swore that Shields never gave his wife a $10 note since his marriage, and Shields himself admitted that he didn't work much, but avowed he did not give his wife money because when he went home he would find Foster there, and he objected to being sponged on. Foster on the other hand said he himself rented the house Shields lived in, and that he gave far more to the support of his sister and her family than did Shields. He said that Shields came to "his" place Saturday night and began abusing him, and after he had been "shown off the premises" Shields picked up a stone and hit him. Then he (Foster) slapped his brother-in-law's ears, but he denied striking him with his fist and knocking him down and tramping on him as Shields stated he did. He said he knew better than to hit "such a thing," he'd kill him if he ever struck him with his fist. This looked probable, as Foster is big and stout, and Shields small of stature and very thin. Foster conducted his own case and proved himself an able amateur lawyer. The magistrate said that while Shields might have deserved the punishment Foster had not the right to take the law into his own hands and commit an assault. He fined him $2.

The trial grew amusing at times. Foster and the plaintiff engaged in trifling recriminatory passages which brought the laugh on each other in turn, and then Foster and the counsel on the other side had a little "tiff" which resulted harmlessly. When Mr. Wood remarked that he had heard Foster was a fighting man, the latter retorted with a direct denial and said Mr. Wood was paid to come there and run him down. He must be paid in whiskey, too, as there couldn't be any money got from Shields. And when Shields accused him of having been in gaol, Foster very impressively produced documents to show that he served a year in the Central because an enemy perjured himself in order to convict him. He read the dying confession of a man implicated in the case which proved his (Foster's) innocence. The other men, he said, had left the country and did not dare return. The conclusion of the trial was quite interesting. Foster left the court vowing that he would lodge a counter complaint against Shields, who he said had done his best to give him trouble and now he would make him pay for it. The magistrate advised him to let the matter drop.

Ashburnham Brevities.

The brick work of the town hall has reached the second story.

Miss Annie Smith received a severe injury on Monday from a fall. She will be confined to the house for some days.

The school board held its first meeting since February, Tuesday night. There was a full attendance of members. Mr. J. J. Rooney was initiated into office. It was resolved to have the vacant room fitted up for occupation at once and a teacher engaged to to take charge of it. Messrs. Adams and Rooney were appointed a committee to have the necessary changes made. In the mean time in order to relieve the pressure in the junior room, it was decided to adopt the half day system with the very small children, one half attending in the forenoon and the other half in the afternoon. The board, in future, is to hold regular monthly meetings on the first Tuesday of the month in the council chamber.

Mr. George Wood, eldest son of Mr. John Wood arrived home this morning from New Port, Rhode Island, for a short holiday. Mr. Wood is manager in a large wholesale drug store in New Port. His many friends in town will be pleased to hear that he is succeeding well in the south and that he is enjoying excellent health.

The use of calomel for derangements of the liver has ruined many a fine constitution. Those who, for similar troubles, have tried Ayer's Pills, testify to their efficacy in thoroughly remedying the malady, without injury to the system.

The South Ward School.

The Repairs that Have Been Made in the First Ward School Building—As Good as New.

During the summer vacation the schools of the town were pretty thoroughly repaired and improved, the South Ward building among the others. The new wing is not yet completed and will not be ready for occupation till the first of November; but the alterations to the old part are finished and the original four rooms will be re-opened to morrow (Thursday) and classes resumed as usual.

A radical change has been made in the school building. All the rooms formerly entered off the main hall, but now the pupils will pass through good-sized cloak rooms which have been partitioned off the end of each department. This makes the main rooms somewhat smaller, but the desks have been set a little closer together and the space made up. At the same time the seats were reversed to face the opposite direction, so that the light will be at the left and rear of the pupils. This is an important improvement. The entire building has been re-painted in more cheerful colors than formerly and the blackboards renewed. But perhaps is in the adoption of the Smead Dowd system of heating and ventilation. This system has been fully described before and needs no further reference. The furnaces are in the cellar, and the apparatus is so complete that there will be a uniform heat and perfect ventilation without the raising of windows and opening of doors, to the danger of pupils who might have to sit in the drafts.

When the new wing is added the south ward school building will have excellent accommodation. There will be two large rooms in the new portion, which will furnish ample room for the present overplus of pupils. Mr. James Rogue is contractor for the additions and improvements, and is hurrying the work as fast as he can. He is doing splendid work on the building.

Pupils who were promoted to the fourth form will continue in attendance at the south ward school.

The Foresters' New Hall.

The Handsome New Quarters of Court Peterborough, Canadian Order of Foresters.

The new Foresters' Hall in the Snowden block, Simcoe Street, is now completed and has been occupied by Court Peterborough, No. 29, for whom it was fitted up. The court will hold its meetings in the new quarters for the present, but the formal dedication does not take place till October 10th, when Bros. E. Towe, High Chief Ranger; Thos. White, High Secretary, and Dr. U. M. Stanley, chairman of the Medical Board, all officers of the Ontario High Court, will be present and conduct the ceremonies. In view of the approaching event a brief description of the new hall may not be out of place.

The entrance is by the stairway in the middle of the block. An ascent of two flights brings the visitor to the outer door. On entering, the first apartment to pass through is the ante-room, connected with which by folding doors is a committee room. Both are supplied with chairs and tables. These two can be thrown into one apartment 50x20 in dimensions, thus giving a large dining room or ample space for any other purpose for which it may be required. Doors from both of these outer halls lead into which is almost square, 50x40 feet in area. This new lodge room is gorgeously finished. The most elaborate effects of the painter's and paperhanger's arts are here united harmoniously, and the furnishings being correspondingly elegant, the tout ensemble is very attractive. The only drawback is the low ceiling, but as the ventilation is complete no bad effects will follow. The light is good and in winter the premises will be heated by stoves.

Rich carpets cover the floor, while on the tastily papered walls are hung paintings of Canadian scenery and portraits of prominent officers in the Order. Around the four sides are ranged the seats. The Chief Ranger's chair is at the south end, and opposite him sits the "Vice." Both chairs are on an elevated dais, and over each is a canopy of crimson cloth, the same color as the upholstering of the chairs. On the east side of the room sits the Chaplain, his vis a vis being the Past Chief Ranger. Over the former's chair a young deer stands on a bracket, having for a background a charming woodland scene. Opposite, the beaver, that is posted over the chair of the P. C. R. On either sides of the four chairs are deer's heads and antlers, the whole furnishing being in consonance with the title of the order. The settees about the wall are upholstered in green. A handsome new pipe organ rests against the wall, while on either side of the Chief Ranger the secretary and treasurer have their desks.

Court Peterborough is to be congratulated upon having secured such elegant new quarters. The local lodge of the A.O.U.W. also use the new rooms for the present. The painting and paper hanging was done by Mr. W. H. Watson, the paper being procured from the Peterborough Bookstore. Mr. A. Rutherford did the carpenter work and Mr. A Comstock the fitting up.

The committee who had charge of the improvements deserve every credit for the successful result of their labors. Court Peterborough, of the Canadian Order of Foresters, has one of the nobbiest halls in town. The committee is composed of Messrs, Thos Hooper, Robert Robertson, A. Comstock, J. Braden and F. J. Jamieson.

Hymeneal

Johnston—Thompson.

The residence of Mr. R. J. Lee, George Street, uncle of the bride, was this forenoon the scene of a happy matrimonial event. At 10 o'clock the nuptials of Mr. D. W. Johnston, Campbellford, and Miss Thompson, daughter of Mr. Edward Thompson, Smith Street, were celebrated with considerable eclat. Rev. E. F. Torrance performed the ceremony in the drawing room, on the very spot where the bride's mother was married years before. Miss Bella Thompson and Miss Emma Stenson were bridesmaids, and Mr. Givens, of Campbellford, was the groomsman. There were between thirty and forty guests present, relatives and friends of the contracting parties. After the newly married couple had received the warm congratulations of those present, the wedding party sat down to luncheon, at which the large and elaborate four-story cake took a prominent position. Mr. and Mrs Johnston were escorted to the Grand Trunk station and sent off on the noon train, followed by showers of rice and good wishes. They will take a honeymoon trip to Iowa, and return in about three weeks to take up residence at Campbellford, where Mr. Johnston has a large stock farm.

The EXAMINER was allowed to see the grand array of wedding presents which testified to the warm regard in which the bride is held by her large circle of friends. The gifts included completed silver and china table sets, a marble clock and many other valuable and beautiful articles of household ware. Best wishes for long continued happiness will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Johnston on their start upon the journey through life.

The Business College.

Business men are constantly applying to us for competent young men and women. At present we have three good positions which we have not students to fill. Young men and women requiring a business training should bear this in mind when they purpose attending any institution. Go to the place where business and professional men will look for their assistants. The value of a practical education cannot be estimated. Give your sons and daughters a good business education and go where they will their services will be in demand. Do not be afraid but situations will be open for them as soon as they are prepared. The Peterborough Business College has every facility for giving a first class business training. Our Short hand and type-writing department was never so complete before. The fall term has just opened. A commercial training costs less and places its possessor in a better position than any other. Nearly every failure in business is caused by a want of knowledge of business principles. Come where you learn a systematic method of doing business transactions. Write or apply personally to the principals of the Peterborough Business College for full particulars.

Keene

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Township of Otonabee Agricultural Society intend holding their annual exhibition on Tuesday and Wednesday, October first and second, when a large number of prizes will be competed for. The farmers will now have a chance to display their fine stock and produce.

Quite a number of our citizens are attending the Industrial Exhibition, at Toronto this week.

Mr. Wm. McCrea is away from home at present, visiting friends.

Mr John Macfarlane is doing a rushing trade in the shoe line.

Dr. Harrison and friends had a picnic excursion on Rice Lake, on Saturday, per Steamer Sunbeam.

The I.O.G.T., of Keene are still holding their own.

It is with very deep regret that we chronicle the sudden demise of the late Duncan McIntyre, who passed away very suddenly on Tuesday morning, September 10th, at about 6.30, in the 22nd year of his life. The deceased has been enjoying good health until about a week previous to his death, and on Friday last was taken so seriously ill that medical assistance was called in. He received some relief from the medicine which he got, and was thought to be past all danger, but they were deceived, for death relieved him of his sufferings on Tuesday morning last. The deceased was well liked wherever he was known and will be universally missed. The bereaved family have the heart-felt sympathy of all the people.

Peterborough Presbytery.

Regular Sermon in St. Andrew's Church—Matters of Interest Disposed of.

The Peterborough Presbytery convened in St. Andrew's Church yesterday forenoon, Rev. Mr. Carmichael, moderator, in the chair. Mr. Carmichael having to leave at an early hour, Rev. E. F. Torrance was appointed moderator pro tem.

The following clergymen were present:—Rev. Messrs. Cleland and McWilliams, Port Hope; Ewing, Mount Pleasant; Windell, Lotus, Anderson, Keene; Bennett, Springville, (Secretary); Sutherland, Warkworth; Cameron, Millbrook; Torrance, Bell and White, Peterborough; Jamieson, Perrytown; Thompson, Hastings; McEwan, Lakefield; Hyde, Warsaw; Gilchrist, Baltimore; Bennett, Minden. The laity was represented by J. F. Clarke, Port Hope; Jno. Clark, Campbellford; W.E. Roxburgh, Norwood; W. Riddell, Cobourg; Jas. Clark, Ballyduff; E. M. Sanderson, Springville; J. Thompson, Omemee; and J. Carnegie, Peterborough.

Two students; Messrs. Madill (Havelock) and Oswald, read sermons to the Presbytery.

A committee was appointed to strike the following standing committees:—On temperance, state of religion, Sabbath observance and statistics.

A communication was read from St. Andrew's church, notifying the Presbytery that at a late congregational meeting a resolution had been adopted cutting down the salaries of all church officials 20 per cent. The matter was referred to a committee, who reported that as the document had not come through the session in the regular way, it could not be entertained. The committee at the same time regretted that the congregation had determined upon such a course.

Leave was granted the congregation at Omemee to mortgage their church for $1500.

The Home Missions committee received Presbyterial powers to deal with matters referred to them.

Campbellford and Port Hope pulpits were reported vacant. It is probable a call will soon be extended from these places.

The question of establishing churches at Janetville and Pontypool and incorporating them with Ballyduff, was left with to the Home Missions committee.

The members of the Presbytery were given dinner and tea by the ladies of St. Andrew's church, and adjourned to meet again at Port Hope, Mill street church, the second Tuesday in January at 9 a.m.

of the Paris Hair Works, Toronto, and his Big Stock of all kinds of

HAIR GOODS

FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

He will be in Peterborough, at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24th and 25th.

LADIES should see his New Styles in Frontpieces, Bangs, Waves, Plain and Fluffy Switches, Wigs &c.

GENTLEMEN who are partly or wholly bald should avail themselves of this opportunity to procure a fine Toupee or Wig. Hair Goods are now standard articles of necessity. The sooner you get one or other of the styles, the better for your appearance, your health, your comfort. What gives more attraction to the human person than nice hair? Nothing.

What makes persons more satisfied with themselves than to know that their hair is in proper condition and fashion? Nothing.

What affords more protection to the scalp and delicate organs of the head than a good covering of hair? Nothing. These are facts worthy of the greatest consideration. Sooner or later you will arrive at the conclusion that these statements are of importance. Come to the Professor's Show Rooms and see his goods, you are sure to be pleased with the results obtained by wearing them. The Stock is complete and it is certain you will find something to suit you. Remember at PHALEN'S HOTEL, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th and 25th.

☞Persons living out of town look out for Professor Dorenwend's big posters and conditions on which he will pay your fare to town and return.

VOL. IX. NO. 67. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY. SEPTEMBER 19, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

MR. GOODERHAM'S MEN.

WILL PROBABLY REMOVE VICTORIA TO TORONTO.

Meeting of the Board of Regents and Advisory Committee—Eighty Thousand People at the Fair Yesterday

TORONTO, Sept. 19. At the Police Court yesterday, William Saulter pleaded not guilty to a charge of shooting with intent to kill. Saulter got out of jail Tuesday, where he had been sent to sober up, immediately got on a spree again, and during the day pawned his clothes, and with the money purchased a bulldog revolver and cartridges—then went to the house of Thomas McGrath, and when McGrath came to the door he deliberately drew his revolver and fired. Fortunately, McGrath caught sight of the revolver, and stepping quickly back shut the door. The bullet passed through the panel and imbedded itself in a second door. Saulter was remanded for a medical examination.

The Board of Regents of Victoria College and the Advisory Committee were in session all yesterday discussing the position of university federation, the removal of the College to Toronto and the questions of the injunction. The Gooderham bequest of $200,000, provided Victoria comes to Toronto, was the cause of the debates. In the end a committee was appointed to confer with the plaintiffs in the injunction and with the Cobourg people and subscribers to effect, if possible, a just settlement.

The gate receipts at the exhibition yesterday aggregated $16,050, the largest sum by about $3000 that was ever taken in one day since the fair was inaugurated; 80,000 persons were on the grounds.

The notorious Pearce family were placed on trial yesterday morning in the Court of General Sessions. The family consists of James Pearce and Maria, father and mother, and their three sons, whose ages are from 20 to 25. The sons' names are Thomas, George and Edward, otherwise called "Tim" Pearce. The old man is about sixty years old. There are some four or five different charges of burglary, housebreaking and receiving against them. In the Gibson case which came up first, they pleaded not guilty. In 1888 the residence of Wm. J. Gibson at Kew Beach was broken into and some $600 worth of goods taken. These articles were found in the residence of the Pearces, 58 Power-street, on the 23rd of June last. Edward and George Pearce had been arrested for attempting to burglarize the residence of E. Strachan Cox, and in the Wilton-avenue police station Detective Reburn was secreted in a cell between those occupied by the prisoners. He heard them admit that they were now "in the soup," and the discourse turned on how they would get some one to defend them. One remarked that if they could get some one to dispose of "hat stuff" they would be able to hire a good lawyer. The house in Power-street was then searched, and a quantity of stolen goods being found, the whole family were taken. The jury returned a verdict of guilty against all five.

Mrs. Annie Wilcox, who was taken to the General Hospital on September 9th, suffering from the effects of a beating received in her house in Terauley-street is very low and is not expected to recover. She has refused to the present to give the detectives any information. An attempt will be made to take her ante-mortem examination.

Attorney-General Martin Endorsed.

OTTAWA, Sept 19. At a meeting of the Equal Rights Association, a resolution was passed endorsing Hon. Joseph Martin, the Attorney-General of Manitoba, for his action in regard to French as the official language and the abolition of Separate Schools. Mr. Martin is now in the city.

The Tar and Feathers Case.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 19.—The investigation into Hambly's death was continued yesterday, when a number of witnesses were examined. Nothing new was elicited. An information was laid against Backhaus.

A NOTORIOUS BANDIT.

Death of Bob Younger—A Review of His Career of Crime.

STILLWATER, Minn., Sept. 19.—Bob Younger is dead. The noted bandit was sentenced to the Stillwater Penitentiary for life in 1876 for murder committed in attempting to rob the Northfield, Minn., bank. He was a model prisoner, but consumption at last claimed him, and for a year past he has been slowly dying. His two brothers, Jim and Cole, also life prisoners for the same crime, had been with him, as had his sister, for two weeks past. He began failing rapidly at 6 o'clock Monday night, remarking, "I have but three hours to live." At 10.30 his eyes closed forever, and the most picturesque figure in modern outlawry closed his career on earth.

Bob Younger was born in Jackson County, Missouri, Oct. 29, 1854. He was one of a family of fourteen children, six of them boys. His father was a union man, though a slave holder, and was killed in the troublous times at the outbreak of the civil war. The boys older than Bob were members of Quantrell's guerilla band, and after the war they returned to Jackson County and started to live the quiet life of farmers.

But the border was still rife with passions, and the rough young men soon wearied of their uneventful life. They are said to have adopted a career of violence in revenge for the fate of their father. Whether this excuses them or not, they earned a reputation for daring deeds and hard riding, and one night when a Rock Island train was robbed near Casey, Iowa, the work was promptly credited to the Youngers and the James brothers.

A month later a stage was robbed in Nevada, yielding a rich booty to what was believed to be the same gang. In January following the Hot Springs, Ark., stage was robbed, and a few months later came the Iron Mountain train robbery. Then came the fight at Osceola, Mo., where Captain Lull, a Chicago man, was shot, and the Gad's Hill train robbery followed quickly. Then the Shreveport train robbery, the looting of a train at Blue Cut, Mo., the capture of $30,000 on the Kansas City fair grounds in the presence of 50,000 persons.

The Youngers and the James boys got credit, with a good show of reason, for each of these crimes. But the last was the greatest. Sept. 7, 1876, ten horsemen galloped into Northfield, Minn., shooting right and left, and commanding citizens to stay indoors. They pulled up in front of the bank, three men entered, while the rest kept the streets clear by pistol practice. The men leaped over the counter and ordered Cashier Heywood to open the safe. He refused, and in the struggle which followed he was shot dead.

Meantime a fusilade from doors and windows had been opened on the gang, and one robber fell dead from his horse. Another was badly wounded as they rode away. The bandits were pursued, and, after nearly a month of such a chase as puts all romance to the blush, the three men—James, Cole, and Bob Younger—were captured. They were tried for murder, plead d guilty, which saved them from the death penalty, and were sentenced for life.

MATTERS IN MONTREAL.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE OF A VERMONT VISITOR.

A Caughnawaga Indian's Crime—An Alleged Forger on Trial—Heavy Failure—The Provincial Synod.

MONTREAL, Sept 19. A man named Martin from St. Albans, Vt., shot himself yesterday in a lumber yard at Hochelaga near the river brink. He was conveyed to Notre Dame Hospital.

The council of the Board of Trade passed a resolution of thanks to Sir John A. Macdonald for complying with the request of the council telegraphed on Saturday that the Beauharnois canal be kept open on Sunday. Eleven barges were thus enabled to tranship their cargoes to the ocean vessels in time.

Joseph Skaionhati, the Caughnawaga Indian, was found guilty of attempting a criminal assault on Ida LaForte, an 11-year-old child, at the reserve.

Alfred Aubert is on trial charged with having forged orders for chemicals to the amount of $13,000. Aubert offered his services as agent to Ernest Larin, commission merchant in chemicals, and brought him $13,000 worth of orders on which he collected his commissions. When the goods to supply the orders arrived here and were being delivered, none of the firms accepted the goods, and all pronounced the orders forged. Among the goods ordered were 45 tons of chalk for Messrs. Evans, Sons & Mason.

Duncan Campbell, a heavy importer of trimmings, 10 St. Nicholas-street, assigned yesterday morning with liabilities of $45,280. It was only last week the junior member of the firm absconded leaving $6000 worth of forged paper in the bank.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

The Provincial Synod Petition Parliament for More Stringent Legislation.

MONTREAL, Sept. 19.—At the session of the Anglican Church in Canada yesterday the discussion on the Jesuit question was resumed and the memorial from the diocese of Ontario was referred to a committee.

Mr. Thomas has been appointed Treasurer but he was unable to act and Mr. A. F. Gault was appointed instead

Hon. G. W. Allan moved this resolution "That this Synod do petition the Parliament of the Dominion at its next session, to enact such laws as will secure the better observance of the Lord's Day in the Dominion in all matters pertaining to general railway traffic, the management of the postal service, and in the management of the railways and canals belonging to the Dominion, as well as in all other matters over which Parliament has control; and that such petition be signed on behalf of the Synod by the presiding officers of each house." A general discussion followed and the motion was carried.

This committee on marriage and divorce was appointed: Rev. Dr. Partridge, Rev. Dr. Body, Rev. Dr. Carey, Rev. Dr. Roe, Mr. V. G. Harris, Sir John Allan, Hon. Mr. Hannington, Mr. J. A. Worrell, Mr. C. Jenkens, Mr. Walkem, Q.C. A conference committee to discuss the question of the consolidation of the various branches of the church was also appointed.

The diocese of Toronto presented a memorial asking that the use of the revised version of the scriptures be considered, but the synod decided not to recommend it till the Church of England itself had taken such an action.

THE STRIKERS' SUCCESS.

IT IS FEARED MAY LEAD THEM IN TROUBLE.

More About Mr. Chamberlain's Huddersfield Speech—He Thinks a New National Party Is Needed.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The troubles at some of the docks between the strikers and "blacklegs" are not regarded as of serious import. They are only such minor disturbances as could be looked for as the aftermath of such a gigantic upheaval as the recent strike. They are the mutterings that follow, not those that precede, a storm. It would be wellnigh impossible to bring about either a lockout or another strike, just at present. Both sides are too eager for a period of recuperation to indulge in an immediate renewal of the great struggle. What the more remote future has in store, of course, cannot be predicted. Many friends of the laboring classes fear that they will be so elated by the present victory that they will overreach themselves ere long by some still bolder and less justifiable move than the late strike, and will thus lose the prestige conferred by the success attending the dock strike. On the other hand, great confidence is expressed in the good sense of Burns and his fellow-leaders who are counted on not to loose their heads because of their brilliant and surprising achievements. The friends of the dock companies having put forth various protests to the effect that the companies, not having earned even average profits on capital before the strike, must now be put in danger of bankruptcy on account of the increased pay of the laborer, the leaders of the strike have issued a reply to each statement, in which they deny the correctness of the figures given. They claim that it is only by a trick of book-keeping that the profits of the companies are made to appear small and inadequate. In reality the profits are enormous, but this fact, it is alleged, is carefully covered up by an intricate system of accounts, and by a division of functions whereby the owners of the docks debit themselves with rental charges large enough to eat up nearly all the earnings available for dividends. Thus the bulk of the earnings go to royalties, and only an apparently small proportion to the profits, though the same men get both, and it is a matter of indifference to them whether they get more or less of one than the other. The strike leaders claim, therefore, that the statements of threatened bankruptcy are deceptive.

They also go farther, and deny the claim made by certain pessimistic commentators in the London press, that the effect of increasing the expenses of the companies will be to force an advance of the rates charged shipowners, and therefore to drive commerce from London to other ports. They express the conviction, on the contrary, that the increase of expenses will result in merely a reduction of the royalty profits of the companies and cannot be saddled upon the companies' customers. In support of this argument, Burns and Hyndman refer to such an eminent authority among the orthodox economists as Ricardo, who laid down the law that charges against rent could not be shifted.

A New National Party Needed.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—In his Huddersfield speech Mr. Chamberlain agreed with the suggestion of Lord Hartington that a new national party ought to be formed, pledged to effect international reforms in Great Britain and Ireland, and whose policy should be the maintenance of the unity and the strengthening of the Empire. The Gladstonians, he said, are breaking up. Their centre of gravity is now in their tail. Their head has lost all its directing energy. The sections of the Gladstonian party are adopting political heresies and favor resistance to the law and socialism. If a new party was formed, its program would be as far removed from the doctrines of the ultra Radicals as from the fossil Toryism of the past. He was confident many Gladstonians would be glad to adhere to such a new party which would constitute a strong parliamentary power.

COONEY THE FOX.

He Is Likely to Turn Up at the Cronin Suspects' Trial.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—It is rumored that Pat Cooney, the "fox" in the Cronin case, is in custody. Color was given to the rumor by the fact that Chief Hubbard, Capt. Schuettler and Detective John Collins, to whose efforts the identification of both Cooney and Burke is due, called at the State's Attorney's office and had a long conference with the attorneys for the prosecution. They declined to state the object of their business, but it is said on good authority that they had called to talk about Cooney.

The fact is that Cooney's trail has been in sight of the police for weeks, and it is believed they have finally followed it to a successful conclusion. Collins has done nothing else but follow the fellow ever since he (Collins) came back from Winnipeg, and only a few days ago promised to have his man behind the bars before a jury could be procured to try the conspirators who are in custody. There are a good many Irishmen in Chicago who believe Cooney will turn up as a witness of his own accord even if the police were to make no effort to capture him.

That he has been in Chicago ever since the murder was committed and that he has on two occasions at least been cornered by officers who permitted him to escape is not denied by even Chief Hubbard. It would not surprise anybody if the fugitive were brought into court and arraigned with the rest of the prisoners. Chief Hubbard declined to talk about the alleged capture, and so did State's Attorney Longenecker, but it was plain from their exuberance in talking about the matter that they were entirely satisfied concerning Cooney.

Working Up Clues at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 19.—The Chicago detective force has two members here engaged in working up fresh clues in the Cronin case. One part of the detectives' mission was to locate the trunk or tin box alleged to have been brought here by Martin Burke, but in this it is known that the detectives have failed. The statement recently telegraphed that an attempt was made by the Clan-na-Gael men to assassinate Burke while a prisoner here has been verified in several quarters, but the attempt was not made while Burke was in jail, but before his arrest by Chief McRae.

Although the chief will admit nothing and refuses positively to enlighten the detectives in the matter, the latter are certain that it was through this attempt to kill Burke that McRae stumbled on the prisoner.

The Curlers' Convention.

ALBANY, Sept. 19.—The twenty-third annual convention of the Grand National Curling Club of America convened yesterday at the armory of Company "B." Delegates are present from all parts of the United States and Canada. Secretary Fowles read his annual report reviewing the numerous games played throughout the country during the season and concluded as follows: "There is an epidemic of betting and gambling sweeping over this fair land in connection with outdoor sports which it behoves the association to strictly guard against and keep our record clear and keen as curlers and honorable men."

A communication from Col. Stevenson of Montreal relative to the Gordon medal was received and the secretary was instructed to write to the donor and ask his permission to change the condition of playing, so as to make it alternately in the United States and Canada. Mr. J. B. Gillace spoke against the tendency of Sunday games and hoped the G.N.C. Club would not countenance it. A resolution offered by Mr. Allan, that the motion made and carried at Chicago two years ago giving a medal to the winner of the Bell medal be rescinded, was adopted. Thomas Thorbin of Perth, Scotland, donated four pair of Ailsa Craig curling stones to be played for under the direction of the Executive Committee.

AT TURNBULL'S

If you come with us we will show you through our new Dress Goods this morning. First we show you Scotch Costume Cloths in stripes and checks, that handle like Tweeds in weight. When told the price you wonder, as they are only 10 and 12½c. a yard.

All-Wool French Serges are here again; they appear to have come to stay, and why should they not. There has never been a cloth introduced in wool with more weight or appearance for the money—20c. a yard, not 25c. remember. Cast your eye up the shelves; you can count about 18 colors, some of them exactly the color your little daughter has asked you to buy the next time you are in town.

This little lot of Costume Tweeds in eight patterns, which embrace all the best colors, will make up well in tailor-made suits, bound or trimmed with braid. The price is 22 cents.

If you have a dress you want to make over, this broken check cloth at 25c., is wanted. Did you ever see a prettier plaid for the money? Look along the table; you will see a full range of Amazon Cloths, at 50c., 60c., 75c., and 90c. a yard. The higher the price, the finer the goods—all equally good value.

Now we come to the Novelties in this line that has the appearance of a plain satin, with a large brocade thrown on it. It is made in Germany. Doesn't it open out prettily? It will certainly be one of the favourites. The colors are new and striking. This is another line of German Jackard Cloths. As you have not seen them, you will want me to describe them. They have the greatest likeness to an onion bed in early spring, covered with brushwood; nevertheless they are making up beautifully in dresses and wraps.

Lustres are slowly coming in again. They will shortly be the leading cloth, so our manufacturers prophesy. We show fine goods in Black.

Our space is nearly full, and the story of our Dress Goods is not half told. We have not mentioned Black Goods of which we have an immense variety. Buttons, trimmings, and braids, we are showing to match every style of material.

WARM WEATHER CLOTHING

AT THE

City Clothing Store

It is bound to come. The warm weather we mean. In fact it is going to be hot, and it makes us think of summer outing—vacation and seasonable sports. These in turn, suggest preparation and imply proper outfits—such as SUMMER SUITS, UNDERWEAR, and FURNISHINGS. 'Tis of these we would speak particularly to-day, because this season we have provided for our patrons a Greater Variety of WARM WEATHER WEAR than ever before, and at Prices no other dealer in Peterborough can possibly duplicate. We have all the Novelties.

What Gentlemen Will Wear

We are displaying the Finest lines of exclusive styles in the following:

Plain and Fancy Colored Suiting
Light-Weight Underwear
White, Fancy and Colored Vests
Collars and Cuffs, Newest Shapes
Ties in all the Summer Shades
Tennis, Boating, Sporting Outfits

We are bound to overcome the effects of the bad weather of the past month, in point of sales, if not in profits. The prices we will quote will convince you of our sincerity and the genuineness of the sacrifice we will make in values

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1889.

THE BRITISH NAVY.

We cannot regard the British government's scheme for the increase of her present gigantic navy as indication of the approach of the reign of universal peace. It rather shows that there are breakers ahead, and that it behooves the mistress of the seas to be in readiness to maintain her position against almost any odds. It is intended by the Imperial government to construct no fewer than seventy new ships of war, at an estimated cost of twenty-one millions five hundred thousand pounds sterling. Eight of the new vessels will be first-class battleships, two will be second-class battleships, nine first-class cruisers, twenty-nine smaller cruisers, four still smaller cruisers and eighteen torpedo boats. It is estimated that the first-class battleships will be completed in about three and a half years, and the others at shorter intervals. Of the twenty-one and a half million pounds to be expended on the construction of the new vessels ten million worth of work will be put out by contract, and will be met by special means; eleven millions and a half will be assigned to the royal dockyards and will be provided for by the ordinary naval estimates, the cost to be spread over four years. On the official Naval List on the 1st January last the names of four hundred vessels of all classes appear as being in commission, besides one hundred and five engaged on harbour service. In addition to these there are twenty-three vessels of the merchant service retained as reserved merchant cruisers, which, according to contract, can be used by the Admiralty in the case of emergency. The total number of men serving in the Navy at the date named was 62,400. In addition the names of 19,500 men appeared on the Royal Naval Reserve List.

THE following are the financial deficits under the present administration as furnished by the Ottawa Citizen, a staunch Conservative organ:—Deficit of 1878 9, $1,937,999; do. of 1879 80, $1,543,228; do. of 1884 85, $2,240,059; do. of 1885-86, $5,834,572; do 1887-88, $810,032, or a total of $12,365,890, or an average of $2,473,178 per year. No earthly system of book-keeping or account cooking can construe such a record into evidence of wise and economical government; on the other hand it is simply ruination.

AT the meeting of the Provincial Synod of the English church in Montreal, the question of the organic union of the existing Protestant churches in Canada was discussed in a very broad and liberal spirit. The idea of such a union will seem to be a most chimerical one; but this is not the case. The union of the different Presbyterian bodies and of the different Methodist bodies was, a dozen years before their consummation, regarded as being as far removed as the millennium. Nevertheless the union came, and the issue has been in both cases most successful and gratifying.

AN incident which occurred in Europe a few days ago serves to show the influence which can be exerted by one man upon the fate of nations. Louis Kossuth, the Hungarian patriot, now nearly eighty years old, has been living quietly at Turin, Italy, for many years. He and the struggles for the autonomy of Hungary and the elevation of the Austrian masses in which he took part, had been almost forgotten. A few days ago some criticisms by Kossuth upon the compact between Germany, Austria and Italy were published, which irritated Prince Bismarck, and the German tyrant at once requested the Italian government to expel Kossuth from Italy. It is possible that the demand would have been complied with, but the fact of its having been made leaked out, and aroused a storm of indignation throughout Europe. The Hungarian populace were incensed at the idea of having their old friend subjected to indignity, and if Bismarck's demand was complied with popular feeling in Austria would probably oblige that power to withdraw from the triple alliance. As matters stand the Italian premier will probably have to inform Prince Bismarck that it would be extremely unwise, perhaps dangerous, to disturb Kossuth, while the aged patriot will perhaps be urged to refrain from criticising Prince Bismarck's methods.

A NOVEL system for the insurance of passengers by steamboats, omnibus or rail has been recently invented in London, England. The scheme is such that every person taking a ticket is insured thereby without cost to himself. The new ticket is really a miniature wallet, inside of which is found a policy of insurance for a sum varying according to the class by which the person is to travel, and covers fatal or other accidents during the journey. This is what, under ordinary circumstances, could be obtained by paying a small sum on every journey, but by this system is given free. By this system railways, tramways, omnibus, or steamboat companies are provided with the tickets and policies free of cost, provided only that they are issued to the public without any charge beyond the ordinary fares, so that every traveler will find inside the ticket a policy of insurance. The sheet enclosed in every ticket is a large one, and contains, besides the policy, an index map of the route, directory of interesting places, and the balance of the space is filled with advertisements from which the compensation to the issuer is to come, to which, however, may be added the profits for the increased percentage which this system of insurance will almost surely bring. If railway companies could use such policies as quit claims for compensation for damages by accident, it would no doubt on the whole pay them well.

The Late William Gooderham's Will.

Death cuts many a Gordian knot and it is a highly probable that the death of Mr. Wm. Gooderham of Toronto settles the question of University Federation, especially as regards the Methodist church. It is now known, though not officially announced, that Mr. Gooderham has bequeathed the sum of $125,000 towards the construction of a building for Victoria College, and $75,000 for endowment, both bequests conditional on the removal of Victoria College to Toronto. This will doubtless settle the question of Federation. The sum required according to the scheme was $450,000. Of this sum $280,000 are subscribed and Mr. Gooderham's bequest of $200,000, makes a total of $480,000, $30,000 beyond the amount required. Mr. Gooderham has also dealt liberally with other interests of the Methodist church. He leaves $30,000 to the mission fund, and $10,000 to the Superannuation fund, in all, counting his original subscription of $30,000 to the college fund, $270,000 devoted to the interests of the church of his choice.

It is astonishing how rapidly the feeble and debilitated gain strength and vigor when taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For what are called "broken-down constitutions," nothing else has proved so effective as this powerful but perfecting safe medicine.

POTT'S DISEASE.

A Bad Curvature Reduced and Entirely Out of Danger.

CHAS CLUTHE, Esq.,

DEAR SIR—This is to state that my boy, aged seven years, was prostrated with Pott's disease of the spine, with very little hopes of recovery. I procured one of your appliances, which was duly fitted, gave great support, and enabled him to run about and play. He is so much improved as to be almost entirely out of danger

Yours truly, S. O. ROWELL,
Innerkip, Ontario.

A Postmaster Well Pleased.

CHAS. CLUTHE, Esq., Toronto Ontario.

DEAR SIR—Having met with an accident and requiring a Truss, I obtained three different kinds without securing what I wanted. On the recommendation of one of our leading medical men, I got your Spiral Spring Truss, and I would heartily recommend it to any party requiring such an article. It is a splendid thing

Yours, etc., J. B. FAIRBAIRN, P.M.,

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

For terms and particulars apply to

W. FITZGERALD,
Corner of Water and Dublin Sts.

THEY BORROW, BUT NEVER RETURN.

Oh, the ills of this life are many,
And the heart breakings not a few.
Pure sympathy comes not from any
It matters not much what you do.
I can sometimes trust my umbrella,
Nor over its lingering yearn,
But the books I lend to a fellow
They never, no, never return.

The harvest may wait for the reapers,
The tailor may sleep o'er your clothes,
But the earth is plagued with book keepers,
And no one a cure for it knows.
The sunshine that goes from the meadows,
Comes back when the frosts shall adjourn,
And the leaves play again with their shadows,
But my books will never return.

I once had the wisdom of ages
Shut up in my glass case for me.
Now 'tis gone, by invisible stages,
From Murray to old Mother Goose.
My Euclid, I still can remember,
Like the odor from some ancient urn
Went out, to come back in December,
That December will not return.

Lend your friend, your dog, yes, your sister,
You will find each some day, no doubt;
But a book goes down the long vista,
And ten to one never comes out.
Do I know whom I made the loan to?
No, but my brains I need not churn,
What matters it where they have gone to?
I know they will never return.

The Sea Horse.

The sea horse is so called because he hasn't the least resemblance to a horse and because he is never seen in the sea. The name was given him by some smart Alec who felt awfully funny that day. Some years later another smart Alec changed the name to sea cow, but that doesn't hit any closer. They are found in rivers and lagoons instead of the sea, and they resemble cows as much as a stuffed woodchuck does a live lion.

The principal occupation of a sea horse-cow, as we are obliged to call him, is promenading around on the muddy bottoms of muddy rivers, satisfying his hunger on the best the land affords, and making the neighborhood highly uncomfortable for African gentlemen out fishing in their canoes. He has no ambition beyond that, and if undisturbed would let the world wag along and mind his own business. Naturalists claim that he is very docile and affectionate when in captivity, and the day may come when he will replace the poodle dog as a pet. His span of life is supposed to be sixty years, but that doubtless depends a great deal on the care he takes of himself. If the newly discovered elixir of life works as is hoped for, the sea horse-cow's days may be extended over a hundred years.—Detroit Free Press.

There's No Substitute for Leather.

Leather is a unique material. There is no substance in any way analogous to it. Flexibility and durability are opposite qualities that no other product possesses in such a marked degree. In the tanned skin the gelatine and tannin, the animal and the vegetable kingdom, are combined in an indissoluble union which will withstand the continuous frictional wear which shoes, harness, belting, etc., are subjected to better than anything else. It is the one commodity for which there is absolutely no substitute. Cotton, wool, linen and silk are to some extent interchangeable, wood, iron and stone are frequently used in lieu of each other, but, notwithstanding the scientific research and discovery of the present age, nothing has been invented to supersede or obviate the necessity for leather. With the single exception of breadstuffs, none of the great staples of commerce has such a numerous constituency. Every inhabitant of the country, without regard to age, sex or color or condition in life, is to a greater or less degree a consumer of it.—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Imitations of Old Bronze.

An excellent imitation of old bronze has been introduced in some of the art products of that character. It is well known that the repeated applications to copper or brass of alternate washes of dilute acetic acid and exposure to the fumes of ammonia result in a very antique green bronze; but a more rapid method of producing this beautiful appearance has long been a desideratum. It is now found that this may be accomplished by immersing the articles in a solution of one part perchloride of iron in two parts of water, the tone acquiring darkness with length of immersion, or the materials may be boiled in a strong solution of nitrate of copper. It is also found practicable to insure the desired effect by immersing the articles in a solution of two ounces of nitrate of iron and the same quantity of hyposulphite of soda in half a pint of water, drying and burnishing completing the process.—New York Telegram.

Florida Sponges.

The finest and best sponges in the world are now obtained along the Florida Keys. Native Floridians do the principal gathering. There are some Bahama Islanders also. The sponge fishers are called conks. They do not dive, but tear up the sponges with three-tined forks on long poles. A Greek came down from New York a year or so ago and tried gathering them by diving, using a regular diver's suit, but he made a failure of it. The sponges grow rapidly. A bed which has been fished clean will be covered with a new growth in six months. The product amounts to nearly half a million dollars annually.—True Flag.

Odoriferous Flowers of Europe.

Of the 4,300 kinds of flowers which grow in Europe only 420, or 10 per cent., are odoriferous. The commonest flowers are the white ones, of which there are 1,194 kinds. Less than one-fifth of these are fragrant. Of the 951 kinds of yellow flowers 77 are odoriferous; of the 833 red kinds, 84; of the 594 blue kinds, 81; of the 308 violet blue kinds, 13. Of the 240 kinds with combined colors, 36 are fragrant.—New York Telegram.

A Dreadful Sight.

Jack (bursting in suddenly)—Oh, girls, I have seen such a dreadful sight down the lane! Poor, sweet Lily Jones is hanging on a limb.

Omines—Good gracious! How horrible! Ran for a policeman.

Jack—Calm yourselves. She still lives. She hanging on—a limb of the law.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

IT CAN DO NO HARM to try Freeman's Worm Powders if your child is ailing, feverish or fretful. dw

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully compat disease. Polson's Nervilline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its application is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw37

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

A Good Regulation.

DISORDERED kidneys give rise to rheumatism, dropsy, pain in the back and loins, etc., besides many dangerous complaints affecting the kidneys themselves, as Bright's disease, uræmia, etc. Regulate the kidneys with Burdock Blood Bitters, the best diuretic and kidney remedy ever devised 2w37d

Thoroughly Tired.

For Toilet Use.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. —Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

A Pair of Inebriates.
Wm. Marks, who was arrested yesterday while drunk, was called upon to contribute $2 to the town treasury. Peter Hardy, a stranger in town, was intoxicated yesterday and began roaming around the presses in the Times Office. He was locked up, and this morning allowed to go on promising to leave town at once.

Our Civic Legislation.
The Campbellford Herald says:—Two enterprising and growing places in Ontario—St. Thomas and Peterborough, have been governed by careful legislators, and are a pattern for towns that are becoming involved in debt. The rate of taxation in the former is fifteen mills, while in the latter only a trifle over thirteen is what is required.

Turner Abroad.
Mr. J. J. Turner, the mil, tent and awning maker, of Peterborough, lately furnished Mr. R. G. Burke, of Campbellford, the Herald says, with a tent, camp beds, stools and two wagon covers which display good workmanship and filled the ball to a ninety.

Public Talk.
How is it parties are heard saying every day they would not think of buying Groceries outside of W. J. Morrow's? Because they are people of common sense. Many who have tried every house in town could not now be enticed by any sort of cheap bait to leave there, as by honest dealings W. J. Morrow has proved himself Peterborough's only reliable cheap Grocer. For a few weeks he will sell his best Matches, 4 large boxes—full count, for 25 cents. 5 lbs. Starch, 25c. All other goods in proportion.

Campers Supplies.
A large assortment of canned meats, fish, vegetables and fruit. Lowry's smoked and spiced meats. The finest brands of ginger ale's, sodas, lager's, ale's, wines, clarets, champagnes, in fact everything you need to be supplied with in camp. The largest stock in Peterborough and best assortment at the Palace Grocery, Elliott & Tierney, George street, Peterborough.

We Go One Better.
Other grocers are greatly excited about the prices of some of their goods. But Geo. Carlon keeps quite cool, and goes one better every time. See the crashing value he is offering:—8½ lbs. R.ce, for 25c. 8 bars of Electric Soap, for 25c. 8 lbs. of Tea, for $1. Fresh right through to Geo. Carlon's red tea store, where you can carry away more goods for a $2 bill than you can get for $3 in other stores. Corner George and Charlotte streets. dw

Choice, Fresh and Cheap.
Another supply of choice, fresh and cheap groceries, provisions, etc., with a few special lines of teas at unusually low prices now being received and offered for sale at R. H. Green's grocery and provision store, corner Hunter and Aylmer streets, Peterborough. Also fresh butter and eggs, with apples, potatoes and other farmers' produce always on hand, which will be sold at the lowest market prices and delivered to any part of the town. tafw

The Custom House.
While in Ottawa Wednesday Mayor Stevenson had an interview with Sir Hector Langevin with reference to the new custom house and inland revenue building which the Government has promised to build on the Phelan lot, corner of Charlotte and George streets. The Minister was very assuring in his remarks, and stated that work would positively be begun this fall. Mr. Ashwith, the contractor, says he will commence in two weeks. His foreman was in town the other day arranging for material.

Is it Proof Positive?
The fact there are about half as many prisoners in jail now as there were a year ago, may or may not be accepted as proof positive of the relative merits of the Crooks Act and the Scott Act as measures of social reform. Proof positive is however furnished of the superiority of Hawley Bros. choice teas by a simple trial, and the longer the trial the stronger the proof. The best and freshest brands of the best teas kept in stock constantly. Also splendid coffees. Remember the prices are away down. Go to Hawley Bros for choice teas, the best coffees and fine glassware.

Exploits in Cookery.
We refer to the grand Dinner and Tea which the ladies of St. John's are arranging for next Wednesday, the 25th inst. The ladies are already at work, and are determined to put forth their best efforts for the occasion. No doubt their combined enthusiasm and culinary skill will result in the sumptuous repasts being spread before a hungry and appreciative public. Dinner will be served from 11.30 to 3; and Tea from 5 to 7. The location chosen is a central one—the store lately occupied by Henry Best, next to P. Connal's. It will appropriately decorated and arranged for the occasion. Altogether Wednesday's Dinner should be a pleasing and profitable affair. A welcome addition to Peterborough's list of attractions for Exhibition week.

St. Peter's Literary Society.
The above Society was reorganized last evening when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year. Patron—Rt. Rev. Dr. O'Connor; Hon. President—Rev. M. Lynch; President—F. H. Brennan, M. D.; Vice Presidents—J. J. Sheehy and L. M. Hayes; Secy-Treas.—J. D. McIlmoyle. Committee of management (including officers) Dr. Edward McGrath, Dr. Moher, Redmond Henry, J. P. Bryson, Joseph Hurley. During the fall and winter this Society's programme will include, debates, readings, recitations, lectures, essays, music, and drama. The first debate will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 2nd, when the following subject will be discussed:—Resolved, that it would be impolitic for the Parnellites to support Balfour's Irish University Bill. Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle and L. M. Hayes are the leaders.

The Business College.
Business men are constantly applying to us for competent young men and women. At present we have three good positions which we have not students to fill. Young men and women requiring a business training should bear this in mind when they purpose attending any institution. Go to the place where business and professional men will look for their assistants. The value of a practical education cannot be estimated. Give your sons and daughters a good business education and go where they will their services will be in demand. Do not be afraid but situations will be open for them as soon as they are prepared. The Peterborough Business College has every facility for giving a first-class business training. Our Short hand and type-writing department was never so complete before. The fall term has just opened. A commercial training costs less and places its possessor in a better position than any other. Nearly every failure in business is caused by a want of knowledge of business principles. Come where you learn a systematic method of doing business transactions. Write or apply personally to the principals of the Peterborough Business College for full particulars.

Toronto Conservatory of Music.
We have just received a copy of the handsome new calender issued by the Toronto Conservatory of Music, an incorporated company with $50.000 capital, and must congratulate Mr. Edward Fisher and his large staff upon the good work they are doing in the cause of music. The list of subjects taught is surprizingly large, but judging from the attendance (over 1000) at this institution during the past two years, the president the Hon. G. W. Allan and the directors, (among whom, by the way are some of the ablest men in Ontario), have no reason to regret their enterprise or the large amount of brain power and material wealth which have been evidently bestowed upon even the smallest details. The Conservatory system is admitted by the most eminent musicians to be that most calculated to develop fully the pupil's faculties, and we must say that in looking over the number of free advantages, concerts, free harmony and violin classes of which are offered to the students, that we can readily coincide with the opinion given above. The calendar may be had, free etc, charge upon application to Edward Fisher, Musical Director, corner Young street and Wilton Avenue, Toronto, Ont.

The Civic Black Bottle
An old historic relic was unearthed this afternoon. At the time the old market building was erected 33 years ago the usual documents were placed under the corner stone. On this occasion they were encased in a large bottle. There were parchments containing the names of the town officials, copies of the local papers and some coins of the realm. This afternoon the bottle was taken from its resting place for the purpose of re-burying it under the corner stone of the new market building, which is to be laid next Thursday. Contractor Rutherford put some men at work excavating a hole in the brick work close to the ground in the north-east corner of the building, where the corner stone was located by some old residents who were present at the laying and remembered the spot, and soon exhumed the old bottle. Its contents will be placed in the new building together with other documents and papers of the present time. The market committee intend making the occasion one of special interest. The stone will be laid with civic honors, and probably the band, fire brigade and battalion will attend. The committee have not yet mapped out a pro-

The Sawdust Question.

Return of the Deputation from Ottawa—The Minister Interviewed but no Commission Arrived at.

The deputation which visited Ottawa Wednesday, with reference to the sawdust question returned to town this morning. The party comprised Messrs. J. M. Irwin, T. G. Hazlitt, R.C. Strickland, A.P. Poussette, Q.C., Robert Innes, Vice-President of the Board of Trade, Mayor Stevenson and Mr. E. B. Edwards, town solicitor.

Hon. Charles Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, was interviewed about eleven o'clock in the forenoon. Mr. Poussette was the first speaker, and was supported by Messrs. Hazlitt and Irwin. They laid their case before the Minister, Mr. Poussette explaining the circumstances and claiming that the agreement of 1886, whereby no sawdust except that which came from the pitman holes should be allowed to fall into the river, had been practically adhered to by the millowners; that the injury to the river, if injury there was, had been done before these prosecutions were instituted. He also contended that there was no actual injury resulting from the small quantity of sawdust which at present got into the river.

MR. EDWARDS took the general ground of the pollution of the stream by the sawdust and asserted that the agreement of 1886 had not been observed by the millowners. The time had arrived, he urged, when a final decision should be reached, as to whether this thing would be allowed to continue or not; that the increase in the filling up process during the last few years was apparent to anyone who had occasion to go on the river, and that while there was a certain amount of hardship on the millowners, it was simply a question of money with them, the expense of putting in appliances to get rid of the sawdust. Mr. Edwards pointed out that the public interests involved were not merely for the present, but the future as well; that if this thing was allowed to continue to such an extent that navigation would be actually blocked, it would require dredging and a big expense to repair the injury.

HON. CHAS. TUPPER, then replied at considerable length, first alluding to the similar state of things that existed in other places as well and the hardship upon millowners. In Nova Scotia, for instance, notwithstanding the objections of millowners and influential petitions, they had been obliged to put a stop to the practice of letting sawdust into the streams. As to the agreement with the millowners on the Otonabee, the minister said it appeared to him from reports received from officers sent here to investigate the matter, that the agreement in question was not being strictly observed, and in consequence of this the prosecutions had been established. He stated that unless the law was strictly adhered to by all the millowners, the Department could not consider itself bound to it; therefore the mill owners had only themselves to blame in the matter. The Minister suggested that the lumbermen should petition the Governor-General in Council to exempt the river Otonabee from the provisions of the Fisheries Act, and embody in the petition their statements as made to him. The matter would receive full consideration, and if he found on further investigation that the agreement had been practically kept, he would remit the fines and suspend further prosecutions.

It is probable the suggestion of the Minister will be adopted by the lumbermen and the petitions forwarded.

The Empire's Ottawa correspondent adds the following to his report of the interview: In regard to this question it may be stated that considerable feeling prevails in the Maritime Provinces, against the strict enforcement of the Act, while here, at Ottawa, the feeling is in favor of a stricter enforcement, or in other words, that the Ottawa should not be one of the exempted rivers. It may be remembered that last session, Mr. Dickey, M. P., introduced a bill into the Commons, which did not reach its second reading for want of time, striking out the word "sawdust" from the Act above referred to. Had the bill passed, all navigable rivers could have been made the recipients of sawdust.

Smith.

Successful Garden Social.

A very pleasant, profitable, and enjoyable garden social was held at the residence of Mrs. W. S. Tulley's, Rose Hill, in Smith, under the auspices of the ladies of that appointment. The grounds were beautifully illuminated with chinese lanterns and presented a very picturesque scene, together with the fitting about of the young people of which there was a large number in search of customers for bouquets etc. The tea was served in the driving shed which was tastefully decorated with green boughs. The ladies excelled themselves in the culinary art department, as the tables bore unmistakable evidence of their skill and liberality. After ample justice was done to the rich viands, the people returned to the parlor and hall where a splendid programme of songs, recitations and speeches was rendered, under the guidance of Mr. J. Barnard, who acted as chairman. The following is a list of the names of those who entertained:—Mesdames Reid, Lockert and Best, Miss Fowler and Miss Williamson, Mr. Geo. McLean, Mr. J. Middleton, Capt. Rieve and the Rev. Mr. Leitch, pastor. At the close of the programme a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Braley, seconded by Mr. A. Middleton, thanking those who had assisted so liberally in making the entertainment the good success it was, which received the unanimous support of all present. The social was then closed by singing God Save the Queen and by the benediction.

Warsaw.

Successful Harvest Home Festival.

On Tuesday afternoon and evening, 17th, the Baptist Church in Warsaw held their annual Harvest Home Festival. The ladies of the church had provided amply for the occasion and a large company came to do justice to the provisions. The town hall had been taken advantage of and a large table was arranged from one end to the other that was twice filled with hungry people. After tea the people adjourned to the church which had been beautifully decorated with all manner of fruits and flowers, grain and cereals. Rev. Mr. Peer, the pastor, took the chair, the church being full. After prayer by the Rev. P. C. Parker, of Peterborough, the choir furnished a piece of music entitled "Give thanks to God." Revs. J. B. Huff, of Smith, Baptist Church, Powers of Warsaw Methodist Church, and Parker, of Peterborough Baptist Church, gave excellent addresses; they were both instructive and humorous. The choir rendered excellently several pieces, and Miss Cummings of Norwood, sang very beautifully, "The Good Old Church."

The usual vote of thanks brought to a close a very enjoyable Harvest Festival.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Mr. W. A. Carr has presented us with a very practical article, a rubber stamp, just what we needed in our work. We thank him sincerely for the same. The lists of subscribers to our Star lecture course are begin filled up rapidly, our people are quick to see good value and we feel assured now we shall be able to present our patrons this winter, entertainments second to none on the continent for pleasure and profit. We intend, if possible, to close lists this week and parties, desirous of securing first-class value at about half price, should secure their tickets at once from Mr. G. A. Schofield, druggist, or from the general secretary at the rooms.

News Nuggets.

Sensations of Fast Travel.

How to Realize What 80 Miles an Hour Means.

If one wants to get a lively sense of what it means to rush through space at 50 or 60 miles an hour, says Scribner's, he must get on a locomotive. Then only does he begin to realize what trifles stand between him and destruction. A few weeks ago a lady sat an hour in the cab of a locomotive hauling a fast express train over a mountain road. She saw the narrow, bright line of the rails and the slender points of the switches. She heard the thunder of the bridges, and saw the track shut in by rocky bluffs, and new perils suddenly revealed as the engine swept around sharp curves. The experience was to her magnificent but too tense of danger was almost appalling. To have made her experience complete she should have taken one engine ride on a dark and rainy night.

In a daylight ride on a locomotive, we come to realize how slender are the rails and how fragile are their fastenings, compared with the ponderous machine which they carry. We see that a trifling movement of a switch makes the difference between life and death. We learn how short the look ahead must be, and how close death sits on either hand. But it is only on a night ride that we learn how dependent an engineer must be, after all, upon the faithful vigilance of others. The headlight reveals a few yards of glistening rail, and the ghostly telegraph poles and switch targets. Were a switch open, a rail taken up, or a pile of ties on the track, he could not possibly see the danger in time to stop.

Sullivan For Congress.

How the Eastern Papers Size Up the Combination.

John L. Sullivan's announcement of his intention to run for congress as a democrat in a Boston district will be received, says the Philadelphia Ledger, with emotions of enthusiasm, disgust on amusement, according to the disposition of each individual citizen. It instantly brings to mind, of course, the fact that one of John L. Sullivan's predecessors in the ring was a member of congress, but John Morrisey possessed a liberal portion of brains, of which there seems to be a conspicuous lack in Sullivan's make-up. Perhaps the hardest blow which the mugwumps have received is that which comes from Sullivan. Somebody suggested that he run not as a democrat, but as an independent candidate. He replied indignantly in his choicest English: Me a mugwump; never.

The New York Tribune expresses some surprise that Sullivan "should consent to exchange the conspicuous position he has so long adorned for the humdrum obscurity of a seat in congress," and asks if he is "willing to forego the exhilarations of a sockdologer at the potato trap and a fall under the ropes for the irritating monotony of attempts to catch the speaker's eye and casual encounters in the committee room." The Sun thinks Sullivan is too great a man for one party to monopolize. "He must not give up to party what was and is meant for mankind."

A Reporter Married.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 18.—The nuptials to-day of Mr. Harry W. Laird, of the Port Hope Times, and Miss Lillian Blanche Defoe, constituted one of the most fashionable weddings that has taken place in Port Hope in recent times. The ceremony was celebrated in the Methodist church, which was filled with spectators and invited guests. Rev. W. H. Laird, father of the bridegroom, assisted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Baker, performed the marriage rite. The bride was dressed in a white brocaded satin with orange blossoms and tulle veil, and carried a marriage bouquet of white and cream roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bridegroom's residence. The presents were numerous and costly. Telegrams of regret on account of inability to be present were received from Montreal, Chicago and other places. The happy couple left on the evening train for New York. The wedding tour will be extended through the South.

VOL. IX NO. 68. PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

THE ROCKS FELL ON THEM

AN AWFUL CATASTROPHE AT THE ANCIENT CAPITAL.

Part of the Cliff Crashes Down on Lower Town People in Their Houses—Appalling Loss of Life

QUEBEC, Sept. 20.—About 7.30 last evening the whole city was thrown into intense excitement by a report that a great cliff slide had occurred in Champlain-street. Thousands of people flocked to the scene of the accident to find that the report was authentic. Several thousand tons of solid rock crashed down with terrific force from almost under the King's bastion on the citadel and a little distance west of the end of Dufferin-terrace and completely demolished seven stone and brick dwelling houses in Champlain-street, some 300 feet below. The "B" Battery, police force and fire brigade corps were early on the scene and rendered valuable assistance.

Some scenes were witnessed which were extremely heartrending. A young boy named Power was released from the ruins. He, however, begged piteously to be allowed to remain and die with his mother and sisters, who were also in the ruins near by. He, as well as his parents and sisters, were removed alive but badly wounded. A man named Berrigan was found near by pinned solidly under a huge rock. He was speaking to friends around him who were unable at the time to remove the immense boulder and release him from his agonizing and perilous position as the rock was in such a position that it was feared when it was moved it would cause his death. Up to 11 30 there had been six bodies taken from the ruins. They are: Thomas Farrell and two of his children. Two children named Burke. One unknown child. Farrell's mother-in-law, Mrs. Allen, and her husband are still in the ruins.

About 25 persons have been removed from the debris badly injured. Some have broken arms and legs, others being badly crushed and mutilated in all shapes. The roadway is blocked with solid boulders to the height of 15 feet in some places.

It is supposed that this terrible accident was due to the steady hot weather all this month which cracked the cliff. It is also attributable to the continuous rain since last Monday.

All the wounded were carried to the Marine and Fisheries Department where they were looked after by several medical men and clergymen. Several were taken in wagons to different hospitals.

About 175 bodies are supposed to be buried under the debris. More rocks were crumbling down at midnight and the people of the locality were fleeing with dread lest the whole boulder forming the highest point of Quebec should give way.

Twelve dead bodies and 17 injured have been dug up. The work is still carried on, but it will take several days to haul out all the bodies.

The damage will, it is said, exceed $100,000. The houses in that locality were built of stone and brick and inhabited by ship laborers, etc.

The scenes witnessed around the place of disaster were in every sense of the word heartrending; here a mother sought a child and there a desolate man dug in the debris in hopes of finding his wife. Shrieks and cries filled the air. No pen can describe it.

It is impossible to say how many are dead and wounded, but everyone worked heroically under difficulties, as the night was so intensely dark, and a strong wind was blowing.

The Provincial Synod.

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—After eight days' deliberations the Synod of the Church of England has concluded its meetings. The early morning session yesterday was devoted to the discussion of the Jesuits question. There was an impression that the discussion was becoming political, when it was stopped by referring the matter to the committee already appointed on the encroachment of the Church of Rome. The motion of Mr. C. N. Vernon on the evils of intemperance was unanimously carried. A motion to thank the railway and steamboat companies was negatived, the general opinion being that the delegates had received no advantages from the companies.

Prizes for Brant County Cattle.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 20.—Brant County again leads the list at the exposition now being held in Detroit. Brantford Bow Park shorthorn cattle capture these prizes: First on aged bull, first and sweepstakes on yearling bull, first for aged cow, first and sweepstakes for 2-year-old heifer, first and second for yearling heifers, first for heifer calf, first for best herd of shorthorns.

A Bullet for a Blow.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 20. — Two young men named Van Blaricum and Fleming had a dispute last evening and Fleming struck the former in the face. Van Blaricum went to a hardware store, bought a revolver and shot Fleming in the thigh. The wound is not dangerous. No arrests have been made.

Daring Highway Robbery.

ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 20.—An old German was walking in broad daylight in the streets of this city with John Kirby and John Fisher when they grabbed him by the throat and stole $175 from him. The highwaymen were captured.

THEY DIED TOGETHER.

A REMARKABLE DOUBLE TRAGEDY AT WINDSOR.

Two Dead Bodies Found in the Old Nursery Covered with Blood From Gaping Bullet Wounds.

WINDSOR, Sept. 20.—A sad looking man about 28 years of age, accompanied by an apparently down-cast woman, at least seven years his junior, walked up Ann-street yesterday morning about 9.30. An hour later the pair were seen in the old nursery on Dougall-road. Some time later two pistol shots were heard in the nursery, but no attention was paid to this as the nursery is a large place and it is not an uncommon occurrence for some one to shoot off a pistol or gun there.

A little later a young man named Grant walked through the nursery and saw two bodies on the ground, with blood on their faces. Without stopping to see whether they were dead or not he ran to the office of Chief of Police Baines with his information. The chief accompanied by detectives and policemen drove to the spot and found the bodies.

There was a hole directly in the centre of the man's forehead and a burned place and hole in the breast of the woman's dress. Chief Baines' search of the man's body brought to light a well-worn pocket-book containing a receipt from Nathan Weeks, treasurer and collector of Rushville, Rush county, Ind., for taxes of Silas Dinsmore for 1888, and another receipt from C. C. Hill, express agent of the Pacific Express Company at Lake View, Miss., for a package consigned by Silas Dinsore to Silas Dinsmore, Brookfield, Ind. There was also a lot of "advertising money" and some scraps of paper in the pocketbook. In the trouser pockets was found three cents. The woman had no pocket in her dress. On the left hand she wore two rings. In the inside of one of them were the letters "M.A.D."

The couple lay side by side. Blood from the man's head had flowed over the woman's neck and head. The physicians said the woman never moved after the shot was fired. The man, it is supposed, after shooting her lay down and placing the revolver to his forehead pulled the trigger. There was not more than three inches between the heads of the two when they were found, and under them was neatly folded a black shawl. It was evidently a carefully planned affair.

From the letters engraved on the woman's ring it is supposed she was the man's wife. From the fact that they had no money the officials think they came to the Detroit exposition determined to have a last good time together, and then end their unhappy lives. The pistol used is a "Young America," a self-acting 32 calibre, 5 shot. Three chambers were found discharged. One of them had evidently been fired long before the murder, as the marks of bullets were fresh in the other two chambers. The man's hands showed marks of toil, while the woman's were white and soft.

From One Prison to Another.

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 20. — Tom Martin, a noted New York burglar, escaped from Sing Sing Prison by being smuggled out in a laundry basket. He made his way to Chicago where he was sentenced for burglary to Joliet for a year. His term expiring yesterday he was arrested at the prison door by a New York detective and taken back to New York, where he owes eight years time on his unexpired sentence.

A Cold Wave in Michigan.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Sept. 19.—The first snow of the season fell here Tuesday afternoon. It was only a sprinkling but was followed by a bitterly cold wave.

EAST TAWAS, Mich., Sept. 19.—There was a heavy frost here Tuesday, the first this fall. Considerable damage was done to the vines.

Ahearn Held for Murder.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—As a result of the inquest over the body of Thomas B. Jackson, killed in a prize fight, Ed. Ahearn, the surviving principal, was held without bail to answer the charge of murder, while referee, seconds and timekeepers were held as accessories.

A Queer Vein of Water.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—A startling discovery has been made at the barn of John McVeigh, north of Woodmere Cemetery. While boring for a well McVeigh struck a vein of what appeared to be pure water of an intense degree of frigidity. Two cows that came to drink of the flow fell dead in their tracks. McVeigh at once dammed up the stream and placed a guard to prevent further damage. Yesterday he was again startled to find that the vapor arising from the stream had acted upon a fresh coat of paint upon his house, changing it from white to blue. A jar of the water has been sent to Dr. Winchell of Ann Arbor for analysis.

THE HALIFAX DRY DOCK.

Formal Opening—An Important Public Work—Its Size and Cost.

HALIFAX, 8 pt. 20.—The Halifax dry dock was formally opened to-day. It was not built by Canadian money alone, for of the subsidies granted, that given by England far exceeded the amount from the Dominion of Canada or from the Province of Nova Scotia or from the City of Halifax.

The opening of this new graving dock is a matter of the highest importance to Canada and to England in connection with the large merchant marine of both countries and also the Imperial navy. It is the only dock on the Atlantic-British seaboard suitable for men-of-war, and is one of the largest in the world. Although not a portion of the Government dock-yard, it will of course be available for use by all ships of the Royal Navy. The largest merchant steamer or man-of-war can enter for repairs and can at the same time receive a full complement of coal.

The dock has taken five years in building. Elaborate machinery was brought expressly from England. Special apparatus for diving was procured and skilled workmen and engineers employed. The dock is peculiarly situated. It is at the northern end of the harbor, just beyond and in close proximity to Her Majesty's dock-yard and right below Wellington Barracks, where the Imperial soldiery are quartered. It is built into the side of a high bluff.

The cost of construction goes up into the millions, but is still far less than the cost of any previous graving dock built by England. The total length is 660 feet, it is 70 feet wide at the bottom and 100 feet at the coping, it has an extreme working length of floor of 508 feet, and the depth of water at the sill in ordinary spring tides is 30 feet. The dock is built on solid rock. The pumping capacity of the engines emptying the dock is such as to enable it to be done in four hours. The contract arranges for 3800 feet per minute, but the engines are capable of far more than this.

Major H. F. Perley, Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department, was present at the ceremony of opening. As the dock is built in Canada, although not with much of the Dominion's money, the Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department has charge of the construction and took over the dock from the hands of the contractors.

Serious Fire in New Hamburg.

NEW HAMBURG, Sept. 20.—About 12 o'clock Wednesday evening a fire was discovered issuing from J. Ritz & Co.'s printing establishment. The fire got a hold on the building, but after two hours' hard work was got under control. The building belongs to Simpson Merner, foundryman, and is damaged to the extent of $2000. It is insured in the Wellington for $1000, Royal, $1000, and Economical, $2000. The owners of the printing office lost all their account books, private papers, files, etc., and their stock of printing paper, cards, etc., was completely destroyed. The room where the presses and type were was badly damaged. Loss over 1$000; insured in the Perth Mutual for $2000. Lollis Peine, bookstore, and C.P.R. ticket and telegraph office, were partly burned, and the goods badly damaged by water and smoke. Loss, over $1000; insured in the Economical for $1100. The loss of Henry Brodericht, stoves and tinward, is covered by insurance in the Wellington Mutual for $1500. Henry Peine, boots and shoes, is covered by insurance in the Economical, $1100. W. Buck, tailor, insured in the Royal for $200; loss, $100. A. J. Anderson, under taker and furniture dealer, insured in the Gore Mutual for $500, which will cover his loss. The new Dominion Lodge, No. 205, A.F. & A.M., had their hall slightly damaged; loss covered by insurance.

The Ayrshire handicap at Ayr yesterday was won by Lord Dudley's Fullerton.

At Manchester yesterday the race for the Lancaster nursery handicap plate was won by Lord Dudley's Forbidable.

AT TURNBULL'S

If you come with us we will show you through our new Dress Goods this morning. First we shew you Scotch Costume Cloths in stripes and checks, that handle like Tweeds in weight. When told the price you wonder, as they are only 10 and 12½c. a yard.

All-Wool French Serges are here again; they appear to have come to stay, and why should they not. There has never been a cloth introduced in wool with more weight or appearance for the money—20c. a yard, not 25c remember. Cast your eye up the shelves; you can count about 18 colors, some of them exactly the color your little daughter has asked you to buy the next time you are in town.

This little lot of Costume Tweeds in eight patterns, which embrace all the best colors, will make up well in tailor-made suits, bound or trimmed with braid. The price is 22 cents.

If you have a dress you want to make over, this broken check cloth at 25c., is wanted. Did you ever see a prettier plaid for the money? Look along the table; you will see a full range of Amazon Cloths, at 50c., 60c., 75c., and 90c. a yard. The higher the price, the finer the goods—all equally good value.

Now we come to the Novelties in this line that has the appearance of a plain satin, with a large brocade thrown on it. It is made in Germany. Doesn't it open out prettily? It will certainly be one of the favourites. The colors are new and striking. This is another line of German Jackard Cloths. As you have not seen them, you will want me to describe them. They have the greatest likeness to an onion bed in early spring, covered with brushwood; nevertheless they are making up beautifully in dresses and wraps.

Lustres are slowly coming in again. They will shortly be the leading cloth, so our manufacturers prophesy. We show fine goods in Black.

Our space is nearly full, and the story of our Dress Goods is not half told. We have not mentioned Black Goods of which we have an immense variety. Buttons, trimmings, and braids, we are showing to match every style of material.

WARM WEATHER CLOTHING
AT THE
City Clothing Store

It is bound to come. The warm weather we mean. In fact it is going to be hot, and it makes us think of summer outing—vacation and seasonable sports. These in turn, suggest preparation and imply proper outfits—such as SUMMER SUITS, UNDERWEAR, and FURNISHINGS. 'Tis of these we would speak particularly to-day, because this season we have provided for our patrons a Greater Variety of WARM WEATHER WEAR than ever before, and at Prices no other dealer in Peterborough can possibly duplicate. We have all the Novelties.

What Gentlemen Will Wear

We are displaying the Finest lines of exclusive styles in the following:

Plain and Fancy Colored Suiting
Light-Weight Underwear
White, Fancy and Colored Vests
Collars and Cuffs, Newest Shapes
Ties in all the Summer Shades
Tennis, Boating, Sporting Outfits

We are bound to overcome the effects of the bad weather of the past month, in point of sales, if not in profits. The prices we will quote will convince you of our sincerity and the genuineness of the sacrifice we will make in values

THE POWER OF ROME.

Rev. Alex. Campbell's Address on Jesuitism.

He Points Out the Evidences of the Power of the Church of Rome—A Call Upon Protestants to Unite and Resist Aggression.

The audience which assembled in the Opera House Thursday night to listen to the Rev. Alex. Campbell's address upon Jesuitism, was in consequence no doubt of the cold and rainy weather, not as large as it otherwise would have been. Those in attendance were principally from the country, and over half of the audience was composed of ladies. At the door the people were handed contribution envelopes and circulars announcing the principles of the Dominion Evangelical Alliance, of which Rev. Mr. Campbell is secretary. The envelopes, it was afterwards explained, were for the reception of subscriptions, and every person enclosing a dollar or more would become enrolled as a member of the Alliance.

Mr. John Carnegie, President of the local branch of the Alliance, occupied the chair. There were on the platform also Rev. A. C. Wilcox, Secretary, Rev. Messrs. Bell, Shorey, Pearson and Parker, and Mr. H. S. Griffin.

Rev. M. L. Pearson offered up the introductory prayer.

The CHAIRMAN in opening, said this was the first public appearance of the local branch of the Alliance, and he took advantage of the occasion to refer to its principles as set down in the pamphlets, the first of which was to evoke a spirit of Christian unity among Protestants. The Church of Rome, he said, was united politically and religiously, and it behooved Protestants to similarly unite in order to protect their civil and religious liberties. If one was to judge of a power, it could best be observed in a province where that power was best controlled, and nowhere in America had the Church of Rome, he asserted, such complete sway as in Quebec. The statements of a man who lived in the province and was acquainted with the facts of the question would therefore give residents of Ontario a good idea of what the same Church of Rome would do here if not opposed. The other principles were also briefly referred to, viz: To guard and defend the sacredness of the Lord's day, to promote Christian effort among non Church-goers, and to maintain our civil and religious liberties, after which the chairman called upon the

SPEAKER OF THE EVENING.

Rev. MR. CAMPBELL said he would not go into details upon the objects of the Alliance, which had already been announced. The people of Montreal had given $2,800 to the Alliance the past year, and they wished the people of Ontario to help also. Mr. Campbell asked his audience to be interested financially in the movement, which was not confined to Quebec but extended all over the Dominion. Mr. Campbell also pointed out as preliminaries that the present controversy was not with the individual Roman Catholic, but with the Papal hierarchy of the Dominion; and that this was not a political movement. They were not partisan; but the fact was they had to say a good many things that were not complimentary to either political party.

After these digressions Mr. Campbell began his address proper. Beginning with the reformation of the sixteenth century, a movement which he said would have been successful but for the counter movement of the Jesuits, he traced the progress of the Protestant religion through all the past persecutions of the Roman Catholic church down to the present. The Jesuits of those days, he said, did all in their power to crush the Protestant religion, but were signally defeated. And who did not see in our country today, he asked, this same power opposed to freedom and truth, a power watching its chance to reverse the successes of Protestantism in the past? This power was spreading its evil pall over the land. The Jesuits were, he stated, intermeddling with the public schools and influencing the public press. It was said on good authority that no paper in the country could be got to publish a square article against the Jesuits. The contention of the Alliance he said was that the legislators of both parties, without distinction, have been playing too much into the hands of

THE JESUIT HIERARCHY.

This was a strong accusation, but he would prove it. The legal status of the church of Rome in Quebec is now, he claimed, virtually that of an established church, while in the rest of the Dominion it was a dominant power. The church of Rome in the last century secured from the Imperial parliament as a price of its loyalty, large grants and full powers, and the Canadian government in the last year also acceded to the demands of Rome. The effect of this, he pointed out, was apparent in the degradation of the people, in the accumulation of vast treasures of wealth by the priesthood, in the possession of a monster political power and a spirit of still further aggression. On each of these points the speaker enlarged, emphasizing the power of the Pope over his people and the outspoken sentiment of opposition to civil and religious freedom in all the syllabuses and bulls issued from Rome. The speaker also stated that the wealth of the church was greater than was supposed, and enumerated the many different sources of revenue it drew from. The church had a vast accumulation of wealth in schools, churches, monasteries, nunneries, etc., which was used not only for the propogation of Romanism, but for the extirpation of Protestantism. Frenchmen were being bonused to return from the States and settle in Quebec, and the church was loaning money at the low rate of two per cent to her people for the purpose of helping them buy up the Protestant's farms and driving them out. The great effort of the Church of Rome was to consolidate her people. The civil law allowed the hierarchy to change a municipality into a parish and levy a rate and collect from the people by civil process. In this way, the speaker said, they kept the people ground down. The Alliance objected to this iniquitous law. But the hierarchy aimed to introduce this system into Ontario, he said, and gain the balance of power here also. Rev. Mr. Campbell drew attention to the war ago law as to matter

tant marriages were void, and only marriages by a priest of the Church of Rome were considered legal and binding. Referring to

of the Church of Rome, the speaker pointed out that while the Protestant ministry left politics alone and were practically disfranchised, the priests of Rome made a study of the subject. The Orangemen of this country had, he stated, been fooled before by their political leaders, and it was said that they would be fooled again, for though they had been passing strong resolutions some people said when the time came to vote they would forget all about everything but their political leanings. But he (the speaker) had more faith in the sincerity of the Orangemen, and believed they would stand true to their vows. The Church of Rome, he claimed, held that the Pope was the head of all civil and ecclesiastical authority, and that when the civil and ecclesiastical come into contact, the civil side must give way. The Church of Rome spoke with authority to the government and expected to be obeyed; but so little was Protestantism respected by the government that petitions recently sent in, embodying over 60,000 names, had not been so much as acknowledged. Another proof of the pandering of the governments to the Church of Rome he offered, was in the case of the Oka Indians, who were converted to Christianity. The Church ordered them to not cut another stick of timber on their lands—lands which they had possessed for a hundred years. And when they were driven to the verge of starvation and disobeyed the Church's commands, they were imprisoned by scores. The governments were asked to interfere in their behalf, but they declined. Did that not show the power of the Church of Rome? And these Indians were subject to cruel prosecution to-day, it was said, because the Church of Rome rules. Why was Walter Scott's Marmion thrown out of the public school curriculum, he asked? Was it not because Archbishop Lynch demanded it? And look at the Separate School law to-day and see the hand of Rome exhibited there. Take the case of the noted Jesuit Estate bill. The Jesuits, originated in the sixteenth century, had, he said, for their sole object the extirpation of Protestantism, and after being expelled by governments of civilized countries all over the world because of their immoral teaching and political intriguing, and disbanded by the Pope, they came to this country and are

INCORPORATED AS A BODY

by the government which refused incorporation to the Orangemen. There was proof, he asserted, that Rome was ruling the country. But that was not all; the government endows them also at the expense of the Protestant popopation. The Jesuits obtained large grants of lands in Quebec, and the speaker took occasion to deny that the truth of the statements of politicians that Quebec had no good title to this property and could not sell the land, and in consequence had to pass this bill. His assertion he backed up by quotations from government records showing that these estates were given by the crown to Quebec for educational purposes. The reason the bill was passed was that the Quebec government, the speaker stated, got into power on the race and religion cry and had to yield to the Church of Rome in order to retain political supremacy. Then the Dominion government did the same thing. Both parties united to allow the bill, and no power but that of the Church of Rome, he claimed, could bring about such a combination. The government members offer plenty of reasons for voting for this bill. First they claim it is intra vires and could not be disallowed. But the Dominion government, the speaker said, has power to disallow any bill passed by a provincial legislature which it deems best should not become law. Then they claimed that this question was one of provincial rights, but the speaker held it was as wide as the Dominion. These estates, he said, have been alienated from educational purposes, Quebec has been subordinated to the Pope, and one class of people has been endowed at the expense of the other, could not the most blind see the power of the Church of Rome in all this? Another object of the grants was to mould the minds of children to their purposes and through the confessional influence wealthy men to endow their society. The speaker quoted from the catechism of young Jesuit priests, in order to show how the ordinary teaching of christianity may be warped to serve

THE ENDS OF THE JESUITS.

A people brought up under these doctrines, a people from whose schools the British history was eliminated, he said, could not unite in peace with christian Protestants. British citizens must, Rev. Mr. Campbell said, form a strong Organization or establish a new party to combat the aggressions of the Church of Rome. Let Protestants stand by their constitution and their principles, and unite to defend their liberties. On resuming his seat Rev. Mr. Campbell was loudly applauded.

Mr. H. S. GRIFFIN in a few words moved a vote of thanks to Rev. Mr. Campbell, the resolution being seconded by Mr. Robt. Weir. The chairman presented the expressed thanks of the audience to the speaker, adding a few enthusiastic remarks. Rev. Mr. Bell also spoke a few words, agreeing with the others in endorsing the principles enunciated by Rev. Mr. Campbell.

The meeting was brought to a close by the pronunciation of the benediction by Rev. Mr. Parker.

"Yes; I shall break the engagement," she said folding her arms and looking defiant; it is really too much trouble to converse with him; he's as deaf as a post, and talks like he had a mouthful of mush. Besides, the way he hawks and spits is disgusting." Don't break the engagement for that; tell him to take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will cure him completely. "Well, I'll tell him. I do hate to break it off, for in all other respects he's quite too charming." Of course, it cured his catarrh. o

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had as a bargain. It is a desirable suburban rest dence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

POTT'S DISEASE.

A Bad Curvature Reduced and Entirely Out of Danger.

CHAS CLUTHE, Esq.,

DEAR SIR—This is to state that my boy, aged seven years, was prostrated with Pott's disease of the spine, with very little hopes of recovery. I procured one of your appliances, which was duly fitted, gave great support, and enabled him to run about and play. He is so much improved as to be almost entirely out of danger Yours truly, S. O. HOWELL, Innerkip, Ontario.

A Postmaster Well Pleased.

CHAS. CLUTHE, Esq., Toronto, Ontario.

DEAR SIR—Having met with an accident and requiring a Truss, I obtained three different kinds without securing what I wanted. On the recommendation of one of our leading medical men, I got your Spiral Spring Truss, and I would heartily recommend it to any party requiring such an article. It is a comforting Truss, etc. J. B. TORONTO TOPICS.

Seeing the Sea Serpent—A Fashionable Wedding.

TORONTO, Sept. 18.—A good deal of amusement was caused in the Police Court yesterday morning by the evidence in a swindling case preferred against three not particularly bright-looking young men, named Robert Field, Edward Stafford and Thomas Chambers. They started out to make a living at the expense of green youths from the country, and were succeeding very well until their business prospects were ruined by the interference of the police. Their scheme was to interest young fellows by telling them about a sea serpent that was seen in the bay, and then getting them to bet on a simple trick with a leather strap. John Canning told the court that Field came to him in York-street and asked him if he had seen the sea serpent which had come in during the night. He replied that he had not, and after a couple of drinks they went down to the wharf, but found that the serpent had gone. Field explained that it had been taken to the Zoo, and offered to show him an Indian trick. The trick consisted in folding up a strap and putting a match in one of the loops so that it would be held by the strap when unfolded. He lost $20 on the trick, the other prisoners coming up and encouraging him to bet on it. James McBride, another farmer's assistant, had a similar experience. The three men were remanded until Monday.

When Dan Small and Wm. G. McSherry were arraigned before the Magistrate yesterday on the charge of having obtained $147 by false pretences from Stephen A. Potter, the dead game sport from Windsor, who lost the money by betting that hotel-keeper Danny Small, the athlete, couldn't jump on the Hub counter, and who, when he had lost it, called in the assistance of the police to get the money back, Potter withdrew the charge. The Magistrate drew from him the admission that he had got the money back.

St. George's Church, John-street, was crowded yesterday afternoon with a large and fashionable audience to witness the marriage of Mr. Gamble Geddes and Miss May Jones, daughter of Mrs. M. Jones of 219 Church-street. The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. Dean Geddes, assisted by Rev. John Cayley and Rev. Professor Jones of Trinity College.

The evidence of the railway men called by the Crown in the Dean rape case entirely disproved the statement of Miss Giles that she had been forcibly assaulted in the terrible manner described by her in her story to the police a few days ago, and the accused yardsman was honorably acquitted. Her testimony was flatly contradicted in almost every particular. In the case of indecent assault preferred against Smith, the colored porter, the Crown tendered no evidence, and Smith was dismissed.

A FATAL PRIZE FIGHT.

Thomas E. Jackson, an 18-year-old Boy, Killed in the Ring.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—A brutal prize fight occurred at the saloon of the Daly brothers, local bruisers of considerable note, Monday night, which resulted in the death of one of the participants, Thomas E. Jackson, aged 18 years. Jackson fought Ed. Ahearn, local light-weight champion, 11 bloody rounds and at the opening of the 12th fell fainting in his second's arms. The fight throughout was one of the most desperate and bloody ever witnessed.

When Jackson fell unconscious he was carried to a room over the saloon and physicians were called. They worked vigorously but without avail, and at 11 o'clock yesterday morning Jackson died. At 8 o'clock his mother was notified and sat at her son's bedside completely overcome while the spark of life slowly faded out.

The affair has created intense excitement as prominent people are involved. The referee was the sporting editor of a leading paper. Bob Farrell and Charley Daley seconded Ahearn and Steve Burns and Mike Mooney looked after Jackson.

The dead boy's face is unrecognizable.

The arrest of all parties concerned in the affair has been ordered.

Jackson was known in fighting circles as Jack King and his parents were ignorant of his pugilistic ambition.

SALOONKEEPERS BEFORE THE BAR.

Hamilton's Liquor Sellers in the Police Court—Firemen Asking a Raise.

HAMILTON, Sept. 19.—Sixteen licensed liquor sellers appeared at the bar of the Police Court yesterday to answer to charges of selling liquor contrary to law, and with them were thirteen defendants charged with selling liquor without a license. The prosecution were not ready to proceed and all the cases were remanded until Sept. 18.

Bayside boughs broke into twelve of the stalls in Bastien's boathouses Tuesday night and stole various articles of clothing.

The firemen are agitating for a raise of pay. At present first-class men get $1.47, second-class men $1.31, third-class men $1.18. The third class includes men serving their first three years, second-class four years and first-class seven years and over. They now ask that the pay be: First-class, $1.85 per day; second-class, $1.75, and third-class $1.40.

The Cigarmakers' Convention.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—At yesterday's session of the Cigarmakers International Union President Strasser read his biennial report. It stated that employment was gradually decreasing. The increase in the number of cigars and cheroots produced during the years 1888 and 1889 was much smaller than in 1886 and 1887. It was a noticeable fact that the increase in production was in the districts where the lowest wages were paid. In the districts where high wages are paid there was a decrease in production. The Union has now over 19,000 members, 10,189 were admitted since the last convention and 11,737 suspended. Thirty-eight charters to new unions were granted and 21 unions dissolved. There are now 270 local unions connected with the International Union. In 1877 there were only 17 unions.

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully compat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6d w37

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

A Good Regulator.

DISORDERED kidneys give rise to rheumatism, dropsy, pain in the back and loins, etc., besides many dangerous complaints affecting the kidneys themselves, as Bright's disease, traemia, etc. Regulate the kidneys with Burdock Blood Bitters, the best diuretic and kidney remedy ever devised 2w37d

For Toilet Use.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. —Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

PERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver.

I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly move my bowels, and free my head from pain.—William L. Page, Richmond Va.

GENTLEMEN who are partly or wholly bald should avail themselves of this opportunity to procure a fine Toupee or Wig. Hair Goods are now standard articles of necessity. The sooner you get one or other of the styles, the better for your appearance, your health, your comfort. What gives more attraction to the human person than nice hair? Nothing.

What makes persons more satisfied with themselves than to know that their hair is in proper condition and fashion? Nothing.

What affords more protection to the scalp and delicate organs of the head than a good covering of hair? Nothing These are facts worthy of the greatest consideration. Sooner or later you will arrive at the conclusion that these statements are of importance. Come to the Professor's Show Rooms and see his goods, you are sure to be pleased with the results obtained by wearing them. The Stock is complete and it is certain you will find something to suit you. Remember at PHALEN'S HOTEL, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th and 25th.

Coverings for Bald Heads.

Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto is coming to town. He will be at Phelan's Hotel on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24 and 25. He wants all gentlemen who are bald to come and see his toupees and wigs, they are made of real human hair and so well shaped that they take the place perfectly of the departed growth both as to appearance and protection. If you live out of town don't let that stop you, but come in and Professor will pay your fare both ways. There is now no excuse for you to go bald headed. Come and see the Professor. dw

Is it Proof Positive?

The fact there are about half as many prisoners in jail now as there were a year ago, may or may not be accepted as proof positive of the relative merits of the Crooks Act and the Scott Act as measures of social reform. The best and freshest brands of the best teas kept in stock constantly. Also splendid coffees. Remember the prices are away down. OPERA

"She" at the Opera House To-night.

W. H. Brady's dramatization of "She" will be presented at the Opera House to-night by a strong company, and magnificent scenery and accessories. Referring to the play and the company, the Louisville Commercial says:—"W. A. Brady's dramatization of H. Rider Haggard's mysterious romance of She, who Must be Obeyed," was presented last evening at Masonic Temple. The audience was one of the largest that has been attracted during the season at any theatre. Every seat, upstairs and down, was taken, and a great many stood during the performance. The play is very handsomely and elaborately mounted, and the cast is strong. The character of Ayesha—She—is taken by Miss Marie Renn, who has decided emotional talent and is beautiful enough to satisfy the somewhat trying demands of the part. Her acting throughout was good, and at some points her delineation of the passionate Queen was very powerful. "Ustane," the faithful heathen maiden, divided the honors with "She." This character was well sustained by Miss Helen Corlette. The African sea coast, with the "Negro's Head," was a good spectacular illusion, and was warmly applauded. Altogether the play is the best of the kind that has been presented here this season, and deserves the liberal patronage that it is receiving everywhere.

The Business College.

Business men are constantly applying to us for competent young men and women. At present we have three good positions which we have not students to fill. Young men and women requiring a business training should bear this in mind when they purpose attending any institution. Go to the place where business and professional men will look for their assistants. The value of a practical education cannot be estimated. Give your sons and daughters a good business education and go where they will their services will be in demand. Do not be afraid but situations will be open for them as soon as they are prepared. The Peterborough Business College has every facility for giving a first class business training. Our Short hand and type-writing department was never so complete before. The fall term has just opened. A commercial training costs less and places its possessor in a better position than any other. Nearly every failure in business is caused by a want of knowledge of business principles. Come where you learn systematic method of doing business transactions. Write or apply personally to the principals of the Peterborough Business College for full particulars.

HOUSE

A Timely Visit By Prof. Dorenwend.

Our ladies and gentlemen will be pleased to hear that Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, will visit Peterborough with a large stock of his Hair Goods. He will stop at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24 and 25. As everyone knows he does a large business here and as his stay is limited, it is to be hoped that intending purchasers will not leave their calling to the last hour. The Prof. is making a most liberal offer to those who may have to come from a distance to see him. His attractive posters, with full particulars, will be found hung up in all surrounding towns. The Professor calls special attention to his great variety of transformations, bangs, waves, etc. Among them are pieces that will become every one. In wigs, switches, etc., he can show probably the largest stock in America. His wigs and toupees for gentlemen need but little description, they can advertise themselves, they rival nature in perfection. Our people can consider themselves very fortunate to be able to secure such goods right at home without much trouble, and we hope that they will keep up their reputation of being progressive and up to the times by calling at the Professor's show rooms and securing one of his styles. His stopping place is Phelan's hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24th and 25th.

TO-NIGHT.

The Ottawa Free Press says, the best feature of the fair is Prof. Morris' wonderful company of ponies and dogs. No one can afford to miss it.

EDUCATIONAL LETTERS.

Mr. Earle Replies to Mr. Dumble's Charges.

Number 3.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

MR. EDITOR,—I had intended, in this letter, to enter somewhat fully into Mr. Dumble's charges against the management and general character of the Collegiate Institute; but, pending an investigation by a committee of the Board, I do not think such a course would be wise or seemly. Besides, this part of Mr. Dumble's speech pertains more immediately to Mr. Long, and will, no doubt, be fully answered by that gentleman. I shall confine myself, therefore, to a few general statements, the truth of which will, I am confident, be confirmed by the promised enquiry.

I admit that I have not, at all times, been satisfied with the general order of the School since Mr. Long's appointment, nor, indeed, before he became Principal; but the irregularities of which I have complained were largely, if not mostly due to circumstances, over which Mr. Long had little, or no control, and which will be explained at the proper time. Further, I have expressed my dissatisfaction to Mr. Long and others, but especially to Mr. Long.

With the removal of some of the chief causes, and a more careful attention to the subject on the part of Mr. Long and the other members of the staff, this drawback to the progress of the pupils has disappeared, and the present condition of the School, as regards the moral tone and general department of the pupils, will compare most favourably with its condition at any period during the last sixteen years.

I may further state that the business affairs of the Institute, no inconsiderable part of a Principal's duties, have been more carefully attended to by Mr. Long than by any former Principal since the time of the late Mr. J. B. Dixon.

In entering into this discussion, which has been forced upon me by Mr. Dumble's unscrupulous and malicious attacks, I have not been influenced solely by selfish considerations. In exposing Mr. Dumble's true character, I have discharged a public duty. Such men as he are a constant menace to the peace and well-being of the community. It requires a broad and liberal mind to build up a society or an institution; a narrow and malignant mind may do much in the work of demolition. I am convinced that no institution—no society—no enterprise, whatever—can prosper so long as Mr. Dumble is, in any way, connected with it. His malignity is of such a nature that he cannot fail to exert an evil influence on any cause with which he is associated; and it is commonly understood in Peterborough that Mr. Dumble's support of any measure is, in itself, sufficient to ensure its defeat. Nor is there any prospect of improvement in Mr. Dumble's character. On the contrary, he is constantly growing worse. Defeated in all his other undertakings, he has brought all the duplicity and malignity of his nature to bear on the school question. With the object of obtaining control of the Collegiate Institute appointments, he now seeks to dismember the Board of Education. I wonder, Mr. Editor, if there is anything from the School board to the British Empire, that Mr. Dumble does not wish to see dismembered.

It is much to be regretted that such men as Mr. Dumble should be appointed to important public positions. I do not say that Mr. Dumble has made any gross abuse of his power as Police Magistrate; but I do say that his conduct, in other matters, cannot fail to weaken the public confidence in the fairness of his decisions.

The character of the judiciary should be above reproach; and all thinking men will admit that it is more important that the people believe in the impartiality of the administration of justice than that justice be impartially administered.

How widely different, in this respect, is the conduct of Mr. Dumble from that of our county Judge!

The task which I undertook to perform is nearly finished. I have acknowledged my faults; I am trying to atone for them. At the time of Mr. Dumble's last attack, I was actively engaged in the work of temperance reform; and it is not one of my least causes for regret that I have been compelled to suspend my efforts in that direction.

I have shown that Mr. Dumble's attacks on my personal character have been prompted by malice, and have lost their force by the removal of the only real cause of complaint; I have shown that the standing of the English department is and has been, as high, at least, as that of any other; I have shown that the failures at the last Departmental examinations were not, as Mr. Dumble says, due to my "bad teaching," but that they are to be found, chiefly, in the other departments; I have shown that Mr. Dumble's objects, in these attacks, are to inflict a lasting injury on Mr. Long and myself, and to secure the control of Collegiate Institute affairs; I have shown that Mr. Dumble is malignant and mendacious, an unfaithful member of the School Board, inimical to the best interests of education, a dangerous citizen, a bad man; and I now call upon all true friends of education to trown down these continued efforts of Mr. Dumble to gratify private malice at the public expense.

I have not answered Mr. Dumble's questions, because the public will not expect me to answer them. My friends will not wish me to descend to his arena; my enemy will not have that satisfaction. I prefer the weapons of a gentlemen, because the use of them is more congenial to my nature, and more suitable to my condition. A rich man may afford to be a ruffian; I cannot afford it.

I thank my friends for their kind expressions of sympathy; I thank Mr. Dumble for the opportunity he has afforded me of putting these matters fairly before the public; and I thank you, Mr. Editor for so generously placing your columns at my disposal.

I remain, Mr. Editor,
Very Truly Yours,
BARTON EARLE.

The Pony and Dog Paradox.

Prof. Morris, America's Youngest and Most Successful Trainer, With His Great Show

This remarkable, interesting, and unique show will be presented in Bradburn's Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 25th and 26th, and matinee on Thursday afternoon. The company is the only one of the kind in the world, consisting of 11 beautiful East India ponies that only weigh from 150 to 300 pounds each, and 25 educated dogs that do everything but talk. Of the show the Springfield News says:—

The Opera House was crowded last night by an audience bent on seeing Prof. Morris' trained dogs and horses. Most everybody has seen two or three horses in a circus ring, bridled and bitted, execute a few movements guided by the whip of the trainer, but a troop of ordinary stubborn ponies, with much of the zebra in their natures, turned loose upon the stage of an opera house, executed by word of command, a military drill that would put many a military company to blush, for the comparative inefficiency, is not a common sight.

The intelligence of the horse Romeo is beyond belief until demonstrated by his work. He not only leads the military drill, but steps up to his master and kisses him, plays see-saw on a tottering board, walks on his hind feet, goes through a little love scene with Juliet, and mounts a stairway to the top of a revolving pyramid, which reaches almost to the flies. The other little ponies also do many wonderful things.

Then comes the happy family of canine wonders, who do almost everything but talk. The old clown, Major, who keeps everybody in a roar with his funny antics, and the nine leaping dogs, among whom is Polyetta, the great English greyhound, who leaps a distance of 36 feet, rising fifteen feet feet in the air—a most phenomenal feat. Also Schneider, the wonderful tight-rope walker, Budgey, the ladies' and children's pet, the Romany Rye dogs, Don Pedro and St. Mark, and some thirty other clever canines, who, together with the ponies, close the entertainment.

The intelligence of the animals is almost human. The professor does not use a whip; he has trained all the animals by kindness alone.

VOL. IX NO. 69. PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

THE QUEBEC CALAMITY.

TERRIBLE SCENES OF SUFFERING AND DEATH.

Twenty-five Dead Bodies Recovered—Some of the Victims Shockingly Mangled—Painful Incidents.

QUEBEC, Sept. 21.—The horrors of the dreadful disaster are still succeeding each other. While workers were busy clearing away the debris of a crumbled building faint groans were heard at intervals from under the huge pile of rock. The efforts of the volunteers were concentrated to that point, and after three hours' hard work the bleeding body of Joe Kemp was extricated from under the mass of rock. The poor man was in the most miserable condition. Both legs were broken at the knees, the left arm was fractured above the elbow and several ribs were also fractured. Kemp will not live. He is unconscious.

Two hours later his wife's body was taken out of the wreck. Her head was almost severed from the body, and indications of the most revolting and violent death were apparent.

Further away another hideous spectacle was offered to sight. The corpse of a young woman, Mrs. Lawson, who had been admired in her lifetime both for her beauty and amiability, was extricated from under a rafter, on which about ten tons of stone were lying. She was smashed almost flat, the abdomen was ripped open, her entrails were scattered about. Her husband, at the sight of his beloved wife's remains, became frantic and is now insane for perhaps the remainder of his life.

A man named Michael Bradley, who had gone almost crazy when told all his family had perished in the landslide, discovered while working over the wreck of his house his 5-year-old daughter still alive. His joy was indescribable. He kissed and patted the mangled form, called her by endearing names, fondled her as a mother would her baby. It is thought the child will live.

Up to this time the number of corpses found is 25 and the wounded 18. The city is thronged with strangers coming from all parts of the Quebec district to witness the effects of the terrible avalanche.

Preparations are being made for the funeral of the killed who will be buried at the joint expense of the city and the local Government. Among those buried by the rocks are a young couple named Nolan, who were married a few weeks ago. Nolan could have escaped but lost his life in trying to get his wife out of the house. It is thought the King's bastion on the citadel will have to be removed as it is now so much nearer the edge of the rock with unsafe crevices in front of it. As a precautionary measure all communication with the bastion has been cut off and the morning and evening guns will no longer be fired from it.

Some 20,000 persons have visited the scene of the disaster during the day, have crowded into the morgue and seized every point inside and outside the building where a glimpse could be had of the bodies of the victims. Many women who obtained an entrance had to be removed in a fainting condition — the mangled bodies being a sight to try the nerves of the strongest men. Yesterday afternoon it was decided to use small charges of powder to break up the huge boulders covering the roadway, as it is a certainty that there can be nothing living beneath them.

At the meeting of the City Council held last night a resolution was adopted voting the sum of $5000 towards the relief of the sufferers by the disaster. A report was read by Engineer Baillairge showing that he had warned the Federal Government years ago of the danger from the condition of the rock at the place where the accident occurred.

A RICH HAUL BY BURGLARS.

Harmless Pistol Shots Enable Them to Carry Off Nearly $2000.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 21.—Charles Brodie died at Fredericton while undergoing a surgical operation under the influence of chloroform.

Two burglars entered the house of Alfred Sheridan, at Buctouche, frightened the hired man and girl by firing pistol shots, and carried off a trunk containing nearly $2000.

The heavy rains have done much good extinguishing the forest fires which have been burning for weeks, and also raising the water in the river so that logs which have been hung up can get to the mills and a lumber famine averted. An inch of rain fell in St. John in half an hour. More rain fell in twenty-four hours than in the preceding six weeks.

The Zurich Fair.

ZURICH, Sept. 21.—The annual fair of the Hay Agricultural Association was held here yesterday. The entries were fully up to last year's. The inside show was extra good, grain, roots, vegetables and fruits were very good considering the dry season. The show of horses and cattle was fair only, machinery was not well represented. An interesting feature was the electric town clock invented by G. Hess of Zurich, which was in full operation on the grounds. The receipts at the gate were about 1-4 of last year's. There was a constant downpour of rain from morning till night and it was very stormy. The officers of the society are well pleased with the result.

Tired of Life.

PARKHILL, Sept. 21.—On Thursday, John McDonald, 16th con session West Williams, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. About 4.30 p.m. he went up into the garret of his house, taking with him his razor and looking-glass. Placing the looking-glass on the window ledge he deliberately cut his throat from ear to ear, severing the windpipe and exposing the back bone. The reason he gave for committing this act was that he was tired of life, but he afterwards expressed his sorrow for having attempted his life. There are no hopes of his recovery. He is a married man, about 60 years of age, and has a grown up family.

Van Blaricum's Defective Memory.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 21.—Van Blaricum, who shot Fleming, was arrested Thursday night and arraigned before T. G. Gillespie, J.P., who, after hearing the evidence committed him for trial at Cobourg. Van Blaricum says he remembers nothing about purchasing the revolver and when arrested was lying outdoors.

Bail Refused Hambly's Assailants.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 21.—At the conclusion of the Baltic investigation the prisoners, Thomas Russell, Aaron Tripp, Kenneth McFadyen and George Daggett were committed to jail to stand their trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction. Bail was refused.

The World's Fair Site.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. The committee on site and buildings of the World's Fair have decided that the location of the fair should be between 97th and 127th streets, 4th avenue and the North River, including Riverside Park and Morningside Park and the property contiguous thereto, the north end of Central Park to be used only in case of there being an absolute necessity for it.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

AN ASSURANCE WHICH PLEASES PETERBORO.

Austro-Hungary Sends a Specialist to Inspect the Workings of the Guelph Agricultural College.

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 Mr. Stevenson, M.P., who was here in reference to the Peterboro custom house and inland revenue building, has left for home. Sir Hector Langevin promised him that as the difficulty of the site had been overcome the building should be commenced forthwith.

His Lordship the Bishop of Ontario and Mrs. Lewis have arrived in the city from Montreal. Mrs. Lewis is feeling rather fatigued on account of the very stormy passage that was experienced coming over in the Sarnia.

Dr. Martin Wilckins, chief professor of anatomy and physiology of domestic animals at the Royal and Imperial Agricultural University at Vienna, Austria, arrived in town yesterday afternoon from England. The professor bears letters of introduction from the Austrian Embassy in England to Sir Alexander Campbell, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and to several Ontario and Dominion ministers and officials. He has been sent out by the Austro-Hungarian Government to inspect the workings of the Guelph Agricultural College which, the professor says, is very highly spoken of in European agricultural circles. He will also examine into the agricultural, dairying, cattle and horse raising industries of the Province of Ontario specially and Canada generally. Forestry is also included in his program.

Suit was entered yesterday in the Exchequer Court by the representatives of the Sparke estate to recover from the Government a huge block of property in the heart of the city. When the Rideau Canal was constructed Nicholas Sparks gave the right of way through his property and in addition strips of land 200 feet wide on each side of the canal on certain conditions. It is now claimed by his heirs that these conditions have not been observed and they want the land back. The area in question includes 200 feet on each side of the canal from Wellington-street to Maria-street. Part of the postoffice and custom house stands on this, also Bales' wharehouse, coal and wood yard and private dwelling. All sorts of estimates are put on the value involved.

To Prevent Smuggling.

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—The Northwest Mounted Police patrol have for a time been doing preventive and custom officers' duty on the international boundary in Manitoba and the territories. Their services will, however, not be required there much longer. As an outcome of the Minister of Customs' tour in the west preventive stations and custom houses to the number of six or more will be established along the boundary throughout the territories.

Atty.-General Martin Returns to Winnipeg.

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—Hon. Joseph Martin, Attorney General of Manitoba, who returned to the city yesterday from a trip to the States, left with his wife for Winnipeg last night.

Cannonque Cheese Board.

CANANOQUE, Sept. 21.—At the Cheese Board yesterday six factories were represented, 2015 boxes were registered, 9½ cents offered, no sales effected, only one buyer present.

A Big Blow.

KINGSTON, Sept. 21.—A heavy gale from the west set in Thursday night and still continues. The steamer Spartan, which left Thursday evening for Toronto, was compelled to run back and will return to Montreal from here.

THE SPHERE OF SPORT.

Racing in England—Yesterday's Ball Games Standing of the Clubs.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—At Manchester yesterday the race for the September plate was won by Baird's Barcarolle.

The race for the breeders' foal stakes (1700 sovereigns) was won by Houldsworth's Ponza.

R. Gladstone's Redsand captured the September handicap.

Turf Notes.

The winners at Gravesend yesterday were Oregon, Taragon, Belle d'Or, Gregory, Aurania and Mute.

The event at Fleetwood Park yesterday, the $5000 stake for 2.30 trotters, was won by Prince Regent, best time (Katherine's) 2.22 1-2. The other winners were Moonlight and Sensation.

THE CURRENT FAILED.

An Electric Railway Accident—One Passenger Killed and a Score Injured.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 21.—A car on the electric railway up Mission Ridge had nearly reached the top on the steep track yesterday when the electric current failed. The car started down the mountain at great speed. The conductor shouted to the passengers to jump off. The car contained 50 people, one-half of the party being ladies. A panic seized the passengers and they began leaping from the car.

Mrs. Mary Adams was killed. About 10 were dangerously and 6 seriously injured.

Sixteen Years for Stealing 13 Cents.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Judge Cowing yesterday sentenced Henry Fitzgerald to 16 years at hard labor in Sing Sing for robbing Henry Eckenauer of 13 cents in Tompkins square. The sentence seemed slightly out of proportion to the amount stolen, but the offence was highway robbery and the prisoner had just come out of Sing Sing prison for a similar crime and had served two terms before that.

TRANSATLANTIC FLASHES

CANADIAN RAILWAY STOCKS IN LONDON.

Sir Edwin Arnold's Letters An Eminent Gynecologist Believes that Jack the Ripper is an Insane Woman.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—There is very little stirring in Canadian circles here just now; though Sir Edwin Arnold's letters in The Telegraph seem likely to attract a good deal of attention in the city. Canadian Pacific stocks continue to be largely dealt in, but prices now show a slight relapse from the high figures current at the beginning of the week, owing to the desire of many bulls to take present profits. Grand Trunks are somewhat dull, for though the total increase in traffic for the current half-year is highly satisfactory, recent returns are below the market forecast.

A Jack the Ripper Theory.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Lawson-Tait, the eminent gynecologist, to-day said he was of the opinion that the Whitechapel, Chelsea and Battersea murders were committed by the same criminal, probably a lunatic woman employed in a slaughter house and subject to fits of epileptic furor.

Nine Were Drowned.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The steamer Florence foundered in the Irish Sea yesterday while en route from Garston to Belfast. Nine persons were drowned.

A Believer in Coercion.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Marquis of Londonderry, the retiring Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in a speech at Stockton yesterday, said he believed that twenty years of coercion would pacify Ireland.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

Bradstreet's Review of the State of Trade —The Crop Outlook Promising.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—A marked increase of activity in leading distributive lines throughout the west is reported this week in special telegrams to Bradstreet's. Stormy weather on the east Atlantic coast has interrupted distribution.

Crop prospects, particularly corn and cotton, remain very promising. Sugar crop prospects are less bright but a large yield is still anticipated. Cattle and hogs are more active at the west at variable prices.

Stock speculation resisted the pressure of western rate cutting and of higher money, and even showed revived bullish tendencies at the close of the week. Bonds are dull and firm, money at New York has worked higher on small bond acceptances and a drain of the bank reserves to the west; call loans 5 per cent.; foreign exchange is steady and shows a slight decline: demand sterling, $4.87 1-2 to $4.87 3-4.

Net earnings of eighty railway companies for July aggregate $16,182,580, against $13,348,727 last July, an increase of over 21 per cent. The increase for the seven months is 11.8 per cent.

Domestic iron markets are all strong in tone with an advancing tendency on active demand. Copper is selling freely at the late decline, production active. The coal trade lacks snap but is expected to improve with the advent of cooler weather.

Wheat speculation has been limited, with frequent but narrow fluctuations. Corn is off 1 1-2 to 2 1-4 cents on increased offerings and improved crop reports. Contract oats are 1-8 to 3-8 lower on the week. Flour was active at a slight decline.

Drygoods jobbers at New York and Boston report a reaction from early September activity, accentuated in some measure by stormy weather on several days of the week.

Wool is inactive at seaboard markets. Buyers and sellers are wide apart as regards prices. Spot cotton is duller and 1-8c lower, but speculation is more active and 20 to 30 points higher on the near months contracts, owing to the squeeze of September shorts.

Coffee speculation has been active but bearish in tone, with a decline of 1-4 to 3-8c on contracts.

WITHIN THE ARCTIC CIRCLE.

Adventurous Englishmen Heard From—Disgusted Dakota Farmers.

WINNIPEG, Sep. 21. — Word has been received from Count de Sainville and Hon. Mr. Everest, who left Winnipeg a couple of months ago for the Arctic circle. They had passed Fort Chippeweyan, and are now about the mouth of the Mackenzie river. They intend going around Point Barrow—the most northerly point of Alaska, where the American government is establishing a relief station. They expect to meet an American vessel there. While crossing Lake Athabaska they were caught in a terrible storm, and their boats were driven on an extensive mud deposit. When the water receded they were left about two miles from open water, to which they had to portage their boats and dunnage.

D. D. Campbell, a farmer from Dakota is here looking for locations for himself and $25 other families, who are disgusted with their condition in Dakota.

Rev. Mr. Bentreath has arrived from England with 35 good settlers. During his stay in England he secured $3,000 for the new Christ church.

Regina is making extensive preparations for the reception of Lord Stanley.

Winnipeg will probably purchase two parks, one at the north end, and the other at the south end of the city.

These Rat Holes Were Gold Mines.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Martin Freeman, a miserly farmer, of Napoli, does not place his faith in banks, but hides his wealth in chimneys, old stoves and rat holes —and last night two men entered his house, walked up stairs and soon went out. Freeman's mother, who is over 80 years old was alone in the house and thought her son was one of the visitors. Freeman and his hired man returned soon after and the old woman asked him who had gone up stairs with him. Investigation showed that the robbers had ransacked all the rat holes and hiding places they could discover, and had carried off $1000 mostly in gold —but they overlooked $1500 hidden in other places.

Grand Trunk Earnings.

MONTREAL, Sept 20.—The traffic returns of the G.T.R. for the week ending Sept. 17 amounted to $450,612, as against $429,900 for the same period last year, an increase of $20,712.

The Canopus at Quebec.

SOUTH QUEBEC, Sept. 21.—The steamship Canopus, from Montreal to Liverpool, which put back from Fame Point with her cargo on fire, arrived at the Grand Trunk wharf at 5 p.m. yesterday. The Levis fire engines immediately commenced work. The cattle and sheep are all comfortably housed in the Grand Trunk cattle yards. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage until the cargo is unloaded.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 21.—There are 23 civil cases and two prisoners for trial at the assizes which open on Monday before Judge McMahon.

Entries for the district fair, which is to be opened on Tuesday by Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture, are so numerous that all the stabling accommodation has been taken.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Falling Off in the Exhibition Receipts —Retires From the Ontario Gazette.

TORONTO, September 21. — The Laurier Reception Committee met last night to make arrangements for the coming of the Reform Leader. Mr. Laurier will arrive in Toronto, Sunday morning, Sept. 29, will register at the Rossin House, the guest of the Young Men's Liberal Association of Toronto. On the following Tuesday afternoon he will be tendered a reception at the Reform Club.

About 6.30 yesterday morning as Mr. George Cliff was walking past cattle shed No. 7 at the Exhibition, he was called by an employe of Russell Bros., who said that there had been a child left in the second stall in the corner behind one of their cows. Mr. Cliff at once took the child, which was apparently almost dead, over to Mr. Houlgrave's large eating tent, where Mrs. Houlgrave and other kind-hearted women started at once to resuscitate the child, and after having worked hard, by means of warm baths, changes of clothes, etc., succeeded to a degree. The child seemed to have been drugged, as it has not come fully to consciousness. Mrs. Thompson, who is working in Houlgrave's lunch tent, is going to adopt the child, she having lost her own a few months ago by death.

Selby G. Allen was yesterday committed for trial on the charge of embezzling moneys of H. E. Hamilton & Co., by whom he was employed as bookkeeper. Bail was allowed in two sureties of $500.

George and Edward, two members of the notorious Pearce family, were yesterday convicted of shooting at Police Constable Lilly with intent to kill. As will be remembered, both have been convicted in two burglary cases this week.

William H. Dean, the printer, who was arrested a couple of weeks ago at Newmarket on a charge of having seduced a young girl named Marion Atkinson, of Toronto, and who was afterwards charged with abducting her, was called into court yesterday to answer to the charges, when Staff-Inspector Archabold replied that he had no evidence to offer as Dean had condoned his offence by marrying the girl.

Francis A. Eddis, Toronto, and Herbert Hotman, Millbrook, have been appointed notaries public.

The village of Leamington, Essex Co., by official census shows a population of over 2000 and is therefore made a town.

These companies have been incorporated: Cannington Electric Light Company (limited), capital $3000: Penetanguishene Shipping Company (limited), capital $10,000; Bancroft Iron Company (limited), capital $1,000,000; Brighton Fair Trading and Elevator Company (limited), capital $3000.

The famous arbitration between the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Government, which has been in progress all week at Osgoode Hall, was yesterday adjourned until Jan. 1 at Ottawa.

Mary Bryan, a housemaid in the home of John Morison, Jarvis-street, was found dead in her bed yesterday morning. She retired at 11 o'clock the previous night and, it is thought, after shutting off the gas turned it on again. Her room was full of gas in the morning when entered at 7 o'clock and the physicians said she had been dead four hours. Mary and her three sisters came to Canada three years ago from the county of Wicklow, Ireland.

The exhibition receipts this year are $57,309,90. Last year they were $59,556.70.

ON STORMY LABRADOR.

The British Warship Lily Wrecked—Seven Men Lost.

HALIFAX, Sept. 21.—The British warship Lily has been wrecked on the Labrador coast and seven men lost. The crew are on their way to Halifax on the warship Emerald.

Considerable money and valuables went down with her. Nothing was saved. The Lily was a composite gun vessel of 720 tons burthen and 830 horse-power.

THE BRAIN (From a photograph.)
In Healthy Condition. With Paresis Lesions.

There are many well known men confined in our Asylums who but a short time ago were prominent among our business and social circles.

Why are they there?

Paresis!

Did it come on at once?

Not at all. It was a gradual but positive growth. They overtaxed nature. The drain on their vitality, their nerve powers, their brain tissue, was too great, and they gradually but surely sank under it. The things they did to bring this sad end about are precisely the same things that are being done by thousands of men and women to-day. It is not necessary to name them. They all end disastrously unless checked or regulated.

Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College, Knew this fully when he began his experiments which resulted in the discovery of the wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. He realized that paresis (consumption of the brain) was our great National weakness. He knew that the brain and nervous system must be fortified to meet the great strains which modern life bring upon it. He saw that men were becoming debilitated and women weakened by the pressure and demands of life, and he sought and discovered the remedy Paine's Celery Compound, if rightly taken will renew the brain and build up nerve tissues as fast as they become exhausted. It is not a narcotic. It contains no drugs, no nostrums. It is perfectly pure. It is absolutely harmless. The high character of its discoverer guarantees this, and the indorsement of the medical and chemical professions prove it.

MANY MEN OF MANY MINDS

Sermon By Layman.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

One of the strongest peculiarities of mankind is their total want of union upon anyone subject. No matter what that subject may be there will always be displayed a diversity of sentiment with respect to it, whether it be for the benefit of all workers no differences, man cannot even agree upon the truths of the Bible, nor can they agree upon how best to find the road to heaven, nor can they agree even upon the existence of a God, nor upon His goodness and His dealings with the world, nor can they agree upon the right or the wrong of any one civil subject. Well may it be said "Many men of many minds, "Many birds of many kinds, "Many fishes in the sea, "Many men can't agree." These things prove that man is a free agent, and being such, is responsible for all his actions, both civilly and spiritually. He does not appear to realize this responsibility, but he is responsible all the same. He may make light of his duties and his objections in this respect He may laugh at those who remind him of them, but the time will come when he will think differently, and will wish that he had done so all along. A man, for instance, breaks the laws of the land, warn him not to do so and he will get angry, and will tell you to be gone. He thinks differently from his friends, and so he goes on his way, violating the land and violating the rights of society at the same time. He lies, he cheats, he steals, and he even commits murder, but the hour of vengeance is approaching. He stands in the dock, a criminal, and he is tried and punished. Then, and not till then, he sees himself as he is. He sees himself as others see him. He is become an outlaw, he is treated as an outlaw and is

ASHAMED AND DESPISED BY HIS FELLOWMEN.

Mankind cannot agree upon any one single principle, either in religious, political or social life. Their dominant passion seems to be to agree to disagree. Now matter how advantageous any given subject may be, people will insist upon viewing it from different standpoints, and through different interests and feelings. Religious communities vary in their character, and differ as to the right way to Heaven, while professing the same faith and while professing to be guided by the same Bible, they yet will claim that all the others are pursuing the wrong road: and one man insists that all others are fallible but himself, and that he alone is infallible. And religious teachers look upon their hearers as unworthy of consideration, so that their is a difference of opinion among the laity and between, the laity and their ministers also: and the churches not only disagree, but they persecute one another. One church because it happens to be the politico-religious head of a nation, and is supported in princely splendour, becomes proud and arrogant and forms an aristocracy of religion, which is pampered with immense wealth, and waited upon by numbers of dependents and servants. When Christ came into the world He came in obscurity and poverty, and the people received Him not. They wanted a Saviour clothed in majesty and power. And they not only denied Christ, but they persecuted and killed Him; and from thenceforth the world was governed by a despotic church, built upon the overthrow of purer religion, and from that time to the present day the various churches have vied with each other as to whose teachings should be supreme. The salvation of men's souls was of only a secondary consideration. It was that was sought after. And in politics it is just the same. We see some striving and struggling with each other for political power and wealth. One set of men holding to one view and another set of men holding to another view. One set of men claiming dominancy and another set of men resisting that dominancy and asking for what they think is justice and right. One set of men insisting upon governing the nation according to their views and feelings and another set of men proclaiming an opposite course. And we see nations disagreeing and going to war to enforce their opinions. And whether right or wrong it is all the same. Hundreds of millions of people are kept in ignorance and bondage because a comparatively few believe that this state of things must be perpetuated. And these few have always managed to secure political power and have always managed to rule. And this is called freedom of opinion. The ignorant and the poor are purposely kept ignorant and poor. And when this cannot be secured peaceably it is secured by force and violence. And the free use of money is sometimes made to accomplish that which all other means fail to secure. Ignorance and poverty go together and are kept together, and are made to work together. And the masses can do nothing to ameliorate their conditions because of the variety of their opinions and because of the diversity of their actions. It is the old story of "many men of many minds." And this being so, they are powerless to help or to save. This great ruling principle has prevaded men's nature from the earliest times to the present day and is likely to continue to do so to the end of time. And just so long as the masses keep apart and are governed by no solid influences just so long and just so long will they be made use of by the few—who always stand together and work together to save their own interests, and this their defendants and dupes will yet see, and when they do so they will learn to unite also and learn to agree upon matters of general concern, and learn to give up their differences. And when they do this, and, moreover, when they learn to keep themselves free from the weakening and demoralizing influences of strong drink, and learn to respect themselves and to merit respect from others, they will stand upon higher ground and will no longer be humble, depending upon the will of others. Divide and govern has ever been the rule not only in political but in social life. The diversity of men's opinions is so great that a clever designing man can easily effect almost anything, the more especially as people will not give up their differences of opinion even though they know and are shown the necessity of doing so. Every one thinks he alone is right and no common ground upon which to resist those who take advantage of their weakness. In purely social life these differences of opinion are still more apparent, and still more injurious. They are found everywhere and among all classes of people. From the Queen on the throne to the humblest of her subjects. Every one setting up a standard of his own superiority, and every one thinking himself better than his neighbour. Real, honest, sober worth has nothing to do in this matter. It is a code founded upon the will of each individual, and the weaker and sillier the individual, and the more unworthy, the more he persists in his foolishness. To tell such that the poor and the needy is to say what he will not believe, and some can go so far as to declare that if such is the kingdom of heaven he does not want to go there, and there are more of such people in the world than is generally supposed. But they strut out their short stay and then disappear and their very names are forgotten. Their thoughts were all of this life, but when they, in all their weakness and with all their sins, stand before their Creator, awaiting their doom, they see things differently, and they realize then that all men are brothers before the Lord, and that all worldly pretensions and exclusiveness are not only pure foolishness but sinful. There is no such thing as agreement about any subject. No matter how similar their interests, yet people will not go by the same road, nor seek to help one another. Like all animal life, from man himself to the very lowest organization the strong prey upon the weak. It seems to be an inherent law of their nature. Why is it that when the inhabitants of a country try to get up a revolution in nine cases out of ten they fail. The question is easily answered. The reason is because the people will not think together and work together. Every man has a plan of his own and the result is that they are divided and split up into small sections and fall an easy prey to their oppressors. No matter how great their provocation, no matter how great their oppression, still they will not unite and work together Everyone thinks he knows best and if his opinions are not adopted he goes away and becomes perhaps an enemy as well. Let men then try to think alike and to do right Let the very lowest of them learn to feel that he is a man, one of God's creatures, and try to realise that, if he is an honest, sober man, he is as good as the best. Let him ever look onward and upward and he will do well.

WILL THEY BE RULED BY THE FEW

"Yes; I shall break the engagement," she said folding her arms and looking defiant; it is really too much trouble to converse with him; he's as deaf as a post, and talks like he had a mouthful of mush. Besides, the way he hawks and spits is disgusting." Don't break the engagement for that; tell him to take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will cure him completely. "well, I'll tell him. I do hate to break it off, for in all other respects he's quite too charming." Of course, it cured his catarrh. c

Rely on This.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for three years, and can always rely upon it as a speedy cure for diarrhœa and all summer complaints. I can recommend it highly and I wish you every success.—MRS. W. FOWLER. 12 Oxford St. Toronto. 2w37d

A Corrupt System.

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

Constant Care.

CONSTANT care is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler,s Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 2w37d

AUCTION SALE

I am instructed by James Stevenson and George A. Cox, Esquires, to sell by Public Auction, the following Valuable Properties in the Town of Peterborough.

AT THE COURT HOUSE,

—ON—

Friday, 27th Sept.

1889, AT 2 P.M.

Parcel 1.

The Eastland Terrace, Stewart street, 5 Tenements.

Parcel 2.

The Large Stone House, corner of Hunter and Stewart streets, occupied by Mr. Atkell, frontage on Hunter street, 114 feet, by a depth of 118 feet to a lane.

Parcel 3.

The New Brick Terrace on corner of Hunter and Bethune streets, Lot, 114 feet x 140 feet to a lane. Four Tenements.

Parcel 4.

4 Houses on Bethune Street, in rear of the terrace. These are comfortable houses.

Parcel 5.

The West Half of Lot 5, west of George street, and south of Simcoe street. This lot has a comfortable brick dwelling house, 36 feet by 25 feet, with kitchen. It lies nearly opposite the residence of James Stevenson, Esq.

Parcel 6.

Two Handsome Shops on George st., part of lot 1, north of Brock street, and east of George street; 32 feet on George street, by 84 in depth. These shops lie immediately north of the old post office block, and were formerly occupied by Francis Mason and D. Breese—a good business stand.

Parcel 7.

Part of Lot 2, north of Brock street and east of George street, 50 feet frontage on Water street by 114 feet in depth, with right of way over lane. This land lies immediately opposite the Court House Park, next south of Dr. Halliday's, and has two very handsome semi-detached brick dwellings.

Parcel 8.

Part of Block A, Charlotte street, frontage on Charlotte street 30 feet, by a depth of 90 feet to a lane. It is opposite the Charlotte street Methodist church. There is a comfortable two-story dwelling house on this property.

Parcel 9.

Leasehold Property, part of the Market Block, being the shop recently occupied by J. W. Flavelle as a flour and feed store, and the adjoining 2 shops, frontage on Simcoe street 50 feet, by a depth of 70 feet. This is a substantial 3-story building, in a good business stand. The lease is renewable, and has 13 years unexpired. Ground rent $62.50 a year. Present rental $550, and only partly occupied.

Parcel 10.

Three Quarters of an Acre lying south of the G. T. R. Railway, being parts of lots 8 and 9, north of Rink street and west of George street.

All the above valuable properties will be sold in order to enable the owners to wind up a joint business.

TERMS.—10 per cent. down at time of sale, 10 per cent. in one month, and the balance in 5 yearly payments at 6 per cent., payable yearly.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Cot'y Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had as a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchanics should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

SHE DIED IN A CHIMNEY-TOP.

The Body of a Policeman's Widow Obstructed the Smoke Eleven Days.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Phillip McAllister uttered a cry of horror yesterday afternoon as he withdrew his hand from the top of a flue which he had been sent to clean, on the premises owned by Daniel Cunningham, at No. 173 Cherry-street. The flue had been refractory for several days, and the occupants of the house were impatient to have again an outlet for the smoke from a cooking range. The first act of the chimney-sweep was to thrust his hand down the top of the flue, and what he brought up was a quantity of hair from the head of a dead woman.

This startling discovery solved the mystery of the disappearance since Sept. 8 of Mary Ann Kenney, widow of Policeman James Kenney, who died in May last. Mrs. Kenney was a comely woman of 25 years. She married the policeman about six years ago and seems to have led an unusually happy married life. Kenney was stricken with quick consumption and went to Florida in April, but the trip did him no good, and he died the day after he reached home. Mrs. Kenney, who occupied the top floor of the Cherry-street flat, never recovered from her loss, and grieved until her reason became unhinged. She would often go to the Fourth Precinct Police Station, with which her husband had been connected, and ask for him. Then she would go over what had been his beat on Roosevelt-street and walk over it for hours at a time. One of her hallucinations was that she owed a debt of $15, and she was in constant fear that she would be arrested and disgrace her husband. She would try to hide from imaginary pursuers and would seek the most out-of-the-way places in her efforts to escape. Her sister, Mrs. Jane Molloy, was with the demented woman most of the time, and, with other friends, watched over her tenderly, hoping that she would regain her reason.

Mrs. Kenney seemed more rational than usual, Saturday, Sept. 8, and her sister ventured to leave her alone for a few minutes. When she returned Mrs. Kenney had disappeared. A search made by the police throughout the city and advertisements in the newspapers all failed to discover any trace of the unfortunate woman.

The chimney on the premises in which the body was found yesterday was about 15 inches square and just large enough to let a person of Mrs. Kenney's slender build crowd down into it four or five feet, but once in it became a trap from which it was impossible to escape. She had gone down as far as she could and was there entombed for eleven days. Whether she died of starvation or met with a speedier death from suffocation could not be determined. Her face was turned upward, and her left hand, on which was her wedding ring, was raised above her head. The chimney was torn down until the head and shoulders were exposed when a rope was passed round the body. It took the united strength of several men to pull it up. The body was dressed just as when Mrs. Kenney disappeared, and its condition was such as to show that she must have died soon after leaving the house.

Suspected of Murder.

CAMDEN, N.J., Sept. 20.—Chalkley Leconey, suspected of murdering his niece, Annie Leconey, near Merchantaville, arrived here yesterday from Waverley, O., in charge of officers. The murdered girl's father, H. Laconey, who is one of the staunchest believers in his brother's innocence, accompanied the party. Chalkley Leconey, after a private examination in Prosecutor Jenkins' office, was locked in a cell. John Lesconey bitterly denounced the suspicion against Chalkley. He declared Chalkley treated Annie as a daughter and no one was more anxious than Chalkley to discover the villain. Being told that the negro Lingo was still in jail, John said significantly, "Keep him there."

Fire in Collingwood.

COLLINGWOOD, Sept. 20.—Callary Block, consisting of seven stores, photograph gallery, dentists' rooms and telegraph and telephone office, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday night. The fire broke out in rear of Durnford Bros.' grocery, and the block being all of wood soon spread to the adjoining stores. The losers are: B. Callary, drygoods, stock partly removed and damaged; Durnford Bros., grocery; Hocking & McFadden, hardware and stores; F. J. Telfer, telegraph and express office; Durnford Roche & Co., general store; Mechanics' Institute and Masonic Hall. These, all being tenants, lose their stock either by fire or damage. Callary Block, wood, is totally destroyed; Lindsey's brick block, occupied by Durnford Roche & Co., Mechanics' Institute and Masonic Hall, is considerably damaged but not destroyed. A heavy rain was falling at the time and little wind, otherwise the destruction would have been a great deal worse.

The Murderer Unknown.

CASSELMAN, Sept. 20.—The inquest in the case of the murdered man, Monette, closed Wednesday evening. A verdict was returned of murder by persons unknown. The young man Lamoureux, who boarded with Monette, was suspected, but the evidence was not sufficient to warrant his detention. The gun of the murdered man was found in the river not far from the body, with the stock broken and the locks smeared with blood and hair.

A Gigantic Cuttle Fish.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Sept. 20.—A telegram from Holyrood, Conception Bay, states that Captain Neilson of the schooner McLean had arrived, having on board a salted squid (commonly called devil fish or "big squid") which he had picked up on the Banks. Its tentacles were 44 feet long, its arms 9 feet. It was estimated to weigh 900 pounds.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. — Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

HAIR GOODS

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

He will be in Peterborough, at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24th and 25th.

LADIES should see his New Styles in Frontpieces, Bangs, Waves, Plain and Fluffy Switches, Wigs &c.

GENTLEMEN who are partly or wholly bald should avail themselves of this opportunity to procure a fine Toupee or Wig. Hair Goods are now standard articles of necessity. The sooner you get one or other of the styles, the better for your appearance, your health, your comfort. What gives more attraction to the human person than nice hair? Nothing.

What makes persons more satisfied with themselves than to know that their hair is in proper condition and fashion? Nothing.

What affords more protection to the scalp and delicate organs of the head than a good covering of hair? Nothing These are facts worthy of the greatest consideration. Sooner or later you will arrive at the conclusion that these statements are of importance. Come to the Professor's Show Rooms and see his goods, you are sure to be pleased with the results obtained by wearing them. The Stock is complete and it is certain you will find something to suit you. Remember at PHALEN'S HOTEL, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th and 25th.

Central Exhibition Notes.

The entries for the Central Exhibition are now coming in very rapidly, and this year's show promises to exceed in numbers that of any former year. The arrangements are very complete and all that is necessary is good weather to make it a success.

We are requested by the directors of the Central Exhibition to acknowledge the receipt of $5.00 each from Messrs. J. E. McIntyre, of the Oriental, and F. J. Daly, of the Grand Central, towards the funds of the Exhibition.

The C.P.R Northwest Exhibit is here, in charge of Wellington Manning, Esq., of Selwyn, and will be on exhibition during the days of the Fair.

Exhibition Train Service.

The Grand Trunk Railway have arranged to run trains between London street and the Exhibition grounds as follows:—On Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 25th and 26th, trains will leave London street for the grounds at 1.20 p.m. and 2.00 p.m., and leave the grounds at 4 p.m. and 5 p.m., stopping at streets between London street and the station, to take off and let on passengers. Return fare, 10 cents. On the days of the Exhibition all passenger trains on the Grand Junction division will stop at the ground. On the 25th, 26th and 27th, a special train will leave Peterborough at 5 p.m. for stations between Peterborough and Hastings, for the convenience of parties attending the Exhibition. d

A Sudden Death.

Anthony Hickey, a son of the late Thomas Hickey, died at his mother's residence, 129 Elm Street, very suddenly this morning. The young man retired in his usual good health last night, and about five o'clock awakened and began moaning with pain and faintly calling "mother." Instantly the household were awake and at the side of the dying man. He was unable to talk, blood choking his throat and welling from his mouth. A drink was prepared but he was unable to swallow it, and in a quarter of an hour he was dead. A physician was summoned, who stated that death had been caused by the bursting of a blood vessel near the heart. The presumption is that the young man had an attack of night mare, and in his struggles the arteries were over-strained. Deceased was 21 years of age. The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon.

A Private Central Exhibition.

The public will throng the town next week to attend the Central Exhibition and there will be much that is worth seeing but none of the sights will pay as well as the visit to D. Bellegham's magnificent exhibit of furniture at his warerooms When you come to town next week don't neglect, as you value your home happiness, to call and view his furniture. A free exhibition, everybody welcome. Come whether you have much or little money to invest in furniture. At the warerooms of the Furniture King you will find a superb stock filling three immense floors. The choicest selection, the biggest stock, the best goods and the closest prices in the Midland district. No trouble to show goods. If you don't want to buy, come and admire the beauty of Bellegbem's furniture. You will be made welcome and receive as courteous attention as if you wanted to swap your farm for furniture. You might do this, get full value for your farm, yet leave enough furniture in Bellegbem's warerooms to supply the wants of all your neighbors, within a radius of miles. This is a figure of speech to show the great extent of Bellegbem's stock. Don't neglect to visit Bellegbem's exhibition the admission is free and the welcome warm, and the place the furniture shop the furthest west on Hunter Street.

Obituary.

The late Wm. Graham was born in the "loyal North" of Ireland, of good family, where he received an education not afforded to many in these times. He went to Australia in 1854 where he lived several years; he then went to Auckland, New Zealand, where he was engaged in a large mercantile business. About 16 years ago he visited his friends in Canada on his way home to London, where he remained over two years purchasing goods for his house, but the damp climate of London not agreeing with his delicate health, he returned about 13 years ago, and on his way visited friends in Peterborough, Lindsay and Toronto. Since his health failed about three years ago, he made his home with his brother, Dr. Graham, of Richmond Victoria, but on the urgent solicitation of his friends in Canada, he returned about three months ago in order if possible, to recuperate his shattered health. He remained all the summer at Sturgeon Point with his sister, Mrs. John Dobson, under whose care he improved so much, that he concluded to visit his friends in Peterborough, where he was suddenly seized with heart disease, and after a few day's illness quietly and peacefully passed away on Thursday, 29th of August last. He was interred beside his brother, the late Henry Graham, in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto, on the 31st Aug. He never married, but was be-

A Timely Visit By Prof. Dorenwend.

Our ladies and gentlemen will be pleased to hear that Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, will visit Peterborough with a large stock of his Hair Goods He will stop at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24 and 25. As everyone knows he does a large business here and as his stay is limited, it is to be hoped that intending purchasers will not leave their calling to the last hour. The Prof. is making a most liberal offer to those who may have to come from a distance to see him. His attractive posters, with full particulars, will be found hung up in the surrounding towns. The Professor calls special attention to his great variety of frontpieces, bangs, waves, etc Among them are pieces that will become every one. In wigs, switches, etc., he can show probably the largest stock in America. His wigs and toupees for gentlemen need but little description, they can advertise themselves, they rival nature in perfection. Our people can consider themselves very fortunate to be able to secure such goods right at home without much trouble, and we hope that they will keep up their reputation of being progressive and up to the times by calling at the Professor's show rooms and securing one of his styles. His stopping place is Phalen's hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24th and 25th.

Happy Homes in Erin.

The bustling hand of enterprise has broken in upon the seclusion of Erin Cottage, in the western part of the town. The property has passed into the hands of Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald and it is surveyed into lots and thrown upon the market. Mr. Fitzgerald has made a great change and now the public have an opportunity of purchasing, on easy terms, lots on the choicest building site in Peterborough. The property runs from the boundary on the west to the rear of the range of lots on Cross street. On the south the range of lots opens on Cedar street and on the north a new street has been opened and graded, Walnut street. Beneath the brow of the wooded bluff about the middle of the property Mr. Fitzgerald has opened up another street running south from west McDonel. This is called Cambridge Avenue, and the grading of it is nearly completed. All the lots on this plot are fine building sites but some of them are exceptionally beautiful, especially those comprising the grove around Erin cottage, the late residence of Elias Thompson. These lots are high and dry and beautifully wooded with large stately trees and the view to the south and east over the town is very fine. No finer site for a residence can be found, and it is no wonder that this property is engaging attention. Already six lots have been disposed of and on two of these handsome cottages are in course of erection. Mr. Fitzgerald has shown great enterprise and the town should certainly co-operate with him. He has opened and graded two new streets and in view of the large addition to the taxable property the opening of the Erin Cottage property will represent, the town should certainly look after some new walks. We shall take occasion to refer to this property hereafter.

The Institute Inquiry.

The investigation committee of the School Board in connection with the charges made against certain teachers of the Collegiate Institute, met on Friday night for the purpose of taking evidence in order to ascertain the truth or falsehood of the charges. There were present Mr. J. B. McWilliams, chairman, and Messrs. Dumble, English, Hamilton and Stevenson. Mr. Long, Principal of the Institute, and Mr. Barton Earle, English master, were also present, the latter being further represented by his counsel, Mr. R. M. Deanestoun. The committee had a lady stenographer in attendance to report the evidence in full. The reporters were of course on hand, and before any business was done the committee was called upon to decide whether they should allow the proceeding of the meeting to be published in the newspapers. Mr. Stevenson only was in favor of giving the reporters full swing, the others deeming it inadvisable to allow the evidence to be made public, as the school had been damaged already by the spread of statements about its alleged inefficiency. There was not much of an audience present at first, but before the meeting closed a little after ten o'clock there was a roomful of interested spectators, who had glided in silently and unobserved during the heat of discussion. In one of the school rooms were gathered together about twenty pupils of the school, who had been summoned to give evidence in regard to the school. There was some question at first as to whether it would be best to examine the pupils, but finally it was decided to proceed. Only two boys were questioned and it is understood very little information was gained from them. Messrs. Long and Earle were also examined. When it came to these gentlemen the meeting assumed a warlike aspect. Both gentlemen denied the charges in toto, and the discussion grew quite heated, to the intense amusement of the spectators, who could not restrain their feelings when good points were scored and burst out with laughter or applause. As the reporters were shut off, these interesting passages are not published. The committee in conclusion decided to report to the Board that they could obtain no evidence in the matter, and so adjourned. A meeting of the Board has been called for Monday evening, when a lively time is anticipated. Mr. Long, Principal, has announced his intention of replying to Mr. Dumble's attacks and explaining the position of affairs in the Institute.

Prof. Morris' Trained Ponies and Dogs.

They Can do Everything but Talk

An exchange in speaking of this marvelous entertainment, which will be presented in the Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, September 25th and 26th, says:—"Prof. Morris, fresh from his triumphs in the large New England cities and the largest of the Middle States, appeared at the local opera House with his wonderful performing ponies and dogs last evening. The programme is divided into three parts, each a surprise in itself, and each succeeding act better than its predecessor. One feature of the entertainment is the willingness of the animals, the professor not being obliged to use the whip in a single instance, in contrast to the numerous lashings required by the horses of both Bartholomew and Bristol before they would perform their usual tricks.

The horses march in true soldier style, at command, forming themselves into twos, threes, fours, etc., and during the evening give an entertainment which is well worth the price of admission. Add to this the dogs, the best trained of any which has ever appeared in Holyoke, and you have one of the most interesting and instructive entertainments which have been presented at the opera house since its opening. The dogs also perform some remarkable feats, among which may be mentioned climbing ladders, walking tight rope, cutting a figure eight and high leaping. A very ludicrous "bit" on the programme is the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin to the professor. Two dogs dressed in the acknowledged regalia of the "first families" appear, the father wheeling a carriage in which of course is the baby. Their movements are almost human, their expression likewise and the professor received well-earned applause at the termination of the clever act. A matinee will be given every day this week and the usual performances occur, the engagement closing Saturday the 27th. A reception for children will be given on the stage after the termination of each matinee when attendants will be on hand to give the children a pleasant time. The admission is reasonable and all should witness this excellent entertainment. Matinee on Thursday afternoon for the school children, at 4.15. After each performance a grand pony reception will be held on the stage to which you are kindly invited to attend, more especially the ladies and children. The children will be allowed to sit on the ponies, feed them candy, apples, etc. We will make it as pleasant and entertaining as possible, so you will always remember Prof. Morris with pleasure. Don't forget to bring the little children to the matinee.

VOL. IX. NO. 70. PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1889. PRICE TWO CENTS

THE QUEBEC CALAMITY.

TWENTY-ONE OF THE VICTIMS BURIED YESTERDAY.

Four More Bodies Recovered—A Husband and His Young Bride Found Locked in Each Other's Arms.

QUEBEC, Sept. 23.—Great activity prevailed Saturday at the scene of the catastrophe. Mayor Langelier and most of the City Councillors were on the grounds all day encouraging the laborers at work and attending to other details. A great deal more work was done than on the previous day. There are about 200 in all engaged among the ruins.

At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon a squad of "B" Battery men discovered the body of a woman under a solid mass of stones, beams and rafters—the head only was clear. The men worked hard to get her disentangled but the mass of stone above her was so great that it became evident the woman's head would be buried again. Some of the men attempted to remove a large stone weighing some 500 pounds. It deviated from the course they intended to give it and came down on the woman's head. Her jawbones were dislocated, the nose and forehead forced in the cavity of the cranium and the brains splattered about her. The body is that of Mrs. Kempt, wife of Joe Kempt, sr., who is still under the debris and supposed to be alive yet as he was heard shouting and singing, evidently in a state of insanity or of delirium. As for Mrs. Kempt she was dead before the falling of the stone upon her head. Later on the laborers, thinking that she was sufficiently disengaged to be taken out, tried to pull the body out, but in doing so her left leg was dislocated and severed from her body.

An hour later the corpse of Margaretta Welsh was reached under a pile of masonry. Her head was hanging loose, almost severed from the neck, and the brain oozed out from the back of the skull, while the top was cut in two halves. She was otherwise shockingly mangled.

These are the only bodies found after 24 hours' work.

The quantity of rocks, lumber and masonry is so great that three or four hours of hard working does not show any difference in the debris. It is thought that about 16 are still missing and were in the basement of the building at the time of the landslide. Consequently the debris must be cleared level to the ground in order to get at them. Bodies will remain under the ruins several days before they can be extricated. Three sailors are supposed to be buried at a place where the huge pile of fallen rocks is about thirty feet from the level road.

The task of cleaning and dressing the 20 bodies was allotted to Undertaker Lepine and four aids. Women were first engaged to attend to the female bodies, but they had only been a few minutes at the task when they left and went away heartbroken and almost fainting. The guardroom of the river police station was transformed into a mortuary chapel and the 20 bodies laid in a row in front of the altar, on which a number of tapers and lamps were burning. Aromatic essences were also burned. The chapel was open to the public, which flocked there en masse. Rats also invaded the building.

FUNERAL OF THE VICTIMS.

Twenty of the Dead Borne to Their Last Resting Place Yesterday.

QUEBEC, Sept. 23.—Early yesterday morning thousands of people flocked around the shipping office to witness the departure of the funeral cortege. The procession was organized and conducted by Undertaker Lepine and James Paula, a prominent member of the Ship Laborers' Society. The Ship Laborers' Society, about 700 strong, headed by President Mahoney, Secretary Pringle and Treasurer Mahoney led the procession, following came the city police force under command of Col. Vohl. A magnificent wreath of costly flowers presented by the City Councillors was carried by two bearers. Then came 15 hearses containing the bodies of the victims in this order:

Thomas Farrell.
Thomas Farrell's three children.
Richard Leahey.
Mrs. Richard Leahey.
Michael Deahy.
Charles Allen.
Miss Allen.
Mrs. Stephen Burke and her two children.
Mrs. Michael Bradley and daughter.
Eliza Bradley.
Margaret Welch.
Mrs. Ready.
Mr. Kemp.
Mrs. Lane Marshall.

The relatives of the deceased walked on each side of the hearses and behind came His Honor Mayor Langelier and Mr. Jules Tessier, the City Councillors, Coroner Belleau and his secretary, Mr. George St. Pierre. Then came a vast concourse of the most distinguished citizens among whom were several members of the Provincial Parliament and about 5000 persons belonging to all classes of society. Flags in mourning fluttered at half-mast on the stores along the line of the procession. The streets were literally crammed with sightseers. All Quebec was out and thousands from the neighboring towns and parishes.

At St. Patrick's Church Father Hayden, rector of the Redemptorist Order, assisted by Father Welsh as deacon and Father Maguire as sub-deacon celebrated divine service. The church was draped with mourning and illuminated magnificently. The ceremonies were of a most impressive character. vRev. Father Welsh preached the sermon.

After the service the procession proceeded to Woodfield Cemetery which is situated some three miles out of the city. The bodies were deposited in vaults prior to final burial, as many of them will be interred in private lots when the remainder of the bodies are extricated from under the ruins.

Another imposing funeral took place yesterday afternoon, that of Mrs. Henry Lawson, also a victim of the dreadful avalanche. The service took place at St. Matthew's Church and was attended by a very large concourse of relatives, friends and citizens of all denominations. Rev. Mr. Hatch officiated and the ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Mr. Williams.

While these rites were being paid the bodies of other victims were found under the debris that blocks up Champlain-street. The bodies of John Nolan and his wife were unearthed locked in each other's arms. It will be remembered that at the time of the landslide Nolan ran to save his wife, embracing her tightly in his arms. They died as they were wedded. They had been married only 15 days. Mrs. Nolan's body bore no trace of violence, while that of her husband was terribly mutilated. The head was severed from the trunk, the chest smashed in, both arms crushed and the rest of his remains was but a ghastly bleeding mass of flesh and broken bones. Two boys were also found close by. They are the son and adopted son of Maybary, whose body is still under the ruins. Both bodies were crushed and horribly mutilated.

Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, with Gen. by Cameron and Major Mayne of the Royal School of Engineers, visited the scene of the disaster yesterday afternoon. The Engineers will, in company with the City Engineer, hold a survey

MR. ABBOTT'S MISSION

CONSIDERED OF SOME IMPORTANCE IN LONDON.

Recruit Players Arrested in a Popular Club—Another Alleged Case of Maybrickism—A War Prophecy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Tribune's special cable from London says: Mr. Abbott's mission is considered here as of some importance. His primary object is to press the claims of Vancouver as against San Francisco as the terminus of the new trans-Pacific steamship route. Canada has already promised $500,000 for an 18-knot service between England and Canada, and is prepared to give $125,000 for the proposed service between Vancouver and Sydney, N.S.W. Mr. Abbott wishes to induce the Australians to contribute an additional sum of $175,000 towards the Pacific subvention in order to secure fast boats capable of giving a 28 days' sail between London and Sydney.

He will not find all the colonies of the same mind about encouraging the Pacific route. South Australia will certainly object to the line, because it would injure Adelaide. Possibly Melbourne, which maintains a bitter rivalry against Sydney, will not care to see the older capital of New South Wales profit by Mr. Abbott's proposal. Sydney may be content to sit still and see whether the United States may not offer more liberal terms than Canada in order to maintain the present San Francisco route for its mails and commerce.

We do not sufficiently know the terms of Mr. Abbott's intercolonial tariff scheme, but that he takes some project in his portmanteau is the belief of everybody who has any knowledge of the subject.

Behind all this is the Pacific cable project, which Canada also strongly supports. The Australian colonies deem it a pious aspiration, but are not as eager as Canada to spend money on the scheme. They do not more than half employ the existing cable routes to England.

Is She Another Mrs. Maybrick?

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Last Wednesday the body of a wealthy resident of the West End, named Weldon, was buried by his family who were of the belief that his death was due to natural causes. After the interment two brothers of the deceased became suspicious that the dead man's wife had followed the example of Mrs. Maybrick and the body was exhumed and placed in the hands of chemical experts for examination. The suspicions of the brothers are based, in part, on the fact that Mrs. Weldon's first husband died under circumstances similar to those attending the death of the second, the death in each case occurring very soon after the husband had made a will in her favor.

Will War Come Soon?

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A Russian general officer who has been on a tour of observation in England during the last three weeks said in an interview respecting Bulgaria's independence: "You may rest assured war will break out between Russia and Austria much sooner than is expected by the most pronounced pessimist. I believe that Bismarck will shuffle out of the triple alliance on this occasion and that Italy will come to grief. I do not think that England will be dragged into the conflict unless for the protection of her Indian dominions, but these will stand in little, if any danger. Of course, France will be allied with Russia."

The manœuvres at Hanover have demonstrated the necessity of smokeless powder hereafter.

Gamblers Arrested.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The police on Saturday raided the popular Cranbourne Club. They arrested thirty-five baccarat players and betting men.

Cholera in Mesopotamia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Consul-General Pringle at Constantinople, in a communication to the State Department dated Aug. 30, reports a total of 1285 deaths from cholera in Mesopotamia.

TWO SEALERS SAIL INTO VICTORIA

One Had Lost Six Indians in Behring Sea, the Other Was Chased by the Rush.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—A Victoria, B.C., despatch says: "The sealing schooner Beatrice, Captain McKeil, arrived from Behring Sea Thursday night with 1200 sealskins. The Beatrice left Behring Sea Aug. 28. The captain reports that he never once sighted the United States ship Rush. On Aug. 16 he lost three canoes each containing two Indians, who were unable to find their way back to the ship from the fishing grounds on account of the fog. The captain remained in the neighborhood five days burning lights, but nothing was seen of them. The captain thinks, however, that they were picked up by a schooner which passed about that time.

"The schooner Maggie Mac arrived last night from Behring Sea with 1290 sealskins. She was overhauled by the Rush after a three hours' chase on Aug. 27, but Lieutenant Tuttle allowed her to proceed after examining her papers, as the skins seemed to be several days old. Captain Dodd said he had resolved to fight rather than surrender his vessel or the skins.

"Preparations are being made to give Governor-General Lord Stanley a fitting reception on his arrival about Oct. 31. The Sealers' Association will lay the Behring Sea case before him."

A VILLAGE IN ASHES.

Disastrous Fire in Kensington, P.E.I.—The Loss Over $100,000.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Sept. 23.—A most disastrous fire swept over Kensington Friday night. It started about 2 a.m. in a meat shop occupied by Russell McMillan. Nearly the whole village is in ashes. All the stores are burned excepting Dr. Darrach's drug store and Hon. W. G. Bentley's general store. The probable loss is $100,000; insurance $40,000. Tuplin & Co.'s loss alone is estimated at over $50,000.

Death of a Thorold Physician.

THOROLD, Sept. 20.—Dr. Blackstock of this town died of congestion of the lungs here Wednesday night.

Mr. Rheiner's Spring Gun.

DETROIT, Sept. 23.—Detective Noble heard a shot in W. A. Rheiner's gun store, 85 Randolph-street, Friday night. He went in and found Rheiner's spring gun had shot another burglar. Cloth, blood and flesh were blown into the counter. The burglar had escaped but later he called on Dr. Eaton, said his name was William Robinson and his home 284 Franklin-street. He said he had been in a fight. His leg was perforated with buckshot. The cloth in his trousers matched that in the store. He was taken to the emergency hospital, where the police learned of him. The setting of a spring gun is punishable by a fine of $250 and one year's imprisonment. The killing of a man by a spring gun is manslaughter. No one takes any proceedings against Rheiner although three men have fallen victims to his gun. The guns are aimed to wound but not to kill. The other two were so severely wounded that they were captured and after recovery sent to State's prison.

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS.

APPARENT VICTORY FOR THE REPUBLICANS.

A Re-ballot Necessary in Boulanger's Chosen Battle-Ground—Incidents of the Contest—Little Excitement.

PARIS, Sept 23.

Republicans	158
Anti-Republicans	89
Re-ballots necessary	145

These are the latest returns of the elections in France yesterday. In the 89 Antis are included Revisionists, Boulangists and Conservatives. The result is apparently the burial of Boulangism.

The official figures of the result in Montmartre are: Registered electors 18,743, voters 11,686, blank voting papers 2494. Boulanger received 5800 votes, Joffrin (Labor) 2507, Thiebaud (Revisionist) 444. According to these figures a second ballot will be necessary in Montmarte. The result is accounted for by the number of blanks. The clergy of Montmartre ordered prayers in Boulanger's favor.

Notwithstanding the fact an that electoral contest was proceeding the streets of Paris early yesterday presented a deserted aspect. The voting began at 8 a.m. Around the electoral urns representatives of the different parties kept assiduous watch. The voting proceeded slowly until afternoon, groups of electors leisurely deposited their papers and retired in silence. There was no excitement or bustle anywhere. Telegrams from the provinces reported equal tranquility. After 2 o'clock the polling places were thronged; still perfect order prevailed. The crowds were good-humored, and there was no apparent tendency to a disturbance. The authorities had taken elaborate precautions against a riot but there was no display of force in the streets. The soldiers were kept in readiness in the barracks and the police were massed under cover at various points with instructions to remain inactive unless compelled to interfere.

There was a riot at Avignon. A crowd forced the doors of the building occupied by the Boulangist committee, burned the voting papers and set fire to the building. Thence the crowd went to the Boulangist club, broke in the doors, wrecked the furniture and drove out the members.

In the Montmartre District there was a free display of placards representing Boulanger on horseback trampling upon corpses of workmen, and inscribed: "Murderer of Communists."

The Windsor Tragedy.

WINDSOR, Sept. 23.—J. H. Green of Cambridge City, Ind., father of Myrtle Green Dinsmore, found dead in the Dougall nursery here, has telegraphed Undertaker Drake to forward the body. A Rushville (Ind.) despatch says: Silas Dinsmore, who committed suicide Thursday at Windsor, came to Washington township, this county, three years ago, and worked as farm hand for William Jackson till March 3. A few months ago he married a Fayette county woman. Shortly afterward he disappeared and was not heard of until news came of his suicide. He had no relatives here. It is reported he came to this county from South Carolina.

Turf and Field.

A boat race has been arranged between Bubear of England and Matterson of Australia to take place on the Thames course Oct. 10.

At Montreal Saturday Cornwall was defeated by the Montrealers at lacrosse, 5 games to 2. This secures the flags to Montreal.

At Fleetwood Park Saturday the winners were Repeal ion, Emma, Greva S. and Harry Wilkes.

Fordham, Strideway, Magnate, Cinto-Taw, Tulla Blackburn and Barrister were the winners at Gravesend Saturday.

Winners at the Louisville Jockey Club races Saturday were Nevada, Brandolette, Kitty Cheatham, May O., Carter R. and Sir O'Lee.

A FEMALE FAGAN.

Chicago Has One in the Person of Mrs. Haak.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Emma Meyer was brought before Justice Kersten Saturday morning to answer to the charge of burglary. Three of her friends were also in court charged with disorderly conduct. None of the girls are over 16 years of age. Officer Lorch had made the arrests and in his statement to the court said that Emma Meyer had confessed to him that a Mrs. Haak had told her to steal. "I investigated the child's story," said the officer, "and found it to be true. I find that this woman has half a dozen girls living with her, and, as far as I can discover, she keeps them for the purpose of making them steal for her. The stolen goods were found in her possession, and of the fact that she has induced these three girls, Emma Meyer, Lucy Hesber and Lucy Giessenbeck, to leave home and stay at her house I have ample proof." "Then get a warrant for Mrs. Haak's arrest," said the court. "The charges against these girls I will continue until their parents can be brought into court."

THE CRONIN MURDER TRIAL.

No Additional Jurors Secured Saturday—Kunze's Case.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Just before the adjournment of the Cronin trial Saturday Lawyer Donahue renewed his motion made some time ago on behalf of his client, Kunze, that he may have some information directly or indirectly as to what evidence is against the prisoner. He said, he said, no more information than when the court appointed him, and desired that the State's Attorney be directed to give the information. The matter was argued at considerable length, and finally taken under advisement by the court. Mr. Forrest gave notice that he would on Monday ask for a modification of the order of the court directing the State's Attorney to permit experts of the defense to examine specimens of the bloodstains, furniture and other articles taken from the Carlson cottage, and to submit the bloodstains to scientific analysis. "The prosecution," said Mr. Forrest, "is placing such conditions upon this order of the court that in order to carry it out and comply with those conditions it will cost the defense two or three thousand dollars, and we are not able to pay that." Judge McConnell did not render his decision in the motion for the discharge of Woodruff Saturday.

No jurors were secured Saturday in the Cronin trial.

Another Suspect.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The Journal publishes a special from Oakland, Cal., to the effect that Chicago officers are there to arrest J. J. Hefferman, sr., guardian of a Clan-na-Gael camp of that city, on a charge of complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin.

They Don't Know Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Chief of Police J. W. Tompkins and Capt. W. F. Fletcher of Oakland were interviewed and denied any knowledge of any Chicago police or detectives being in Oakland in search of J. J. Hefferman, who is said to be wanted in Chicago for complicity in the Cronin case. No such name as J. J. Hefferman appears in the Oakland directory. The postoffice people have received no letters addressed to such a person and no telegraphic despatches have been received in the Oakland office for Hefferman.

FRANCE APOLOGIZED.

Diplomatic Complications Peacefully Settled.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The Governments of the United States and France have finally reached a peaceful settlement of the diplomatic complications arising from the arrest and discourt ous treatment of Mrs. Dorr, Miss Van Nostrand and another New York lady by the French police authorities at Mentone. These ladies were arrested and thrown into a cell at the instance of a dressmaker with whom they had had a dispute over a bill. Minister Reid has finally been able to elicit from the French Government an explanation and an apology, with notice that the offending officials had been reprimanded. These facts were communicated to the complainants, and as they have expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with the measure of reparation, the incident may be regarded as closed.

List of the Lily's Drowned Seamen.

HALIFAX, Sept. 23.—Saturday afternoon Admiral Watson received telegraphic advices that the Lily was wrecked off Point Armour Forteau, on the coast of Labrador in the straits of Belle Isle. This is the nearest the authorities can locate the wreck from the limited information received. The names of the lost have been received and are as follows: James Budge, Robert Love, Samuel Winsor, William Sealy (doubtful), William Coates, Vincent Deasly, Walter Mitchell. The above are all seamen, no officers being lost. The Emerald is expected with the survivors this week.

THE DOMINION FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The Ottawa Free Press deals as follows with the real state of the Dominion finances, which are not in so flourishing a condition as the jubilations of the Government organs would lead one to suppose:— The taxpayers of Canada are told that there was a surplus an excess of revenue over expenditure, at the end of the last fiscal year, and that for this they should glorify the Dominion government. If it was true that more revenue was collected last year than the ministers were able to spend, it would simply prove that the people had been taxed beyond the requirements of government. But Mr. Foster had produced a surplus by reducing expenditure, and announced that as he did not require as much money as formerly he would relieve the people on some of their present burdens, he might be entitled to some credit. But he has not reduced the expenditure. The large revenue of last year was produced by taxing the food, clothing and fuel imported and consumed by the people, though some Tory organs would lead unsophisticated readers to believe that Mr. Foster spun it out of his entrails. The Sultan of Turkey also raises revenue by taxing his unfortunate subjects, though nobody regards him as a model financier. But was there a genuine surplus at the close of the last fiscal year? Certainly not. The statement of Dominion debt and expenditure for 1888-89, published in the last Canada Gazette, proves that the revenue of last year large though it was, was not sufficient to meet the expenditure. Mr. Foster's powers of taxation and collection, extensive though they are, were not equal to his colleagues' powers of disbursement. The total expenditure of the Dominion, capital and ordinary, for the fiscal year ending 30th June last, was $41,954,594, while the total revenue was only $38,175,927, leaving a deficit of $3,778,667. In discussing the finances of Ontario and Quebec the organs of the federal government always add capital and income expenditures together in stating the gross expenditure of the province for a single year, and they cannot object to having the same rule applied to Dominion expenditure. Mr. Foster charged $36,712 804 of last year's expenditure to income and $5,241,790 to capital. He might just as reasonably have charged ten or twelve millions to capital. Look at the payments he has charged to capital. There is $29,836 on account of losses incurred during the Northwest rebellion of 1885. Why should this amount be charged to capital? The government have nothing to show for it, excepting the graves of the men killed while suppressing an insurrection provoked by maladministration; and Mr. McLelan, while minister of finance, promised that the cost of putting down the rebellion would be paid out of ordinary revenue. Then Mr. Foster has charged to capital—that is added to the public debt—some $816,721 paid out as subsidies to railway companies. Why should this sum be charged to capital? The government have no asset of any kind to show for it. The railways built with the money belong to private individuals. It would be quite as reasonable to charge to capital account the salaries of the clerks in the public departments. A sum of $127,233 paid out to cover expenses connected with the administration of Dominion lands has also been charged to capital, although the receipts derived from Dominion lands are treated and used as ordinary revenue. Surely the revenues derived from Northwest lands should go towards paying for their administration. Then we have a million dollars or so of expenditure upon the Intercolonial charged to capital, that ought to have been charged to the expenses of operating the road. It is thus easy to understand how Mr. Foster was able to figure out a surplus on paper, but the Canadian taxpayer who believes there was a real surplus at the end of 1888 89 will believe what is untrue. The total expenditure for the last fiscal year was $41,954,594, and the revenue was $38,175,927, leaving a deficit of $3,778,667. Now let us look at the public debt account. On the 30th June, 1888, the gross debt of the Dominion was $294,563,342, and the net debt was $236,531,358. A year later, on the 30th June, 1889, the gross debt was $288,137,491 and the net debt $237,945,133. Increase in net debt in 1888-89, $8,413,775. And while the Dominion debt was increased by nearly four millions of dollars the assets only increased from $49,982,453, to $50,192,457, so that Mr. Foster has practically nothing to show as an offset to his expenditure on capital account and his addition to the public debt.

Coverings for Bald Heads.

Prof. Doranwend of Toronto is coming to town. He will be at Phalens Hotel on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24 and 25. He wants all gentlemen who are bald to come and see his toupees and wigs, they are made of real human hair and so well swaped that they take the place perfectly of the departed growth both as to appearance and protection. If you live out of town don't let that stop you, but come in and Professor will pay your fare both ways. There is now no excuse for you to go bald headed. Come and see the Professor. dw Intelligent Animals That can Almost Talk —Prof. Morris and His Trained Troupe.

The Cambridge Daily Journal thus refers to Prof. Morris trained pony and dog exhibition in Bradburn's Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings Sept. 25th and 26th, with matinee on Thursday afternoon at 4.15:—

"Two butters in the shape of goats, 11 ponies and upwards of 20 dogs, under the direction of their trainer, Prof. Morris, gave an exhibition worth many times the price of admission. The willingness of the sagacious animals was remarkable. It really seemed as if they could do everything but talk, and a great many of the feats performed were wonderful.

The evolutions of the ponies in a military drill were certainly remarkable. A leaping march by half a dozen of the dogs was an interesting event on the programme. An English greyhound astounds the spectators by making a magnificent high jump of over 16 feet. "Banner" and "Lottie May" two of the ponies, execute a waltz in good time and very gracefully. The goats "Robson" and "Grace," are comedians of no mean order, and "Shepherd," the clown dog, is "immense."

The revolving pyramid of dogs, goats and ponies, with which the show closes, and the comedy entitled "Visit of Mr. and Mrs. Benedict to the Professor," which forms an attractive part of the entertainment, are very unique indeed.

The show will be repeated to-night and to-morrow night, and matinees have been billed for this afternoon and to-morrow afternoon also. It is one of the best entertainments ever given in Cambridge. The little folks, especially, were delighted with what they saw and heard, and none of the older folks tired of it before the last act."

Poor girl, poor girl so young, so fair,
And doomed to die so soon;
The seeds of death are scattered there,
And long before life's noon
The grass will grow upon her grave:
No friends in sorrow say,
And think no power on earth can save
The dear one from decay.

Why do they think and talk like this? Simply because some of her family have died from scrofulous poisoning of the blood, and they see indications of the same taint in her. Scrofula of the Lungs, commonly called Consumption, is a terrible disease and it is not to be wondered at that they dread it. But it can be conquered. The poison can be driven out of the blood. The taint can be eliminated from the system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical discovery has cured thousands of persons who were expected to find early graves because "there was scrofula in the family." "Golden Medical Discovery" is warranted to remove all Blood-taints from whatever cause arising. It cures all scrofulous, skin and scalp diseases, or money paid for it will be returned. a

Rely on This.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for three years, and can always rely upon it as a speedy cure for diarrhoea and all summer complaints. I can recommend it highly and I wish you every success.—MRS. W. FOWLER. 12 Oxford St. Toronto. 2w37d

A Corrupt System.

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system, and cause scrofulous sores, swellings ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

Constant Care.

CONSTANT care is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 2w37d

The Ottawa Free Press says, the best feature of the fair is Prof. Morris' wonderful company of ponies and dogs. No one can afford to miss it.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

PLAYING HER TRICK AGAIN.

Carrie Gilchrist, the Fainting Fakir, Attempts Suicide in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—A young woman who attempted suicide on the sidewalk at Broad and Race streets Tuesday night has been recognized as Carrie Gilchrist, who created such a sensation a year and a half ago, when she deceived the most eminent physicians in New York and Jersey City while a patient in a hospital in the latter city. She was in the institution several weeks, and pretended to remain unconscious most of the time. The doctors were unable to tell what her ailment was for a long time, but finally discovered she was "faking."

When found by officers Tuesday night she made believe to have swallowed arsenic. She was removed to the Hahnemann Hospital, where emetics were administered. Early in the morning she attempted to hang herself to a bedpost. Her struggles were overheard by an attendant and she was cut down. She was then removed to the Blockley Hospital, where she had formerly been an inmate and played the same tricks. Yesterday the officials at Blockley notified the police that they had recognized the woman as the notorious Carrie Gilchrist.

This woman has played the fainting trick in at least four States. Her greatest spell of conspicuous unconsciousness was in Philadelphia in April, 1884. One Saturday evening Sexton Larner of St. John's Catholic Church on Thirteenth-street, above Chestnut, saw her run into the vestibule of the church and faint. When he reached her she was bleeding at the mouth. She was moved to his house, where she stayed for six weeks, receiving money and presents in abundance from the parish. One day he caught the patient making faces and laughing and ordered her to leave. She bought a big trunk in which she took away all her presents.

She next turned up in Wilmington in April, 1886, when she fainted in the depot. She lay apparently unconscious in the Grand Union Hotel there a week. Sexton Larner went to Wilmington and identified her as the woman who was at his house, and she got up and left. Her next swooning spell was in Baltimore, where she again fooled the doctors. Sexton Larner says she is from Ballyshane, Cork County, Ireland, and that in 1882 or 1883 there was a murder mystery in a McSheehan family there. She is, he says, Mary McSheehan, alias Carrie Gilchrist, Mary McNulty and Mary McNulty.

MISS M'CORMICK'S TROUSSEAU.

The Expensive Outfit Prepared for Emmons Blaine's Bride-Elect.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 21.—An Augusta lady who has seen the wedding trousseau of Miss Anita McCormick, Emmons Blaine's fiancee, says it is one of the most elegant and expensive outfits ever owned by an American bride-elect. Lace is Miss McCormick's special luxury, and upon it she has spent thousands of dollars, so that every piece is covered with cascades of the most exquisite web from all parts of Europe where lace is made. She has a fancy for white underclothes, too, and nearly every garment is of the snowiest mull or silk, the only color being furnished by the narrow ribbons running through the laces, and in many instances the ribbons are white also. Her bridal garments are of white India silk, trimmed with the most beautiful Irish point, and this same point trims of the few tinted sets in the trousseau—one of pale lemon color, which also includes a silk petticoat and satin corset.

The bridal stockings are of white silk, embroidered with silver thread, and there are other pairs of white stockings embroidered in gold and colors. This is a new fashion, introduced by Miss McCormick, who likes white stockings as well as white underclothes, and who mailed directions with her order to Paris that instead of sending stockings of a color to match each costume, they should be white, embroidered with silk the shade of the dress.

In conjunction with this liking for white, Miss McCormick has a fondness for the perfume of lilies, and special satchets for the perfuming of her garments have been sent from Holland, the only place where the perfumers have learned to impart the odor of the lily to satchet powder. The powder is inclosed in white satin bags, edged with lace and embroidered with her monogram, and there are three dozen of them for her different trunks and boxes. Her opera cloak for this winter is a heavy white silk, embroidered with gold and lined from top to toe with the long silky hair of the Persian lamb.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. —Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

of the Paris Hair Works, Toronto, and his Big Stock of all kinds of

HAIR GOODS

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

He will be in Peterborough, at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24th and 25th.

LADIES should see his New Styles in Frontpieces, Bangs, Waves, Plain and Fluffy Switches, Wigs &c.

GENTLEMEN who are partly or wholly bald should avail themselves of this opportunity to procure a fine Toupee or Wig. Hair Goods are now standard articles of necessity. The sooner you get one or other of the styles, the better for your appearance, your health, your comfort. What gives more attraction, to the human person than nice hair? Nothing.

What makes persons more satisfied with themselves than to know that their hair is in proper condition and fashion? Nothing.

What affords more protection to the scalp and delicate organs of the head than a good covering of hair? Nothing. These are facts worthy of the greatest consideration. Sooner or later you will arrive at the conclusion that these statements are of importance. Come to the Professor's Show Rooms and see his goods, you are sure to be pleased with the results obtained by wearing them. The Stock is complete and it is certain you will find something to suit you. Remember at PHALEN'S HOTEL, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th and 25th.

☞Persons living out of town look out for Professor Dorenwend's big posters and conditions on which he will pay your fare to town and return.

The Central Exhibition.

Ready for the Opening To-Morrow—Promises of a Good Show.

The Peterborough Central Exhibition opens to-morrow. To-day the directors and superintendents are busy getting the grounds and buildings ready for the reception of visitors and exhibits. To-morrow will be devoted entirely to the placing of entries, and the real opening takes place Wednesday, when the visitors will be welcomed after 9 a.m.

The outlook for a successful show is most encouraging. The weather promises well, and as the entries are numerous in all the classes and the directors have provided some good special attractions, there is no reason why success should not attend their efforts.

The horse racing and baseball matches will prove interesting features. The 57th Battalion Band will also be on the grounds every day to furnish music.

A Timely Visit By Prof Dorenwend.

Our ladies and gentlemen will be pleased to hear that Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, will visit Peterborough with a large stock of his Hair Goods. He will stop at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24 and 25. As everyone knows he does a large business here and as his stay is limited, it is to be hoped that intending purchasers will not leave their calling to the last hour. The Prof. is making a most liberal offer to those who may have to come from a distance to see him. His attractive posters, with full particulars, will be found hung up in the surrounding towns. The Professor calls special attention to his great variety of frontpieces, bangs, waves, etc. Among them are pieces that will become every one. In wigs, switches, etc., he can show probably the largest stock in America. His wigs and toupees for gentlemen need but little description, they can advertise themselves, they rival nature in perfection. Our people can consider themselves very fortunate to be able to secure such goods right at home without much trouble, and we hope that they will keep up their reputation for being progressive and up to the times by calling at the Professor's show rooms and securing one of his styles. His stopping place is Phalen's hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 24th and 25th.

The congregation of the Mark street church are making preparations on a large scale for their annual thanksgiving services and tea on the first Sunday and Monday of October.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

At the young men's meeting held on Saturday evening, Messrs Brook, of Montreal, and Clinton Chisholm, spoke. It was a very enjoyable time. These meetings are growing in interest. Mr. Best, of Mount Pleasant, gave a short address on "You are not your own," which was well received by all present.

VISITORS.—On Saturday evening Messrs. Dennistoun, Stevenson, Frosts, and McFadden arrived here and spent a few days with us. They devoted most of their time to fishing, at which they were very successful. Mr. Frosts had the pleasure of capturing a large muskallunge while fishing for bass. Mr. McFadden also displayed his skill with the rifle, slightly wounding a young crow which he took home with him, as a memento of the pleasant time spent at the Point.

On Monday a party of eleven gentlemen from Peterborough, under the guidance of Mr. T. Fitzgerald, took advantage of the holiday in town, and spent the day here fishing. Considering the weather they met with fair success. They returned to town in the evening, well satisfied with their day's Corner Stone Relics.

Brought to Light After 38 Years Imprisonment—Copy of the Old Parchment Found in the Bottle—Names of Men Who are Now no More.

The EXAMINER the other day mentioned the fact that the corner stone documents had been taken from the old market building and locked up in the vault in the town clerk's office. The bottle containing the relics was opened Friday and its contents exposed to view after 38 years of concealment. The bottle was about the size and shape of a quart sealer, and had a small hole chipped in its neck. Through this the air and lime had worked in and almost destroyed the papers. Still they were legible, and some interesting information is gleaned from them.

The bottle was opened by town clerk Macdonald in the presence of Messrs Wm. Langford, E. H. D. Hall and J. E. Belcher. In order to draw out the papers without unnecessary handling, the top of the bottle was broken off at the shoulder, and the contents rolled out on the table. The papers were yellow and withered with age and the action of the air and lime, and emited a strong musty odor, and when touched crumbled to dust. By careful manipulati n the bundle of papers was unrolled so as to be readable. On the outside was a copy of the Daily Globe, Toronto, Sept. 25th, 1851; next the Peterborough Despatch of Sept. 25th, 1851; then the Canadian Almanac of 1851, and inside the corner stone parchment. On the front page of the almanac in faded letters was written: "R. Ridley, merchant, E. R. Perry, M.D." The first named gentleman was father of Mr. Chas. Ridley, of the EXAMINER office. The parchment was perhaps the best preserved of any. Following is a literal copy:—

On the 27th day of September, A.D., 1851,
Charles Hudson, Esq., Mayor,
Laid the foundation stone of this building.
Erected by order of the Town Council of the town of Peterborough.
Charles Hudson, Mayor.
James Harvey, Joseph Spencely, John Reid, Thomas Chambers, Chas. N. Spalding, James T. Henthorne, Edmund Chamberlen, Edgerton Perry, M.D., Thomas Hutchinson, Robinson Rutherford, John Haggart, Members of the Council.

Edmund Chamberlen, James T. Henthorne, Thomas Chambers, John Reid, James Harvey, Esquires, Members of the Building Committee, Walter Sheridan, Esquire, Architect.
W. David Taylor, Contractor.

Peterborough, 27th day of September, 1851, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Her Majesty, Queen Victoria.

W. H. WRIGHTON,
Town Clerk.

The date is written lengthwise along the edge of the sheet

Of those whose names appear on the document only one is alive to day, Mr. Thos. Chambers, who is now in the Registry office at Winnipeg. The others have all passed over to the majority, some of them quite recently. They nearly all have children or relatives in town, however—Joseph Spencely, Jas. T. Henthorne, Edmund Chamberlen, Thomas Hutchinson, Robinson Rutherford, John Haggart and Walter Sheridan, all have sons or daughters yet residents of Peterborough

OLD COINS.

There were also in the bottle a number of coins of the realm, viz., an English shilling of 1834, a sixpence of 1845 and a fourpence of 1842; an Upper Canada penny of 1850 and a Lower Canada penny of 1837; two Upper Canada half pennies of 1850 and one halfpenny, marked "Genuine British Copper," dated 1815, also an English halfpenny of 1807 and a George IV penny of 1831. The coins are well preserved.

It is the intention to place all these relics with the other material to be placed under the corner stone of the new market building next Thursday. They may now be seen at the office of the Town Clerk, under whose charge they are. Old residents in particular will be deeply be interested in the relics. There are a number of men in town to-day who witnessed the corner stone laying 38 years ago, among them Messrs Jas. Stevenson, Alex. McNeil, John Irwin, Wm. Croft, John Robinson, Thos. Beavis, Col. Poole, John Britton, Henry Best, James Best and others.

LAYING THE NEW CORNER STONE.

A meeting of the committee having in charge the arrangements for the laying of the corner stone of the new building met after the relics had been examined, and mapped out a programme. The stone is to be laid in the forenoon of Thursday next by His Worship Mayor Stevenson in the presence of the members of the town council. Previous to this, at half past nine o'clock, the Fire Brigade and 57th Batt. will meet at the Central Park and, headed by the band, parade to the market square, where at 10.15 the ceremony will be begun. There will be addresses by local men also. Afterwards the Volunteers and Fireman will be entertained by the Corporation at the Fire Hall.

The committee in charge of these arrangements is composed of Messrs. Langford, Winch, Baptie and E. H. D. Hall. Thursday next will be a gala day in town, together with the corner-stone laying and the Central Exhibition.

REMINISCENT.

There are many persons in town who have a lively recollection of the festivities which attended the corner stone laying of the old town hall, and of the unfortunate termination of the banquet preparations for regaling the populace. A dinner for the "big wigs"—the mayor et al was duly enjoyed at the Colborne House, a tavern at that time kept in a large wooden building in the southwestern corner of the market square. Preparations had also been begun for a banquet for the people. Mayor Hudson, who was a butcher, and a big hearted man besides, gave an ox to be roasted whole. Mr. Thomas Beavis hauled the ox and a sufficiency of fuel for roasting it to the market square where Henry Cronn, a stalwart negro, erected a spit for the roasting. Two crotched poles were planted in the ground and between them a long iron bar was placed with a crank at the outer side of one of the poles. This iron bar by way of spit was thrust through the ox from end to end and a fire being built underneath and the crank turned by the Ethiopean, the progress of roasting went on to the delight of the assembled crowd of spectators. The cavity of the ox's body was stuffed with sucking pigs and poultry, which of course were being roasted, too. The roasting was begun early in the evening the day before the corner-stone laying and the feast, and it would take all night to complete it. But some young sports took the chance to ply the cook with gin and when the old Tom had done its work, the roasting ox was spirited away and the people defrauded of their dinner. The next day the carcase was found in Kirkpatrick's woods, the present site of Mr. R. A. Morrow's residence, and it is generally agreed that Mr. Samuel Detcher, who at that time kept a hotel on George street exactly opposite the present site of the EXAMINER office, drew the ox away or a sleigh, the weather on September 26th 1851, having been frosty and slushy. There was no great effort made to reach the offenders—such larks were more frequent and more leniently looked upon in those days. However a mock trial was held the next day, before Mayor Hudson—who put the obfuscated Ethiopean, Henry Cronn, into the box without much other result than giving the title to a popular song whose chorus ran thus:—

"Of all the men that's in the town
C. Hudson is the biggest clown
To put poor Henry in the box
To swear against the men who stole the ox.

Personal.

One week from next Sunday the anniversary services of St. Andrew's church will be held.

The many friends of Rev. D. O'Connell, parish priest of Ennismore, will regret to learn that his condition is unimproved. The Reverend Father will have the sympathy of a host of friends in his illness.

Rev. E. A. Pearson, B.A., of Cannington, occupied his father's pulpit in the George street Methodist church, Sunday morning and preached an admirable sermon. Mr. Pearson's many personal friends in the congregation were highly pleased with his first pulpit effort in Peterborough.

The numerous friends of Mr. F. A. Rowan, B.A., formerly well known in Peterborough as one of the staff of the Collegiate Institute, will be pleased to learn that he has proceeded to the legal practice of the late George McDonald, Barrister, Toronto, with whom he was in partnership at the time of the latter's death. This practice was so extensive that Mr. Rowan has been compelled to take in a partner, Mr. James Ross, B.A., who took a high standing at the law examinations. Mr. Rowan's friends, when visiting the city will find him at No. 7 York Chambers, 9 Toronto street.

Church Chimes.

BAPTIST CHURCH. Yesterday special sermons to young men were preached by the pastor, Rev. P. C. Parker with reference to the Young Men's Christian Association, for the funds of which special collections were taken. The text for the morning discourse was taken from I Samuel, x chap., v 26.—"The King's Body Guard;" and for the evening sermon from Eccles. x chap., v 8.—"Trespassers will be prosecuted." The services were exceedingly impressive, and the sermons powerful and pointed. The illustrations were taken from the current news of the day in the Saturday's Globe, and use was made of the sketches of the diverse characters of Bob Younger, Josiah Henson, "The Jubilee Plunger" and Wm. Gooderham, to point the moral of the text.

Police Court,

MONDAY, Sept. 23.

Edward Harris was charged with forestalling on the market Saturday. The case was enlarged till to-morrow.

Mr. E. B. Stone, on behalf of Mr. J. J. Turner, entered an appeal against the magistrate's decision in the recent refreshment stand by-law case.

A case of indecent assault occupied the attention of the court till one o'clock, when an adjournment was made till half past two, when the trial was resumed. Edward Morsley, a clerk in Lowe's store, Hunter street, is charged with indecently assaulting Mrs. Killesbeck, 100 Aylmer street, a young woman who has been married only seven weeks. Mr. R. E. Wood, C.C.A., conducted the prosecution and Mr. W. H. Moore the defence. The plaintiff testified that the assault was attempted on Friday forenoon last at 10 o'clock, while her husband was away working on the railway. The prisoner, who was arrested Saturday afternoon, she recognized as her assailant because she had been acquainted with him for about five months. The assault was unsuccessful, though her clothes were torn and her back hurt, and finally her assailant left the house. The defence claimed to be able to prove an alibi, asserting that the prisoner was elsewhere at the time of the alleged assault, and evidence to this end was being taken shortly before the EXAMINER went to press.

Extraordinary Report.

Canada Life Policy Holders to be Congratulated

The following is from the Montreal Insurance and Finance Chronicle, in reference to the annual report of the Canada Life Insurance Company of which Messrs. Cox & Davis Peterborough are agents: "The report of this company has been a surprise to us. We have been accustomed for years to expect uniformly good and satisfactory statements from the Canada Life, but we were not prepared for such a remarkable record as the one before us. We have examined it critically, compared it with those of previous years, and in short turned it inside out generally, and must confess that the more we have examined it the more we are pleased with it. Here is in brief, the position: During the year the income increased nearly $150,000, while the death claims paid, actually decreased almost $75,000, and the expenses also decreased nearly $10,000. And that this curtailment of the expenditure has not been accompanied by any impairment in the efficiency of the working force is evident, from the fact that the new assurances were considerably in excess of those of the previous year, and that the total amount at risk has been increased to $46,848 870. In harmony with, and in fact as a result of this happy state at affairs, very nearly an exact million ($982,444,51) was added to the assets which are now practically $10,000,000.

The following summary will give an idea of what the growth of the Canadian Life has been in the past, and what its prospects are for the future:

Year	Income.	Assets.	Assurances in force.
1850	$27 858	$11 873	$314 992
1855	83,408	217,758	2,349,608
1860	133 446	664,929	3,366 407
1865	141,464	717 379	4,013 398
1870	373,726	1 690 088	6,404 437
1875	582,735	2,412,362	13,430 037
1880	835,556	4,297,852	21,547,750
1889	1,839,905	9,984,450	46,848,870

Two very important departures are announced in this report. In the first place the company has decided to extend its agencies to the United States, beginning at present with the State of Michigan; and in the next place, the accounts will hereafter be closed on the 31st of December in each year, thus bringing the practice into conformity with that of all other Canadian and American offices. These events mark the commencement of a new era in the progress of the company. They are both wise and timely, and we congratulate the President and his assistants on their decision in regard to both points. As Canadians we are proud that the institution which bears our national name, and which will to a certain extent represent us in the United States, is one of such high standing and character as the Canada Life."

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

Sold only in cans, full weight.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

THE VITRIOL THROWING CASE REMAINS A MYSTERY

Seizure of Three Illicit Stills An Ottawa Boy's Last Voyage The Quebec Disaster to be Investigated.

OTTAWA, Sept. 24. Mr. Owen Jones, London, Eng., is here. Mr. Jones is connected with a large financial firm in the world's metropolis and is out here on private business. He visited Mr. Sandford Fleming, C.M.G., yesterday, with whom he became acquainted in the old country. Mr. and Mrs. Bampas and Mr. C. Bampas, London, Eng., are in the city. Mr. Bampas is an English Q.C. and is the solicitor in England of the Bank of British North America and of the Bank of Montreal. He acts for the Crown agent of the Dominion Government (Department of Justice) in London.

The recent case of vitriol throwing still remains a mystery. Archambault, who was in the employ of Mr Paradis of Waterloo street, has not yet turned up, and is not likely to, as his friends state that he has left for his home in Montreal for medical treatment. It is said that his face is terribly disfigured from the effects of the fluid. The right side is badly eaten away, while his nose is twice its natural size. It has been ascertained from an authoritative source that the woman who is alleged to have thrown the fluid threatened to do Archambault injury some time ago, and he appealed to the police for protection.

George S. Culbert, aged 21 years, of this city, went to British Columbia two years ago and became a sailor. On the ship Salcette he left Australia for Rotterdam and intended on arriving at the latter port to leave the sea and return home. For the sixth time he started on his trip round Cape Horn and everything looked bright and prosperous for him. A heavy storm struck the ship when off the Cape and he was washed overboard.

At Rougemont, in the St. Hyacinthe district, two illicit stills and part of a third, together with over 100 gallons of liquor, have been seized. The liquor was destroyed and the capture, which was made on Sept. 19, was reported to Ottawa yesterday.

Mr. J. G. Colmer, C.M.G. of the Canadian High Commissioner's office in London, has arrived for the purpose of visiting the various Crofter colonization settlements in the Northwest.

Gen. Sir Fred Middleton leaves for Quebec to-day. He will supervise the scientific investigation and make a separate report. It is thought that two or three railway engineers, who are used to landslips and are experts in the rules of such occurrences, should be sent down.

Mr. Thomas Bole, ex-M.P.P., New Westminster, B.C., a newly created judge of British Columbia, is in town. Mr. Bole declines to say anything with regard to the Behring Sea question. He says the price of real estate is rapidly increasing in British Columbia cities.

Rev. W. D. Reeve, Fort Chipewyan, Anglican arch-deacon of Athabasca, N.W.T., was in the city yesterday on his way to England, where he is going to spend a short holiday. He said his district covered a large area, being over 300 miles in one direction. The population consisted chiefly of Hudson Bay Company employes and Half-breeds. There are three churches in the district and a bishop, archdeacon and three clergymen. In summer the various parishes in the district are visited by steamboat, but in the winter the old-fashioned mode of traveling by dog sleds and snow shoes is used. There are very few settlers in the district, the land being unfit for cultivation with the exception of a small part in the south, near the Peace River.

THE AMBITIOUS CITY'S FAIR.

Fighting the Grand Trunk—Alleged Incendiarism—Shoupe's Assailant.

HAMILTON, Sept. 24.—All the space in the main building has been taken up for the Great Central Fair, which opens here to-day. The stables are rapidly filling up, and it is expected that there will be a fine exhibit of horses and the best show of cattle ever seen here. Secretary Smith says the entries in every department exceed those of any previous year, except perhaps in grapes.

The City Council will send a committee, composed of members of the Council and of the Board of Trade, to Ottawa on Oct. 1 to meet the Railway Committee of the Privy Council and oppose the privilege asked for by the Grand Trunk Railway to build a spur line across Hamilton beach from their main line east of this city.

James Connelly, a demented tramp, was arrested by the asylum authorities on Saturday evening on the charge of setting fire to the old Muirhead premises on the mountain. He has been hanging around there for some time and had been heard threatening to fire the place. On Saturday evening the barn and buildings were burned and Connelly was promptly taken in as the incendiary.

Before Judge Muir, John Moore of Glanford was arraigned yesterday morning to plead to the charge of assaulting Reuben H. Shoupe of Hagersville, at Glanford station on the night of Sept. 13. It will be remembered that some one cracked Shoupe's head with a cordwood stick, and the Glanford physicians have been busy ever since picking desiccated skull out of his brain. Moore pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by a jury.

Mr. Jo Lewis, The Spectator's long absent city editor, returned to his post on Saturday.

The Ancient Capital.

QUEBEC, Sept. 24.—Accounts from adjacent districts are continually reaching town of damage by the recent continuous rains. Small brooks and streams over-flowed and bridges have been carried away. Some farmers have whole fields of potatoes and turnips under water.

A small boat containing a man and a young lad while sailing down the river Sunday capsized. The man managed to cling to the bottom of the boat till she was righted with assistance from other passing rafts, but the lad disappeared and was drowned. The parties belonged to Levis.

Mr. Bazinet Unseated

MONTREAL, Sept. 24. The Court of Review yesterday unseated Mr. Bazinet, ministerial member of the Legislative Assembly for Joliette, but refused to grant the petitioner's application for his disqualification. The election was annulled for corrupt practices by agents.

Held for Conspiracy.

OKLAHOMA, I.T., Sept. 23.—An attempt was made here Saturday morning to vote on a charter, which if carried, would end the terms of the present city officials. At the request of Mayor Couch a company of U.S. troops, under Capt. Stiles, cleared the streets in front of the two polling places, clubbing the citizens with their guns and using their bayonets. Several were injured in the melee but none seriously. Editor Sawyer of The Times, together with eight others who favored holding the election, were held on a charge of conspiracy and resisting officers, but all were subsequently set at liberty under $1000 bonds. There were fears of mob violence for a time, but all is quiet now.

BURGLARS BREAK OUT.

ESCAPE OF THREE PRISONERS FROM THE TORONTO JAIL

Seizure of Liquor in an Unlicensed House on the Island—Serious Accident—A Ferry Syndicate.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—George Pearce, Michael Spellman and Charles Jarvis, prisoners in the county jail, made their escape yesterday by cutting the iron bars of their cell windows. George Pearce and Michael Spellman were lying in custody awaiting sentence. The former had been convicted of three charges of housebreaking and Michael Spellman of two. Against the latter is a charge of burglarizing the post-office at Whitby. Charles Jarvis was under remand. On Friday next he was to have been tried for house-breaking. The three prisoners made their escape between one and two o'clock. The prison bars they cut were one of the corridor windows. It is not known how the tools they used were smuggled into the prison to them. The detectives are after the escaped trio.

The report of 600 crop correspondents sent to the Ontario Bureau on Sept. 13 has been reduced to a bulletin. The July estimate of fall wheat is lowered 5,600,000 bushels, the total yield being put now at 19,772,081 bushels. The barley yield is 3,000,000 less than the July average. The crop has been generally secured in first-rate condition. The oat yield is greater than last year's crop by 2,200,000 bushels. Rye has returned out well. Corn and buckwheat are unpromising.

The report of Col. Gzowski and W. Shanly on the Esplanade question is published this morning. A viaduct for the railroads is the main suggestion made by them and their plan differs only in details from that of Mr. Wellington.

Frederick J. Funge and Martha Funge of Lambton Mills have caused a writ to be issued by their solicitor, Mr. A. W. Burke, against William G. Lee of this city for $500 damages, for alleged indecent assault committed by Lee on the plaintiff, Martha Funge.

Twenty kegs of lager, twenty-eight dozen bottles of ale and one dozen bottles of whisky were seized at William Ward's hotel on the east end of the Island Saturday. A summons has been issued against Ward for having liquor for sale without a license.

A serious accident happened to Frederick Rogers of Mimico at the Humber bridge yesterday morning. He was working on the top of a pile of stone, between fifteen and twenty feet in height. While leaning over the edge of the heap to place a stone in position he over-balanced himself, falling headforemost to the ground, which was thickly strewn with pieces of broken stone, and sustained most painful internal injuries besides mangling his face so badly as to be almost beyond recognition, his two wrists being also sprained. The injured man was hastily removed to a Grand Trunk Railway locomotive and brought to the city, being met at the station by the ambulance, which conveyed him to the general hospital. Although Rogers' condition is dangerous the doctors hope to bring him around all right.

The proposed reception to Oarsman O'Connor has been postponed as he did not come over on the Alaska. Rogers, his backer, arrived yesterday morning. He says that O'Connor was overtrained. O'Connor has challenged Searle to row single on any water in America, or Searle and Neil Matterson, his trainer, to row O'Connor and Hanlan. The Australians are considering the offer.

The opening of the Law School, announced for yesterday has been postponed for two weeks owing to certain changes in the rules relating thereto made by the benchers on Saturday. Students and articled clerks who are required to take either the first or second intermediate examinations between now and November, 1889, will have to take the next May examination of the Law School in lieu thereof and Toronto students will have to attend the school

A strong syndicate has been formed to buy up the Doty ferry franchises at the Island and next summer one of the finest fleets of ferry steamers outside of New York will be put into commission. The head men in the new company are William Hendrie of Hamilton and E. R. Osler of Toronto.

Shot His Arm Off.

KINGSTON, Sept. 24.—John Ruttan shot his left arm off above the elbow on Saturday while shooting on Dog Lake. He was near Brewer's Mills in a small boat when a flock of ducks approached him. In pulling his gun toward him by the barrel, the trigger caught in the seat and the gun discharged.

The annual practice of the field artillery of the Dominion takes place at Kingston this week, commencing to-day and ending on Saturday. The camp will be formed in Portsmouth, where the detachments will be under canvas during the period occupied by them in firing. Each battery will be represented by eight previously selected marksmen and four officers.

Lead Thieves at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 24.—Donald Black and Richard Gamble, two boys under 13 years of age, were arrested on Saturday evening charged with stealing lead pipe from a house belonging to Mr. James Cochrane. They were brought before the court yesterday morning and pleaded guilty. Black, on account of it being his first offence, was let off on giving security for good behavior for the future and to appear for sentence when wanted. Gamble was sent for three years to the reformatory at Penetang.

Serious Accident to a Brakeman.

MILTON, Sept. 24.—A young man named Harris, a brakeman on a C. P. R. freight train, met with a very painful and serious accident here yesterday. While uncoupling cars he slipped and fell on the rail one wheel passing over his left knee causing a separation of the joint and fracture of one of the bones of his leg. Amputation of the leg will probably be necessary.

Fire last night in the wholesale produce store of James Williamson, Montreal, did $6000 damage, partly covered by insurance.

A $15,000 Blaze.

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., Sept. 21.—At 3 o'clock yesterday morning the planing mill, offices and a large amount of material of the Charlevoix Manufacturing Company burned. The fire spread to Mr. Logan's residence, which was also burned. Loss $15,000, with but light insurance.

Mr. Gibson Will Stand for East Huron.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 24.—A convention of the Reformers of East Huron was held here yesterday to nominate a candidate for the Ontario Assembly in the coming general election. Among those present were Mr. Thomas Gibson, the present member, and Mr. E. E. Wade of Brussels, president of the Reform Association of the riding. Mr. Gibson being willing to accept the nomination all other candidates retired in his favor, and the nomination was made unanimous by a standing vote. During the meeting brief addresses were delivered by the gentlemen proposed before the convention, by the candidate and by Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education. In the evening a meeting was held in the Town Hall, which was addressed at length by Hon. Mr. Ross and Mr. Gibson, the nominee of the convention.

ABOUT 150 MAJORITY.

IS WHAT THE GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE IN THE NEW CHAMBER.

Boulangists Claim the General Was Elected in Montmartre—Gladstone Talks in a Hopeful Strain.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Returns from 560 electoral divisions show 224 Republicans have been elected and 550 members of the Opposition. Among the Republicans elected there are 16 Moderates and 57 Radicals. The Opposition members elected include 86 Royalists, 61 Bonapartists and 22 Boulangists. Re-ballots will be necessary in 177 divisions. It is expected 135 of these will return Republicans. The Republicans will probably also secure the seats for the colonies.

The new Chamber will probably consist of 360 Republicans and 201 members of the Opposition.

The Boulangists claim that the General is elected from Montmartre. They say that the rejection of Boulangist votes at some of the polling stations was illegal.

The Grand Old Optimist.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Mr. Gladstone in receiving a deputation of Liberals yesterday, said the issue of the dock laborers' strike was pregnant with hope for the future of labor in England. The political outlook was very hopeful for the Liberals. Mr. Balfour's letter in which he says the question of a foundation endowment for the proposed Irish University has never been considered by the Government is, Mr. Gladstone said, the shabbiest part of the shabby proceeding.

All Roads Lead to Rome.

ROME, Sept. 24.—In response to the Pope's call for the election of new generals, deputies, of the Franciscan, Augustian and Carmelite orders are arriving here from all parts of the world.

Child Desertion at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 24.—Between 8 and 9 o'clock Saturday night a couple of young women belonging to Trinity College School, while passing the residence of Captain Robin in Ward-street, heard the cry of an infant on the verandah. Some unnatural mother had left the child and fled. The Chief of Police is on the track with every prospect of her arrest.

A Woodstock Bear Story.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 24.—Yesterday morning while J. Weir, a dairyman living a short distance west of the town, was attempting to catch his horses he started a bear out of some brush. Weir evaded it and ran to D. Miller's, the well known crack shot who lives on Given-street. They returned to Weir's and after a lively chase Miller killed it. The bear weighed 200 pounds.

Another Toronto-Hamilton Line.

HAMILTON, Sept. 24.—The Evening Times says: The Times is able to state on undoubted authority that Mr. Joseph Hobson has received orders to lay out the ground for a double track on the Grand Trunk between Hamilton and Toronto, and that the work will be proceeded with in about ten days.

Fire at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 24.—A spark from a grate kindled a fire in N. Hockin's brick residence at noon yesterday. The house was saved. The damage to furniture is about $300.

A Month for Profanity.

PORT HOPE, Sept. 24.—J. Murphy, a tramp, was arrested Sunday night for using profane language on the street. He got one month in jail.

THE SPHERE OF SPORT.

Nelson Wins the $10,000 Stallion Race at Beacon Park.

BEACON PARK, Sept. 24.—The great stallion race for the Balch stake of $10,000 was trotted yesterday before 15,000 persons. Nelson won in three straight heats. Time 2.18 1-2, 2.17 1-2, 2.18 3-4.

THE QUEBEC TRAGEDY.

Funerals of Five More of the Victims—Another Body Unearthed.

QUEBEC, Sept. 24.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the father, mother and sisters of Thomas Nolan went down to the shipping office to have a last look at the remains, prior to the funeral. The mother encircled the coffin with her arms exclaiming: "Oh! My son! Oh! My son! So young, so lovely, and thus leave thy mother." A detachment of the 8th Royal Rifles saluted the body at its approach. His wife's body followed in the next hearse. Beautiful wreaths of flowers were presented by the 8th Royal Rifles.

Next to follow were George Miller, the adopted son of Richard Maybury, and young Maybury. It was a sad spectacle to see the two youthful fellows, not yet 15, side by side in the shipping office. They were promising young men. Many flowers and wreaths were deposited on their coffins.

The fifth was the baby of Mrs. Lawson, who was buried yesterday, in a little casket not three feet long. Many tears were shed at the sight of the innocent victim's remains. Five in all were buried yesterday. They had not been twelve hours out of the ruins, yet their bodies exhaled such an odor that they had to be buried immediately. Nolan and his wife were buried at Woodfield Cemetery and the Mayburys and Mrs. Lawson's baby at Mount Hermon Cemetery.

At about 6 o'clock the remains of Henry Black were found in a heap of ruins some 25 feet high. Of course they were torn and shattered. The head was intact, but the remainder of the corpse was torn, broken and scattered about the ground. Mrs. Black is at the Hotel Dieu recovering from severe bruises and gashes, as is also young Miss Black. They know nothing of Mr. Black's sad end. Men paid by the city are working night and day to recover the other bodies.

A meeting of the citizens took place at the City Hall yesterday afternoon under the presidency of Mayor Langelier. The City Councillors were all present as well as many citizens. Mayor Langelier explained the situation of the sufferers and the best way of helping them. Rev. Bishop Williams suggested that a committee should be organized to collect subscriptions from citizens and others. After a number of speeches the assembly unanimously voted thanks to the officers and men of "B" Battery and the Royal School of Cavalry, who during 36 hours worked like Trojans to rescue the bodies of the victims buried alive. The aid committee will also interview members of the Government in order to secure help from that quarter if possible.

Belleville News.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 24.—Preparations for the Bay of Quinte district fair which will be opened by Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture, are going on satisfactorily. A fine exhibit from the experimental farm at Ottawa has arrived, and machinery and articles which are to be shown in the main building are being arranged in their positions.

The drying kiln and the Canadian lumber cutting machine company's works was burned yesterday morning, loss $500.

Miss Caroline Gibbert of Sidney died at Tarkia, Miss., Saturday.

Two young men named Young of Sidney, who went duck shooting on Friday, are missing.

At the opening of the assizes yesterday afternoon Judge McMahon was presented with a pair of white gloves, there being no prisoners in jail for trial. His Lordship, who was a student in Belleville and made his first appearance here in his judicial capacity, was congratulated by the bar.

A cheese of about 1500 pounds weight has been made at the union factory, Canifton, for exhibition at the fair.

The inquest in the case of William Emery, who was shot in Marmora, has been adjourned until Oct. 1. An effort is being made to unravel the mystery of the unfortunate man's death. It is reported that a man suspected of killing him has disappeared.

Attempted Suicide.

HALIFAX, Sept. 24.—Last week a pretty and wealthy young lady whose parents reside in New Brunswick arrived in this city for the purpose of attending one of the collegiate institutions. She stopped with a prominent gentleman of this city to whom she is related. Sunday evening while the family were absent the young lady, who remained at home with two small children, attempted to commit suicide by taking poison. As near as can be learned she purchased a vial of poisonous liquids from a druggist, intimating that it was to be used in chemical experiments at college. The would-be suicide poured a portion of the poison out and mixing it with water drank the contents of the cup. On the return of the head of the house the girl was lying on a sofa apparently sound asleep. Thinking it strange that she was not awakened by the noise made by opening the door the gentleman tried to arouse her but without success. Seeing a small vial upon the book case the idea flashed across his mind that the girl had taken some poisonous matter either purposely or by mistake. A doctor was immediately summoned, who succeeded in restoring her to consciousness.

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves.'
G. H. BESS.
Orbisonia, Pa.

"I am in my 66th year. Have been afflicted in several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite, no strength, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and felt relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and strength are almost like those of a young man."
A. C. KENEAL, D. D., Gonzales, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Builds up and builds up the old, and cures Nervous Prostration, Rheumatism, Indigestion and Biliousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 68 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system."
E. SYLVIA, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

The Excursion of the Season

(From a Correspondent.)

It took place on the 17th and 18th of the present month, from Lakefield to Lindsay and return—the best value for one dollar, to a person that could prize nature and art beautifully combined. About 10 o'clock we got on board that neat little boat, the Cruiser, then we went steaming up that grand stretch of water called Katchewanick Lake, which I think the people in its vicinity must prize highly for its beauty and usefulness. In a short time we were in Young's Point, where we had a few minutes delay in locking. There we had the pleasure of seeing the locks and a fine iron bridge, which I think displays the art of man. In a few minutes we were in Clear Lake, a clear stretch of water, which I was told abounds with the finny tribe, as all those waters in the north do. In a short time we were into that picturesque water, called Stony Lake, it is dotted with islands and rocks, and those islands are owned by people who live there during the warm part of the summer. There are quite a number of cottages erected on the islands, which altogether give the lake a very fantastic appearance. This lake is quite large. In a short time we were in Burleigh locks, which to my mind are beautiful. The water above the locks is said to be the best bass fishing place between Lakefield and Lindsay. When we were nearing Lovesick I noticed the scenery was rough but natural, excepting the locks, which we cannot help remembering. What an amount of money must of been used in making those waters navigable. The land in that vicinity does not appear to be of much use for husbandry. I heard that the name of that place originated from a tragedy that happened there; a man who was said to be in love drowned himself. Shortly after we came came into Deer Bay. This water is said to abound with muskinonge. I noticed to the right a very high rock of granite, which I think if a deer fell over, he would not swim much when he got to the water. When we were just at Buckhorn Lake I noticed the shores were bare granite. After we had passed through the locks I heard that fish were plentiful in that water too. The Indians camp there in the fishing season. The village is not far from there; we could see parts of it from a distance. As we passed up Gannon's Narrows, I noticed a very nice cottage, which Mr. John Belcher has erected for a summer residence. We passed that noted island called Jacob's Island, which I think would be a beautiful place for picnicing parties and excursionists. I noticed also a place called Oak Orchard, which is also a lovely place in the summer. As we neared Bobcaygeon on the left, I saw a large lumber mill, employing a great many hands. We were allowed three-quarter's of an hour there to see the village; it quite a thriving little place. They have three very good bridges, and some nice buildings. The signal was given and in a short time we were sailing up that grand expanse of water, Sturgeon Lake. We noticed at a distance that noted summer resort, Sturgeon Point, as we passed along into Scugog River. At first sight one would think it was impassable for a boat to pass through the stumps. I think it was in this water the boat struck some obstacle and gave us quite a jar. However we were not alarmed, as there was a pilot on board. This river has a great many bends, which render it difficult to navigate. We arrived at Lindsay about 6 o'clock, it was raining a little and the hacks came late, which made it rather disagreeable, as we started to walk. Although the day had been dark and showery, all seemed to have enjoyed themselves. We remained in Lindsay over night and at the time for starting on our return, 8 o'clock next morning, there was quite a change in the weather. The sun shone brightly, which allowed us up on decks more. I have but little more to add, except that we called at Sturgeon Point, which I must acknowledge is the prettiest place of all for a summer resort. If our party were all as much delighted as I was they must have had a great feast for it was the first time I had the pleasure of sailing up and down those waters, and, I must say again, it was good value for one dollar.

A Boy's Sad Death.

DEAR SIR,—I am sure you will kindly allow me space for a few remarks on the sad death of the late "Barton Bennington Howden." He did not take the pistol from home, it belonged to the other youth whom he met on his way while accompanying the hired boy to the slaughter house on an errand, and from thence was persuaded to go on to the grove with them. The place is some half mile distant from "Elm tree Point," higher up the river near where Mr. Rossiter was drowned. It is desired that I give a brief sketch of his short stay between wounding and death. From the time he was brought to his grandfather's house, (from which an infant grandson had been buried on the previous Friday) never a murmer escaped his lips. He was gentle and obedient to all the doctor's requests, apparently understanding whatever was said to him until within a short time of his death. As that departed near, kind friends and loving pastor surrounded him and were comforted by the peaceful look and gently drawn last sigh, as if a babe was sleeping in its mother's arms; and so passed away one who in his short life had endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact. Before his death one evening he said, recognizing his father and mother, "good night, papa, follow me," and kissed both. I do not know how merchants feel who sell instruments made for the sole purpose of destroying human life, when they hear of such accidents as these; but I think they must never have heard of the Bible words, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The sorrowing parents, bereft of their only child, gentle, loving and tender to his mother, obedient and useful to his father, have received many proofs of sympathy from kind friends, the following sending flowers:—Mrs. Nesbitt, bouquet; Bruce Uts, basket and bouquet; Mrs. L. Sitty, wreath; Harry Wilcox, bouquet; M. McNamara, bouquet. Maude Green, cross; J. McNamara, bouquet. Mrs. Mowry, bouquet; W. Gibbs, bouquet. G. Mansreff, initials "B. H."; A. McCarthy, bouquet; B. McNamara, bouquet; Miss Kennedy, Otonabee, bouquet; W. Jackson, bouquet; Mrs. Johnston, wreath; Mrs. Parlington, 2 bouquets; Mrs. Green, bouquet; Mrs. J. Butler, bouquet; Mrs. Pearson, North Monaghan, basket of flowers; Mrs. G. Scollie, cross and crown, evergreen; Julia Sabin, bouquet; M. A. McNamara, bouquet; Mother Jackson, bouquet; Mrs. Goodfellow, bouquet; Ormand Bradburn, bouquet; Trixy Stethem, bouquet; Mrs. Irvine, large basket of flowers; M. Comstock, bouquet; Lake St. school children, bouquets; St. John S. S. class, basket of flowers; A. Mitchell, bouquet.

In conclusion I will repeat what he said last Sunday morning; "I don't feel like going to Sunday School to-day, because my teacher is away and there is often a stranger there." Let the words carry their own lesson. If in my anxiety to convey a caution to others in this matter I wound any, let me assure them it is done in love, and to save others the suffering I have witnessed the past week.

A FRIEND.

Poor girl, poor girl so young, so fair,
And doomed to die so soon:
The seeds of death are scattered there.
And long before life's noon
The grass will grow upon her grave:
So friends in sorrow say.
And think no power on earth can save
The dear one from decay.

Why do they think and talk like this? Simply because some of her family have died from scrofulous poisoning of the blood, and they see indications of the same taint in her. Scrofula of the Lungs, commonly called Consumption, is a terrible disease and it is not to be wondered at that they dread it. But it can be conquered. The poison can be driven out of the blood. The taint can be eliminated from the system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical discovery has cured thousands of persons who were expected to find early graves because "there was scrofula in the family." "Golden Medical Discovery" is warranted to remove all Blood-taints from whatever cause arising. It cures all scrofulous, skin and scalp diseases, or money paid for it will be returned. a in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

PHENOMENA OF MEMORY.

PEOPLE WHO NEVER FORGET AND SOME WHO COULDN'T REMEMBER.

Memofanti Was "A Walking Polyglot" and Master of Languages—Curious Instances of Memory in Sleep—The Impressions an Average Brain Holds.

The varieties of memory are as remarkable as its vagaries. There is, for instance, so wide a range between Niebuhr, the great statesman, and a certain divine, that one can scarcely recognize the same faculty in each. It is said of Niebuhr that he remembered everything he had read at any period of his life, and it is said of the reverend doctor that he forgot he had been married within an hour or two of the interesting event.

John Wesley had a remarkable memory, and at 85, even, it was still vigorous. Andrew Fuller could repeat a poem of five hundred lines after hearing it read once or twice, could recite verbatim a sermon or speech, and enumerate the names of the shop signs from the Temple to the end of Cheapside, with a description of the principal articles displayed in each shop window.

Before the days of shorthand reporting, "Memory Woodfall" used to attend the house of commons, and, after listening to a debate, would reproduce the whole without taking a single note. The same power was possessed by William Radcliffe, the husband of Mrs. Radcliffe, the novelist.

Both Macaulay and Sir Walter Scott had prodigious memories, yet neither of them could compare with Beronicious, of Middleburg, who knew by heart the works of Virgil, Cicero, Juvenal, Homer, Aristophanes and the two Plinys. If this was an example of "rote" only we have in Mezzofanti, the celebrated linguist of Bologna, one of the most striking instances on record of what, by distinction, we call intelligent memory. He was described by Lord Byron as "a walking polyglot, a master of languages and a Briareus of parts of speech." At the age of 50 he was thoroughly versed in fifty languages—perfect in pronunciation, idiom, grammar and colloquialisms—and before his death he added twenty or thirty more to the list. He used to say himself that he never forgot anything that he either heard or read.

It is recorded of La Fontaine, noted for his absent-mindedness, that he once attended the funeral of one of his most intimate friends, and shortly afterward called to visit that friend. When reminded by the astonished servant of the recent death he was at first terribly shocked, and then remarked, "True, of course, I recollect now that I went to his funeral."

A curious instance of memory in sleep is related by a French writer on dreams. He says he once saw in a dream a number of men passing out from a feast. He observed them all very attentively, and the face of one struck him so much that he remembered it after waking. Exercising his thoughts as to where he had seen the face before he at last recollected having seen it some days previously in a book of fashions, which he had carelessly glanced at and cast aside.

Reichenbach, a German writer on mental phenomena, says:

"Waking, I cannot with whatever effort recall the features of my wife, who died some twenty years ago; but if I think of her in a dream, and her image is represented, I get the same with such accuracy that I have again before me every expression of her fine features in all their loveliness."

There are endless stories of the hiding places of missing deeds, and so forth, being revealed in dreams. Let us take one as typical.

A landed proprietor in England was involved in a lawsuit in consequence of a claim upon his father's estate, which he was firmly convinced had been discharged. Judgment, however, was about to go against him, as no voucher could be found. But one night, in a dream, his father appeared to him, and said that the papers relating to this affair had been placed in the hands of a solicitor he had not generally employed, but who happened to be engaged for this particular business. In the dream the father said that if this person had forgotten a matter which was already rather old he would be reminded of it by the mention of a Portuguese gold coin, concerning the value of which there was a dispute at the time. The dream was curiously verified, as the solicitor only did recollect the circumstance on mention of the gold coin. He was then able to produce the missing papers, and the son gained the suit after all.

Both Plato and Aristotle have noted that in old age the recollections of childhood are renewed; and it is recorded of Kant that, in his old age, when general memory was decayed and infirm, he had vivid recollections of his youth.

Most of us, probably, have witnessed some affecting instance of an aged person living in the scenes of the long past, with a mind almost blank to the present. This is latent memory awakened, but with powers of consciousness limited by an enfeebled brain.

Even at the very entrance of the "valley of the shadow," the memory plays strange tricks. Goethe told Eckermann that he once knew an old man who in his very last moments began to recite beautiful Greek sentences. These he had been made, as a boy, to learn by heart for a special purpose, but for fifty years had not uttered them. They were there in his memory, though, all the same, and some unexplainable cerebral action suddenly gave them form and expression.

It is computed by scientists that, since one-third of a second suffices to produce an "impression," in 100 years a man must have collected in his brain 9,467,280,000 copies of impressions; or, if we take off one-third of the time for sleep, 6,311,520,000. This would give 8,156,700,000 separate waking impressions to the man who lives to the age of 80 years. Allowing a weight of four pounds to the brain, and deducting one-fourth for blood and vessels and another fourth for external integument, it is further computed that each grain of brain substance must contain 205,342 traces or impressions—All the Year Round

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

By Taking

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

HAIR GOODS

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

He will be in Peterborough, at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24th and 25th.

LADIES should see his New Styles in Frontpieces, Bangs, Waves, Plain and Fluffy Switches, Wigs &c.

GENTLEMEN who are partly or wholly bald should avail themselves of this opportunity to procure a fine Toupee or Wig. Hair Goods are now standard articles of necessity. The sooner you get one or other of the styles, the better for your appearance, your health, your comfort. What gives more attraction to the human person than nice hair? Nothing.

What makes persons more satisfied with themselves than to know that their hair is in proper condition and fashion? Nothing.

What affords more protection to the scalp and delicate organs of the head than a good covering of hair? Nothing These are facts worthy of the greatest consideration. Sooner or later you will arrive at the conclusion that these statements are of importance. Come to the Professor's Show Rooms and see his goods, you are sure to be pleased with the results obtained by wearing them. The Stock is complete and it is certain you will find something to suit you. Remember at PHALEN'S HOTEL, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th and 25th.

☞ Persons living out of town look out for Professor Dorenwend's big posters and conditions on which he will pay your fare to town and return.

PHENOMENA OF MEMORY.

PEOPLE WHO NEVER FORGET AND SOME WHO COULDN'T REMEMBER.

Memefanti Was "A Walking Polyglot" and Master of Languages—Curious Instances of Memory in Sleep—The Impressions an Average Brain Holds.

The varieties of memory are as remarkable as its vagaries. There is, for instance, so wide a range between Niebuhr, the great statesman, and a certain divine, that one can scarcely recognize the same faculty in each. It is said of Niebuhr that he remembered everything he had read at any period of his life; and it is said of the reverend doctor that he forgot he had been married within an hour or two of the interesting event.

John Wesley had a remarkable memory, and at 85, even, it was still vigorous. Andrew Fuller could repeat a poem of five hundred lines after hearing it read once or twice, could recite verbatim a sermon or speech, and enumerate the names of the shop signs from the Temple to the end of Cheapside, with a description of the principal articles displayed in each shop window.

Before the days of shorthand reporting, "Memory Woodfall" used to attend the house of commons, and, after listening to a debate, would reproduce the whole without taking a single note. The same power was possessed by William Radcliffe, the husband of Mrs. Radcliffe, the novelist.

Both Macaulay and Sir Walter Scott had prodigious memories, yet neither of them could compare with Beroncicous, of Middleburg, who knew by heart the works of Virgil, Cicero, Juvenal, Homer, Aristophanes and the two Plinys. If this was an example of "rote" only we have in Mezzofanti, the celebrated linguist of Bologna, one of the most striking instances on record of what, by distinction, we call intelligent memory. He was described by Lord Byron as "a walking polyglot, a master of languages and a Briarcus of parts of speech." At the age of 50 he was thoroughly versed in fifty languages—perfect in pronunciation, idiom, grammar and colloquialisms—and before his death he added twenty or thirty more to the list. He used to say himself that he never forgot anything that he either heard or read.

It is recorded of La Fontaine, noted for his absent-mindedness, that he once attended the funeral of one of his most intimate friends, and shortly afterward called to visit that friend. When reminded by the astonished servant of the recent death he was at first terribly shocked, and then remarked, "True, of course, I recollect now that I went to his funeral."

A curious instance of memory in sleep is related by a French writer on dreams. He says he once saw in a dream a number of men passing out from a feast. He observed them all very attentively, and the face of one struck him so much that he remembered it after waking. Exercising his thoughts as to where he had seen the face before he at last recollected having seen it some days previously in a book of fashions, which he had carelessly glanced at and cast aside.

Reichenbach, a German writer on mental phenomena, says:

"Waking, I cannot with whatever effort recall the features of my wife, who died some twenty years ago; but if I think of her in a dream, and her image is represented, I get the same with such accuracy that I have again before me every expression of her fine features in all their loveliness."

There are endless stories of the hiding places of missing deeds, and so forth, being revealed in dreams. Let us take one as typical.

A landed proprietor in England was involved in a lawsuit in consequence of a claim upon his father's estate, which he was firmly convinced had been discharged. Judgment, however, was about to go against him, as no voucher could be found. But one night, in a dream, his father appeared to him, and said that the papers relating to this affair had been placed in the hands of a solicitor he had not generally employed, but who happened to be engaged for this particular business. In the dream the father said that if this person had forgotten a matter which was already rather old he would be reminded of it by the mention of a Portuguese gold coin, concerning the value of which there was a dispute at the time. The dream was curiously verified, as the solicitor only did recollect the circumstance on mention of the gold coin. He was then able to produce the missing papers, and the son gained the suit after all.

Both Plato and Aristotle have noted that in old age the recollections of childhood are renewed; and it is recorded of Kant that, in his old age, when general memory was decayed and infirm, he had vivid recollections of his youth.

Most of us, probably, have witnessed some affecting instance of an aged person living in the scenes of the long past, with a mind almost blank to the present. This is latent memory reawakened, but with powers of consciousness limited by an enfeebled brain.

Even at the very entrance of the "valley of the shadow," the memory plays strange tricks. Goethe told Eckermann that he once knew an old man who in his very last moments began to recite beautiful Greek sentences. These he had been made, as a boy, to learn by heart for a special purpose, but for fifty years had not uttered them. They were there in his memory, though, all the same, and some unexplainable cerebral action suddenly gave them form and expression.

It is computed by scientists that, since one-third of a second suffices to produce an "impression," in 100 years a man must have collected in his brain 9,467,280,000 copies of impressions; or, if we take off one-third of the time for sleep, 6,311,520,000. This would give 3,156,760,000 separate waking impressions to the man who lives to the age of 50 years. Allowing a weight of four pounds to the brain, and deducting one-fourth for blood and vessels and another fourth for external integument, it is further computed that each grain of brain substance must contain 205,542 traces or impressions—All the Year Round

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw37

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and,

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangellat, Shelby City, Ky.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

He will be in Peterborough, at Phelan's Hotel, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24th and 25th.

LADIES should see his New Styles in Frontpieces, Bangs, Waves, Plain and Fluffy Switches, Wigs &c.

GENTLEMEN who are partly or wholly bald should avail themselves of this opportunity to procure a fine Toupee or Wig. Hair Goods are now standard articles of necessity. The sooner you get one or other of the styles, the better for your appearance, your health, your comfort. What gives more attraction to the human person than nice hair? Nothing.

What makes persons more satisfied with themselves than to know that their hair is in proper condition and fashion? Nothing.

What affords more protection to the scalp and delicate organs of the head than a good covering of hair? Nothing These are facts worthy of the greatest consideration. Sooner or later you will arrive at the conclusion that these statements are of importance. Come to the Professor's Show Rooms and see his goods, you are sure to be pleased with the results obtained by wearing them. The Stock is complete and it is certain you will find something to suit you. Remember at PHALEN'S HOTEL, on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th and 25th.

THURSDAY EVENING.

A Pleasant Event.

Monday evening Miss Annie Brundrette was made the recipient of a testimonial from the quarterly board of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, previous to her leaving town for Belleville, where she has accepted a position in Brignall & Thompson's dry goods house. The members of the board learning only the other day of Miss Brundrett's intended departure, determined to present her with some token of their esteem for her, and regret at the severance of her pleasant relations. Miss Brundrette has for a number of years been a valued member of the choir, and in other capacities as well has advanced the interests of the church and Sunday school. Her loss will be greatly felt. Monday night Mr. Wm. Clexton, recording steward, and Messrs R. Neil and A. L. Davis, visited Miss Brundrette at her father's residence, and the first named gentleman in a few complimentary words presented her with a handsome Bible and prayer-book on behalf of the quarterly board. Miss Brundrette was taken quite by surprise but made a suitable acknowledgment. Her many friends in town will wish her every success in the Bay City, where no doubt she will soon become the centre of a large circle of acquaintances which a young lady of her amiability and obliging disposition of character is sure to cultivate.

ADMISSION, 10c.

Laying the Corner Stone.

Preparations for the ceremony Thursday forenoon are progressing. The corner stone is to be situated in the south-west corner of the new market building, at the juncture of Charlotte and George streets. The programme as originally outlined will be carried out, and the occasion will be made a gala one. The Battalion and fire brigade are to parade, headed by the band, from the drill shed. The ceremony will be begun at ten o'clock and no doubt it will attract thousands of spectators. A holiday has been proclaimed in the schools, and the officers of the Battalion and members of the corner stone committee hope the merchants on George street who have in their employment young men belonging to the volunteers, will allow them to take part in the parade. It will be for only a couple of hours in the forenoon when very little business will be done, though it is fair time; the corner stone laying will keep the people on the streets and no shopping will be done till afterwards. The committee have also issued invitations to a number of prominent local men to be present at the ceremony. Mayor Stevenson will lay the corner stone in the presence of the town Council and the population. The documents are to be enclosed in two glass bottles, and then hermetically sealed in a lead box ten inches square and six deep. There will be the customary copies of newspapers, coins, and civic data, as well as the relics taken from the corner stone of the old building. After the ceremony the firemen and volunteers are to be entertained by the corporation in the fire hall. Mr. John Craig has the contract for feeding the two or three hundred men who will probably be in the parade.

THE INSTITUTE ENQUIRY.

Principal Long's Reply to Mr. Dumble.

Addresses by Messrs. Long and Earle and Mr. Dumble—The Matter Dropped and No Conclusion Arrived at—Changes in the Teaching Staff of the Institute—A School Holiday on Thursday.

The special meeting of the School Board, Monday, attracted the largest audience that has attended any of its sessions for years past, manifesting the public interest which is being taken in the present controversy about the Collegiate Institute. There was also a full attendance of the Board. Mr. James Stevenson, chairman, presided, and the members present were Messrs. O'Meara, Burnham, English, Weir, Wrighton, Rutherford, Boucher, McWilliams, Deane, Hamilton, Hill and Dumble.

Some preliminary business was disposed of before the chief item on the programme was taken up.

Mr. Robt. Brown applied for the position of Janitor of the North Ward School—Referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. W. G. Ellis tendered his resignation of his position as teacher in the Collegiate Institute, he having been appointed Principal of the Cobourg Institute, and another communication was read from Mr. James A. Fife, at present Science Master in the Institute, applying for the position vacated by Mr. Ellis.

Rev. E. H. Davis claimed that he had been erroneously taxed, and asked revision of the amount charged him.—Referred to the Town Council.

The account of Mrs. Tighe, amounting to $34 00 was paid.

The chairman asked the Board to decide upon the question of allowing the school pupils a holiday next Thursday. The holiday was granted.

The resignation of Mr. Ellis was accepted, on motion by Mr. O'Meara, seconded by Mr. Burnham, and Mr. Fife was appointed to the vacant mathematical mastership; Mr. Ellis to be at liberty to go when a successor to Mr. Fife's late position was received.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. Hill, that the Board advertise for a teacher to take Mr. Fife's place as Science Master, the salary to be $800.—Carried.

BEGINNING OF THE ADDRESSES.

MR. LONG, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, asked permission to address the Board and clear up some statements which he said had been going around about the Collegiate Institute.

MR. DUMBLE said that words only led to ill feeling, and he thought it would be better for Mr. Long, if he wished, to make any explanation to the Board, to do it in writing. His statements could then be dealt with in a proper way and all personalities would be avoided.

MR. LONG replied that he had not an opportunity of replying to these attacks before.

After some question among the members of the Board, Mr. McWilliams moved that Mr Long be allowed to speak, Mr. Dumble moving in amendment that he be asked to send in a written statement to the Board. The original motion was carried and Mr. Long was given an opportunity of addressing the Board.

MR. LONG on rising was greeted with applause, which was quickly subdued by a shout of "Order" from the chairman. Mr. Long said he had been often asked why he had not before replied to the charges made against him, but he had not done so, he said, because he did not think it becoming to himself as Principal nor a credit to the Institute that he should engage in the controversy; and besides he never had the opportunity of replying to these attacks on the spot when they were made. But now he felt called upon to make some defence. These attacks by Mr. Dumble upon himself began, he said, long ago.

HIS FIRST CHARGE

was that he (Mr. Long) was not legally qualify as classical master—though while he occupied the position there were no failures reported in that department, and though he had, for a time, taken charge of the classical department only in order that there might be no break in school work. But the last apectorid away with this objection by declaring that though not strictly qualified, yet Mr. Long was fully competent to fill the position. Then he claimed that Mr. Dumble had objected to his dismissing seven of Dr. Teasle's pupils, when the fact was that he could not allow them to remain under the government regulations. But these and other attacks—attacks always made the public Board—were made for the purpose of sending abroad the impression that there was something wrong with the teachers of the Institute. After awhile, said Mr. Long, Mr. Dumble stated that the Institute lacked tone, and in order to give it tone he proposed to establish a literary society. Mr. Long concurred in his views in this respect, though he (Mr. Long) now believed that Mr. Dumble's idea was not solely that the literary class might be stated, but that an impression should go abroad that something was wrong. Next he proposed a gymnasium, and with that proposition Mr. Long said he also agreed. But nothing was said regarding the condition of the Institute till, Mr. Long said, one night Mr. Dumble awakes to the idea that it is overcrowded. Mr. Dumble had frequently urged him (the Principal) to get as large an attendance as possible so that the Peterborough Institute might be one of the best in the province—then he becomes convinced it is overcrowded and pictures the terribly congested accomodation of the Institute building In order to remedy this he proposed to increase the county pupil fees. Mr. Long said he objected to this, because, as he told Mr. Dumble, if the fees were raised and county pupils kept away, what would they do for material for certificates? Mr. Dumble replied that he didn't care if they didn't get a single certificate, the town pupils had to be protected and not crowded out by county pupils.

MR. DUMBLE here interposed and enquired if Mr. Long's address was to be an attack on his trusteeship these long years or was it about the schools? If he had done right, what right had Mr. Long to assume that he had done so with bad motives. If it was to be a personal attack, was it not very unhappy?

MR. LONG replied that it was not to attack Mr. Dumble, but to show what obstacles he had to encounter in managing the Institute. Continuing, he said that Mr. Dumble's was that the attendance should be cut down. Then he made an attack on his (Mr. Long's) general management, and a committee was appointed to investigate. Then the Inspector (Mr. Hodgson) appears, and then the charge is that no importance can be attached to his extremely favorable report because there is cramming in the schools. The method of Mr. Dumble's 1st attack was that the Institute teachers were doing no work because they did not take enough certificates. Before this they were blamed for over-crowding and of working to turn out certificates instead of devoting themselves to town pupils; then when the country pupils were shoved out by the high fee, and their best material for that purpose gone, the staff is blamed for not turning out certificates. Mr. Long then went on to show how country pupils were specially good material for certificates, by comparing figures. At the present time there were 120 pupils on the roll, and of these 20 were outsiders. In the third and fourth forms, from which exclusively certificates are got, there are 25 pupils, and of these 5 are outsiders. The number on the roll the first half of the year was 143, 28 being outsiders. In the third and fourth forms there were 69, 14 outsiders. The number on the roll the last half of 1888 was 141, 35 being outsiders; and in the third and fourth forms, of 73 pupils, 15 were outsiders. Therefore, roughly speaking the proportion of country pupils to those from town was one-fifth or one-sixth and Ashburnham is regarded as outside, as far as the fees are concerned. This was since the fees had been increased. In 1886 there were 11 certificates obtained, and of these 7 were by country pupils; while of 7 matriculants, 5 were outsiders—only one-fifth in proportion, but taking twelve out of eighteen certificates This year, of twelve certificates 6 were taken by outsiders. This showed the effect of county pupils upon the "results" of a school. Mr. Long said that with 1 or 2 exceptions the Peterborough Institute fees were the

HIGHEST IN THE PROVINCE

—London and perhaps Ottawa (large cities) alone having higher fees. He stated, also, that in 52 out of 109 High Schools, there were no fees either for residents or non-residents. It was because they were not supplied with the right material, such as that which makes up Norwood and Campbellford schools, that they did not show such results. The Institute staff was also blamed because they had very few matriculants—last year 7 and this year 3. But this was accounted for in the same way. Some time ago they were blamed for crowding the school; now it was for loss of attendance. In going back over the list Mr. Long said he noticed 6 or 8 who had left the Institute for other Schools, in fifteen or eighteen months, but he could assure the Board it was not on his account. Anyway it was a small matter, no more than would be caused by the ordinary fluctuations in attendance. Then it had been said, Mr. Long asserted, that he did not support his teachers; he would only say that if he found the teacher in error he would support the boy, but never did he encourage them in insubordination. It had also been charged that the school was disorganized, this also he denied, and said there was no one connected with the Institute can allege that, as far as business matters are concerned, the school has not been well managed. There were no delays in programmes, the fees were carefully collected, the reports sent out, the correspondence of the school carried on satisfactorily, and the order he ventured to assert, could not be found fault with, even by Mr. Dumble himself. Mr. Long said there was no Institute in the Province in which the order was better, and Mr. Hodgson, the Inspector had complimented them not only on the order but the deportment of the pupils. Then it is said, Mr. Long continued, that he was too trusty with his pupils; but he replied that he believed it a good plan to trust largely to a boy's honor, though of course a certain amount of untruthfulness would creep in. He would acknowledge, he said, that several months ago there was cause for complaint to a certain extent in one or two matters. There was, on account of the narrow halls, a certain amount of scuffling and noise in the halls, but none in the rooms. Then the s was occasionally, a little loitering at the gymnasium. He did not say that the pupils were continually out on the platform, but there was

OCCASIONAL LOITERING.

But Mr. Long pointed out that the five or six hundred common school pupils on the same grounds militated against them, as if any of the common school children were seen on the platform they were set down as belonging to the Institute. The pumps, &c., were outside the building. His pupils had to go out of the building in order to take gymnastic exercises, and Mr. Long took some credit to himself for inculcating a love of manly exercise among the pupils. Was it to be wondered at, he asked, that pupils would not take a great interest in the gymnasium when it was not properly equipped? In conclusion Mr. Long said he did not appear before the Board as a suppliant but simply to ask justice. In his opinion the proper way to have any matter investigated was to bring it before a committee and have it privately discussed with the Principal. But this and most other matters had got out into the newspapers and, while he did not consider his personal feelings in the matter, it had done him much harm. Campbellford, Belleville and other papers had got hold of it and two of them stated, that he had been summoned before the Board to answer to a charge of intemperance. But in spite of all these disadvantages, the teachers of the Institute had done good work, and it was not too much to ask that in future, if any complaints were made, they should be called to answer to before a committee in private, and that the Board should place more confidence in the teachers.

[The remainder of the debate will be published to-morrow.]

Abandonment and Exposure.

Johanna Sullivan, the Girl From Galway, Committed to Gaol for Three Months.

The trial of Johanna Sullivan, of Galway, charged with the unlawful abandonment and exposure of her illegitimate child on the night of May 2nd last, took place before Judge Weller at the court house Monday afternoon. County Crown Attorney Wood conducted the prosecution and Mr. John Burnham the defence.

Half a dozen witnesses were examined, but only that of Priscilla Peters, Mrs. Sullivan, mother of the prisoner, and Dr. Lynch, of Lindsay, was of importance. On the first-named rested the whole case for the prosecution. Priscilla Peters is a girl only thirteen years of age, and lives with Mr. Daniel Sheehan. All the parties reside in the township of Galway, near Kinmount. The girls story was that on Saturday, May 2nd, she went down to the post office, and on her way back Johanna Sullivan, the prisoner, called her into her house, asking her to stay a while as she was very sick. Mrs. Sullivan was in Lindsay, and was not expected home till night. The girl went in and the prisoner laid down on the bed while the former set about making some tea. Shortly after the witness saw a living child, which the witness says she plainly saw kicking and moving. The prisoner sent the girl out for a pail of water, and the witness said that on returning in about five minutes the prisoner was just entering the house from another door and the baby had disappeared. She, however, heard it cry once somewhere outside the house, but having to go out to the barn again at the request of the prisoner she heard or saw no more of the infant. Shortly after other people came in and Mrs. Sullivan returned home. The latter in rebuttal denied that there had been any child-birth, and said the stains which were seen on the floor by the other witness were the result of a weakness her daughter was periodically subject to, which of itself, according to the physician's statement, precluded the idea of pregnancy. She also stated that her daughter was around the same as usual the next day, an impossibility in her state of health had such a thing occurred. As soon as the reports concerning her daughter came to her ears, she at once took her to Lindsay and had her examined by Dr. Lynch, who himself gave evidence to the effect that at the time of his examination, May 29th, he could see no indications of child-birth, though of course after that lapse of time it was difficult to say whether such had actually been the case. He regarded it very improbable that the young women could move around as she had the next day if the charge were true.

His Honor in summing up said he believed the story of the little girl, and that the evidence of Dr. Lynch was not positive enough to be of any account. He found the prisoner guilty of the crime with which she was charged. Her counsel asked the Judge to be lenient, as the girl was not of strong mind. In view of this circumstance he sentenced her only to three months' imprisonment in the county gaol.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, Sept. 24.

The trial of Edward Morsely yesterday afternoon on a charge of indecent assault resulted in the honorable discharge of the prisoner. An alibi was proven, it being shown that the prisoner was at the house of Mr. Con. Wall at between ten o'clock and a quarter after, the time at which the assault was alleged to have been attempted. It was also stated that he was at Lowe's shop shortly after ten o'clock, where he had an engagement with an insurance agent.

The magistrate in giving judgment threw doubt upon the whole story of the plaintiff, saying that he didn't believe there was any truth in it. The prisoner was discharged.

This morning Edward Harris was fined $5 and costs for forestalling on the market. It was shown that he purchased for his employer. Mr M. T. Ostrom, before the legal hour on Saturday morning.

The twenty-one adjourned sawdust cases came up this morning, and the magistrate imposed a fine of $20 and costs in each case. The fines will not be exacted at once, pending the negotiations between the mill-owners and the government.

A Cold Bath.

Last night about eleven o'clock what might have been a fatal accident occurred on the other side of the bridge at Dickson's dam. Mr. Mober lives on the Ashburnham side, and in the darkness while returning home he walked into the water off the steep bank. Mr. Mober is possessed of a pair of good lungs, and his cries for help were heard as far as the market square by late wayfarers. In the course of half an hour quite a crowd had collected on the scene, but in the meantime, Mr. Dadman, night watchman, had come to Mr. Mober's assistance, and by means of his cane, which the other grasped in his hand, kept him afloat. Together their cries for help caused quite a commotion, and men left their beds to ascertain the cause. When a sufficient number arrived the unfortunate man was pulled out of the water, fortunately not seriously injured, but only wet and cold.

The Ottawa Free Press says, the best feature of the fair is Prof. Morris' wonderful company of ponies and dogs. No one can afford to miss it.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION

A Promising Opening of the Exhibition.

Entries and Articles Pouring in Rapidly—Glorious Weather—Promise of a Most Successful Exhibition.

Tuesday the opening of the Central Exhibition, was marked by splendid weather and at an early hour the grounds were full of bustle. Exhibitors overflowed the Secretary's office making entries, and team after team arrived with articles which were rapidly placed in position in the main building, whose space is all taken and even the large marquee provided by Turner, 40 x 65 feet, is full of magnificent vegetables. The display inside the building is already large and constantly being added to. One attractive feature is the splendid Manitoba Exhibit. There is a large quantity of agricultural machinery implements, etc., on the grounds, and some of the stock pens are already tenanted, although there is left to-morrow to place the entries in this class. There is a great promise of the most successful exhibition of the series. The exhibits will be numerous and meritorious and the fine weather will doubtless attract an immense attendance. One of the events of to-morrow afternoon will be the speeding in the ring, same exciting contest being promised.

Coming Cookery.

The Ladies' Preparations for To-morrow's Dinner and Tea.

The ladies of St. John's have been a busy part of community lately with the extensive preparations they are making for their exhibition feast to-morrow. The bill of fare will not only include the best of well cooked provisions hot and cold, but these good things will be served to musical accompaniment. The orchestra have kindly promised to open the programme at eleven o'clock, and other music will be arranged for afterwards. The committee is most fortunate in having so commodious and handsome a store kindly placed at their disposal, its central situation on George street being another attraction. The ladies have been decorating and arranging it this afternoon. The proceeds of the entertainment go to the Interest Fund for the improvements on St. John's church and grounds, and many who have no connection with the church will doubtless be glad to give a trifling assistance towards keeping up what is to all practical purposes, public property and one of the greatest attractions of our town.

FIXING THE BLAME FOR THE QUEBEC DISASTER.

Thousands of Tons of Rock Fastened to the Cliff With an Inch Chain—Kemp Doing Well.

QUEBEC, Sept. 25. At the inquest into the death of 48 victims of the landslide, Thomas Graham, a ship laborer who had lived over 33 years in a house that was destroyed by the accident, said he had never been warned of any danger. A platform of inch boards had been placed over the fissure in the cliff and a chain was placed are rock to hold it up. He gave details of the accident which been already been published as did also several other witnesses.

Dr. John Hughes said that in his opinion some of the victims died from rapid suffocation, some from gradual asphyxia and some from their wounds. Had the necessary appliances been used, some might have been saved. He considered it an everlasting disgrace that Kemp was allowed to remain as long as he did beneath the ruins. There were no corporation men at work the night of the accident. The civic authorities and the Federal Government, he thought, should have put men there immediately.

City Councillor James McLaughlin said men were employed and set at work as early as possible. The city spared no effort or expense.

The inquest was adjourned till Thursday.

Preparations are being made to give the remains of Maybury, which are still under the ruins military honors. He was a Crimean veteran and fought with honor in that campaign.

A human leg was found under the ruins yesterday afternoon, it belonged to the body of Margaret Welsh buried last Sunday. Old Joe Kemp, found alive yesterday morning after having sojourned 108 hours under the debris, is getting on well. He had a long interview with his son yesterday afternoon. He asks now and again for a sip of brandy. He partook of a little chicken broth at about 4 o'clock which seemed to have a very salutary effect on his exhausted nerves.

Wonderful Luck of the Duke of Portland—Baseball and Turf News

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The wonderful luck of the Duke of Portland has apparently not been exhausted, for Donovan's victory in the Lancashire plate on Saturday brings the total of the Duke's winnings since the beginning of last season up to within a fraction of £100,000, out of which sum Donovan has contributed nearly one-half. Donovan's has been a striking career, quite putting into the shade that of Ayrshire, who won about £38,000 in the course of his three seasons, where Donovan, who apparently still has a long and prosperous future before him, has already placed about £55,000 to his owner's credit. He won eleven races out of thirteen as a 2-year-old, and this season, save for his fluky defeat in the Two Thousand Guineas, he has carried all before him, winning the Prince of Wales stakes of £11,000 at Leicester, the Newmarket stakes, the Derby, the Prince of Wales stakes at Doncaster, St. Leger, and now the Lancashire plate, and winning them all easily, too. His last achievement was probably his b at for Chitabob was so lame that he could hardly hobble to Doncaster station the week before. He came round with surprising rapidity and was well suited by seven furlongs at Manchester.

THE BALTIC OUTRAGE.

AN APPLICATION MADE FOR BAIL BY THE PRISONERS.

Chief Justice Galt Speaks His Mind—A Suit Against the Grand Trunk—Other Toronto Topics.

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—Application for bail for the prisoners Russell, Tripp, Daggett and McFadden, committed for trial at Owen Sound for complicity in the tar and feather outrage on the steamer Baltic, was made yesterday at Osgoode Hall by Mr. A. B. Aylesworth. The grounds of the application were that the prisoners could not be said to be guilty of manslaughter or murder, or even if Hambly were dead, the act which caused his death was suicidal; that the case against the prisoners could not be tried until the November assizes, some six weeks hence; that the offence could only be common assault and the evidence against at least two of the prisoners, Daggett and McFadden, was very slight. Chief Justice Galt: "If the facts stated in the newspapers are true they should be tried for some offence and would run a good chance of being convicted." Mr. Aylesworth: "But not of murder." Chief Justice Galt: "If those men did an act which caused the deceased to jump overboard and be lost they would be guilty of murder." His Lordship reserved his decision.

Constable Whittaker of Windsor considers the town indebted to him for his services as constable, while Mayor Mason holds views entirely the opposite, and the latter has refused to give Whittaker an order on the Town Treasurer for the same alleging that he is not properly appointed. Whittaker seeks the aid of the law to compel the Mayor to pay over and the matter came up at Osgoode Hall yesterday, when application was made for a mandamus for that purpose. The case not being ready for argument stands over until Friday next, when it will be disposed of.

The case of Badgerow v. Grand Trunk Railway Company is being heard at the Civil Assizes. Louis Badgerow was a brakeman on the Midland division of the G.T.R., and March 5, he went out on a train from York station. While putting a brake on one of the cars the circle topping the shaft of the brake broke, throwing Badgerow to the ground. His injuries terminated fatally and his widow now brings suit to recover $5000 damages, claiming that the company was negligent.

William Spillman, who is still in jail, and his brother Michael, who escaped Monday, will be indicted at the Sessions on another charge of robbery. The $300 worth of postage stamps found in their possession have been identified as those that were stolen from the Whitby postoffice in June last. The police have discovered a witness who saw William Spillman at Whitby on the night of the robbery with a dark lantern in his possession, and other witnesses saw him and his brother returning from Whitby on the morning after the robbery.

Ruth E. Bloor, wife of the sexton of All Saint's Church, who attempted to commit suicide by taking a dose of "Rough of Rats," was brought before the Magistrate yesterday on a charge of attempted suicide, when she stated that she did not take the poison with intent to do any injury. Inspector Brecksenreid, however, said that this was the third attempt she had made to destroy herself. She was remanded for a medical examination.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday John McNab was charged with indecent assault on a girl about 14 years of age named Sarah Lucas. The accused is 60 years of age and the offence was committed in a shed on Church-street wharf on July 14 last. A number of witnesses were called and a good deal of evidence taken. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

Shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday morning fire was discovered to have broken out in the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's coal sheds at West Toronto Junction. There was a large quantity of coal stored in the buildings, and despite the efforts of the firemen the conflagration lasted eight hours. The loss is a heavy one. No explanation can be given of the origin of the fire.

Archbishop Walsh will take up his residence in Toronto about Nov. 15. A young priest, a nephew of the same name, will accompany him from London as private secretary. No other outsider is to be brought into the archdiocese. The Archbishop will live in St. John's Grove, which is to be improved and the furniture renewed. The palace in Church-street, will also be overhauled. The saloon element is to be driven from the Separate School Board. The new Bishop may even accept the ballot in the election of school trustees. Father Laurent will remain at the head of the Cathedral.

THE GREAT CENTRAL FAIR.

Smiled on by the Weather Clerk—Brutal Assault—A Fatal Accident.

HAMILTON, Sept. 25.—Blessed with perfect weather the Central Fair is already an assured success. Exhibitors this year were a little tardy but everything is now in shape, particularly the fakirs, for the rush expected during the remaining days of the show. The display of horses promises to be as good as any yet seen here, the array of flowers is the best ever shown in the city, and in spite of the early frosts the fruit, with the exception of grapes, never looked better. The machinery exhibit is particularly large and complete.

President Massey, of the Sawyer Massey Company, reached the city yesterday morning en route from London. Mr. Massey thinks London offers advantages in the way of business facilities which Hamilton cannot give. For all that he refuses to give any definite reply to the London propositions until he has learned what action the Hamilton City Council would take.

Mrs. Travers, an elderly woman living alone near Alberton, was beaten into insensibility by burglars early Saturday morning and robbed of $10 which she had in the house. It is possible she may yet recover. No steps have been taken as yet to punish the ruffians, the county constables being unwilling to look into the case unless they see some chance to make their costs.

Wm. Scully, employed on the Macassa, received his month's wages yesterday and went out to have a time. At the fair ground he met another man. They both got drunk, and the stranger hit him over the head with a bottle. Scully was picked up in the street unconscious.

A fatal accident occurred at Harrisburg about noon yesterday. Archie Spence, a wheel tapper, was inspecting the coach from the Brantford train, which is brought to Hamilton on the Kincardine accommodation due here at 12.20. The engine of the Kincardine train was shunting a baggage car. After Spence had finished inspecting the car he stepped on to the other track, and the engine came along and cut him down. It had been around the cars and Spence did not see it. He was horribly mangled and died almost immediately. Both his legs were cut off above the knee and his body was almost cut in two. It was a horrible sight. Spence is a married man and lived at either Harrisburg or Paris. He had been employed on the railway for some years. The accident delayed the Kincardine accommodation.

LATEST LONDON GOSSIP.

THE PRINCE OF WALES' HEALTH MUCH IMPROVED.

Monte Carlo's Future Causing Great Anxiety—Count Hatzfeldt's Re-Marriage—An Important German Enterprise.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—I hear that the Queen has decided to postpone her contemplated visit to Strathpeffer till next year, so Her Majesty will remain at Balmoral until she comes south to Windsor in November. The Queen will probably go to Aix-les-Baines early in the spring.

The health of the Prince of Wales has so far improved that the apprehensions felt by his relatives as to the existence of a clot of blood, which caused so much anxiety a month since, are for the moment allayed. Unless something unforeseen occurs, Prince Albert Victor's Indian program will be carried out. But the Prince of Wales has been warned of the probable consequences of any undue exertion while in Scotland, and is advised to take as much rest as possible during his coming visit to Greece.

Prince Christian Victor of Schleswig-Holstein, who has been at Balmoral for a fortnight, has gone back to his regiment. He has done a good deal of shooting and deer stalking, of which he is very fond, and he is a good shot. He is one of the sturdiest and most athletic of the royal family, being very strong and fond of all out-door amusements. He is, moreover, a very good fellow, and very popular in his regiment.

Wm. H. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury anonymously paid for a church recently erected at Portsea which cost £22,000.

The death of the reigning blind prince of Monaco is causing great anxiety respecting the future of Monte Carlo, where extensive buildings are in progress. The Casino is being considerably enlarged, the cafe opposite the Hotel de Paris is to be thrown back to the present site of the newspaper kiosk, other extensive alterations are in contemplation which will surprise future visitors to this fever-stricken spot, provided the tables are allowed to play their games as heretofore by the present successor to the titles and throne of the Grimaldi principality.

The remarriage of Count Hatzfeldt to his divorced wife, which was celebrated at his mansion near Wiesbaden, was one of the most important social events of last week. Although the divorce was duly pronounced the count has been for many years on friendly terms with the lady in question, and she brought up their children at one of his country seats. The Queen has taken a prominent part in the negotiations which led to the amoris redintegratio, and her efforts have been actively seconded by several other royal personages. It is, however, understood that Countess Hatzfeldt will not come to Carlton House Terrace, but that she will dispense the hospitalities of the German embassy in Paris, to which her husband will shortly be transferred.

The German Government is quietly but actively pushing on a very important piece of strategical work. There is a canal between the Rhine and Meuse which will very agreeably reduce the distance between Antwerp and Ruhrort, so that it will be of a considerable commercial value. These is to be another short canal between Ruhrort and Venloo, and the present canal, which connects Venloo with the Rhine is being widened and deepened, so that in a short time the Rhine and the Scheldt will be in very close communication.

The utter collapse of both the 111-ton guns of the Victoria, while being proved, is a very serious matter indeed, that approaches the dimensions of a public calamity. Both guns failed in chase, or, as a sportsman would call it, barrel, which is about thirty-eight feet long, the total length of the gun being forty-three feet eight inches. Mr. Elswick is responsible for their manufacture, the defects in which are said to have led to this unhappy state of things, and that cost over £19,000. These huge guns are a mistake, and the navy owes anything but a debt of gratitude to the ordnance department for having insisted on their adoption, because, forsooth, the Italians had been unwise enough to be misled.

EDMUND YATES.

They Are Friendly Still.

TANGIER, Sept. 25.—The Spanish corvette Navara has sailed for the Riff coast with a commission from the Sultan charged to order the immediate release of the Spanish sailors captured by Riffians. Relations between Morocco and Spain continue friendly. The Sultan declares his determination to accede to the just demands of Spain.

That New York Bogus Divorce.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Mail and Express says the grand jury has completed its work in the Flack case, and indictments have been found against James Flack, William L. Flack, Mrs. Raymond alias Susan Reynolds, Justice Ambrose Monell and Referee Joseph D. Weeks. The grand jury devoted a great deal of time to Judge Bookstaver's position in the case and would it is reported have found an indictment against him had they considered this the proper course to pursue. They concluded however that a proceeding for impeachment is the only proper way to deal with a judge whose removal from the bench is deemed necessary to the public welfare. The extra document therefore amounts to a recommendation of impeachment. The indictments deal with conspiracy and perjury and possible forgery, but until they are handed up it cannot be said how these crimes are distributed among the accused persons.

Couldn't Stand the Pressure.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Sept. 25.—M. M. Southworth, one of the early settlers of Niagara County, fatally shot himself in his law office here yesterday. He was alone and had been dead three or four hours when found. A paper was found dated 11.40 o'clock saying he "was doing wrong but couldn't stand the pressure." It is thought he was temporarily deranged.

Belleville News.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 25.—The grand jury has returned true bills against Alexander Gallagher of Marmora charging him with rape and an offence against public morals.

In the Police Court yesterday Doran Cummins, aged 11, pleaded guilty to stealing $4.50 from the till in J. W. Wilson's shop. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence of a month in jail.

John Taft, Redneeville, pleaded guilty to obtaining a boat from W. H. Carter's boathouse on a forged order and stealing the same. He was remanded until Monday for sentence.

The Bay of Quinte district fair was formally opened yesterday afternoon by Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture, under highly auspicious circumstances.

Denies the Impeachment.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—A letter was received by Chief of Police McVeity from the Toronto police asking them to arrest a man named Clinton Clapp of this city, who is charged with the larceny of a lady's gold watch in that city. At noon yesterday Detective Flanaghan arrested Clapp at his father's house on Lyon street. A telegram was sent to the Toronto police to that effect and word was received here that a constable had been despatched to take charge of the prisoner. The prisoner states that the charge is a false one.

COLLISION AT CHICAGO.

A Freight Runs Into a Suburban Passenger Train—Five Killed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train which left the main depot at 8.35 p.m. yesterday for Blue Island, was run into by a freight train at the Lake Shore and Panhandle crossing near 87th street, Englewood. The passenger train was at a standstill, one coach projecting over the crossing. Into this coach containing about sixty persons plunged the freight train traveling rapidly at right angles to the Rock Island track. The wreck of the passenger coach was complete.

The list of the killed is: Mrs. Kelly, J. McKenzie, Fred. Huffner, Mrs. Brown, an unknown woman, all of Washington Heights. Those most seriously injured are: Gus Mulcahy, Chicago, fatally hurt; Miss A. K. Steele, Anton Shaberg, and Parker Harden of Washington Heights. Several others sustained slight injuries.

An Erratic U. S. Senator.

DETROIT, Sept. 25.—There was an animated scene at the Griswold House yesterday afternoon, the principal actors in which were ex-Senator Jones of Florida and Postoffice Inspector P. O'Neil. The ex-senator has been living with Mr. O'Neil for the past two years and has been treated as one of the family. Some two months ago, O'Neil told the ex-senator he would like to have the latter give up the room he was occupying as he wanted it for his daughter. O'Neil offered to hire another room for Jones' use for a couple of weeks, and raise a purse to take him home to Florida in good style. The offer and request for the room were received with contempt by Jones. Yesterday Mr. O'Neil again told the ex-Senator that he must vacate the room. "You know," said O'Neil, "that I have kept you for two years, gave you clothing and money and did the best I was able to do by you, and now I want to rent a room for you and get you money to go home with." "I will not go home," broke in Jones vehemently, "and I don't want you to get a room for me. I will never sleep under your roof a minute and you could not hire me to with a million dollars. I will sleep in the street first. I tell you you have made a mistake, for I tell you I have friends more powerful than you are." Pat tried to reason with the erratic-minded Floridian and get him to consent to go home, but the latter would not listen, and stormed about the office of the hotel like a madman. His actions confirm the doubts that have often been raised of late concerning the ex-Senator's sanity. He refused to state what his plans for the future are.

Fatal Balloon Ascension.

UTICIA, N. Y. Sept. 25.—Edward M. Walworth, aged 26, of Ilion, made his first balloon ascension July 4, and had made one on two since. At 6 p. m. yesterday he went up from the Cooperstown fair grounds. He ascended to the height of about a mile. The balloon was carried out over the lake and was seen to descend rapidly into its waters. Help was immediately sent and the balloon was found floating in the lake about half way across. No trace of the aeronaut was visible and it was evident that he had been drowned.

REVEL, Sept. 25.—The parachutist, Leroux, in descending from a balloon here yesterday fell into the sea and was drowned.

The Great Northwest Central.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—Mr. A. Charlebois, the contractor for the Northwest Central Railway, has awarded to Messrs. Alex. MacDonald and J. R. Schiller of Toronto a subcontract for completing the grading and track laying the first fifty miles.

It is stated on the best of authority that the Northern Pacific has not the controlling or any interest in the Great Northwest Central.

Cut to Pieces by an Engine.

DETROIT, Sept. 25.—Yesterday morning at 6.30 o'clock Thomas Noonan, an employe of the Cleveland Paving Company, while going to his work was run over by an engine on the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee Railroad at the Mt. Elliott-avenue crossing. He was literally cut to pieces. Noonan was 85 years old and a widower. He has several children living in Detroit.

The Corn Crop.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The Farmers' Review says that present indications point to a much larger corn crop than was anticipated by statisticians. The quality however will not be equal to that of 1888 except in Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky and Kansas. The Review estimates the total crop for 1889 at 2,268,292,085 bushels against 1,987,790,000 in 1888.

A Detroit Alderman Indicted.

DETROIT, Sept. 25.—Alderman James B. Lauder was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for accepting a $300 bribe for his vote and influence in the matter of awarding the post of meat inspector. Lauder was released on $3000 bail.

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves."
G. H. BAMAN,
Ortesonia, Pa.

"I am in my 68th year. Have been afflicted to several years—could not sleep, had no appetite, no strength, low spirits. I commenced using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND, and felt relief from the first day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man."
S. C. RENARD, D. D., Gonzales, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Strengthens and builds up the old, and cures their infirmities. Rheumatism, indigestion and nervousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 65 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system."
M. MYLIUS, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

THE INSTITUTE ENQUIRY.

Continuation of the Debate Regarding the Collegiate Institute—Mr. Dumble's Rejoinder to Mr. Principal Long.

THE REPLY.

MR. DUMBLE replied at considerable length—He first decried what he claimed were efforts on Mr. Long's part to impugn his motives, and took occasion to deny the authorship or any knowledge whatever of a letter to Dr. Tassie, at the time he was appointed Principal, to the effect that unless he (Dr. Tassie) discharged Mr. Earle he would meet with opposition from the Board. As to his objections to Mr. Long, mentioned in the beginning of the previous speakers address, he was in duty bound to consider the qualifications of any man who became a teacher on the staff, and he was not influenced by any personal feeling. He was not aware of ever making any objection to the dismissal of Dr. Tassie's pupils, but he did object to Mr. Long's summary dismissal of Rev. Mr. Bell's daughter, a young woman whose health only allowed her to take certain classes, for which she paid the whole fee. Mr. Long might as well have let her remain on those conditions, and not stick so closely to the LETTER OF THE LAW.

Then Mr. Long refers to the withdrawing of material, and Mr., Dumble says, puts the responsibility on him. Was this Board to be insulted by the intimation that he (Mr. Dumble) regulated the fees himself? The position the Board took, Mr. Dumble said, was that they considered the Institute too expensive. It cost $40 or $50 per pupil, for which the city only received in return some $18 or $20. They tried to cut expenses by increasing the fees, which was also done for the purpose of bringing pressure to bear upon the County Council to gain their assistance. Mr. Dumble said he held that the town schools should be for town pupils, and that the whole school system was wrong. By it the town educated country pupils who did not pay for it. The system was based on the principle of turning out teachers to fill the common schools, and the towns are taxed to supply the demand. These country boys, zealous and ambitious, crowded the town boys to the wall. Mr. Dumble said he wanted a school where a spirit of ambition, zeal and labor was manifest, to encourage our boys to take honors and become scholars. He maintained that this spirit was lacking in the Collegiate Institute. Mr. Dumble said he was quarreling not so much with the lack of certificates as with the lack of efficiency. There was material in this town, he claimed, for a splendid school of 200 boys, but the fact was they had gone through like a sieve. There were actually just six boys in the fourth form. This was the result they had to face—their school was not considered by the teachers or townspeople as a success, and the fact was it was not a succes. Why was this? The school was behind in attendance and in practical results, and the conclusion must be come to that there was something wrong. As to Mr. Long's complaint about the Supervision Committee, Mr. Dumble said they dealt more with school apparatus than with teaching qualifications. Of course they had the privilege of examining the schools, but they were not as capable of judging in view the many changes made in the school system as they might have been a few years ago. They had to take other means of finding out the state of the school. Mr. Long fell back on Mr. Hodgson's report, but Mr. Dumble said, they had learned that Inspector's reports must be taken cum grano. Mr. Dumble referred to the statement that Mr. Hodgson was said to have made at Omemee, that the Peterborough High School had gone to the devil; then, he said, he comes here and gives an altogether different report. This story about the Inspector at Omemee had been denied, but the headmaster of Omemee school told him that if he did not use those words, he spoke to that effect. As to

CRAMMING IN THE SCHOOLS,

Mr. Dumble said it was known for years they had a teacher in the school whom none would say was kept there as a credit to himself or the school. The use of liquor may be conducive to good teaching, but when a man comes into school saturated with liquor, slovenly in his manner and addressing his pupils in a strange and rough manner—was he personal in his objection to such a man, he asked, or simply doing his duty to the public?

Continuing, Mr. Dumble said he had sympathy for a man with a family, but he considered the interests of 150 pupils paramount to that of one teacher. He was prepared to treat every teacher with respect and sustain him in the discharge of every duty; but when a man came into the school with his hat pulled down over his face, he thought it time to cry out.

Then with regard to cramming Mr. Dumble said Mr. Earle practically admitted all he accused him of, that in view of approaching examinations he gave his pupils a set of ten questions and answers—

MR. EARLE—I made no such admission; what I said was this—I gave one question to this pupil, a second to that, and so on. The next day I gave a different question to each one. These ten questions covered the whole ground and were so accepted by the Inspector.

MR. DUMBLE said that still it would be cramming. He gives ten questions to ten pupils and was ringing the changes on these questions for the pupils to answer them before the Inspector, and, Mr. Dumble asserts it, one pupil left that class and went to the Principal and said she would not attend any longer. She said she could no longer respect the man, and when these things come before the Principal, said Mr. Dumble, and he does nothing, I say he has not the nerve or backbone for the position. Mr. Long speaks of being charged with not supporting his teachers; the fact was, Mr. Dumble said, that when it came to a question of veracity between the boy and the teacher, the boy was supported and the teacher every time. If there was anything admirable in Mr. Long, Mr. Dumble said, it was his manliness of character, so much so that he treated his boys with too much respect, they tied to him and he had not the judgment to discern it. Mr. Dumble said Mr. Long was an admirable scholar and teacher; he only objected to him as a Principal. Referring to Mr. Long's claim regarding the gymnasium, Mr. Dumble said no one had backed him up in it more than himself. But he did not blame all the misfortunes of the Institute upon Mr. Long and Mr. Earle. The crowding of Collegiate Institute pupils in with 500 common school pupils took away from the dignity and deportement of the older scholars. For this reason Mr. Dumble said he had for years urged the separation of the schools. But apart from this he had seen that Mr. Long lacked that peculiar skill which preserves order entirely. The disorder a while ago got so bad that the matter came before the Board and a committee was appointed to investigate. The next day there was a complete change and the order became at once almost perfect. They did their duty that time and good results followed; Mr. Dumble hoped those good results would continue. Then Mr. Long says the school is up to the average, but Mr. Dumble thought our big school should surely compare better than it did with Norwood and Campbellford. As it was pupils passed our doors and either go to other schools or take lessons of private teachers; while some of their old pupils were going to Belleville and Hamilton. This matter had been referred to a committee, but they were unable to get proper evidence without dragging pupils and masters here to testify against each other, thus placing them in a false position. But why want proof, he asked, of what was already known? They were the trustees of the people, and it would be better to err against the teachers than against the pupils. He had nothing to say of Mr. Long but that he was not fit for the Principalship; as to Mr. Earl, if the Board thought they could keep him on the staff with profit to the school, he had nothing to say. He had done his duty—and it sometimes took a great deal of courage to do one's duty. He intended to say no more, and if the school did not improve he would know where the responsibility laid.

PUT TO THE BLUSH

MR. LONG'S REJOINDER.

MR. LONG again spoke, and stated with reference to Miss Bell that though he tried his best to keep her in the school, the Inspector ordered him to refuse her admission. Mr. Long again referred to the specialist matter, saying it did not come up till after he was appointed and he showed Mr. Dumble a letter from the Inspector settling it. As to the story of the Inspector's remarks at Omemee, he said he believed the Omemee man either exaggerated or was mistaken, because the Inspector was so strong in his expressions of approval here. Mr. Long also denied having ever seen Mr. Earle as Mr. Dumble had said he appeared in school, and repelled the inference that he had not nerve enough to do his duty. He never heard of any misconduct on Mr. Earle's part till Mr. Dumble told him; but had he known of such a thing he would not have hesitated as to his duty. Mr. Long again denied favoring his pupils to the detriment of the teachers, and also Mr. Dumble's statement that he practically admitted that there was disorder in the school. He admitted no such thing, he said; there was the best of order in the school, and only some unavoidable confusion in the halls. Mr. Long says they had every reason to be satisfied with the position of the Collegiate Institute, which was not only an "average" one, for of 28 pupils they sent up 12 took certificates—a higher average for the number of pupils sent up than any school in the province. Mr. Long pointed out that the Peterborough Institute was blamed for the failure of a large number of country pupils who simply write here but have no connection whatever with the school. Referring to Mr. Dumble's statement regarding pupils going to Belleville and other schools, Mr. Long said he would like to know their names. He knew of one going to Hamilton on account of the high fees which were charged here. Others had left the school and come back again—but these things were the natural consequences of changes in the world, the ordinary influx and efflux of pupils such as attaches to every school. As to Mr. Dumble's statements concerning the school, he had an opportunity the other evening of proving what he said. A number of pupils were here but only two were examined. To-night Mr. Dumble says he does not believe in the principle of examining pupils—but it was not, Mr. Long said, until after he examines two of them and finds no evidence that he found it out. He says he picked two out at random, but Mr Long said he believed Mr. Dumble had information that at least one of them had something to say against the school. Then Mr. Dumble says there is no need of evidence when they know how the school was going. Mr. Long asked was it fair to convict him on that unsupported ground?

Mr. Dumble said that before the committee sat Friday night he objected to examining pupils in this way, and after examining a couple of pupils they were justified in not proceeding further for it was demoralizing and wrong.

MR. EARL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Earl next spoke and questioned the sincerity of Mr. Dumble's statement that he picked out the two pupils at random. It was known that Rev. Mr. Wilson complained to Mr. Dumble and the Chairman of the school as it affected his own son, and did any one believe that Mr. Dumble picked upon young Wilson at random, as one of the boys to be examined? But the boy belied his father's every statement. Mr. Earle asserted that Rev. Mr. Wilson was trying to injure the school, and one young man who went to him for advice was told not to come to Peterborough Institute. Mr. Earle said he was also informed the same gentlemen had tried to defame the Institute on railway trains. Referring to the personal charges against himself, Mr Earle pointed out that the committee appointed last February for the purpose reported recommending that he, (Mr. Earle) be given another trial. Mr. Dumble was on that committee, and though no offence was since alleged, yet Mr. Dumble attacks him pre-meditatively. Mr. Dumble, he asserted, arranged to have his address reported in the newspapers in full, which showed the malice which prompted him. Mr. Dumble said he made no selections of boys, but the fact was he questioned pupils of the Institute about Mr. Long. Mr. Earle and others, and conveyed the impression to their minds that he would like them to leave the school and he would "make it hot for outside pupils." Mr. Earle referred to the personal injury done himself by these matters being made public. He again pointed out that the alleged cramming was due simply to the set of ten questions he gave his pupils, by which they were able to grasp the whole subject easily. But he said Mr. Dumble persistently misunderstood him in these matters, and it was impossible to believe Mr. Dumble's statement that he is not actuated by malice in these attacks.

Mr. DUMBLE replied that Mr. Earl referred to things not well coupled in time. Some years ago he (Mr. Dumble) was dissatisfied with the progress of his boy and he was even now dissatisfied with the way algebra and euclid were taught in the Institute under the present regulations. Mr. Earl, he said, wanted several things covered up, but it was these things that compelled him to draw attention to them. If the Board did not act after this it was their own fault.

DRAWING THE VEIL.

Mr McWILLIAMS, referring to the action of the committee, said that at the May meeting some serious charges were made and a committee was appointed which did not meet till September. He very unwillingly took the position of chairman, for he believed that very little could be accomplished. But the committee met and examined a couple of pupils, one of whom was a son of Rev. Mr. Wilson. Mr. McWilliams said he believed it was on the strength of charges made by Rev. Mr. Wilson that this matter came before the Board, but the boy told a very different story to his father. As to himself, Mr. McWilliams said he had no complaints to make and felt satisfied with the work of the Institute. Last February the committee passed a resolution that if Mr. Earle was known to be intemperate after that date he should be discharged. There was no evidence that he had broken this command, and when a teacher was going to reform he (the speaker) did not believe in putting him down. He was prepared to allow Mr. Earle to remain on the staff. He had no reason to find fault with the school, but if the teachers were not doing their duty he would be the first to ask them to resign. But perhaps they should not blame only the teachers, but the parents and members of the Board as well. Mr. McWilliams requested these matters had been made public, and thought it better to draw a veil over the past and begin anew with the work. It would be better perhaps if an advisory committee were appointed to act with the teachers and place the school in good condition, this committee to deal with complaints and not have any such matters made public. Our school was already injured by this recent discussion, but it was perhaps better than they gave it credit for being. Let us, he said in conclusion, go to work and make it a credit to the town.

The board then adjourned.

CONSTANT care is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 2w37d

Rely on This.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for three years, and can always rely upon it as a speedy cure for diarrhoea and all summer complaints. I can recommend it highly and I wish you every success.—MRS. W. FOWLER, 12 Oxford St. Toronto. 2w37d

A Corrupt System.

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings, ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

COLD, wet weather is verry hard on sufferers from Neuralgic troubles, and to those Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended. It is palatable, easily assimilated, and can be safely taken by the weakest invalid. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d70

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

TORONTO, Sept. 24. Busin ss on St. Lawrence Market was quiet yesterday and the supplies generally were small. Meat were scarce and firm. There was not much fresh butter in and prices ranged from 23c to 25c. Eggs were in fair supply but the prices are still firm. The supply of green stuff was only fair. Prices of potatoes continue firm. Receipts of hay were large, the demand good, and prices unchanged at $10 to $12. One load of straw offered and sold at $11, and one load of loose at $6.

BREADSTUFFS.

Flour—City prices for ten barrel lots—family grades, $4.35 to $4 60; pastry, $4.65 to $5; bakers, $4.50 to $5; strong patents, $5.15 to $5.50.

Wheat—Very little is moving. No Manitoba wheat is offering.

Peas—Dull. A few sales are reported at 54c outside.

PROVISIONS.

Bacon—Long clear, 8 3-4; bellies and backs, 13c; rolls, 10 1-2c. Mess pork—$13.50 to $15. Hams—Smoked, 14c; sugar pickled, 12. Lard—Canadian, 9 3-4 to 10c; American, 9 3-4c. Tallow—5 to 5 1-2c. rough, 1 3-4 to 2c.

PRODUCE.

Good butter continues to come in very slowly, and there is a demand for all that is received. The market is glutted with inferior and some dealers refuse to take any more.

Butter—Creamery, 20 to 24c; rolls, 15 to 16c; dairy tub, 15 to 16; store packed, 11 to 14c. Cheese—9 to 10c. Eggs—16c. Potatoes—Car lots, 50 to 55c; small lots, 65c. Baled hay—$11. Straw—$6 to 7. Beans—$1.75 to $2.00. Onions—$2 per bbl. Hops—Old, 16c; new, 18c.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—Wheat and corn nil. Cargoes on passage—Wheat steady, corn quiet. Mark Lane—Wheat, firm; American corn turn easier, and Danubian weaker; flour, quiet, spot good No. 2 Club Cal. wheat, 31s 6d was 31s 3d; present and following month, 31s 6d was 30s. French country markets steady. English farmers' deliveries of wheat for the past week, 67,391 qrs., average price, 29s 5d was 30s 2d. Liverpool—Spot wheat, firmly held, corn steady.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports: Wheat steady, demand poor, holders offer moderately; corn firm; demand fair. Spring wheat 6s 11½d to 7s ½d; red winter, 6s 8d to 6s 9d; No. 1 Cal., 7s 1½d to 7s 2½d; corn, 4s 3½d; peas, 6s 2d; pork, 68s; lard, 32s 6d; bacon, long clear, 36s to 36s 6d; short clear, 36s; tallow, 26s; cheese, white and colored, 45s 6d.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: Cheese offerings were limited to 1500 boxes, 700 boxes of Marshfield was offered at 9 3-8 but not sold, 800 boxes Cloverfield sold at 9 3-4. Market strong for select makes.

Little Falls reports: The prices on cheese here took another upward jump yesterday and at the close sold at from 9c to 9 1-2c, with lots reported sold at above this figure. The sales of farm dairy cheese amounted to 1125 boxes at 8 3-4 to 9 3-4c, bulk at 9 1-4c. Twelve packages of creamery butter sold at 17c to 20c and 25 packages of dairy at 18c to 19c.

Utica reports: The cheese market yesterday was lively. It was booming. The week in New York was quoted as closing dull, with less activity manifested, but the buyers seemed to be in possession of advices of a favorable character. As soon as the bidding commenced it was realized that there would be a sharp advance in prices, but the advance that was recorded was even higher than was anticipated. It was 7-8c above last week and the biggest jump of the season. The cheese offered was about the last of the August make, with a sprinkling of September. The extreme quotation was 9 1-2, but several lots of small cheese were reported purchased at 9 5-8 to 9 3-4c. Total transactions were: 155 lots, 14,373 boxes, ruling price 8 7-8c. Transactions same date last year 12,935 boxes, ruling price 8c.

A CONFIDENCE MAN ARRESTED.

Kimball's Matrimonial Bureau Comes to Grief—His Record.

DETROIT, Sept. 23.—Harry C. Kimball, a confidence man who has been operating the International Marriage Association at Mt. Clemens, a medium for the introduction of those matrimonially inclined residing in any part of the United States or Canada, was arrested yesterday morning at the Detroit postoffice. Kimball is wanted at Grand Rapids on a charge of larceny. Kimball was arrested here in February, 1887, and on conviction of being a disorderly person paid a fine of $30.

From his record at police headquarters it appears Leamington, Ont., is his home, that he was charged th re with robbing the postoffice kept by his father and was also charged with safe breaking and arson at the same place. Kimball and a man named Forbes were sent for one year each to the Central Prison at Toronto a few years ago for confidencing a man out of considerable

The Bills Against the Bon Marche Clerks Thrown Out by the Grand Jury

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—The Grand Jury Saturday, in the case of the clerks in the Bon Marche drygoods store accused of larceny, returned no bill. It is now expected that the civil case in which an insurance company disputes payment of a claim made by the proprietor, Mr. Cousineau, after a recent fire, will develop something startling.

For stealing $10 from William Laidlaw on Dundas-street Friday night John Pearce was sent to the Central Prison for six months.

The funerals of Mrs. W. A. Murray from St. Michael's Cathedral, of ex-Ald. John E. Mitchell to Mount Pleasant Cemetery and of Harry Keeble, Saturday, were largely attended by friends and citizens of all denominations.

From statistics gathered from the offices of the two great railway companies, it is learned that 135,000 excursionists were carried to and from the city during the exhibition.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind.—Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Coy. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

Visitors to the Fair should not fail to see the wonderful company of ponies and dogs at the Opera House, Wednesday and Thursday.

AND still the price keeps going down in teas and sugar, at KIDD'S grocery.

Lost! Lost!
A Camper's bundle of Bedding, etc., was lost coming down from Stony Lake, on Monday, August 25th, and probably got mixed in with bundles belonging to some other camper. Anyone leaving the bundle at Phelan's Hotel, Peterborough, will be rewarded. 3470

Baptist Missions.
The Home Mission Committee of the Baptist church which met yesterday voted $1,075 to the various churches in the Peterborough Association, Norwood, Stirling, Cardiff, Cramahe and Cobourg receiving grants.

A Bewildered Bird.
A wild partridge which had evidently lost its bearings and become confused by the noises and distractions of the town, flew in at the window of Mrs. Perry's residence, Brock street, this morning, and alighted on her shoulder. The bird was captured and is yet alive.

Improve Your Sight.
Mr. Laurance, representing the firm of B. Laurance & Co. celebrated opticians, Montreal, will visit Peterborough on Friday, Sept. 27th to fit the spectacles and eyeglasses of the fire to suit the requirements of those needing artificial aids to sight. Mr. Laurance will be at Mr. John McKee's drugstore, the local agency of B. Laurance & Co's celebrated spectacles and eyeglasses, on the above date. dw

The Militia.
The 57th Battalion held street parade last night. There was a good turnout of officers and men, and the red-coats presented a decidedly military appearance as they marched down street headed by the band. Battalion drill was held on the square at the corner of Water and McDonel Streets, under the electric light. The volunteers received orders to parade to-morrow forenoon at 9.30 in order to attend the corner stone laying.

The Great Attraction of the Fair.
The visitors to the Central Exhibition, especially householders, are particularly reminded that the most interesting place in town to visit is Hawley Bros' tea store, George street, where they will find the most splendid stock of pure fresh teas, at the lowest prices to be found in the Midland District. Bought wholesale at cash prices These teas are good as gold and cheap as clay. Also a superb stock of fragrant coffees, and a fine stock of elegant glass ware.

Lecture.
Professor Goldwin Smith will lecture in the lodge-room of the Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows (kindly loaned by them for this occasion,) No 397, George street, Peterborough, under the auspices of the Literary and Musical Association, up on "The Sources and Conditions of British Greatness." Date, Thursday evening, October 3rd. Doors open at 7 30. Chair to be taken at 8. No charge for admission. All are invited.

Tomatoes
40c. Per Bushel
at Cotrell's.

Visitors
To the exhibition should not leave town without seeing the Principal of the Peterborough Business College, and hear what inducements they offer for giving a thorough business training.

A Narrow Escape.
This forenoon a woman seated in a buggy crossed the C. P. R. track in Ashburnham at the crossing just east of the overhead bridge. The way freight came along at the same time, but the vehicle cleared the track by a few feet. The horse, however, became frightened and in running away, upset the buggy, throwing the occupant out into the ditch. She was not seriously hurt, and the horse being caught she continued on her way into the country.

Visitors
to Peterborough should see the principal places of interest, among which is the mammoth wholesale and retail Boot and Shoe establishment of James T. Stetson. One of the largest Stocks in Central Ontario to select from. Ladies' Fine Shoes, direct from New York; Men's Balmorals and Gaiters, from London, Eng; and a large assortment of Ladies' Fine Slippers from Austria. Terms cash and cash only. Remember the mammoth Boot and Shoe Store, 417 George street. James T. Stetson. N.B.—Trunks and Satchels at extremely low prices. d69w

Scotch Goods.
There has just been opened out at the City Clothing Store, per steamer "Aloides," direct from Glasgow, the contents of five packages of merchandise. These goods are splendid samples of the good old Scotch manufacture. They consist of material for fall and winter overcoating, suitings, and trouserings of the newest patterns. Having been brought out direct by us, from the "old sod," we can assure the public that the prices will be found unusually low. A word to the wise is sufficient.
dw H. LEBRUN.

Is it Proof Positive?
The fact there are about half as many prisoners in jail now as there were a year ago, may or may not be accepted as proof positive of the relative merits of the Crooke Act and the Scott Act as measures of social reform. Proof positive is however furnished of the superiority of Hawley Bros. choice teas by a simple trial, and the longer the trial the stronger the proof. The best and freshest brands of the best teas kept in stock constantly. Also splendid coffees. Remember the prices are away down. Go to Hawley Bros for choice teas, the best coffees and fine glassware.

We Go One Better.
Other grocers are greatly excited about the prices of some of their goods. But Geo. Carton keeps quite cool, and goes one better every time. See the crashing value he is offering:—8½ lbs. Rice, for 25c. 8 bars of Electric Soap, for 25c. 8 lbs. of Tea, for $1. Push right through to Geo. Carton's red tea store, where you can carry away more goods for a $2 bill than you can get for $3 in other stores. Corner George and Charlotte streets. dw

If you see M. R. KIDD at all this week you will see him sitting on the floor pulling the prices of groceries down. Call and see him.

LADIES' AUXILLIARY,
OYSTER SUPPER
PROMENADE CONCERT
CHARLOTTE STREET RINK
THURSDAY EVENING.
ADMISSION, 10c.

An Officer's Treat.
Last evening after drill the men of No. One Company, 57th Battalion, were entertained at supper at Welch's restaurant, at the invitation of the popular Lieutenant of the company, Mr. E. Mason. The occasion was in commemoration of Lieut. Mason's recent successful graduation from the Infantry School at London. The hearty manner in which he was toasted and the kind words spoken of him at the supper, evidenced his popularity among the volunteers. Lieut. Mason is a skilled and generous officer, and highly esteemed by both his superiors and subordinates in the regiment.

Fresh Arrivals.
Fresh arrivals of choice and cheap Groceries, Provisions, etc., and will continue to arrive daily until the stock is filled up and completed for the fall trade at R. H Green's corner Grocery and Provision Store. A special line in Teas, at 25c. per lb.—extra good value. The goods have all been well bought, and will be sold at Rock Bottom Prices. A call, which is respectfully solicited, will convince you, and you will be rewarded, etc. Fresh Eggs and Choice Butter, Apples, Potatoes and other farmer's produce, constantly on hand, and will be sold at current prices and delivered to any part of the town free of cartage. R. H. GREEN, corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets. dtf2w39

Baseball.
A novel game of ball was played on the P. A. A. A. grounds Tuesday. The junior Association nine challenged any five of the senior nine to a match game, and the boys came near winning, the score being something like 23 to 30 against them.

To-morrow afternoon the Athletics and Alderville baseball clubs play on the exhibition grounds, for the cup offered by the directors. The Association nine are drawn to play the Chemong Club Friday forenoon, and the final match will be played in the afternoon.

The Cobourg Independents will play in Peterborough next Tuesday. The visitors are a strong amateur team.

St. John's Ladies Entertainment.
The St. John's Ladies Entertainment opened most auspiciously this morning. The vacant store used had been transformed into a beautifully decorated dining-hall hung with festoons and flags, the floral decorations in the windows and on the tables being specially attractive. The entertainment was opened at eleven by the orchestra who gave their valuable services and instrumental music was kept up throughout. The handsome "Dominion" piano used was loaned by Mr. Crosby. Altogether the scene was a bright and brilliant one, and should and must have offered much pleasure to all as well as financial profit to the cause The entertainment will be continued until to-morrow evening.

Personal.

Mr. J. T. Thornton's friends in Peterborough will regret to learn that he is about to remove his head quarters from town to Garden Hill. Mr. Thornton has been in Peterborough for the past two years as agent for the North America Life Assurance Company. As will be seen by advertisement the partnership has been dissolved, and the territory divided, Mr. Gibbs retaining charge of the Peterborough business and Mr. Thornton assuming the agency at Garden Hill. Mr. Thornton made many friends in Peterborough who will couple with regrets at his removal, their best wishes for prosperity in his new home.

On Monday morning Mr. Isaac Richardson returned home from the old country, much improved in health by his visit. He brought with him some splendid samples of wheat, barley and oats plucked from the stock in the fields of Staffordshire, on Sept. 10th. The grain is a splendid heavy sample, may be seen at the Central Exhibition, to which Mr. Richardson has loaned the samples.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION

The Show a Great Success.

Splendid Exhibits of Stock, Especially Horses—Cattle Well Represented—All Other Stock Quite up to and in some Cases Beyond the Mark—Excellent inside Exhibits. To-morrow's Programme.

SECOND DAY—WEDNESDAY.

The second day of the Central Exhibition was favoured with the same delightful weather as the day before. The entries were all placed at an early hour, and the grounds presented a lively and attractive appearance. Flag-decked tents dotted the grounds. The chief attraction to the few visitors that came to the grounds this morning was the stock.

The display of horses was very fine some especially fine specimens being in the stalls. We have not space to particularly in the way of reference to points, but the following is a list of the gentlemen contributing to the really splendid display of horse flesh.

TO-MORROW'S PROGRAMME.

To-morrow is school children's days, the school children have a holiday. Those under 14 years will be admitted for ten cents.

The special events will be the speeding in the ring, the continuation of the 2.45 trot and the contest between the fastest driving teams. The first match in the baseball tournament will also be played to-morrow afternoon.

As a whole the Exhibition is an excellent one, and one that will repay a visit. There is an excelent inside exhibit—fine display of machinery and agricultural implements, to which fuller reference will be made to-morrow. The judges will be done with their work to-day, and an instalment of the prize list will be given in to-morrow's issue.

Other features of to-morrow's programme will be the contest for the citizens prize of $100, the contest for the hardware merchant's prize, the brewery cup contest and Archie Moffat's special. The baby show in Gough's pavillion in the Palace will be a notable event.

To-Morrow's Ceremony.

The Order and Route of Procession—The Conventional Silver Trowel for the Mayor—The Stone Ready to Be Laid.

Arrangements are about completed for the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new market building to-morrow forenoon at ten o'clock. The stone will be suspended from a large triange and at the word lowered into place. A platform will be erected to accommodate the invited guests, and the surroundings decorated with flags and evergreens. Some 75 or 100 invitations to the civic officials, past and present, of Peterborough and Ashburnham, as well as to other prominent local gentlemen, have been issued, and a number of these will deliver addresses. The platform will be surrounded by the military, who will form a guard of honor for the occasion, and keep the crowd back. The Peterborough troop of cavalry was invited to turn-out but as the men had their accoutrements all stored away for the winter, they could not accept. Mayor Stevenson is to lay the corner stone, and for this purpose the committee have procured from Mr. R. W. Muncaster an elegant silver trowel, ebony-handled and edged with repousse work, and inscribed as follows:—

Presented to JAMES STEVENSON, ESQ., M. P., Mayor, on the Occasion of his Laying the Corner Stone of the Market Building,
Peterborough, September 26th, 1889.

The procession of volunteers and firemen will leave Central Park, and parade down George Street to Charlotte, across to Water, up Water to London, along London to George, and down George to the market square. The Battalion Band will lead the volunteers, and the firemen will be in uniform and accompanied by their apparatus. After the ceremony all those in the procession will be entertained at lunch in the fire hall.

Matrimonial.

Nuptials of Wm. Merrill and Miss Honorah Tangney.

Yesterday afternoon at 2.30. p.m., Rev. Father Tudkins united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Mr. Wm Merrill, of St. Catherines, but employed in Gough Bros. store, and Miss Honorah, youngest daughter of Mr. Patrick Tangney. Mr. M. Hackett supported the groom and Miss Ellen Tangney, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, filled the position of bridesmaid. After the ceremony the wedding breakfast was partaken of, one of the features of it being the five-story wedding cake, the handiwork of Mrs. Tangney, who is quite a veteran in the construction of bridal cakes, having performed this office for her daughters as well as her nieces—"and their sisters and their cousins and their aunts." After the repast was over, the bridal pair were accompanied to the C.P.R. station by the guests, who gave them a hearty "send off" with the usual honours—on the 5.50 express. They will spend the honeymoon in visiting in Western Ontario, after which they will return to town and take up residence with Mr. P. Tangney, North Peterborough. The bride was a popular young lady, as shown by the fine array of wedding presents, of which the following is a list:—

Mr. J. I. Davidson, chamber set; J. A. Tully, hand painted fruit set; Mrs. W. Leahy, silver dinner cruet; Mrs. C. McAuliffe, silver cake basket; C. Wales, chamber set; Mr. M. Tangney, parlor table; Miss A. McFadden, cheese dish; Mr. A. Allison, china fruit dish; Mrs. J. Trambly, breakfast cruet; Mrs. J. Merrill, Brandon, silver set; Miss Downes, majolica dish; Miss. A. McCormick, silver pickle cruet; Mr. M. Giroux, ½ doz linen towels; Mrs. M. Giroux, set vases; Mr. J. Tangney, silver tea knives; Mrs. John Weir, toilet set; Mr. H. Dennes, silver breakfast cruet; Miss B. McNaughton, silver spoons; Mrs. McGuire, photo album; R. Cavanah, silver cake basket; Miss Keating, silver butter dish; Mr. P. Welsh, lemon set silver tray; Miss Navin, flower vase; Mrs. M. Davidson, breakfast cruet; Mr. J. Riordon, set jugs; Mrs. W. Summerville, biscuit dish; F. Corkery, cake dish; Mr. J. Tramby, set decanters; Miss K. O'Connell, breakfast cruet; Mrs. J. Kelly, set table linen; Mr. R. Summerville, card receiver; Miss Jennie Davidson, bogonia; Miss M. O'Connell, set glassware; Miss Mary McCarthy, set vases; Miss L. Lane, table linen; Miss Lillie Davidson, cabinet holder; Mrs. Henchcliffe, fruit basket; Mr. L. Robinson, pickle cruet, Miss Maggie McFadden, hand painted butter plates; Miss Nellie Tangney, set silver napkin rings; the bride's father, bedroom set; the groom, extension table; J. Hackett, bedspread and doylies; Gough Bros., silver tea set.

Peterborough Cheese.

The Balance of the Season's Make Boarded But not Sold—Good Prices for September.

The regular meeting of the Cheese Board was held to-day. The cheese for the last half of this month and the first half of next were boarded as well as the first of September, but as no sales of the former were made the figures are not good. Following is the offer of cheese for the last half of September.

FRAUDS ON BUYERS.

There was some discussion as to whether the balance of the year's cheese should be sold by contract or not, some of the buyers being ready to contract and others saying they were not prepared. Finally it was decided to sell the first half of the month and meet again in two weeks to offer on contract. While waiting for the board to fill up, Mr. Clurton brought up the matter of the inspection of cheese. He said it cost the buyers a good deal to send inspectors around to factories, the object of which was to prevent the selling of poor cheese. At the last meeting he said he bought some cheese, and two of the factories put in some boxes which his inspector rejected. He could have had the cheese maker prosecuted for fraud, but he had not done so; however if he was treated that way again he would enter an action. He wished to state that there was no complicity between the salesmen of these factories and the makers; it was no fault of the salesmen. Mr. Clurton quoted from a letter from a Montreal firm, expressing their wonder that buyers could pay the prices for cheese they did. In view of the fact they got such good prices he hoped the factorymen would see that no such frauds were again committed.

Mr. Flavelle and Mr. Clurton remarks were quite to the point and he believed the Board should take up the matter and prosecute.

Mr. Cook agreed with Mr. Clurton and also complained that sometimes the boxes were not properly cut down.

The chairman, Mr. J. M Drummond, Mr. Hodgson and others spoke on this subject.

THE BIDDING.

The buyers present were Messrs Hodgson, Clurton, Cook, Fitzgerald, Flavelle and Wrighton.

Mr. Hodgson first off-red 10c. for the board, Mr. Wrighton advancing an eighth for selections and Mr. Clurton to 10½ for the same. Then Mr. Wrighton raised to 10¾ for the board. Mr. Cook off-red ⅛ for selections and Mr Hodgson the same for the board; Mr. Cook the half for selections and Mr. Hodgson the same again for the board. Mr. Cook again raised to ⅛ for selections and was followed by Mr. Hodgson with ⅛ for the board. Mr. Cook advance to 10¾ was again followed by Mr. Hodgson, and finally Mr. Cook reached 10⅞ for selections, and secured Keene, Shearer, and Missing Link. Mr. Hodgson then offered ⅛ for further selections, naming Warminster, North Smith, Cherry Grove, Pine Grove, South Dummer and Maple Leaf. All accepted but Warminster. Mr. Fitzgerald offered 10⅛ for the balance of both boards, and Mr. Cook advanced an eighth on selections. Mr. Hodgson then bid 10 11/16 for the same, and named Westwood, Norwood and Melrose Abbey. Before they had time to speak Mr. Cook offered a sixteenth better for Melrose Abbey, but some objection was raised to this manner of procedure, and the three factories accepted. Mr. Fitzgerald then offered 10⅜ for the balance of the Peterborough board. Central Smith and Otonabee Union accepted. This left only Warminster and Warsaw unsold in the Peterborough section.

For the Lindsay cheese Mr. Flavelle offered 10½. Mr. Wrighton advancing a sixteenth. None of the factories accepted.

There was some discussion over a point raised by the bidding, whether after a buyer had named his selections another buyer had the right to interpose a higher bid before the factory in question had decided to accept or not. The chairman ruled that after a buyer has named his factories all bidding is ended on that particular selection.

Ashburnham Brevities.

Mrs. John Wood, and her son, Mr. Geo. Wood, returned on Tuesday from a visit in Paisley, Co. Bruce.

Plasterers are at work on the room which is being fitted up in the public school.

Mr. W G. Matthews who has been in Ottawa for the past eight months, has left that city and is visiting his parents.

The question of a public reading room is a very pertinent one just at present. There is no reason why a place of a population approaching two thousand, should not have such a room, when other places very much smaller have one. There can be no doubt as to the necessity of it. Numbers of young men after tea in the long winter evenings have no place of resort where they can obtain the news of the day without undergoing the temptation of the hotel to receive it, or else go to town, which is not at all convenient. The cost would not be great. One of the rooms in the new town hall could be secured for the purpose. No doubt many citizens would support it largely by private subscriptions, besides a yearly grant would be received from the governments. This is an opportunity for some one to win the esteem of his fellow citizens.

Omemee.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Beautiful weather, farmers very busy threshing.

A large number will attend the Peterborough Show.

Emily township Show is to be held in Omemee on Saturday, the 28th September.

There will be a large number of our farmer's attend Peterborough markets this season whilst the roads are good.

The re-opening of the Methodist church was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Pearson, Peterborough, was present on both Sunday and Monday.

The new Presbyterian church, Omemee, will be ready for opening on Sabbath, October the 20th, and is looked upon as a very handsome edifice.

STARTLING EVIDENCE

Of the Cure of Skin Diseases When all Other Methods Fail.

Psoriasis 5 years, Covering Face, Head and Entire Body with white scabs. Skin red, itchy, and Bleeding. Hair all gone. Spent hundreds of Dollars. Pronounced Incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use.

THE ALBERTON OUTRAGE.

TWO YOUNG FARMERS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Fatal Accident at Dundas—The Survivors of the Crew of the Wrecked Warship Lily Arrive at Halifax.

HAMILTON, Sept. 26.—Two arrests have been made in connection with the assault and robbery committed near Alberton early last Saturday morning. Mrs. Travers, the aged woman who was so brutally assaulted, swore out warrants against Alexander Burnside, a farmer's son living near Alberton, and Isaiah Smith, a young farmer living opposite the woman's house. Armed with these documents County Constables Phillipo and Cran went out Tuesday and arrested the young men.

Mrs. Travers was not able to leave her bed, and a preliminary hearing took place in her house before Justices of the Peace Walker and Heslop. The woman's face was frightfully disfigured, and it will be some time before she recovers. She gave strong evidence against the prisoners and they were committed for trial at the next assizes. They furnished bail in $500 and two sureties in $250 each.

The map of the route of the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo railway through the townships of Saltfleet, Barton and East and West Flamboro has been filed with John Crerar, clerk of the crown. The maps only apply to the line from Toronto to Buffalo. They show the line to enter the county between the Grand Trunk track and the bay on the north side, and striking the bay shore, a short distance east of the Oaklands wharf. It skirts the bay shore below the bluff past Rockbay to Carroll's point, where it runs out to the end of the point. On the eastern side of the city the road leaves the corporation limits at Wentworth-street between Nightingale and East-streets.

President Bruck and the other directors of the Fair got quite a surprise yesterday morning when they opened up for business. It seems that a number of admission tickets (sixty or over), along with a quantity of cigars, had disappeared during the night. They were securely locked in a drawer and when the officials left everything was in its proper place. Yesterday morning, however it was found that the above mentioned articles were missing. The drawers had been evidently unlocked and the articles extracted.

About noon yesterday a man went into Dr. Baugh's office and when he had departed the doctor missed a valuable instrument valued at $25. He reported the matter to the police, with a description of his visitor, and by two o'clock Constable Venard arrested Wm. Belcher for the theft and the instrument was found in his pocket.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT DUNDAS.

An Unknown Elderly Woman Run Over by a Freight Train.

DUNDAS, Sept. 26.—An elderly woman was killed on the Grand Trunk track at 4.30 yesterday afternoon by the local freight train. When approaching Dundas from the west the engineer noticed some one walking towards the depot and whistled repeatedly but no notice was taken by the woman who was in the centre of the tracks. The train could not be stopped in time owing to the down grade at this place. The fireman attempted to reach the cowcatcher to try and rescue the woman but was unable to reach her before she was struck by the engine and thrown down the embankment. The train was sidetracked at Dundas and the engine taken back for the body which was brought to Dundas station. The body was not identified.

THE WRECKED WARSHIP.

Arrival of the Survivors of the Lily's Crew at Halifax.

HALIFAX, Sept. 26.—H.M.S. Emerald arrived here yesterday with the survivors of the wrecked warship Lily on board. When the Emerald left the scene of the wreck last Saturday the Lily was lying on her starboard side with her netting under water, her bottom is completely battered out and the water up to her upper decks. Her three heavy guns were left on board. Of the lost six were bluejackets and one marine. The men saved number 92.

The Chatham Murder Trial.

CHATHAM, Sept. 25.—The murder case of the Queen against Todd Quick and Benjamine McMahon, which is the absorbing topic throughout the county, was opened yesterday afternoon at the Assizes here in the presence of an exceedingly large audience. Many persons were turned away, unable to get admission. There are some 130 witnesses to be examined. Mr. Loant, Q. C., appears for the Crown, while Government Detective Rogers, who has worked up the case, watches the evidence and assists in the details. The prisoners are defended by Mr. W. R. Meredith, Q. C., and Mr. Pegley.

The Crown opened the case by putting a young negro into the box to prove that at the time of the murder of John Holton the prisoner Quick hired a rig at Harrow from the stable of Mr. Drummond, and that when it was learned that the persons who committed the deed were supposed to have had a rig of a like description Quick came to him (the witness) and asked him not to give him away or state that he had the rig in question.

Mr. Meredith put the Negro through a severe ordeal in cross-examination. The prisoners do not appear to have any fear as to the result.

Funeral Reform.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—His Lordship the Bishop of Ontario, who was interviewed regarding the Dean of York's letter on funeral reform, said: "I cordially agree with the Dean that reform in funeral matters is urgently required on account of the vulgar ostentation with which they are conducted now and the enormous expense at a time when widows and orphans can least afford it. I would be very glad indeed if a similar movement was inaugurated in Canada, as it would be a public benefit."

The Broward Aeronaut.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Otsego Lake, near Cooperstown, has been dragged since daylight and as yet the body of Edward Walrath, the young aeronaut, has not been found. It is thought the body has become entangled in the parachute in such a manner that it cannot rise to the surface. The water at the point at which he disappeared from sight is very deep.

Killed his Wife With a Blow of His Fist

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 26.—Mark King, of Hazleton, was yesterday convicted of manslaughter for killing his wife with a blow of his fist last July. He was remanded for sentence. King is an Englishman and has borne an excellent reputation. He worked in the mines. His wife was an habitual drunkard. After putting up with her conduct patiently and uncomplainingly for six years, he went home one night last June and found her in a drunken stupor. While lifting her into bed she began reviling him, and he struck the blow that caused her death. He surrendered himself when she died.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

IT IS SAID THE EARL OF COVENTRY WILL BE HE.

Important Conference of Canadian Pacific Railway Magnates with Members of the Government.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—The Earl of Coventry is likely to be next Governor-General of Canada. He is a great sportsman and agriculturist, and at present is Master of the Queen's Buckhounds. This office is to be abolished, and as the Earl is far from wealthy he is to find compensation at Ottawa. Lord Coventry frequently acts as judge in the principal horse rings of England and is a man of unblemished character, 51 years of age, and married to a daughter of Earl Craven, by whom he has a numerous family.

RAILWAY MAGNATES AT OTTAWA.

Sir George Stephen and Mr. Van Horne Confer With the Premier

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Sir George Stephen and President W. C. Van Horne of the C.P.R. arrived in town yesterday morning. At 10.20 they called on Sir John Macdonald at Earnscliffe and held a protracted conference with the Premier. Later on they met Sir John, Sir Adolphe Caron and Mr. Haggart. They declined through their secretaries to see representatives of the press and required questions to be submitted in writing. Questions were submitted but no reply was received.

It is understood the conferences were of unusual importance and related chiefly to the question of fast ocean mail service, more particularly with reference to the conditions laid down by the British Government and the claims of Victoria, B. C., as a port of call.

A cabinet council was held shortly afterwards.

LEARNING OF CANADA.

Bismarck Sends an Engineer to Examine the Dominion's Canal System.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Count Petri of Germany is here. He has since February of this year been the technical attache of the German legation at Washington. He is considerable of a scientist and is a skilled engineer. The Count is now here on a mission for his Government, investigating the workings and establishment of Canadian canals particularly and Canadian iron and other mines, bridges, railways and other public works in general. Germany, he says, is about to build some extensive canals and therefore knowledge of Canadian canals, which are very highly spoken of all over the world, will be of great use to their engineers. He has made an extensive investigation of the Welland Canal and the system. He will stay here for several days in order to get thoroughly posted on all information that the Department of Railways and Canals can give him.

A GIFT TO SIR JOHN.

Lord Lansdowne Presents Him With Two Silver Bowls.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—From far-away India there arrived at Earnscliffe last week a package containing two silver bowls of native Hindoo workmanship, sent to Sir John by Lord Lansdowne, to remind him and Lady Macdonald "of an absent friend who does not forget Canada." These bowls each weigh 40 ounces, are 10 inches in diameter and about 8 inches high, and lined with gold. They were made by Lucknow artists and are probably the finest specimens of repousse work in the Dominion. The figures and characters engraved upon them represent hundreds of specimens of the animal and vegetable kingdom and are beautifully delineated. These two works of art will doubtless be greatly treasured by Sir John and Lady Macdonald.

THE SPHERE OF SPORT.

The Ball Players' Scheme—Yesterday's Games—Standing of the Clubs.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 26.—Manager Hanlon, of the Pittsburg Baseball Club and Vice-President of the Baseball Players' Brotherhood, says that the announcement of the completion of a project of the ball-players to desert the League at the close of this season and form a new league was premature, but that something of the kind would undoubtedly be done if the League directors insist upon the present classification of salaries and do not consent to a modification of the reserve rule. The scheme to form a new league, Hanlon says, did not originate with the players, but with capitalists who are willing to divide the profits of the game fairly with the players.

The winners at Louisville yesterday were Heartease, W. G. Norris, Longbrook, Deer Lodge, Churchill Clarke and Bonita.

Equal Rights Meeting at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 26.—The meeting under the auspices of the Equal Rights Association had an attendance of about 500 persons. Mr. John Charlton, M.P., spoke for about two hours. A vote of thanks was tendered him at the close of his address.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

The Montreal school of cookery has been opened. The course of education will range from high class French cooking to the plain meal of the cottage, mistresses and servants will alike be instructed in theory and practice by able teachers.

The medical practitioners of the district of St. Hyacinthe have formed a Medico-Chirurgical Society.

Wheat was active and again higher in Chicago yesterday. The closing quotations are the highest so far reported on this crop.

The magistrates at Owen Sound committed Backhaus and Puitch for trial in connection with the Baltic case.

The Protestant Committee of the Quebec Council of Education is expected to hand over to the Provincial Government to hand over to it the whole $80,000 awarded by the Jesuit Estates Act, instead of the interest.

ONTARIO FALL FAIRS.

FINE WEATHER AND BIG CROWDS EVERYWHERE.

The Displays Generally Exceed Those of Former Years—Fruit the Only Department Not up to the Average.

HAMILTON, Sept. 26.—The distinguishing feature of this year's Great Central Fair is the weather. Monday was a beautiful day, Tuesday was grand, but yesterday was glorious. In the afternoon, being a civic half holiday, the people were present in the thousands and were more than delighted with what they saw and heard. The exhibitors had everything in place, and what was shown was to be seen to the best advantage. The success of the Fair in every respect is now an assured fact. Perhaps the most interesting sight of the whole Fair yesterday was the grouping of the whole of the horses and cattle shown at the Fair this year in the open ring. Many of the prize horses and cattle which were shown in Toronto and London were among the animals, together with as fine a selection of stock as could be met with anywhere. The spectators declared that nothing like it had ever been seen in Canada before, and it did not seem as if they were far astray in their declaration.

The palace and grounds were brilliantly illuminated last evening by electric light. The 13th Battalion band gave one of their best programs of music, and the Hungarian dancers went through their program of attractive dancing on the platform in front of the grand stand. That certain pious Toronto clergymen were shocked at the high-kicking of these girls when there at the Industrial Fair, almost everyone knows, but why they should have been shocked is a query. There was a big crowd present last night.

The Guelph Central.

GUELPH, Sept. 26.—Yesterday was the opening day of the once great Guelph Central Exhibition. Contrary to expectation the show this year promises to be far ahead of last year's. The number of entries is much larger, the show of cattle will be first-class and in all the classes of live stock will be good. The display of flowers is good but fruit is not up to the standard. There is a big exhibit of agricultural implements. The ladies' work and fine arts department is fairly well filled.

The Great Northern.

COLLINGWOOD, Sept. 26.—Yesterday was the opening day of the Great Northern Exhibition. The rush of entries has been so great that Secretary Crawford made 1000 entries in a single day. Yesterday everything was on the ground and formed the finest show ever seen in the north. The entries in stock were all far in advance of preceding years, most of the old exhibitors and many new ones being represented. Poultry, dairy products, grain, etc., are all fully represented.

Centre Simcoe.

BARRIE, Sept. 26.—The Centre Simcoe Exhibition at Barrie, is now in progress. The weather is pleasant. The display in the main building is good, although probably not so extensive as in other years. Yesterday was children's day and fully 2000 school children visited the fair, going in procession, headed by the Citizens' Band. The attendance was good, there being nearly 5000 persons on the grounds. To-day is the big day.

Ontario and Durham Exhibition.

WHITBY, Sept. 26.—The second annual Ontario and Durham exhibition, which opened here Tuesday, drew immense crowds. The exhibits of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, farming implements, ladies' work, etc., were first class and numerous. The horse racing and pacing in the ring were keenly contested. The fair will be continued to-day and it is thought the number in attendance will be larger than yesterday.

North Oxford.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 26.—The North Oxford agricultural fair held here yesterday was very largely attended, probably 8000 people being present. The show of horses and of cattle was unusually good, the other exhibits being about as usual.

South Grenville.

PRESCOTT, Sept. 26.—The weather was beautiful yesterday and there was the largest attendance for many years. There was a first class exhibition of carriage horses, roadsters and draught horses. Very lively competition for prizes.

Bay of Quinte.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 26.—The District Fair was favored with beautiful weather yesterday and all the exhibits were in place, making the finest exhibition ever seen here. It was children's day and the grounds were thronged with the pupils of the schools and others, whilst the attendance of adults was also large, being considerably in excess of the second day last year.

After the Whisky Smugglers.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—C. A. Cornellier, Q.C., has been authorized by the Minister of Customs to hold an inquiry into the smuggling of American whisky into Canada, especially by way of St. Pierre de Miquelon. Mr. Cornellier stated yesterday that he had already taken the necessary steps to bring to justice a number of offenders and that he would begin his investigation shortly. He contends that whole shiploads of American whisky are being brought into Canada by the St. Lawrence route. A vessel takes a half cargo of whisky and a half cargo of plaster. Then they unload the plaster and a portion of the whisky at an intermediate port and obtain a clearing sheet after which they run into St. Pierre de Miquelon or some other port on the strength of their clearance sheet and unload the greater portion of the whisky free of duty.

Richelieu Conservatives' Choice.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—At the meeting of Conservative delegates held at Ste Victoria, J. A. Massue, Seigneur of St. Aime, was unanimously chosen as candidate for the approaching Richelieu County contest for a representative in the Dominion Commons.

Drowning Accident at Cornwall.

CORNWALL, Sept. 26.—A man apparently about 50 years of age arrived in town Monday night and registered at the American House as John McIlain. He remained at the hotel till last night, when he went down to the a scamer Bohemian, where he purchased a ticket for St. Anicet. He then left the boat and came up to the hotel and remained there some time and left for the boat, arriving at the wharf about 7.30. He walked off. The waiter saw him as he fell and immediately threw a rope, but the unfortunate man did not catch it. They could hear him call for help, but before they could lower a boat his cries were silenced by death. He said he was from London. His body has not been recovered and the probabilities are it will not until it rises, as the current is very swift where he fell in.

A Scorcher at Buffalo

BUFFALO, Sept. 26.—Fire last night destroyed the saw and planing mill of the Union Dry Dock Company and the draughting house, a pile of decking, 100 barrels of pitch and the blacksmith shop of the Mills shipyard adjoining. Loss about $65,000,

TORONTO TOPICS.

Spellman Again Lodged in Jail—Bail Granted to Daggett and McFadden.

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—There was a big crowd at the Union Station last night on the arrival of the C. P. R. train from Ottawa and everybody was intent on seeing Detective Slemin and the convict Spellman whom he so luckily captured at Sharbot Lake yesterday. Spellman was taken to the jail about 10 o'clock where he was received as a prodigal son. He will be arraigned in the General Sessions to-day for sentence for his burglary exploit. Two detectives will go down east to-day to search for the two other escaped prisoners who are probably making for the other side in the neighborhood of Brockville.

Before Judge McDougall and a jury in the General Sessions yesterday, William H. Dixon, a G. T. R. officer, was charged with shooting Baggageman John McLaughlin. On June 23 Dixon got on a C. P. R. train near Strachan-avenue. He was ordered off by Conductor James Hamilton. Dixon jumped off but immediately began to use some offensive language to Hamilton. The conductor then got off the train and struck Dixon, when the latter drew a revolver. McLaughlin was shot in attempting to save Hamilton. After hearing considerable evidence Dixon was convicted of criminal assault.

Chief Justice Sir Thomas Galt granted bail yesterday morning to Daggett and McFadden, two of the prisoners on trial in connection with the Baltic tarring and feathering case. They are allowed out, themselves in $400 each and two sureties each in $200. Russell and Tripp, the other two prisoners, were refused bail.

In March last, Harry Algase, by forging the name of E. C. Gauthier to a telegram, secured $100 from Mrs. Gauthier of Windsor. The amount was forwarded through the Canadian Express Co., and sent to the Rossin House, where it was paid out by the clerk to Algase, who represented himself as Gauthier. After the swindle was discovered the Express Co. paid back $100 to Mrs. Gauthier and brought suit in last Division Court to recover the amount from the proprietors of the Rossin House, on the ground that the clerk should not have paid the money to Algase. Yesterday Acting Judge Morson decided that the Rossin House men had used ordinary precautions before paying out the money and could not therefore be held liable.

In the Civil Assize Court yesterday morning, the jury in the case of Badgerow v Grand Trunk Railway, brought in a verdict of $1350 for the plaintiff, this being the maximum sum they could award, representing the aggregate earnings of a brakeman for a period of three years. Of the amount, one-third is awarded Archie Badgerow, the 2-year-old child of the deceased, and the remainder to the widow.

At the Metropolitan Church yesterday forenoon, by Rev. Leroy Hooker, Mr. John Fraser, the teller of the Bank of Toronto was wedded to Florence Maud, daughter of John L. Cook, and niece of H. H. Cook, M.P.

THE PREY OF VERMIN.

Shocking Discovery in the Debris of Quebec —Death of Joe Kemp.

QUEBEC, Sept. 26.—Two little girls of Michael Bradley, who lost his whole family in the landslide, were found last Tuesday night close to each other. They were not much bruised, and must have died of suffocation.

Joe Kemp, 74 years of age, who was found Tuesday, having been 108 hours under the debris, is dead. The subcutaneous injections of ether and brandy stimulated a spark of life in him, but the reaction, which was dreaded by the physician of the hospital, proved fatal to him. The right side of his face was deprived of all sensibility. The return of blood in that part caused a swelling which determined an inflammation of the brain, to which he succumbed.

The Champlain Ward inhabitants are very much excited against certain Federal Government and city officials. After the verdict in the coroner's inquest has been returned they will hold an indignation meeting. Trouble is feared. Crowds can be seen assembling here and there speaking and gesticulating vehemently; the whole drama has been repeated over and over by them with more or less bitterness.

Some of these men grew furious on hearing that certain city officials had endeavored to give money to some of the wounded in the Hotel Dieu Hospital in order to silence them of their grievances they might have against the city. A crowd of these went into a French newspaper office and having met the editor, prepared to make him repent for having, as they thought, published that Tom Nolan, one of the victims, was in delirium tremens when he died, but on being shown that such was not true they apologized for their conduct.

The body of Mrs. Maybury has been found in the ruins. It is badly disfigured. It is thought that she lived some hours after the avalanche and must have died of sheer exhaustion and gradual asphyxia. The face and the chest were much eaten by voracious rats. A large aperture in the side revealed that several of the vital organs had been attacked by the vermin.

Havelock.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Progress is the order of the day in our village. A large number of houses have been erected this season. Among the number is the commodious private residence of Mr. George Liscomb, beautifully situated on an eminence from which a fine view can be had of our embryo town. Dr. Jeff has also given a tangible proof of his interest in Havelock and his hope of its future prominence, by erecting a convenient business establishment, in which he will be found ever ready and willing to dispense those medicines prepared to cure all ills to which the flesh is heir. And while we are not presumptious enough to believe or assert that Havelock will yet exceed Peterborough in wealth, commercial greatness, intellectual culture and fashion, nevertheless it might not be out of place to kindly and gently remind that village beautiful for situation, and known as Norwood, to keep a watchful eye on its laurels.

Mr. Robert Warren and wife, of Marmora, enjoyed the hospitalities of Maple Villa, the home of Alexander Mathieu, Esq. We understand that Robert contemplates opening a blacksmith shop in Havelock. Should he do so, his spiritual interests won't be overlooked.

On the night of Sunday, Sept. 22d, religious services in the Methodist church were considerably interrupted by a representative of the whiskey interest well primed with Havelock forty rod. We are as far from the millenium under the Crooks Act as we were under the Scott Act. It is something outrageous and a disgrace to our so-called civilization, that man has the legalized power to convert for the sake of money another man into a madman and having turned him out in society, to say, of whatever offence in his madness he commits, "my hands are clean."

Mr. Robert Rutherford and wife of Seymour were visiting at the home of Mr. James Madill. The latter preached on last Sabbath his farewell sermons at the Rush Point and Round Lake appointments.

Mr. Millan, a prominent employee of the C. P. R., while engaged in his work met with an accident by which he lost a finger.

It would be advisable if those parents who willingly send their pledges of undying love to the Sabbath school, would not neglect home instruction, and particularly impress upon the youthful and pliant mind that it is as much a sin to steal apples as it is to rob a hen roost. "Thou shalt not steal" is the Divine prohibition, and it embraces a neighbors orchard as well as his gold.

As some opposition was expressed, the Jesuit bill was not discussed in Marmora on the night of the 20th.

The new English church in course of erection here, will when finished undoubtedly be an ornament to Havelock.

Lakehurst.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES—Sunday, the 14th inst, was the second Anniversary of the dedication of Lakehurst Methodist church. The event was commemorated by the holding of special services, when two eloquent sermons were given by the Rev. D. S. Houch, of Bridgenorth. From the morning text, 1 Chron. IV-10, the reverend gentleman very clearly explained the propriety of supplicating the Divine being for temporal as well as spiritual blessings. In the evening address the speaker very pointedly referred to Christ as being the only Mediator between God and man by enlarging on 1 Tim. II 5. Mr. Houck's addresses were very impressive and so tersely explained as to command the respectful attention given him.

Monday was the feast day and the manner in which the lady friends of the congregation served the tea was such as only the ladies of Harvey were capable of.

After satisfying the wants of the inner man the people repaired to the neat little church for an intellectual treat. As announced several clergymen from Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Millbrook, and other places were to attend, but for some good reasons, we hope, some presented themselves. Again the Rev. Mr. Houck proved reliable, as all who heard his excellent address on "Home" will admit. Readings were given by Miss Renwick, S.S., No. 4, Harvey, and Mr. Middleton of No. 8; also a recitation by the Rev. Mr. Houck. They were interspersed with very fine renderings of vocal music by the Chemong choir, Mrs. Houck presiding at the organ. The Misses Renwick and Kindred sang a duet with good success. At an early hour the programme was completed and the entertainment closed after votes of thanks had been tendered those who interested themselves in making the occasion the success it was. Proceeds $30 90.

NOTES AND QUERIES—Our worthy chairman, Mr. Elliott, filled his position with great credit. Why did not our honorable friend, the Reeve, respond favorably to the earnest assertions given him to address us? A worthy farmer does not wish to dispute the Rev. Mr. Houck's calculation as to numerous household duties, but requests your correspondent to inform him that the farmers of Harvey get four meals a day and that all duties of the day are performed before retiring that night. The managing committee wish to publicly show the gratitude to Mr. Mrs. Houck for their kindness shown us by assisting so ably in all the services.

Nassau.

Gospel meeting was held in the Orange Hall, Nassau, on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. The attendance was very good, as all the available room in the hall was taken up. The singing was spirited and received valuable assistance from the Y.M.C.A band of Peterborough. On the platform was the Rev. Mr. Leitch, pastor, Messrs. Holland, Stubbs, Might and Powell. The addresses were concise, zeal stirring and earnest, and were listened to with rapt attention. The experience meeting was not very good; the Rev. Mr Leitch did his best to get the people to speak but to no avail, and in a few red hot earnest words he told those present what was their duty, which it is to be hoped will have good effect, in stirring up the people for the next meeting to be held next sabbath afternoon in the same place.

Otonabee.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Meeting held on the 16th Sept. Messrs. Anderson, McIntyre and Johnston was appointed a committee to arrange about a road to N. E. ½ lot 18, con. 8, with power to bargain with C. Edwards for privilege to travel on through his lot to said lot or to advertise and let contract for making road on seventh con. line to said lot, No. 18. A by-law was passed to levy and collect rates for county townships and school purposes for current year. The clerk was instructed to write to the following parties:—To Richard Elmhirst and Alex Patterson to remove their fences off concession line, opposite lots 24 and 26, con. 3, to Gavin Shearer that the council will allow 6 feet off con. line for building and maintains a wire fence along concession line opposite W ½ lot 22 con. 2; to James Wilson, granting leave to build a culvert opposite lots 21 and 22, con. 13; to Mr. Rae to procure cedars and put in a culvert opposite lot 15, con. 10. The following accounts were passed:—J. Redmond, gravel, $11.75; estate A. Campbell, cedar, $1.54; J. Quinlin, gravel, $2.75; A. Davidson, damages, drawing gravel, $4.00; estate late W. Evans, gravel, $10.59; John Cardwell repair of waggon broken at washout at Blezzards Creek, $4.00. The council adjourned to 21st October.

The Locks of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

Rely on This.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for three years, and can always rely upon it as a speedy cure for diarrhoea and all summer complaints. I can recommend it highly and I wish you every success.—MRS. W. FOWLER. 12 Oxford St. Toronto. 2w37d

A Corrupt System.

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

Constant Care.

CONSTANT care is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 2w37d

Convicts Sentenced- The Telegraph Suit—The Jesuits' Estates Act.

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—In the court of Queen's Bench yesterday Michael Mulcahey was sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary for criminally assaulting a young girl. There was strong evidence in his favor and to the last he protested his innocence. Skaiaonati, the Indian, who attempted an assault on a 10-year old girl, was sentenced to 23 months' hard labor. Charles E. Keeler of Albany received 2 years in the penitentiary for forging the name of J. J. Curran. F. E. N Boucher got 7 years in the penitentiary for abstracting money from a letter. Six stowaways on the Donaldson liner "Circe" were sentenced to 2 months' hard labor in the police court. They are from Glasgow.

Messrs. Girouard and Delorimier, on behalf of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Co., have served on the secretary of the Montreal Telegraph Co. an incidental demand claiming a further reduction of 2 per cent. in addition to the 2 per cent. reduction already claimed by the principal demand.

Judge Taillon yesterday morning refused the request to have certain cloistered nuns in the Hotel Dieu examined in their convent.

The following letter has been received from the acting Under Secretary of State by Mr. J. R. Dougall.

"OTTAWA, Sept. 23, 1889.

"SIR:—I have the honor to inform you that the Governor General has had under consideration in council the petition of your self and others, dated July, 1889 praying that His Excellency-in-Council might be pleased to afford you an opportunity of being heard upon the appeal referred to in the said petition with respect to the Quebec Jesuits' Estates Act, and should fix a day therefor. I am to state that His Excellency has been advised to grant the prayer aforesaid, and to name Tuesday, Oct. 15 next, for hearing the said appeal by the usual committee of council. I am to add that a day for the hearing could not conveniently be fixed before owing to unavoidable circumstances."

The petition to which the above is an answer was sent in July and asked for an opportunity for the petitioners to be heard and give reasons why the Jesuits' Estates Act should be disallowed.

Two Fatal Falls.

QUEBEC, Sept. 25.—A young sailor of the Norwegian bark California fell off the vessel into the river while coming into port. The body was subsequently recovered but life was extinct.

Mr. Joseph Bouchard was accidentally killed a few days ago at Baie St. Paul by the upsetting of a load of hay which he was conveying to the barn. He was pitched between the feet of the horse, where he was found dead.

Honoring Their Parish Priest.

ORILLIA, Sept. 25.—Rev. Father Campbell, parish priest of Orillia yesterday celebrated the 25th anniversary of his ordination. A large number of the priests of the diocese were present. Father Campbell was presented by the priests with a chalice and other articles used in the celebration of the mass, the value being $500. The parishioners of Orillia also presented him with an address and a purse. Mayor Slavin read the address and Father Campbell made a suitable reply.

A CAUSE CELEBRE.

Donald Morrison's Trial to Begin Next Week at the Sherbrooke Assizes.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—The fall term of the Court of Queen's Bench, Crown side, for the District of St. Francis, will open at Sherbrooke on Tuesday next. There are a number of important cases to be tried, but the one that will overshadow all others in public interest will be the arraignment before the bar of justice of Donald Morrison, the Megantic murderer. Mr. L. C. Belanger, Q.C., Crown prosecutor for the St. Francis district, who will have charge of the prosecution of Morrison, arrived in town yesterday to attend the Court of Appeals.

Speaking to a reporter last evening, Mr. Belanger said he did not expect any difficulty at all with the trial, which will probably commence on Wednesday, the opening day being given up to routine. Owing to the wide circulation given the newspaper accounts which took Morrison's side as against McAuley, some trouble is anticipated in getting an impartial jury, but there seems no doubt that this will be overcome. The Attorney-General is taking personal interest in the case, and has assigned Mr. Charles Fitzpatrick, Q. C., Crown prosecutor of Quebec, to assist Mr. Belanger. There will be four indictments presented to the grand jury against Morrison—one for murder, two for arson and one for shooting with intent to murder. All the witnesses for the prosecution have been subpœnaed, and Mr. J. N. Greenshields, the leading council for the defence, does not expect any trouble on his side.

After Morrison's case is disposed of Remi Lamontagne will be arraigned for the murder of Napoleon Michel of Wolfestown on July 18 last year. Altogether the Sherbrooke assizes promise to be full of interest.

Another Level Crossing Accident.

GALT, Sept. 26.—The 15-year-old son of James Wilford met with an accident yesterday afternoon that may result fatally. He was driving a loaded wagon with one horse towards Galt and when passing over the Grand Trunk track at the Hespeler road crossing, the wagon was struck by the 4 o'clock south-bound train. The boy was thrown violently out and the wagon carried some distance down the track. The train was stopped and backed to the crossing where the boy was found to have received a severe fracture of the skull. The horse escaped without injury.

Alleged Mistaken Identity

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—The friends of Clinton J. J. Clapp of Lyon-street, who has been arrested for stealing a gold watch at Toronto, assert that there has been a case of mistaken identity and that young Clapp is not the party who is wanted in the Queen City. Clapp was taken to Toronto yesterday.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Hatton streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

WELL AND TRULY LAID.

The Corner Stone of the New Market Building

Laid with Civic Honors this Forenoon—An Immense Gathering of the Population—Addresses by the Mayor and others—A Gala Occasion.

Thirty-eight years ago to-morrow the corner stone of the old market building was laid with public honors, and this forenoon the corner stone of the new and grander structure was formally laid by Mayor Stevenson in the presence of the populace. Some time ago a committee composed of Messrs. Langford, Baptie, E. H. D. Hall and Winch, was appointed to make arrangements for the ceremony, and they have every reason to be proud of the results of their efforts. The occasion 38 years ago was marked by festivities usual to the time, a roast ox being prepared for the public dinner next day, but as related in the EXAMINER the other day it was spirited away in the night and so the contemplated feast had to be declared off. No such calamity attended to-day's celebration. Everything passed off pleasantly and smoothly, and the ceremony was watched with interest by thousands of people who blocked up the streets.

About ten o'clock the volunteers and firemen, who had assembled at the drill shed, began their street parade headed by the band. There was not a very large turn-out of the red coats, and some of the companies were doubled up. The officers in command were Col. Rogers and Major Bell, mounted; Capts. Edwards, Denniston, Hill, Brennan and Millar; Lieuts. Mason, Haslam, Dixon, Hamilton, and Matthews. The volunteers were followed by the firemen in uniform, under command of Chief Ratherford.

Arrived at the building the military formed two sides of a square about the corner where the stone was suspended from a large triangle. The invited guests stood on the floor of the building facing the people. Among those present were Mayor Stevenson, the members of the town council, Reeve Burnham and the village council of Ashburnham, several clergymen of the town and other well known local men.

Town Clerk Macdonald came along with the leaden box containing the papers to be placed in the stone, and deposited it in the cavity underneath. The immense stone was swinging over it, ready to be lowered into place at the proper time. Mortar was then spread upon the foundation, and Mayor Stevenson stepping to the front faced the throng of people and began a short address.

THE MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

He said they were now about to lay the corner stone of the new market building, and probably few of those present would ever live to see the next one. Thirty eight years ago the corner stone of the old building was laid, and the only member of the town council at that time yet alive was Mr. Thos. Chambers, of Winnipeg. The present council had thought it better to make a little display on this occasion, and he hoped it would mark the beginning of an era of future prosperity for Peterborough. Thirty eight years ago when the old building was erected, Peterborough was a small town, but it had grown rapidly, and he hoped and expected in another 30 years it would be a city of 30,000 inhibitants. The old building was to be torn down to give room for the market, and he hoped the farmers would patronize the Peterborough market. Mr. Stevenson referred to the rapid growth of the town, its unrivalled facilities and water power, and said he hoped that more manufacturers would locate here. He trusted that those in town who had capital would encourage industries by taking stock and helping them along. The present council, he said, had used every effort in their power to induce manufacturers to locate here, but they had to contend with difficulties, as so many other towns were offering inducements. They had not so far, however, given any bonuses, and Mr. Stevenson expressed himself opposed to the principle of bonussing, saying he considered exemption from taxes and the splendid privileges they were able to offer sufficient inducement. Manufacturers should be able to stand on their own legs. The council had succeeded with one exception in their negotiations with manufacturers, and they hoped to procure more. Referring also to the question of sewerage, he said it was an important and great undertaking which in a few years, when they had the funds on hand they expected, they might begin.

Mr. JOHN BURNHAM, Reeve of Ashburnham, on coming forward expressed the pleasure he felt at being present on this occasion, and referring to Mr. Stevenson's remarks anent Peterborough's prospect for becoming a city, said he felt confident that the Mayor himself would live to see the present town a city as large as he had mentioned. Mr. Stevenson he gave credit for the part he took in endeavoring to procure manufactories for the town.

Mr. R. E. STRATTON, M. P. P., was the next speaker. He said it might appear presumptious on his part to say anything when there was so many older men present who had lived all their lives in town. However, he hoped with the others that they would soon be able to print upon their bill-heads "City of Peterborough." The people must have noticed the large number of buildings which are going up every year and the rapid extensions of the town's borders, and it must be apparent to all that Peterborough would soon be a thriving city. He did not himself favor bonussing, but he thought the facilities and advantages of the town should induce manufacturers to locate here. There was no town in the Dominion with the railway facilities, water privileges and financial position of Peterborough. The people had every reason to be pleased with the position and prospects of our fair town.

WELL AND TRULY LAID

There were no more addresses, and the ceremony proper was begun. Mayor Stevenson stepped down alongside the foundation and was presented with the conventional silver trowel, described in yesterday's EXAMINER, by Mr. J. E. Belcher, architect of the building. He dipped the trowel into the mortar and made the motion of spreading it on the lower surface. Then the stone was lowered by Mr. Kit Ratherford, the contractor, Mr. Thomas Ratherford, holding it steady and seeing that it was placed properly. Levels were taken, the stone firmly set in its place, and Mayor Stevenson giving the customary three taps, said: "On behalf of the Corporation of the Town of Peterborough, I declare this stone well and truly laid."

The band struck up a lively air, followed by the National Anthem, and after cheers for the Queen and the Mayor, the assemblage dispersed.

The volunteers, band and firemen returned to the drill shed, where lunch was served at the town's expense.

Mr. R. M. Roy photographed the corner stone and its surroundings just as the Mayor closed the proceedings.

Contents of the Box.

The papers were enclosed in two half gallon sealers, the tops of which were further sealed with wax. Town Clerk Macdonald and Mr. Wm. Langford, chairman of the committee, placed the papers in the sealers yesterday afternoon, and afterwards laid them side by side in the leaden casket prepared by Mr. Adam Hall to receive them. The box was then firmly soldered up and left in charge of the town clerk till required to-day.

The sealers were filled with the different papers that were put in them. The first and most important was the parchment containing the customary record of civic officials. The penmanship was executed at the Business College. The parchment read as follows:—

On the 26th day of September, 1889, the corner stone of this building—market—was laid by James Stevenson, Mayor,

James G. Macdonald, Town Clerk.
Charles McGill, Treasurer.

The old documents and coins taken from the other building were enclosed in an envelope and placed with the new papers. There were also copies of all the Toronto papers, the Peterborough daily and weekly EXAMINER, Review and Times, the Canadian Almanac, the municipal voters list, the town Directory, a prize list of the Central Exhibition, a programme of the ceremony, a copy of the market by-law, a list of civic committees; copies of the War Cry, Y.M.C.A Notes, Pastime Visitor, Methodist Life Boat, the Dominion Philatelist, the Lumberman, the Canadian Agriculturist and the Nutshell, all published in Peterborough; also a colored photograph of Mayor Stevenson on glass, and about twenty-one photographic views of public buildings and streets of the town. There were besides a number of coins of the realm, one, five, ten, twenty, twenty-five and fifty cent pieces of the latest date. A quantity of cloves was placed among the papers to prevent mould from gathering.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION

The Third Day's Doings.

The Sporting Events of Wednesday Afternoon—The Stallion Trot and Farmers' Trot—Thursday's Improved Attendance—A Pleasant Presentation to President Rutherford—A Worthy Agriculturist Worthily Honored.

SECOND DAY—WEDNESDAY.

Continued.)

The afternoon was the signal for a considerable increase in attendance which had been rather small in the morning, and there was abundance well worth seeing. The horses and cattle were brought out in the ring to be judged and the splendid specimens there elicited strong admiration on the part of visitors and gave the judges no little difficulty in coming to a decision.

The Outside Exhibit.

The display of agricultural implements and machinery and other articles is not very extensive. However Mr. J. J. Turner is on hand with a large and fine display of tents and awnings, flags, sails, water-proof clothing, waterproof hose clothing, camp stools, beds and folding chairs and allied goods of every description. Mr. Turner also shows fine specimens of canoes made by Mr. Wm. English.

Next to this exhibit is that of the Ontario Canoe Company, embracing nine specimens of cedar rib and basswood canoes. This display which is in charge of Mr. Alfred Kingscott, also includes a large lot of tents, waterproof clothing, camp stools, chairs, beds, canoe cushions, etc.

THE PETER HAMILTON EXHIBIT.—As usual Mr. Peter Hamilton leads with a display of farm implements and machinery, in charge of Mr. John A. Bennett and Mr. N. A. Nicholl. Among novelties of recent introduction he shows a two horse steel and malleable iron binder. This contains important improvements over other similar machines. It has a new style of bending apparatus and is of light draft—a genuine two-horse machine. Another innovation and likewise improvement is a two-horse sulky plow. Farmers notice that the seat of this plow is placed low, that it is very easily managed, that the draft is light, and that by a lever, the driver from his seat can adjust the depth and the width of furrow. So far about twenty of these plows have been turned out and they give the best of satisfaction. Other exhibits include the Hamilton light-draft reaper, and the crown mower, whose improvement of the rocking motion of the cutting bar improves its working greatly, their being no binding when tilling. The well-known tiger horse rake is also seen and Hamilton's widely-known and highly prized three-horse sulky plows, as well as a beautiful range of gang and walking plows, all the latter with steel beams, and the best known ploughs in the three counties. Besides there are root cultivators, spring tooth harrows, and a turnip pulper which exhibits use for pulping roots for their stock. Straw cutters Nos. 3 and 4 with carriers for use in cutting corn for ensilage; a spring tooth cultivator and the Daisy seeder. The splendid finish of this machine, and the painting which was more artistic than most of the display inside the palace, was greatly admired. Mr. Stephen Roadhouse, the painter, does really excellent work in the ornamentation of the machines and implements that come under his brush.

OTHER EXHIBITS.

Mr. W. J. Green, of Green & Co., shows several samples of the Wagener washing machine which have a great many decided points of advantage over other washers.

Messrs. Fife & Best show a collection of Massey, steel binder, hay rake and Toronto mower; also riding ploughs and harrows, made by Mr. Isaiah Best of Mount Pleasant, also Dugles seeder and Manses seeder.

Mr. C. C. Macdonald, has his usual good display of machinery, Frost & Wood single apron binder, two styles of sulky plough some half a dozen walking ploughs, section grinder, "Acme harrow and Chatham tanning mills.

Mr. Henry Owens has a well placed display of the leading pumps of the Dominion manufactured by him—the Patent Model and the Improved Cone Pumps. He shows also the celebrated Brantford Binder, whose merits have sold 5000 this season, and the Combined Wisner Drill and Cultivator.

Mr. E. E. Bowin makes an extensive display, consisting of single and double furrow Cockshutt Riding Ploughs, Jos. Hall Champion Mower, Masson double-geared Seed Drill—very complete. Masson's Scuffler and double mould board Plough and iron Harrow. Also Gillie's Spring Tooth Cultivator and Reversible Harrow and Cultivator; also Shantz Grain Crusher Section Grinder, hay and sheaf Lifter and the Masson Hammock.

Mr. Wm. Forsyth had in operation his N L fanning mill and his combined champion seeder and bagger, a great convenience to the busy farmers.

Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger make a very creditable display of their superior carriage work, consisting of six top buggies and two phaetons.

Mr. T. Cochrane shows Colter & Scott's (Oshawa) champion seed drill and iron and disc harrows, Fleming's Sons steel walking and riding ploughs.

OPEN AIR HOME COMFORT.

The Peterborough Stove and Furnace Company under the direction of Mr. John Braden has erected a two story building, built a furnace and heated the house with one of the celebrated Bolton hot water heaters. The system is admirably illustrated, and the economy and effectiveness of Bolton's hot water heater practically illustrated, showing the great merits of this system which has no superior.

The Interior Exhibit.

In a large marquee 40 x 65, supplied the society by Mr. J. J. Turner, there was a splendid display of roots and vegetables—not only numerically large but of a remarkably fine quality.

There was a lively contest in potatoes between Mr. A. J. Danbur, whose collection embraced 114 varities, and Mr. Jacob Doupe, who showed about 150 varities.

The show of grains was also good, beside a large collection which was shown in the main building.

Here was first encountered W. H. Carr & Co's display of rubber stamps, seals, stencils, etc.

THE MANITOBA EXHIBIT.

Opposite this was the excellent Manitoba exhibit, consisting of scores of beautifully arranged samples of the grains, native grasses and roots of the Prairie province, giving the spectator a good idea of the wonderful productiveness of the soil of that country. The display is shown here by the C. P. R. company and is in charge of by Mr. W. C. Manning, who has exhibited great taste and skill in the effective arrangement of the display, which is very comprehensive and instructive.

Gough Bros were on hand with their usually fine display of ready-made clothing and gent's furnishings. The display is a most tasteful one, very creditable to the skill of the arranger, Mr. James A. Tully. It shows well the capabilities of the stock of Gough's, the Wonderful Cheap Men.

An interesting little exhibit was that kindly supplied by Mr. Isaac Richardson, town. It consists of samples in the head of English oats, barley and wheat, plucked from the stook in a field in Staffordshire on Sept. 7th It was inspected with great interest.

SEWING MACHINERY.

This class was well filled. Mr. John Hore, manager for the Singer Company of Peterborough, showed ten machines, imlusting manufacturing and domestic. Their space was beautifully decorated with fine samples of the work of the machines.

Mr. G. A. Mitchell, shows four new Williams Sewing Machines, a favorite article with the public, and E. S. Mitchell two Wheeler and Wilson sewing machines. This department also contained beautifully executed samples of work.

Mr. D. J. Hendricks also made a good display of White sewing machines, embracing six for family purposes and one new rotary White for manufacturing purposes. There were some fine specimens of machine work especially of embroidery and braiding, one machine being specially good for braiding no shuttle being used. His display is very creditable.

The trotting events were now demanding attention, and the attractions of the horse ring where the judging was going forward, did not prevent a large number flocking to the race track at the preliminary ring of the starter's bell. The track was in rather heavily condition but as will be seen from the subjoined summary pretty fair time was made in the

FARMERS TROT.

After considerable delay this event, in default of the stallion race not filling, was brought on. There were entries as follows:

"Rip Van Winkle," Isaiah Hickey, Cobourg.
"Little Fred," Thomas Leith, Garden Hill.
"Livery Maid," Geo. Mitchell, Cobourg.
"Billy C," R. Croft, Cobourg.

FIRST HEAT.—There was little excitement in the first heat, Livery Maid had a clear start from "go" to finish, winning easily. "Billy C" second, "Little Fred" third and "Rip Van Winkle," fourth.—Time 2.46.

SECOND HEAT.—At the outset "Livery Maid" lost first place to "Rip Van Winkle," who improved his lead, shutting out the field. On the last half it was see-saw between Livery Maid and Billy C, but the maid collered her game and came in a good second, "Billy C" third and Little Fred fourth—Time 2 44. A complaint of foul on the part of Rip, changed the places to Livery Maid first, Billy C second, Little Fred third and Rip Van Winkle fourth, being set back for a foul.

THIRD HEAT.—This heat belonged to Rip Vanwinkle; Livery Maid second, Billy C. third. Time—2.43¼

FOURTH HEAT—The tug was between Rip and Billy C. Rip led for the first three-quarters, but here Billy C. took his ground and came in a winner in 2.43.

In the fifth heat Rip came in first, and the others in order: Billy C., Livery Maid and Little Fred.

This race will be finished on Friday at 1 o'clock.

THE STALLION TROT.

In the meantime the entries having filled, "Boxer," James Baptie, Springville and "Hambletonian George," owned by —— McKenzie, came to the scratch, the former winning the pole.

THE FIRST HEAT went easily to Boxer, who got first to the wire in 2:44.

THE SECOND HEAT was a repetition of the first, except that Boxer made his mile in 2:42

THIRD HEAT.—Boxer had all his own way this heat also, and came in winner of the heat and race in 2.43¼. Boxer works exceedingly well considering that he trotted without proper preparations and after not fully recovering from a sore knee.

THIRD DAY—THURSDAY.

The weather was dull this morning but there was promise of better attendance, the people from the rural districts coming in in large numbers, and the morning generally was spent quietly on the grounds.

In the afternoon the attendance of visitors was very brisk about one o'clock.

A Signal Honor Worthily Bestowed.

This afternoon a very pleasant break was made in the regular programme. The directors of the society waited upon Mr. Wm. Rutherford, the president of the society and to mark their esteem and their recognition presented him with a handsome gold headed cane accompanied by the following address:

To William Rutherford, Esq., President of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society:—

SIR,—It is a part of the unwritten law of our country that the citizen who shall exert himself in the public interest shall meet with a general recognition and find a place in the public esteem.

You have been identified for many years with the success of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society. You have watched its growth and development, not idly, but as one lending a generous and a helping hand. A farmer yourself, you have urged all that is good in elevating the principles and practice of our noble occupation, and your public action has helped to inspire confidence in the Society, enlarge the scale of its operations and the field sought to be covered

Since the inception of the County of Peterborough Central Exhibition your voice has been heard in the councils of its Directors and your personal services have enhanced its success. Year by year it has prospered, you have held the reins of office as President and your guidance has been wise and thoughtful.

When merit deserves so much it were not well we should be inappreciative. We ask you to accept this cane as a token—be it only trifling—of our esteem and sincere respect. We hope for many years to come to have the benefit of your advice and assistance, and hope that within not too long a time the Peterborough Central Exhibition will advance to the first in the front ranks of the Fairs held annually throughout the Province of Ontario.

With fraternal wishes for your future welfare and that of your family.

We remain

Yours Sincerely.

To this Mr. Rutherford made reply in the following words:—

To the Directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition:

GENTLEMEN.—I cannot find words at present expressive of my feeling on the present occasion, which is to me a genuine and I must say pleasant surprise; and if I fail to thank you in as flowery language as that in which your kind address was written, you must attribute it to the fact that I am not a speaker, but as you say a farmer. True I have worked with you for years as a director and officer of this Society, and know all the difficulties that we have had to contend with, but I have always found my labor lightened by the assistance which you were at all times willing to give me and did give me in the discharge of my duties. I feel that in accepting this token of your esteem, I am not the only one who should be remembered by the Society as a worker in the interests of agriculture and the welfare of the farming community, as there are others equally deserving of your kindness. In the discharge of my duties as president, I have always striven to act for the welfare and well being of our society, and if my efforts and labors have been such as to deserve this beautiful present and kind recognition from you I am sure I feel more than amply repaid for all my trouble. I hope the society has seen its darkest days and that more of our farmers will interest themselves in its advancement, so that we may be able to place it in the front rank of agricultural exhibitions. This can be easily done if we only work together for its promotion. I believe we have as good material in this district as there is in Ontario to develop and carry to completion a first class exhibition, and it only remains for you all to put your shoulders to the wheel and assist in pushing it forward. In conclusion I desire again to thank you most heartily for your handsome present and kind wishes for myself and family, and I assure you that I shall always remember your kindness and be at your service to assist you in promoting the interests of anything that will have a tendency to benefit the agricultural portion of the community, as well as any other interest that I may be able to in any way assist.

Mr. Rutherford, the President of the West Riding Agricultural Society, is signally worthy of the honor which the occasion implied. He has been for years associated with Agricultural Societies, and it is certain that no other man in the province is more worthy of the honor which was conferred on Mr. Rutherford this afternoon.

TO-MORROW'S PROGRAMME.

To-morrows programme will include the finish of the farmers trot, the contests for the hotelkeepers purse $200, and the contest for the gentlemen's purse (for saddle horses). In the morning the contest will take place between the Association baseball nine, and the Chemong (Indian) club, and in the afternoon the final game between winners will be played.

Scotch Goods.

There has just been opened out at the City Clothing Store, per steamer "Alcides," direct from Glasgow, the contents of five packages of merchandise. These goods are splendid samples of the good old Scotch manufacture. They consist of material for fall and winter overcoating, suitings, and trouserings of the newest patterns. Having been brought out direct by us from the "old sod," we can assure the public that the prices will be found unusually low. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The Central Canada Purchase.

Another Important Onward Movement by the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company.

The purchase of the assets of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company, amounting to $1,278,000, by the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company, was unanimously approved of by the shareholders of both Companies at their special general meeting held at the Companies offices yesterday. While it was contended by the shareholders of the Peterborough Company, that the assets of that Company were being sold at a good deal less than their intrinsic value, it was admitted that the apparent injustice of that was fairly met by the fact that the profit went to the Central Canada, in which they each had the option of becoming shareholders upon a perfectly equitable basis, practically giving to the new shareholders of the Central Canada the benefit of all that was being sacrificed by them as shareholders of the Peterborough Company, and at the same time adding to the assets, capital and reserve fund of the "Central Canada" a sum that places it in a highly satisfactory position and gives it an additional earning power that must result advantageously to its shareholders.

With the consolidation consummated, the "Central Canada" will have a fully subscribed capital of $2,000,000, a paid up capital of $800,000, a reserve fund of $140,000, and invested funds of over $2,500,000, figures that compare favorably with many of our oldest and strongest Canadian companies.

The directorate of the "Canal Canada," with Mr. Geo. A Cox as president and Mr. Richard Hall, of Hall, Innes & Co., and J. R. Dundas, Esq., ex-M. P., Lindsay, vice-presidents, comprise several of our most respected and successful business men, whose record extending over many years affords every security for able, honest, efficient management. Under the circumstances we predict for the company a progressive and happy successful future.

We trust Mr. Cox will not desire to remove the head office of the company to that magnificent building being erected by the Canada Life Assurance Company on King street, Toronto, where he will have such handsome and commodious quarters, but should that course be decided upon the Company will have at extended and important field in which to operate and will do no discredit to the financial institutions of the Queen City. The large and important connection the company have in this district will always ensure a fully equipped branch office here, with every promise for the prompt and efficient transaction of business under the supervision of the Vice-President, Mr. Richard Hall, Mr. Cluxton and other resident Directors.

Trained Animals.

The paradox entertainment at the Opera House last night was attended by a large and delighted audience. The exhibition gave every satisfaction and no doubt Prof. Morris will be greeted with a crowded house to-night. The parade yesterday noon was very attractive, the beautiful little ponies with their strings of bells, and the chariot load of lively, barking canines pleased everyone, particularly the little folks. The show was was all that it was advertised to be. Prof. Morris has the ponies and dogs so well trained and intelligent that they obey his every command without any prompting. The most comical feature was the Franklin family, consisting of three dogs in full dress, papa, mama and baby Franklin in a perambulator. The jumping dogs astonished everyone by their remarkable leaps, while the ponies performed tricks which appeared almost impossible. The entertainment is to be repeated to-night, with matinee this afternoon.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

DEAS' DEADLY AIM.

MIKE BIRTLE FATALLY SHOT BY A COLORED TORONTONIAN.

The Spellmans Arraigned for the Whitby Postoffice Burglary—A Big New Hotel Proposed in the Queen City.

TORONTO, Sept. 27. What will probably prove a fatal shooting occurred at No. 20 Elizabeth-street at 1 o'clock this morning. Michael Birtle, a young man of 22 with a bad reputation, lies at the General Hospital with a bullet in his brain and may die at any moment. The doctors say it is not at all probable that he can recover. Birtle (or as some spoke of him, Bertoy) at the hour indicated went to the house of Louis A. Deas, at No. 20 Elizabeth-street and demanded admittance. Deas, who is well known in the newspaper offices and business houses as a vendor of coffee and sandwiches, was in bed with his family upstairs. The house is on the corner of an alley and there is a door leading from this lane to a flight of stairs. Downstairs lives a Mrs. O'Reilly. Birtle shouted out that he wanted to see two girls named Annie O'Reilly and Eva Carney. Deas put his head out of the window and told Birtle to go away, and Mrs. O'Reilly, it is said, told the intruder that the girls were in bed. Birtle used some very abusive language and got inside the alley door. Mrs. Deas says that he called her husband a very vile name. Birtle attempted to come up the stairs into the room where Deas' family were in bed. The men met on the stairs and there was a struggle. There was also a great deal of noise, Birtle continuing to use very abusive language towards Deas. Suddenly a report of a pistol was heard, and Birtle cried out that he was shot. He staggered and fell. No one could be found who saw the shot fired, but a six-chambered revolver, with one chamber empty was found on Deas and he did not to claim the police that he did not shoot the intruder. Dr. Macdonald was summoned from his residence in Simcoe-street, near by, and he pronounced Birtle's wound fatal. The ball entered the head over the bridge of the nose. Birtle was sent to the hospital in the ambulance and Policemen Taylor and Johnston took Deas to the Agnes-street station. The officers also brought the revolver with them. Deas says he merely acted for the protection of himself and family.

When Michael J. Spellman and William Spellman were arraigned yesterday on a charge of stealing postage stamps from the Whitby postoffice their counsel presented affidavits for a continuance. The court ruled that the case must go on. An application will be made to-day to have the case tried without a jury.

Nothing further has been heard of the missing prisoners Jarvis and Pearce.

A public meeting is to be held at the Board of Trade rooms next Tuesday evening to discuss the building of a first class fire-proof hotel in the centre of the city.

There is an end to the sensational case in which A. W. Taylor, employed at the Massey Works, sues W. F. Johnston, superintendent of that large West End industry, for damages for the seduction of plaintiff's 19-year-old daughter Emma. It is said the defendant paid $900 to prevent the case going into court.

THE SPHERE OF SPORT.

The Orillias Win the Intermediate Lacrosse Championship.

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—It was expected that yesterday would be a big lacrosse day at Rosedale, as at least five teams were to have competed for the intermediate championship of the C.L.A. The only teams, however, to show up were the Orilliias of Orillia, Lornes of Mount Forest and Checkers of Beaverton. The latter team had unfortunately left their certificates behind and were thus, by the rules of the association, debarred from competing. The championship, therefore, lay between the Orillias and Lornes and the struggle was so one sided as to afford little interest, the Orillias winning in four straights.

Canadian Phosphate.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—C. M. Pielsticker, a large shareholder in the Dominion Phosphate Co. of London, Eng., is here. In June last his company bought a mine on the Dulievre River just below Little Rapids containing 390 acres which has never been worked. Mr. Pielsticker has just come over from England to open up the mine and appoint a manager. He expects to leave 50 men working in it before the winter is over. He says Canadian in phosphates rate from 80 to 85 per cent while that from Charlestown is only about 65 to 70 per cent. Another advantage in connection with Canadian phosphate is that it can be put on the English market cheaper than the phosphate from other countries. Mr. Pielsticker thought phosphate in this part of Canada a paying investment.

NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

AN ALLEGED BIGAMIST UNDER ARREST AT BROCKVILLE.

He is Said to Have Three Wives—A Montreal Driver Charged with Manslaughter—A Smokeless Fuel.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 27.—George Clute, alias George D. Morrison, alias George B. Bigelow, alias Dr. Bigelow, is at present occupying a cell at police headquarters on a charge of taking unto himself more wives than the law allows. It appears that some days ago Chief Mitchell got a letter from a woman at Lancaster in which she stated that the man of many aliases had married her in June last and had gone to Nova Scotia and married again in August. She told the chief that she was holding the man at Brockville by means of letters in which she promised to meet him here as he was anxious to get her property away from her. This was followed by a telegram in which Chief Mitchell was asked to arrest George W. Clute alias George D. Bigelow, who married Ida Thompson at Truro, N. S., on Aug. 8 last.

Clute turned pale when arrvied and tried to bribe the officer. When searched $125.86 was found on his person. It is claimed by the Lancaster woman that he secured $1600 belonging to wife No. 2.

Clute has also been carrying on his matrimonial adventures in this locality and on Monday last was married at Morristown to a Mrs. Monroe of Lyn. His mother, who belonged to Leeds County, married at Clayton but either left or was deserted by her husband and coming back to this side took up her residence on what is known as Drier Hill near Lyndhurst, a spot made famous as the hiding ground of the old Leeds gang of thieves and thugs. Here young Clute got his education. A good part of his life since he attained his majority has been spent in prison. In March last he was liberated after serving a seven years sentence for horse stealing. Since that time he has evidently been making love with great success.

MONTREAL MATTERS.

Charged with Manslaughter—Death from Poisoning Suspected.

MONTREAL, Sept. 27.—The coroner's inquest which has been going on for the past week into the cause of the death of Randolph Kennedy, aged 6 years, who resided on Nazareth street, was concluded last evening. He was on the street and was knocked down by a butcher's cart owned by Mr. Courville of St. Ann's Market and driven by Alfred DuBois. The jury returned a verdict of "Manslaughter" and DuBois was committed to the Court of Queen's Bench on that charge.

Eugene DuBois, a saloon-keeper on St. Lawrence-street, was arrested yesterday on the charge of having obtained $1600 from Chevalair under false pretences.

A young man named David Godin, employed as bar-tender at Mr. Lambert's restaurant on Ontario-street, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning and his death is attributed to poisoning. It appears that Godin was suffering from a sore leg and went to Dr. Gadbois for morphine but the physician refused to give him any. A box of pills was found in his bed-room and they will probably be kept for analysis.

The Protestant Committee of the Quebec Council of Public Instruction yesterday adopted Prof. Shaw's motion to ask the Government for the capital of $60,000 set aside for it by the Jesuit Estates Act.

AT THE PISTOL'S MUZZLE.

Train Robbers Make Successful Raids in Mississippi and Texas.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 27.—The Mobile and Ohio south-bound mail and passenger train was held up at 3.10 yesterday morning by train robbers at Buckatunna, Miss., a station seventy miles north of this city. Just before the train left Buckatunna two men mounted behind the tender of the train, and climbing over, covered Engineer Jack Therel and Fireman Thomas Hust with their revolvers. The robbers were disguised with red bandanna handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces. The leader ordered the engineer to pull out and to stop at the bridge two miles below Buckatunna and to place the train so that the express and mail car should be on the further side of the bridge from the rest of the train. The bridge is a trestle over a deep creek.

The train ran rapidly down to the spot indicated and the engineer pulled up just where the man with the pistol desired. Then there appeared a third robber disguised like the other two. These three made the engineer and fireman come with them to the express car, and the engineer had to call out to Expressman J. W. Dunning to open the door of the car. Dunning opened the barred door and the chief robber jumped in, the other two remaining outside to guard the engineer and fireman. The leader made the messenger dump the contents of the safe into a canvas sack. Noticing that he was not closely watched, Dunning shoved some of the money aside so that about $1000 was hidden, the robbers getting $2700. All this money belonged to the Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company. Alongside the express car door was a pile of $70,000 Government money en route to Florida, which the robbers failed to notice.

Then the robbers made the expressman get out of the car and go with them to the mail car. W. C. Bell, the mail agent, had suspected that robbery was going on and tried to get into the baggage car with several registered packages of mail. Just as he stepped to the end door of the car he saw through a glass that the robbers had intercepted him. The robber leader faced him, pistol in hand, and finding Bell's arms full of packages, said: "Dump those here on my left arm."

There were twenty-four packages in all, and Bell did as requested. The robber then made Bell hand him a registered pouch and ordered the agent to open it, but Bell had no key. The pouch was carried on. It was made up at Meridian and its contents and value are unknown.

A $10,000 Haul.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 27.—At a late hour last night, as the north-bound Santa Fe train was pulling out of Crowley, ten miles south of this city, three men boarded the train and two others jumped on the locomotive. The two on the engine placed pistols to the heads of the engineer and fireman and told them to stop. The robbers cut the engine, baggage, mail and express cars from the rest of the train and made the engineer pull half a mile further.

One of the men then got into the express car and ordered the messenger to show them the money. The latter pointed to three bags of Mexican silver. One of the men ripped open a sack and shovelled the silver out of the door, while the other robber threw out the two other sacks. They took two packages, said to contain $5000 each, but overlooked three or four money packages for Fort Worth. The engineer was then made to couple up and move. The train reached here at midnight and a posse of twenty men immediately started in pursuit. The Mobile and Ohio road offers $1000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the robbers.

A HAMILTON TRAGEDY.

POLICEMAN HAWKINS KILLS AN UNKNOWN MAN.

Curiosity and Suspicion Touching a Mysterious Stranger Lead to a Fatal Result—An Inquest Opened.

HAMILTON, Sept. 27.—An unknown man was shot at 6 o'clock yesterday morning by Policeman Hawkins and died a few minutes thereafter.

The dead man came to the city on Saturday last, and engaged lodging at Mrs. Nellie Spencer's house, 74 Yonge-street. He never went out of his room except at night, and then he always seemed anxious to avoid being looked at. He had exhibited a roll of bills and seemed to have a considerable amount of money with him. On one of her visits to the room Mrs. Spencer saw a large revolver in one of the drawers of the dresser. The stranger was never out of the house at meal hours, whatever he ate was always brought into his room and stowed away in the dresser.

These peculiar actions aroused Mrs. Spencer's suspicions and made her extremely nervous. At last she could contain herself no longer. She notified the police and Wednesday Sergeant McMahon, Detective Reid and Constables Coulter and Campaign went to the house. They went to the door of the room and told the man who they were and asked him to come out. There was no response, and no efforts on the part of the officers could bring any sound from the occupant of the room. Detective Reid and Sergeant McMahon went down to the station and consulted Chief McKinnon. The chief instructed them to watch the place closely and not to make any attempt to break in till daylight. When Detective Reid and Sergeant McMahon returned to the house they were accompanied by Constable Hawkins.

Just about 6 o'clock yesterday morning a ladder was placed against the side of the house, and Constable Hawkins mounted to look in at the window. As soon as Hawkins reached the window sill he flashed his bullseye into the room. There he saw, crouched in the corner opposite the window, the form of a man, and heard the click of a revolver, quickly followed by a "snap." Hawkins descended, and then the party, leaving a man to guard the window, went through the house and upstairs. This time too, they heard no noise, and after a moment's halt Detective Reid forced open the door.

The door had opened up but two or three inches, and was being held on the other side when a shot from a revolver in the hands of the occupant of the room, crashed through the door and passed just between the heads of Constables Hawkins and Gibbs, the latter having also joined the posse. Then Constable Hawkins quickly drew his revolver and fired through the crack at the back of the now partly open door. The door suddenly slammed tight and there was silence for a moment. But for just a moment, for soon the police and officers outside could hear a distinct moaning or groaning, as of some one in great pain. They again opened the door and entered. The occupant of the room was lying on the bed, with his head towards the foot, and he was bathed in his blood.

A 32-calibre "Defender" revolver, with one empty and still smoking chamber, lay beside him on the bed. He was asked who he was and why he had not opened his room door when asked to, but did not reply. The only word he uttered was "water," "water." Blood was streaming from a bullet hole in his breast as he lay on his side. The police gave him a mouthful of water. He lay still for a moment, and then, with a last moan, he was dead. Coroner Woolverton was at once notified of the occurrence and he had the body removed to the morgue, where it is now lying.

The body is that of a middle-aged man, of medium height and sandy complexion. His hair is fine and somewhat darker than his beard, which is quite reddish in appearance. The features are strong and well-formed, but his teeth are dark and seem to be somewhat worn. His half-open eyes are a dark bluish gray. His hands are white and bear no mark of toil or work, but his feet, one of which was bare, are horny and hard looking, though clean, as though he had walked a great deal.

When searched in the room in which he died the police found on the stranger the following: Four dollars in American bills, a $6 American gold piece, an American silver dollar, some small change and a ticket from St. Thomas to Hamilton, dated Sept. 19, 1889. There were no papers by which the man might be identified, nor any mark by which it could be learned where he came from.

Coroner Woolverton opened an inquest on the body yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Spencer was the only witness examined. The evidence adduced showed conclusively that when deceased arrived at her house last Saturday he had a large sum of money in his possession. He asked for thread and needle and evidently sewed it up in his clothing but although search was made it has not as yet been found. The coroner asked all else but the jury to retire and addressed the latter body for half an hour. The jury will visit the scene of the tragedy to-day. The inquest was adjourned until this evening at 8 o'clock.

DIED FROM A KICK.

A Chatham Barkeeper in Custody at Detroit Charged with Murder.

DETROIT, Sept. 27.—Wednesday evening, Michael A. Barry, 36 years old, a bar-tender living at Chatham, Ont., and Thomas Gray, a carpenter 44 years old of this city, were seen wrestling just outside of the Exposition grounds. It was thought to be a friendly tussle until Gray dropped to the ground as the result of a kick in the abdomen. Gray was taken to Harper Hospital where he died yesterday afternoon.

Barry was arrested yesterday morning, arraigned yesterday afternoon, pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder and his examination was set for Oct. 30. He was held without bail.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 27.—In the Assizes Alexander Gallagher, who was tried on a charge of rape and an offence against public morals, was acquitted.

EXPLOSION OF HOT METAL

Seven Men Horribly Burnt—Some Will Die From Their Injuries.

BRADOCK, Pa., Sept. 27.—At Carnegie's Edgar Thomson steel works last night Capt. W. R. Jones, General-Manager of the works, and a number of workmen were horribly and perhaps fatally burned. Furnace "C," one of the largest blast furnaces, had not been working properly and Captain Jones called to see if he could not ascertain the cause. He was working with a number of men near the base of the furnace when the bottom gave way. In an instant flames of fire shot forth and the hot metal exploded and fell like sheets of water. Tons of the metal poured out of the furnace and that any person near the furnace escaped instant death is remarkable.

The injured are: Captain Jones, horribly burnt; Michael Quinn, aged 25, so badly burned that his flesh peeled off with his clothes, he can only live a few hours; John Makaka, badly burned about the body but not fatally; Capt. Ned Quinn, burned about the arms and chest, will recover; Patrick Hughes, Michael Connor and John Needen. The last three may not recover. Michl Hing, a Hungarian, was present when the seething mass poured out of the furnace and as he cannot be found it is feared he has been covered up. The injured were taken to the hospital, where everything is being done to relieve their sufferings.

About six carloads of the molten metal poured out. The terrible rush of the liquid steel knocked Captain Jones down into the pit. He fell between two trucks or he would have been burned to death.

When removed from the pit his clothing had been entirely burned from his body. Superintendent James Gayley and his assistant, Michael Killen, were near Captain Jones at the time but both escaped in safety. The loss to the company will be Girls' Drill.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Permit me through your columns to congratulate Major Randle and his class on the excellent exhibition given by them at the promenade concert last night. It was a pleasing surprise to find a so neatly uniformed and thoroughly drilled band of young ladies in our midst. The town is fortunate in possessing so willing and apt an instructor as the Major, and parents and scholars should see to it that the latter obtain the benefit of his drilling while they can. No one could watch the elastic step, erect carriage and precise movements of the class, without being convinced of the benefit the young ladies must derive from such healthful and elegant exercises, besides the pleasure so excellent a display of it gives to others. The movement ought to be encouraged.

Yours truly,
G. M. ROGER.

Promenade at the Rink.

The Charlotte street skating rink was nicely decorated and brilliantly illuminated for the promenade concert and oyster supper under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. last night. There were 300 or 400 people present, who promenaded about the galleries to the splendid music of the Association's band or watched with interest the performances of Sergt.-Major Randle's class of girls, the Daughters of the Regiment, in the way of drill and club swinging, between times patronizing the refreshment room where the ladies supplied oysters at a reasonable rate. The Association should be proud of its band which now numbers fourteen pieces. Their playing on the street and in the rink shows remarkable progress in the last few months. Mr. John Millar, the leader, deserves credit for the way in which he has organized and trained the band. The Daughters of the Regiment were encored. The whole class of 16 pupils gave splendid exhibitions of fancy drill, and seven of them took part in the club swinging exercises. The proceeds of this very successful entertainment will be devoted to refurnishing the Y.M.C.A. parlor. A good sum was realized through the efforts of the Ladies' Auxiliary, who are to be commended for their praiseworthy action in helping along such a deserving institution. Among the ladies principally concerned in the affair, and to whom the Y.M.C.A. desire to return thanks were Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. J. Braden, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. J. C. Brown, Miss Sanderson, Miss Roger, Miss Fawcett, Miss Davidson and Miss Rutherford.

Vocal Society.

A vocal society will be organized next Thursday evening, October 3rd, 1889, in the Business College building, Water Street, at 8 o'clock p. m., under direction of Mr. Ketcham, for instruction in Sight Singing and general chorus work; glee's and part songs from our best masters. All wishing to study vocal music should not fail to attend. Mr. Ketcham has been engaged in this particular work for the past twelve years and will guarantee satisfaction. Remember time and place. Tuition, $2.00 per quarter.

Scotch Goods.

There has just been opened out at the City Clothing Store, per steamer "Aleides," direct from Glasgow, the contents of five packages of merchandize. These goods are splendid samples of the good old Scotch manufacture. They consist of material for fall and winter overcoating, suitings, and trouserings of the newest patterns. Having been bought out direct by us, from the "old sod," we can assure the public that the prices will be found unusually low. A word to the wise is sufficient.

A Stabbing Affair at Hastings.

A correspondent gives particulars of a stabbing affray which took place at Hastings one day last week. The affair has been hushed up and kept out of the papers so that little is known of it. A young man named Sheehan, a resident of Hastings, was stabbed in the back, at an hotel by another young man whose name is not known. Sheehan himself refuses to give any information on the subject. It is not probable the victim of the assault will die, but the wound in a serious one, the knife having penetrated the lung.

CABLE NEWS.

The New Canadian Mail Contract Discussed at Liverpool.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce discussed the new Canadian mail contract. The Allans explained that as the mails will leave a port in the south of England and also a French port, they would not tender. The Chamber passed a resolution regretting the Allans' inability to comply with the terms of the tender, also that the port of Liverpool will cease to be the port of departure for the mails.

Talked Too Long.

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—William Walter Phelps, the new United States minister, presented his credentials to Emperor William yesterday. The Emperor entered into conversation with Mr. Phelps detaining him so long that he and Count Herbert Bismarck, who accompanied Mr. Phelps to Potsdam, missed the train by which they intended to return.

The Restless Mascovite.

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—The Cologne Gazette says: General Obroutchoff, the chief of the general staff of the Russian army, submitted to the Czar last summer a report urging that a second line of rails be laid to the western frontier. In spite of the opposition of the Minister of Finance the proposal is being carried out. Eight million pounds of rails and 200 locomotives have been ordered for delivery in May. This measure completes the strategic network of Russian railways, increasing their capacity to mass troops on the German frontier.

The Copyright Law.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—Mr. Paldy, representing the British Colonial Office, honorary secretary of the British Copyright Association, is here. He says he is hopeful that the outcome of the conference respecting the copyright bill of last session with the Government would be satisfactory to all parties. The British and Canadian Associations differed principally in that the former sought to protect only the property of the authors while the Canadian association guarded the interests of the publishers as well. One looked after the legal aspect of the question, so to speak, while the other introduced questions of commerce. Naturally, as in all business matters, the points of difference are many and closely connected with the respective views of each. Still he was hopeful of a compromise. As far as actual results are concerned he could say nothing. The views of each association are now placed before the Government and there the matter rests. Representing the Colonial Office he felt he was unable to be more explicit at present.

STARTLING EVIDENCE
Of the Cure of Skin Diseases When all Other Methods Fail.

Psoriasis 6 years, Covering Face, Head and Entire Body with white scales. Skin red, itchy, and Bleeding. Hair all gone. Spent hundreds of Dollars. Pronounced Incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physicians was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use.

WEAK EYES INCREASING.

AN OPTICIAN IN A HISTORIC BUILDING SAYS THEY ARE.

The Causes to Be Found Largely in Our Modern Sedentary Life—Why School Children Are Afflicted—The Kind of Glasses to Wear.

On the west side of Nassau street, just south of Fulton street, is an old building, the second floor of which was formerly used by Aaron Burr as a law office after his return from Europe in 1812. The floor is now used by an oculist and optician, who is a scientist, philosopher and merchant combined.

His reception room was formerly Aaron Burr's consulting room, and it is somewhat of a coincidence that whereas it was formerly used for a consultation of the mind, it is now devoted to the purpose of consultations for the sight.

"It is not generally known," remarked the oculist-optician to a News reporter, "except to, perhaps, a few old fashioned merchants, that this was the office of the famous Aaron Burr; but to some of the older members of the bar this place has a historical interest as well as a personal one, so far as their eyes are concerned.

"I make no spectacles or eye glasses for the trade. Every pair of glasses made here are made after a personal examination of eye, by myself, or upon the written prescription of a recognized oculist. It seems to me that defective vision was never so great as now.

CAUSES OF DEFECTIVE VISION.

"The peculiarities of defective vision are legion, but the prevailing affection of the eyes is nearsightedness. This arises from many causes, chief among which is the increase among sedentary occupations. Jewelers, journalists, especially doctors, analysts, clerks, bookkeepers who have to work in dark warehouses, typewriters, especially women; milliners, painters upon enamel, and in fact almost every business that demands close attention for any length of time, has its proportion of nearsighted workers.

"Not one man in a hundred has absolutely perfect vision, and that one man is usually an illiterate person, whose business is an out door one. Yet even sea captains, particularly in the German navy, wear eye glasses.

"Another cause for defective vision is the present mode of living. We eat too fast and choose our food at random. The laborer and the farmer, whose frugal fare is plain but substantial, are seldom troubled with bad sights. Severe mental troubles most surely affect the eyes where there is already a predisposition to sight failure.

"During the past five years there has been a noticeable increase of impaired vision among school children, caused by three things: First, too much study in badly lighted school rooms; second, 'bolting' their food instead of masticating it; third, the undue strain upon the nerve tissues, which is the result of both. A good many children of tender years often require glasses as strong as those worn by persons of advanced age.

"Others are born with a malformation of the cornea, or front part of the eye, the curvature of which being unequal, the rays of light do not harmonize. Such people see vertical lines clearly, but the horizontal lines indistinctly, or vice versa. The only remedy for this sort of thing is to use cylindrical glasses.

"Again, others are troubled with weakness in one of the muscles of the eye, so that the eyes do not move alike. Hence they may have double visual impressions and see two objects instead of one.

"There is one peculiarity, however, about near sighted people which does not apply to other visual disorders. Their sight improves when they get to be about 40 or 42 years of age, and continues to improve for a few years afterward. This improvement, however, is only confined to persons who use glasses of the requisite strength. A too strong eye glass is worse than none at all, and while dealing with this part of the subject I may say right here that the general tendency of nearsighted people is at first to wear glasses that are too strong for them. Many a person's sight has been ruined in consequence.

A FEW SIMPLE RULES.

"The knowledge of a few plain, simple rules about eye glasses would save a world of trouble to the uninitiated. Always buy spectacles in preference to eye glasses. They are not only more comfortable, but their use avoids the often unnatural presence of common frames upon the muscles of the nose. Never wear rimless glasses, but use them with frames, the reason being that the sight of the eyes is not injured by the refraction of the rays of light on the edges. Use pebbles in preference to glass, because pebbles are ten degrees cooler. Never buy cheap glasses until your eyes have first been examined, because very much depends upon the condition of the body when a person comes in to buy.

"It requires from twenty minutes to three-quarters of an hour to enable the oculist to properly test a person's eyes in order to get the right kind of glass to suit him. Dozens of persons come to me overheated and laboring under some degree of excitement. Their eyes are naturally affected by this condition, and they need to 'cool off' and become composed before I can attend to them. The graduation in the number of the glass under these circumstances will vary from one-half to a whole number in the strength of the glass. Never buy of peddlers, because they have not the facilities to suit you.

"Affectation is one of the most prolific sources of defective vision. Young people want to wear glasses because they look stylish, when in reality there is nothing the matter with them. In such cases I simply tell them so, but when they insist, a piece of clear, common glass is the best, even though that is unadvisable."—New York News.

IT CAN DO NO HARM to try Freeman's Worm Powders if your child is ailing, feverish or fretful. dw

"If 'twere done, when 'tis done, it were well 'twere done quickly" is what a person thinks when he is contemplating taking a dose of old-fashioned pills. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. As a remedy for all derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, they are unequaled.

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its aplication is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw37

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and,

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots to suit purchasers at reasonable prices per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Haston streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had as a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and mechanics should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.

New Fall Goods.
M. Sullivan & Co. have now received and opened out their stock of new Fall Goods, which is very complete, and comprises the most fashionable textures in the market. A cordial invitation is extended the ladies to call and inspect the same, and see the attractions we have for this season. dw

Willow and Wicket.
A team of the Campbellford cricket club is playing an eleven of the Peterborough club on the home grounds to-day. Peterborough went first to bat and it is probable will win the match. At noon they had scored 137 runs for 8 wickets down, Attewell making 57, Rix 32, Barnham 23 and Stratton 17 not out

The game was finished at three o'clock, Campbellford scoring 75. Only one innings was played. The score in full will be given to-morrow.

Who Need Spectacles.
The eyesight when it becomes defective can be wonderfully improved by the wearing of B. Laurance & Co's celebrated spectacles. Mr. Laurance, optician, will be at Mr. John McKee's drug store on Friday, Sept. 27th, to fit spectacles and eyeglasses to those requiring them. These spectacle's can be adopted to all requirements. Any persons needing spectacles should not fail to call at Mr. McKee's drug store on Friday. 1d

DURING exhibition times there must be a lot of groceries sold at KIDD's even if the prices must be too low.

Illegal Liquor Selling.
Inspector Cochrane visited the exhibition grounds yesterday and made the rounds of the refreshment stands, where only harmless beverages are supposed to be kept in stock, in search of alcholic liquor which it was reported was being sold. At John McFarlane's stand, kept by one Weir, a printer in the Times office, a keg of beer was seized, and at John Grady's stand three bottles with just enough whiskey in them to swear by, were confiscated and held as evidence against them. Some police court mess will result.

An Early Fire.
About nine o'clock last night fire was discovered in the old frame building on George Street, just south of J. Howden's butcher shop, lately occupied as a hair dressing works. The fire brigade turned out promptly and quenched the flames before irreparable damage was done, though the building is pretty badly wrecked. It was owned by Mr. John Burnham and was not insured. This is the first fire for which the brigade has been called out since the 28th of May last, nearly four months ago—an unprecedented run.

On a Sad Mission.
Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser left town this morning for Chicago to attend the funeral of Mrs. Fraser's sister, Miss Mattie L. Scott, who died very suddenly of heart disease. Miss Scott went on a visit to another sister in Chicago, and was taken suddenly ill and died in a few hours. The affliction is a peculiarly sad one for the other members of the family. It is only a few months since a brother of the deceased met with a tragic death in Western Ontario, since which time she has never been herself, and once again the family and relatives are plunged into sudden mourning. Miss Scott was quite well known in Peterborough, she having been a visitor at the home of her sister last winter. The many friends of Mrs. Fraser will deeply sympathize with her.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION

The Prize List and Winners of the Prizes!

THIRD DAY—THURSDAY.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

Messrs. Errett & Howson exhibit the Bell pianos and the Bell organs—two 5-octave and one 6-octave instrument. The exhibit was in charge of Mr. G. A. Howson and Mr. R. N. Simon, who very skilfully displayed their musical capabilities.

Mr. J. W. Crosby, 323 and 423 George Street, had a fine display of musical instruments. He had on show three pianos, the Stevenson, the Mendelssohn and the Dominion and Uxbridge organs. The exhibit was in charge of Mr. J. T. Cunningham and Prof. Martin, Prof. Doscot pianoist, and Mr. Fred Mallmoyle, violinist, furnished some very good instrumental trios—violin, piano and organ.

Mr. J. D. Tully druggist, had a beautifully arranged, and effectively displayed collection of drugs, perfumery proprietary medicines and fancy toilet goods.

DAIRY PRODUCTS, ETC.

In this department there was an excellent display of dairy products, butter, cheese, and also other goods—bread—canned fruits, pickles, honey etc.

Messrs. W. G. Bain & Co's exhibit of samples of the L'Orignal Creamer Can, a most important aid to dairying operations, in charge of the patentee, Mr. P. H. McIntosh.

Mr. R. H. Caswell, Ingersoll, the Globe Milk Purifier, an addition to the can which is indispensably necessary to the thorough and efficient straining and aeration of factory milk. He also shows a couple of very ingenious "figure of 8 churns."

Mr. Thos. Gemmill is the originator of the carpet industry in Peterborough. He has on display several very good specimens of the carpet goods manufactured at 142 Simcoe street.

Mr. Edward Plant has on view samples of electrifug machines for medical use, and electric enunciators for hotels, etc. His establishment is 169 London street.

Mr. Barclay shows some excellent and tasteful samples of rag carpet.

Messrs. Meldrum & Davidson have a display of their celebrated Mikado flour, which holds such a favorite place in the markets, both local and foreign.

LADIES DEPARTMENT.

There is a very fine collection, and of great variety in this department. The work generally is of a superior quality, and shows great taste and skill and—patience. The ladies in this department have done themselves ample credit.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

There was a very fine collection of flowers, and the competition was keen, the displays of some of the amateurs being worthy of especial commendation. Mr. Percy Hamilton, a young florist, makes a most creditable exhibit and the lady exhibitors do themselves great credit—Miss Laura Davidson, Miss Mills and Miss W. Rutherford. Mr. G. M. Roger of course takes a prominent place.

The display of fruit was large and good, there were abundant varieties and most excellent samples.

The attendance Thursday afternoon was the best of the series. There were over three thousand visitors on the grounds, and a fine programme of sport had been provided. The baseball match did not materialize, but jammed the main building. There was but one formal entry made, but on the spot the chivalrous directors permitted four more to enter the ring. The contest began without any preliminary scoring. The proud proprietors of the five infant prodigies were, Mrs. Thomas Bowen, Mrs. Heenan, Mrs. M. Lynch, Mrs. Jos. Cranfield and Mrs. Clitheroe. The judges were Mr.. J. J. Turner, Mr. Joseph Byers and Mr. Hugh Davidson, who is a veteran in the judging of exhibition babies. After a great comparison of points, lifting, poising and balancing babies, the judges after much difficulty and with fear and trembling, awarded first prize to the infant daughter of Mrs. Thos. Bowen. The satisfaction of the four other mothers with the award may be inferred from the fact that fears for their personal safety prevented the judges from returning to the grounds the following day.

Speeding in the Ring.

Early in the afternoon the speeding events came on. The first was the race for the Citizens purse, open to horses that had not beaten 2.45. The following horses entered:

"Maud B"—Ed Brown	1	4	2	3
"Royal Jim"—W. Clancy	4	0	1	2
"Essie D"—J. J. Daly	3	0	4	3
"Billy C"—R. Crotts	2	0	3	1
"Livery Maid"—Mitchell	5	5	5	4

DEAD HEAT—"Maud B." took the lead with Essie D. next. Billy C. who was third crept into second trotting, but he broke and lost his place and the three horses came up pretty well bunched in the following order, Maud B., Billy C. and Essie D.

FIRST HEAT.—This was a beautiful race, the struggle between Royal Jim and Essie D. being a see-saw throughout. On the home stretch, Billy intruded on the party and the three horses came trotting under the wire, straight as a string—a dead heat with the three—Time, 2:45.

SECD HEAT—This was also a beautiful race Maud B's chances were pretty fair till the back stretch of the last half when she broke. Royal Jim and Essie D. made a game trial for first place, but Royal Jim under Harry Winch's vigorous guiding, got there. Harry driven for love of the sport and to keep the game going, and he handled Royal Jim in a royal way, making every pound of muscle tell Time of this heat, 2:44½.

THIRD HEAT.—This heat was a game struggle between Royal Jim and Essie, the former leading the first half, but the mare gaining the lead at the half; but Jim shook her off and kept his lead. Meantime Billy C. was getting in his work, and scored a first: Royal Jim second and Essie D. third. Time 2:50.

FOURTH HEAT—This was a game between Royal Jim and Billy C., the latter however winning; Royal Jim second and Maud B., third. Time, 2:45½.

FIFTH HEAT—This warm-up ended with a first place to Billy C., a second to Royal Jim and a third to Maud B. Time, 2:44.

The completion of this contest was postponed till Friday.

FOURTH DAY—FRIDAY.

CITIZEN'S RACE.

This morning the first event was the finish of the Citizen's race, begining with the FIFTH HEAT.—This heat was between Maud B, Essie D, and Royal Jim. Maud however came first under the judges' eye, closely followed by Royal Jim and Essie D, in this order—Time 2.44½

SIXTH HEAT.—This was a procession, with Royal Jim as drum major and Maud B, Essie D and Billy C in the rear.

SEVENTH HEAT.—This was the decisive "go" of the race, and it went to Royal Jim first, Billy C. second and Maud B. third, these horses Royal Jim and Billy C. being declared winners of the race and the prizes. The time of the last heat was 2.45.

Following is the remainder of the summary of the race:—

Royal Jim	2	1	1
Billy C.	4	4	2
Essie D	3	3	3
Maud B	1	2	5
Livery Maid	5	dis.

AN OMISSION.

In the hurry of going to press yesterday afternoon it was omitted to be mentioned in the report of the presentation to President Rutherford, that Mr. Robert Vance read the address and Mr. W. M. Fair presented Mr. Rutherford with the walking stick.

News Nuggets.

—Millbrook citizens are talking of establishing a regular market.

—The brick-work of the new North Ward school has been finished by the contractor, Mr. A. Rutherford. The roof is now being put on.

—Two drunks, James Welch and "George the hat cleaner," were arrested yesterday. Welch was fined $2, and promptly paid it and the fine imposed on him day before yesterday for a similar offence. George was dismissed.

Personal.

Mr. W. H. Ellis, of the Colonist, Victoria, B. C., a former resident of Port Hope, was in town yesterday and called at the EXAMINER office. Mr. Ellis reports a steady boom on the Pacific coast.

An old Familiar Face.

The attention of our citizens is attracted to the window of the Peterborough book store by the large and striking portrait on view of Mr. John Elder, a former well known resident of this town. Mr. Elder will be remembered by many of our readers as having carried on business as dry goods merchant here for a number of years, his store being popularly known by the sign of the elephant. One of Mr. Elder's prominent traits of character was his devotion to the land of the heather. He was brimful of enthusiasm for Scotland, and always identified in a marked manner in Scottish concerns. The picture represents Mr. Elder in full Highland costume, and is an admirable likeness of an old familiar face. It was forwarded all the way from San Francisco by Mr. Elder as a gift to our local St. Andrew's Society, of which he was for years an active member. The Society has had the portrait handsomely surrounded by a rich and appropriate frame, and it is intended to adorn the walls of the new St. Andrew's Hall.

Hymeneal.

The Guide publishes the following concerning a Port Hope young lady who has many friends and acquaintances in Peterborough:

A happy event took place Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mayor Peplow, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter, Mary, to Mr. S. W. Hobart, of Kingston. Among the many presents which were sent to the bride was a handsome Oxadized Silver Nut Bowl, lined with gold, presented by the Methodist Sunday School, in appreciation of her many services rendered there. Mr. and Mrs. Hobart left by line steamer for Quebec and Ottawa, followed with the very best wishes of the many friends of the bride in Port Hope.

County Police Court.

P.M. Edmison held court this forenoon. The case against Swanson and Greer, charged with house-breaking, was further enlarged till Monday. In the liquor case against John O'Connor, who is accused of selling liquor after hours last Saturday, only one witness appeared and the trial had to be adjourned till to-morrow at three o'clock. Warrants were issued for the other witnesses, who will be taught that they must obey the subpœna.

The Great Attraction of the Fair.

The visitors to the Central Exhibition, especially householders, are particularly reminded that the most interesting place in town to visit is Hawley Bros' tea store, George street, where they will find the most splendid stock of pure fresh teas, at the lowest prices to be found in the Midland District. Bought wholesale at cash prices. These teas are good as gold and cheap as clay. Also a superb stock of fragrant coffees, and a fine stock of elegant glassware.

We Go One Better.

Other grocers are greatly excited about the prices of some of their goods. But Geo. Carson keeps quite cool, and goes one better every time. See the crashing value he is offering:—8½ lbs. Rice, for 25c. 8 bars of Electric Soap, for 25c. 8 lbs. of Tea, for $1. Push right through to Geo. Carson's red tea store, where you can carry away more goods for a $2 bill than you can get for $3 in other stores. Corner George and Charlotte streets. dw

Visitors

To the exhibition should not leave town without seeing the Principal of the Peterborough Business College, and hear what inducements they offer for giving a thorough business training.

TOPICS FROM TORONTO.

THE CARDWELL ELECTION PETITION DISMISSED.

Appointments and Incorporations from The Ontario Gazette. The Leaped Burglars—The Spellmans on Trial.

TORONTO, Sept. 28.—At Osgoode Hall, yesterday, on motion of respondent's counsel Mr. Justice Street dismissed the Cardwell election petition and Mr. R. S. White will therefore continue to hold his father's seat during the present parliament. It is said an arrangement was made between the parties by which part of Mr. Stubbs' costs will be paid by respondent.

These appointments have been Gazetted: John R. Cartwright, Toronto, clerk of the Executive Council for Ontario; N. Gilbert, Picton, local master pro tem, vice Judge Jellett; John Grimison, Port Hope, bailiff Third Division Court of Northumberland, vice T. A. Monaghan resigned; W. H. Spencer, Police Magistrate in Muskoka; J. A. V. Preston, Millbrook, and Alfred E. Lussier, Ottawa, notaries public; Theobald Featherstonhaugh, Moate, Ireland, commissioner in that place for Ontario.

These companies have been incorporated: Herald Printing Co (Lt), Hamilton, capital $40,000; North Bart. Public Hall Co. (Lt), capital $2000; Union Electric Light and Power Co. (Lt.) St. Catharines, capital $1000; Dorset Manufacturing Co. (Lt), Toronto, capital $42,000.

The firemen were called at 7.30 yesterday morning to Amos Pudsey's house, where a fire, which originated from a defective stovepipe, had gained a little headway. Mrs. Pudsey, who was upstairs, became considerably alarmed and dropped her two little children from the second story window. They were safely caught by Mr. Whitesides and placed in safety. Mrs. Pudsey, however, did not fare so well. She jumped from the same window and was severely hurt. The damage by the fire will amount to about $250.

A young man charged with insanity, when asked by the Magistrate to state his name, searched every pocket in his clothing and then attempted to disrobe himself to find it. A woman then came forward and said the prisoner was James Ferguson, her husband. He had formerly been employed as a night watchman on the Murray Canal. One night an explosion took place and a heavy iron plate from a boiler grazed his head, carrying away his hat. The fright weakened his intellect, and since that time he has gradually grown worse until for his own safety and the safety of his family it is deemed advisable to have him placed under restraint.

A despatch was received by Inspector Stark yesterday from Detectives John and Alf Cuddy and Watson, who were sent after George Pearce and Charles Jarvis, who broke jail along with the captured Mike Spellman. The three detectives are now doing their best down somewhere in the vicinity of Sharbot Lake.

Nearly the whole day in Judge McDougall's court yesterday was spent in getting a jury to try Michael and William Spellman for the burglary of the Whitby office. Damaging evidence was given against the prisoners. The trial will proceed today.

Michael Birtle, who was shot early yesterday morning by Louis Deas at No. 20 Elizabeth street, is still alive at the General Hospital. No immediately dangerous symptoms developed during the night. The bullet is firmly imbedded in Birtle's brain and cannot, at present at least, be removed.

Louis Deas appeared in the Police Court yesterday and elected to be tried summarily and pleaded not guilty to a charge of shooting with intent to kill Michael Birtle. The crown was not ready and asked for a remand for a week. The prisoner had no counsel, but Mr. W. G. Murdoch has since been engaged to defend him.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Goderich's New Postmaster—Trouble in the Government Printing Bureau.

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Mr. William Campbell has been appointed postmaster at Goderich.

Mr. Foster of Quebec interviewed the Minister of Agriculture yesterday respecting the appointment of a dairy commissioner for the Dominion. Mr. Foster is a large dairy farmer himself and he thinks that the appointment of a commissioner would be of great assistance to the dairying interests of the Dominion. Farmers throughout the country have been canvassed by Mr. Foster regarding this matter and are of the one opinion that the appointment is a necessity. Mr. Carling promised to consider the matter and lay it before his colleagues at his first opportunity.

A deputation of the compositors employed at the Government printing bureau waited on Hon. J. A. Chapleau yesterday afternoon and urged that their wages should be increased from $11 to $13.50 a week. The compositors are excited because seventy-eight of them were discharged. At the bureau yesterday afternoon the discharged printers assembled and refused to leave until they got their pay. Some of them got noisy and Dominion policemen were sent for and soon cleared the building.

Major Mayne has returned from Quebec and will report to the Militia Department on the Quebec disaster.

A Cabinet council was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Sir John Macdonald presided. The matters discussed were the Quebec disaster and affairs in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway and Temiscouata Railway, on which several members of the council were interviewed during the last few days by the influential railway men who were in the city. Sir Hector Langevin, Sir Adolphe Caron, Sir John Thompson, and Messrs. Tupper, Carling, Chapleau, Foster and Costigan were present.

At a council of the Equal Rights Association a resolution was adopted to the effect that steps be taken to secure a candidate to contest the County of Haldimand at the next elections in the interests of the association.

Not Boarded by the Rush.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 28.—The sailing schooner Teresa of Astoria, Ore., arrived yesterday afternoon from Behring Sea with 650 skins. She was not boarded by the Rush during her trip, but on Aug. 23 during the night she passed a steamer supposed to be the revenue cutter. On Aug. 27 the schooner Mary Ellen was spoken and Captain Alexander Maclean said he was bound for home. It is believed here, however, that the Mary Ellen has proceeded to San Francisco.

The sealing schooner Favorite, Captain L. McLean, owned by Captain Spring, arrived in port yesterday afternoon with 1700 skins. She was not boarded by the Rush but one day during August while the canoes were some distance from the schooner hunting seal the revenue cutter passed between the canoes and the schooner, but apparently did not observe either.

NEWS OF THE OLD WORLD

BARFIELD IN CANADA WITH MAGGIE BOURNE.

Mr. Chaplin Defeats a Gladstonian for the Commons—The Rotterdam Strike—The Czar's Body Guard.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The report is now confirmed that the missing Church of England clergyman and Tory anti-Home Rule lecturer, Barfield, instead of pursuing his political engagements in Ireland, decamped with a young girl named Maggie Bourne, with whom he had sustained intimate relations at intervals during the past two years. In London she was known as his wife, and it is in that supposed relationship that they have gone to Canada together.

The dead novelist Wilkie Collins was buried yesterday at Kensal Green cemetery and the funeral was of a very simple character, in accordance with Mr. Collins' own wishes. The famous writer leaves a considerable fortune, acquired from the proceeds of his stories. His house, with its contents which consist of valuable books, pictures and furniture, is to be sold at auction.

The Bishop of Carlisle, the Right Rev. Harvey Goodwin, D.D., in addressing a diocesan conference, said a strong feeling existed in many quarters in ecclesiastical circles that the Church of England has received something short of justice at the hands of Parliament in the matter of financial support. Expressing the hope that the tithes bill will be passed at the next session, he said that it isn't only a church question, but a question of property and common honesty as well. His argument is based on the fact that so large an amount of real estate, formerly belonging to the Church of England as its own demesnes, acquired by grants from the crown, etc., since the Reformation, has been given up to the nation, the recompense for this being found in the tithes enforced by Parliament for the benefit of the church. This argument has, of course, no weight at all outside the adherents of the establishment, and the country at large is decidedly opposed to the continuance of special taxes for the good of the communion with which the immense body of the nonconformists who constitute the evangelical church have no sympathy.

The trial of the Bishop of Lincoln for ritualistic practices and the attempt to found an episcopal monastery are not likely to make it easier for the established church to secure compulsory contributions from the taxpayers.

Mr. Chaplin Elected.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The election to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons for the Sleaford division of Lincolnshire, caused by the acceptance by Henry Chaplin of the office of Minister of Agriculture, resulted in the return of Chaplin who received 4386 votes. Francis Otter, Gladstonian, received 3078 votes. In the last election Mr. Chaplin was returned without opposition.

The Skuptchina Elections.

BELGRADE, Sept. 28.—The returns thus far received of the elections for members of the Skuptchina show that 20 Radicals and 11 Liberals have been elected.

Milan's Good Wishes.

BELGRADE, Sept. 28.—Ex-King Milan telegraphs to the regents as follows: "May good fortune attend the first Skuptchina elected under the new constitution. I trust that it will assure the country a settled government."

The Rotterdam Strike.

ROTTERDAM, Sept. 28.—Bodies of the strikers gathered yesterday morning and became so menacing in their demonstrations that the police dispersed them with their sabres.

A Meddler Arrested.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—John Williams, the well-known Socialist, was arrested yesterday on a charge of intimidating men who were going to Rotterdam to take the places of strikers.

To Protect the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28.—Orders have been given to hold 50,000 troops in readiness to occupy the railway in the event of the Czar's returning home directly from Berlin.

MONTREAL MATTERS.

The Jesuits-Mail Libel Case—Chinamen Going Home.

MONTREAL, Sept. 28.—Dr. L. H. Davidson has been appointed by the Equal Rights Association to go to Ottawa to present their case before the Governor-General in council.

A party of 20 Chinamen arrived yesterday morning from Boston on their way for Vancouver, thence to China, where they will revisit their homes in Canton which they left thirteen years ago. They are traders and intend returning to America to extend their branches if possible by establishing one in Montreal.

The hearing of argument on the appeal of the defendant in the Jesuits-Mail libel case was continued yesterday in the Court of Appeals presided over by Chief Justice Sir J. A. Dorion and Justices Tessier, Cross, Church and Bosse. Hon. R. Laflamme, counsel for the Mail, continued his argument asking that Judge Loranger's decision limiting the plea to the question of the constitutionality of the act of incorporation and rejecting the allegations relative to the teachings of the Society of Jesus, be reversed. He claimed that the act of incorporation itself was illegal and ultra vires. Argument on this point lasted all day.

It has been decided to make alterations and additions to the court house at a cost of $200,000.

Delegates to Blaine's Congress.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The delegates from South and Central America to the International Congress to be held at Washington, Oct. 22, visited several down town exchanges here yesterday and were after wards entertained at luncheon at the Lawyers' Club by C. W. Scott. The consuls of the principal Central and South American States were also present.

Burglars Make a Haul.

WELLAND, Sept. 28.—Wednesday afternoon two men broke into the residence of Walter Curtis, Stamford Township, during the absence of the owner and stole a small sum of money and $200 worth of silver plate. At latest reports they had not been captured.

The Dexter and Ontario R.R. Co., formed for the construction of a 2-mile road between the village of Brownsville and Dexter in Jefferson County N. Y., filed a certificate of incorporation with the Secretary of State of New York yesterday, capital $20,000.

The Oddfellows' field day at Binghamton ended last night. The program was not carried out.

There was a collision between two sections of a passenger train on the Central Hudson road at Palatine Bridge last night.

The five-story building of the Westing house Electric Light Works at Pittsburg were damaged $100,000 by fire last night.

Louis Dubois, 53; Nathalie Dubois, 28; Mrs. George Michaud, Leah Michaud, 7, and Rosanna Laviere, 8, were drowned by the capsizing of a boat at Fall River, Mass., yesterday.

A RELIC OF BARBARISM.

POLYGAMY AS IT FLOURISHES IN THE REPUBLIC.

Report of the Utah Commission—Statistics of Crime—Not Fit for Statehood—Recommendations of the Commission.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The report of the Utah Commission has just been received. Since Sept. 1, 1888, there have been in Utah 357 convictions for bigamy, adultery, fornication and unlawful cohabitation. Those who are convicted of polygamy regard themselves as martyrs and are so regarded by their friends. They think it no disgrace to be sent to the penitentiary. The committee in view of the present condition of the territory as regards polygamy does not think Utah should be admitted as a state. Should it be the commission says: "It would not be long before the Gentile element with its advanced civilization, its trade and its traffic would be driven from the territory and the Mormon theocracy be made supreme."

The commission among other things recommends jurisdiction of all polygamous and sexual offences within the territory be conferred on districts courts; that imprisonment for unlawful cohabitation be extended to at least two years for the first and three years for the second offence; that it be made a penal offence for any woman to enter into the marriage relation with any man knowing him to have a wife living and divorced, coupled however with the provision that in cases where a polygamous wife is called as a witness against the husband, her testimony could not be used in any future prosecution against her, and a like provision as to the husband; that any person who refuses to take an oath that he or she is not cohabiting with more than one husband or wife shall be excluded from making a settlement upon public lands; that the immigration of persons claiming that their religion justifies polygamy be prohibited; that the constitution be amended to forever prohibit polygamy; that Congress pass laws for the government of the public schools in Utah; that when the result of the eleventh census is known the territory be redistricted for legislative purposes.

The commission believes the limitation on prosecutions for polygamy and bigamy should be extended and sentence of hard labor should be added, "that their confinement may not be spent in idleness and glorification of their supposed martyrdom. The commission has no doubt that punishment of the woman for voluntarily entering into the polygamous relation would do much to lessen her zeal for the peculiar institution and thus tend to remove one of its strongest bulwarks. In regard to prohibition of immigration the report says:

"While we forbid the immigration of the non-proselyting, peace-loving, docile Chinaman because we fear a future danger from his coming; while we forbid the landing on our shores of contract laborers because they cheapen the wages of American-born citizens, and paupers because they become a burden, there is far greater reason for closing our doors as a nation and forbidding citizenship to the hordes who are brought here to swell the ranks of an organized body which teaches them in advance to hate our Government, denounces its executives, law makers, judges and prosecutors as persecutors and instills into every mind the constant teachings that their pretended revelations are more binding than the highest and best laws of the land and that resistance to such laws is a virtue and a rendering of obedience to God."

The commission says Congress should take no backward or even wavering step in the enforcement of the laws against polygamy.

Major Burke Talks.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Major E. A. Burke of New Orleans was busy yesterday preparing for his departure for America on the Etruria to-day. When asked if he desired to make any statement regarding the alleged irregularity in connection with the state bonds when he was Treasurer of Louisiana, Major Burke said he had no knowledge of the charges made or of the present situation at New Orleans, except such as had been conveyed in brief cable dispatches.

Romp, Ocean, Ability, Long Jack and Tarquin were the winners at Boston yesterday.

A Missing Colborne-ite Turns Up.

COLBORNE, Sept. 28.—John Johnston, who was reported missing, has been found at Garden Hill, a small village north of Port Hope. He had walked from Toronto.

Saved by an Unknown Hero.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 28.—The men injured in the molten metal accident at the Edgar Thompson steel works with probably two exceptions are out of danger. Captain William R. Jones is suffering a great deal from his wounds but will recover. The fleshless body of Michael King, the missing Hungarian, was found about midnight embedded in the hot steel. It is stated the lives of all the men about the furnace were saved by an unknown hero who with wonderful presence of mind turned the valve and shut off the blast as soon as the break occurred.

Not Tools of Trade.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Treasury Department has decided that horses imported from Canada and intended for use in a circus and menagerie are not exempt from duty under the provisions of the free list for "tools of trade, occupation or employment of persons arriving in the United States."

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Dun, Wiman & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say: Business failures during the last seven days number for the United States 185 and for Canada 27, a total of 192 as compared with a total of 198 last week and 193 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 220, representing 186 in the United States and 34 in Canada.

Done by Train Wreckers.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Sept. 28.—An engine, postal and baggage and two day coaches on the "Big Four" R. R. were ditched while running 50 miles an hour by an open switch at McCoy's yesterday morning. Engineer Winslow was considerably scratched. He was the only one injured. Train wreckers caused the accident.

Eva Wants Her Trunks.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Hamilton's lawyer visited her at the May's Landing jail. On his return he stated his client had instructed him to commence proceedings against Mrs. Rapp, proprietress of the Noll cottage, who went to Philadelphia Wednesday taking with her several trunks belonging to Mrs. Hamilton, with a view of recovering her property.

THE VICTORIA INJUNCTION.

Conference of the Special Committee with the Plaintiffs—Cobourg's Claim.

COBOURG, Sept. 27. The special committee appointed by the Advisory Committee and Board of Regents of Victoria University met the Mayor of Cobourg and Messrs. Wilson, Dumble, Hewson, Kerr and Hough at Jackson hall to-day. No decision could be arrived at, as they were simply to report. After a long conference the Mayor and Mr. Wilson agreed to report to the Council at Cobourg in favor of staying proceeding in court, retaining the matter in statu quo until after the next meeting of the General Conference. If the Cobourg Council agrees to this a resolution will be submitted to the Board of Regents and Advisory Board at their next meeting, which will soon be held. The Board of Regents and Advisory Committee may or may not agree to this. If they do the matter will go over to the next General Conference. If not the trial will take place at the next sittings of the court at Cobourg.

The Mayor also stated that if at the next meeting of the Conference a large majority should pronounce in favor of federation, the town of Cobourg would be willing to consider their financial position. Then they would ask to have their financial indemnity paid over to them—that is all the money that the town of Cobourg has from time to time paid to the University.

Dr. Kerr also agreed to this.

The Mayor subsequently stated that the town was willing to give for independence in Cobourg $50,000, which, with the financial indemnity, probably $100,000, and the value of the buildings, another $100,000 would be approximately equal to the late Mr. William Gooderham's bequest. On these grounds the people of Cobourg thought they had still a good chance to retain an independent university in Cobourg.

The State of Trade.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The full volume of distribution in trade circles throughout the country, noted in telegrams to Bradstreet's last week is continued and the chief stimulating causes, seasonable cooler weather, heavy cotton movement at the south and a uniform activity in metal industries remain as noteworthy features. Stock speculation tends to regain strength and activity in spite of unsettled rate problems in the west and a high and firm money market, though at the close of the week bears' attacks unsettled the market.

There has been great interest and during part of the week some excitement in the wheat markets, extraordinary strength having appeared in the face of a heavy selling movement with a net gain in price of 1 3-8c at New York and 2 3-4c at Chicago. Speculative sales increased heavily, those of cash wheat moderately only. Indian corn, with nearly 300,000,000 bushels estimated increase in the crop as compared with last year and free offerings, is off 3-4 cent and oats 1-2 cent.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1889.

Peterborough Presbytery.

Official Report of Proceedings.

At Peterborough and within St. Andrew's church the 17th Sept. 1889, the which day and place the presbytery of Peterborough met and was constituted by Dr. Jamieson, moderator.

There were present besides the moderator Messrs. Cleland, Ewing, Windell, Andrews, W. Bennett, Cameron, Torrance, Bell, White, Carmichael, Thompson, Hay, McEwen, Hyde, Macwilliam, Gilchrist, O. Bennet, ministers; and Messrs. W. K. Roxburgh, John Carnegie, Walter Riddell, James Clark, W. J. Kidd, Andrew Fairbairn, Isaiah Thornton and —Miller, elders.

The minutes of the last ordinary meeting were held as read and were sustained.

The minutes of the special meetings in Port Hope and Cobourg on the twenty third and thirtieth July respectively were read and with slight alterations confirmed.

Commissions were received on behalf of Messrs. E. M. Sanderson, of Springville; James Clark of Ballyduff; W. H. Mann, Baltimore; Wm. Archer, Millbrook; Robt. Boreland, Hastings; Andrew Fairbairn, Lakefield; Isaiah Thornton, Omemee; Thomas Coffey, Grafton; and W. J. Kidd, Warsaw as representatives of their respective Kirk sessions and their names were added to the roll of Presbytery.

Mr. Carmichael was appointed moderator for the next six months and took the chair.

A docket was read containing items of business for the present meeting to which, with a few exceptions, it was agreed to adhere.

Reports were received that the pulpits of Campbellford and 1st Port Hope had been duly declared vacant as appointed by Presbytery and leave was granted to moderate in calls in these congregations so soon as the people shall be prepared for the step.

Messrs Hay, Torrance and McEwan were appointed a committee to nominate standing committees for the year.

Mr. Carmichael here left the chair to submit the report of his visit to Janetville, Ballyduff and Pontypool. The chair was taken by Mr. Thomson.

The report was very gratifying and gave hope of a union of these stations as one pastoral charge. The report was received. At a later stage it was agreed to refer the report to the Presbytery's Home Mission Committee for consideration.

Mr Carmichael resumed the chair.

Reports were received from the delegates who had been appointed to visit the several Mission fields within the bounds.

Mr. McEwen reported with regard to a visit made to Havelock and associated stations.

Mr. Thompson reported in reference to a visit to Cheadle and Burleigh, and Mr. Orr Bennet as to visit made to Harvey.

On motion of Mr. Bell, these reports were received and referred to the Home Mission Committee for consideration.

The Session and Trustees of the Havelock congregation were authorised to make their own arrangements with regard to the renting of the basement of their church for day school purposes.

The Moderator being under the necessity of leaving the Court, the chair was taken by Mr. Torrance

Mr. Bell reported that an exercise from Mr. Speir, missionary at Apsley, had been received by him and he recommended that it be sustained. Messrs. Mahill and Oswald, missionaries at Havelock and Harvey, respectfully read discourses on subjects previously prescribed. The exercises were cordially sustained by Presbytery.

Messrs. Francis Paton, of St. Andrew's, Peterborough, and J. R. Mann, of Baltimore, were received as students under the care of the Presbytery.

Mr. Bell was authorized to certify Messrs. Spears, Madill, Paton and Mann to their respective college authorities in the usual manner.

In reference to Mr. Madill it was agreed to ask the Senate of Knox College to give him what status as a student they may think him entitled to.

The clerk announced that the sum allocated by the Presbytery for augmentation purposes for the current year is $1000.

Messrs. McEwen, Thompson, Cameron, ministers, and Messrs Carnegie and Miller, elders, were appointed as a committee to allocate this sum among the congregations of the Presbytery and to report at the afternoon Sederant.

A communication was read from the Secretary of the W.F.M.P., asking the Presbytery to appoint one of its members to address the Society at its next annual meeting in January.

Presbytery agreed to request the ladies to make their own choice of a speaker or speakers on the occasion referred to.

Several of the ministers present reported having preached on the subject of Missions since the last meeting of Presbytery.

Reports were received with regard to the supply of the vacant congregations of Campbellford and 1st Port Hope. The reports were approved of as satisfactory.

Mr. Cleland presented the Treasurer's Book, showing that it had been duly audited, and reported regarding the state of the Presbytery fund.

The Clerk was instructed to correspond with congregations still in arrears and urge immediate payment.

Expenses for doing the work of the church were presented, and such as were sanctioned were ordered to be paid out of the Presbytery fund.

The next meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held in Port Hope on the second Tuesday of January, at 9 o'clock.

Presbytery adjourned to meet again at 2 o'clock, and the sederant was closed with the benediction.

Same day and place at 2 o'clock, the Presbytery met according to adjournment, and was duly constituted, Mr. Windell, at the request of the Moderator, leading in prayer.

Leave was granted to the Omemee congregation to sell their old church property, and to mortgage their new church to the extent of fifteen hundred dollars.

The Committee appointed at the previous sederant to allocate the claim for augmentation among the different congregations, reported that owing to the absence of proper data on which to proceed, it was found impossible to do the work assigned. The Committee recommended that the Clerk be authorized to make the allocation on the basis of last year, allowing in each case for the difference between the sum total of last year and the present.

The report was received and the recommendation adopted.

On the recommendation of the committee appointed to examine them the records of the session of Campbellford were ordered to be attested as carefully and correctly kept.

The committee appointed to nominate the standing committees for the year gave in their report. The report was adopted.

The following are the committees for the current year.

SABBATH SCHOOLS—J. McEwan, Convener, James Carmichael, Alex. Ball, W. K. Roxburgh.

STATE OF RELIGION—John Hay, Convener. W. MacWilliam, E. F. Torrance, G. M. Roger.

TEMPERANCE—D. A. Thomson, convener, Dr. Jamieson, C. S. Lord, Andrew Fairbairne.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE—J. R. Gilchrist, Convener, Peter Duncan, Donald Sutherland John Carnegie.

STATISTICS.—Wm. Bennett, Convener, James Cleland, A. R. McLeod, John Clark.

Mr. Ball reported that the examinations of Mr. Oswald on the subjects prescribed to him, had given the greatest satisfaction. The report was received and adopted.

Dr. Smith, of Kingston, was heard in advocacy of the claims of Collgey College, Ottawa.

The Presbytery agreed to grant to the Home Mission Committee, Presbyterial powers in the disposal of the reports of the mission fields, and in the preparation of a report for presentation to the committee in Toronto.

WM. BENNETT,
Presbytery Clerk.

Fresh Arrivals.

Fresh arrivals of choice and cheap Groceries, Provisions, etc., and will continue to arrive daily until the stock is filled up and completed for the fall trade at R. H. Green's corner Grocery and Provision Store. A special line in Teas, at 25c. per lb.—extra good value. The goods have all been well bought, and will be sold at Rock Bottom Prices. A call, which is respectfully solicited, will convince you, and you will be rewarded, etc. Fresh Eggs and Choice Butter, Apples, Potatoes and other farmer's produce, constantly on hand, and will be sold at current prices and delivered to any part of the town free of cartage. R. H. GREEN, corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets. dtf2w39

The Great Attraction of the Fair.

The visitors to the Central Exhibition, especially householders, are particularly reminded that the most interesting place in town to visit is Hawley Bros' tea store, George street, where they will find the most splendid stock of pure fresh teas, at the lowest prices to be found in the Midland District. Bought wholesale at cash prices. These teas are good as gold and cheap as clay. Also a superb stock of fragrant coffees, and a fine stock of elegant glassware.

We Go One Better.

Other grocers are greatly excited about the prices of some of their goods. But Geo. Carton keeps quite cool, and goes one better every time. See the crashing value he is offering:—8½ lbs. Rice, for 25c. 8 bars of Electric Soap, for 25c. 8 lbs. of Tea, for $1. Push right through to Geo. Carton's red tea store, where you can carry away more goods for a $2 bill than you can get for $3 in other stores. Corner George and Charlotte streets. dw

Visitors

To the exhibition should not leave town without seeing the Principal of the Peterborough Business College, and hear what inducements they offer for giving a thorough business training.

If the Sufferers from Consumption.

Scorfula and General Debility will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanent benifit. Dr. H. V. Mott, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phtisis, Scrofula and Wasting Diseases. It is very palatable." Sold by Druggists, at 50c. and $1.00. w39eod

The Loss of the Hair

Is a great misfortune and the sight of a bald head should be a warning to you to take the best possible care of your hair. A little of Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" used occasionally will prevent all chances of its falling out or turning gray, and will remove all traces of dandruff. Every druggist has it in stock. Ask for it. dw

Rely on This.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for three years, and can always rely upon it as a speedy cure for diarrhoea and all summer complaints. I can recommend it highly and I wish you every success.—MRS. W. FOWLER. 12 Oxford St. Toronto. 2w37d

A Corrupt System.

BAD blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin disease, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and changes, tones and strengthens the entire system. 2w37d

Constant Care.

CONSTANT care is necessary against unexpected attacks of summer complaints. No remedy is so well known or so successful in this class of diseases as Dr. Fowler,s Extract of Wild Strawberry. Keep it in the house as a safeguard. 2w37d

COLD, wet weather is very hard on sufferers from Neuralgic troubles, and to those Dyer's Quinine and Iron Wine is strongly recommended. It is palatable, easily assimilated, and can be safely taken by the weakest invalid. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d70

Of the Cure of Skin Diseases When all Other Methods Fail.

Psoriasis 6 years, Covering Face, Head and Entire Body with white scales. Skin red, itchy, and Bleeding. Hair all gone. Spent hundreds of Dollars. Pronounced Incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use.

WORKING DOGS IN BELGIUM.

Forced to Do Much Labor and Then Almost Starved to Death.

Now it must not be thought that dogs in carts are only to be seen now and then in Belgium. Quite the reverse, for the dog seems, especially in Brussels, to be the chief beast of burden. Here I must state I think the loads put after the poor brutes are at times out of all reason too heavy. Brussels is in places deucedly hilly and steep, and to put 400, 500 or 600 pounds after a dog is too much of a good thing. Again, the dogs are not overfed. The Flemish farmers are as a rule very close livers. Most of them drink their coffee without milk, so as to be able to convert the latter, which, of course, they produce, into King Leopold's coin. Now these farmers live on next to nothing, so we can imagine that the dogs do not come in for much grub of any strengthening nature. I believe their food consists of buttermilk and potato parings all boiled up together, and often not. They feed their dogs like store pigs, and it is no wonder the poor animal's loins are thin and their rib bones are very prominent. Still they toil on, willing creatures to a degree.

It is a wonder to me how their legs stand the work so well. All are sound, or perhaps I had better write comparatively sound. Their bone is great for their bodies, and the feet seem to stand the strain well. These dogs really take the place of asses in Belgium, where few of the latter are seen. A good working dog fetches $35 or $40, and considering the amount of work he gets through he is not a dear dog at that sum. I saw several on sale in the Brussels market on Sunday morning last.

The working dog is generally of a sturdy build. If an American or Englishman were asked how the dogs were bred, his reply would be: "Probably between a mastiff and a smooth sheep dog;" and as there seems to be no distinct breed of these dogs, the foregoing might be generally accepted as a definition of the appearance of the breed. All bakers use dogs for their carts. There are, however, no shafts to these concerns, but the dog works underneath. There is a crossbar placed just under the handles of the cart and by means of a bent axle tree the dog can work under the cart and between the wheels. It will be seen he is closer to his work than the dogs in the usual fashion to be seen in milk and vegetable carts. The attendant simply steers the cart with the handles, excepting where the hill is steep, and then le boulanger lends but little help to the panting dog.

Therefore, on the whole, I do not think the working dogs in Belgium are treated with the amount of kindness, good treatment and nourishing food they thoroughly deserve. I am not one of those who are of an opinion a dog should not work. I believe they prefer ordinary labor to being chained up in a dirty, stinking yard, with but little but a pail of stale water before them. Let the Belgians feed their dogs better, put smaller loads after them and have water troughs placed at regular intervals about the streets, and there will not be much to grumble at; and I should think the St Hubert society—that is the kennel club of Belgium—could do a lot to manage things a little better on the side of the dogs.—Turf, Field and Farm.

Edward Irving's Vagaries.

A statement, made on the authority of the late Archdeacon Philpot, that on one occasion Edward Irving attempted by prayer to bring his dead child to life, has been stigmatized by the Irvingites as an attempt to cast a slur on the character of a great and good man. But the circumstantial evidence of Mr. J. Rate, in a letter to last week's Record, is conclusive. Some sixty years ago Mr. Rate was acquainted with two brothers of the name of Douglas, book sellers, and predecessors of the present firm of Burns & Oates. "Of the two brothers, the younger was a follower of Irving. He died of consumption, but was fully convinced, almost till the very hour of his decease, that he should live to see the Lord's personal advent. After his death Mr. Irving and some of his prophets came to the house and attempted to raise him from the dead. This was told me at the time by the elder brother. He said to me that he felt deeply pained at the conduct of Mr. Irving and his friends; for they laid to his charge the failure of their attempt to raise his brother from the dead. The cause, they said, was his (the elder Douglas') want of faith."—St. James' Gazette.

By the Forelock.

In listening to observations of a certain sort, one finds it difficult to class the person making them. Does he indulge in the subtlest sort of humor or is he too liberal minded to notice the real drift of his remarks?

It was near the end of the winter term, and a teachers' meeting had been called to discuss the timely subject of written examinations.

"I propose having one examination in the forenoon, and one in the afternoon, every day," said the principal.

"That does very well in fair weather," answered one of the teachers, "but on a cloudy day I object to an examination in the afternoon."

"So do I," added another. "The children can't see to write without an effort, and they get tired and nervous."

"Very well, then," said the principal, "in case of a cloudy afternoon, have that examination the day before!"—Youth's Companion.

Luxury of Modern Travel.

The Pennsylvania railroad has a new dining car that cost them $63,000. "Them" is not good grammar. Why not? "Because it refers to Pennsylvania railroad, which is a singular noun." Sit down; there's nothing singular about the Pennsylvania railroad, but that "them" doesn't refer to the railroad anyhow; it refers to the passengers. Back to thy cell, escaped one; you didn't think a railroad company paid for its own equipment, did you? Here, put him in the incurable ward.—Burdette in "Brooklyn Eagle.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

SPLENDID BUILDING SITES

I have placed on the market

That Desirable and Well Situated Property

in the western part of the Town, and offer it in lots as per plan annexed. This affords a splendid opportunity to secure a location for your home in a rapidly improving and in every respect the best part of the town. The properties are situated on Cedar and Haston streets and within a stone's throw of the West Ward School and a short distance of the principal Churches and the Hamilton Co'y. Works.

"ERIN COTTAGE," late the residence of Mr. Elias Thompson, is situated in the centre of the block. This property is for sale or can be had at a bargain. It is a desirable suburban residence.

The lots have good frontages on streets of the standard width and are splendidly located. From the upper lots is afforded one of the best views of the town with ample facilities for drainage.

Several fine dwellings are already contracted for to be built on these lots during this season.

Tradesmen and merchants should inspect this property as it offers the best sites available and convenient to the business part of the town.
